Palatine village board surprised Chief Campbell of Rolling Meadows and William Hickey of the finance committee by volunteering a $25 cut in the $75 fee that Rolling Meadows signified it was willing to pay for police radio service from Palatine.

"It is our gesture of good neighborliness to a good neighbor," said the Palatine mayor.

Does not Palatine know that Arlington Heights officially adopted 30 years ago its "City of Good Neighbors" slogan. We hope Arlington does not consider its use as an infringement.

Palatine voted $750 Monday night to help rescue the Mosquito Abatement district. The city of Park Ridge is expected to duplicate such action.

It seems Des Plaines is not mosquito abatement conscious and refused to meet an asssssment of $1500.

We suggest that this year's generation of mosquitos move en masse upon the 30,000 residents of that city, which has now gone on record as being a city of refuge for the pests.

Perhaps Des Plaines people have thicker skins than the rest of us.

Route 83, north of Du Page county line, has become the forgotten highway. It is in bad shape and its existence as part of a tristate highway will be completely nullified unless the public demands its completion.

We were pleased to hear Sherman Canty, candidate for the assembly, assure his hearers at the Canty dinner Saturday night that he would do everything in his power to get that detour through Mt. Prospect eliminated by extending the highway along original plans made 30 years ago.

More power to Canty. He would give us at least one speaker in the assembly for a just cause.

Later—Candidate Damisch has also jumped upon the band wagon.

Captain Sauer of the forest preserve district told us this week about the plans that are destined to make Busse Woods (Elk Grove Forest Preserve) one of the show places of the forest preserves in Illinois.

We hope that some way will be found to save the 125-year-old building on the former Scharringhausen farm that was the first church building in northwest Cook county.

In face of recurring vandalism in our forest preserves, we wonder if it would be worthwhile to preserve this historic structure. Letters from readers are invited.

The promise of higherups in the Republican party that April 10 would be a wide open primary has become just political talk.

We will watch with interest the efforts of the party organization in the various townships to elect their favorite sons. Will their marked ballots be recognized by the average voter?

Mrs. Alberta Stewart, head of the Woman's Republican organization in the country towns, told us in no uncertain words Saturday night that the rise and fall of the Republican party depends upon the loyalty of all good Republicans to support the party slate, and that the organization should name the slate.

We agree with her as regards regular elections. We disagree on applying that rule for the primaries.

Mrs. Stewart represents the old Deneen branch of the Republican party. Deneen has been dead many years.

Young Republicans should be allowed to have a say-so in the coming primaries.

She claimed we were in error when this column recently stated that primary endorsements were not allowed under the by-laws of the Republican Women's organization.

When we discovered the tree cutting activity on West Campbell st., Arlington Heights, we wondered if some property had gotten tired waiting for the widening of that street.

No friends, bad as that street needs widening, priority has been given to the narrow steets between Euclid and Sigwalt.

We hope the engineers will make it possible to have the work started this fall, but it is our guess that the widening of those streets, south of Euclid, will not become a reality until 1957. An alderman makes the guess its completion date will be 1958.

In the meantime, Arlington will begin the collection of sales tax at the rate of some $100,000 a year—a tempting morsel that should be protected from municipal budget spending.

Judge Harry M. Fisher has ruled that the revoking of a liquor license rests with the municipality, not the state liquor commission. If Harry is right, the municipality should have the say-so on issuance of liquor licenses within its incorporation.

We know of times when the state commission has ordered a municipality to issue a license, whether or not it would be against a local ordinance. Turn about should be fair play.

An Arlington autoist reported to us this week that a local taxi driver had left a note on his car saying he had accidentally scraped his fender. He was surprised to learn that taxi drivers are also human beings.

Briel Brothers To Erect Store To House Sporting Goods Firm

Arlington Heights will have its first complete sporting goods store by the time baseball season gets into full swing.

A 1-story building to house a store operated by Wessman-Cunningham, Inc., a well-known Oak Park wholesale and retail athletic equipment firm, will be erected at the corner of Sigwalt and Dunton, The building, to cost an estimated $40,000, will be put up for lease by Alan and Daniel Briel, owners of the Briel Poultry Farm near Palatine.

Owner Alan Briel said that the 66 by 132 foot lot cost an additional $30,000. Briel said that the sporting goods store would occupy about half of the building, an area of 70 by 30 feet, and that the remainder would be leased to one or more retail firms still to be selected.

Briel hopes that the building will develop into a center for merchandise directed at teen-agers. He mentioned a record store, a candy store and a girls' ready-to-wear shop as possibilities.

PARKING WILL be provided in the rear of the store. Two houses have already been removed from the lot and Briel expects to break ground in late March. It should be ready for occupancy in late June or early July he indicated.

The structure will be of brick construction with plate glass window and Roman brick trim in front. Alan Briel will be the general contractor and a number of firms will participate in construction. Alan lives in Arlington Heights and brother Daniel in Palatine.

Richard Olsta of Arlington Heights designed the building and the architect was S. S. Otis of Chicago.

Wessman-Cunningham, Inc. has had a sporting goods business at 149-153 S. Oak Park ave. in Oak Park for 12 years. The firm deals exclusively in sporting goods and athletic equipment, with Hal Cunningham directing the retail business and Walt Wessman the school, club and industrial division.

Both men are graduates of the University of Illinois and are active in alumni affairs. Cunningham is a veteran of World War II, Wessman of World War I. Wessman has been interested in the Cook County American Legion Junior Baseball program for many years and serves on the Athletic Activities commission of the Department of Illinois for the American Legion. They said that the new store will be stocked with many national brands of athletic equipment.

Census Boost Perils Fire Insurance Rates

The need for additional fire department facilities has become doubly important now that the new census figure of 19,150 has been released, Fire Chief Elroy Winkelman said this week.

Last July the fire grading of the Village of Arlington Heights was changed from class 5 to class 6 after a thorough inspection of the fire department and its equipment and other municipal facilities and regulations by the Cook County Inspection bureau. The bureau used an estimated population of 16,500 as a basis for its calculations.

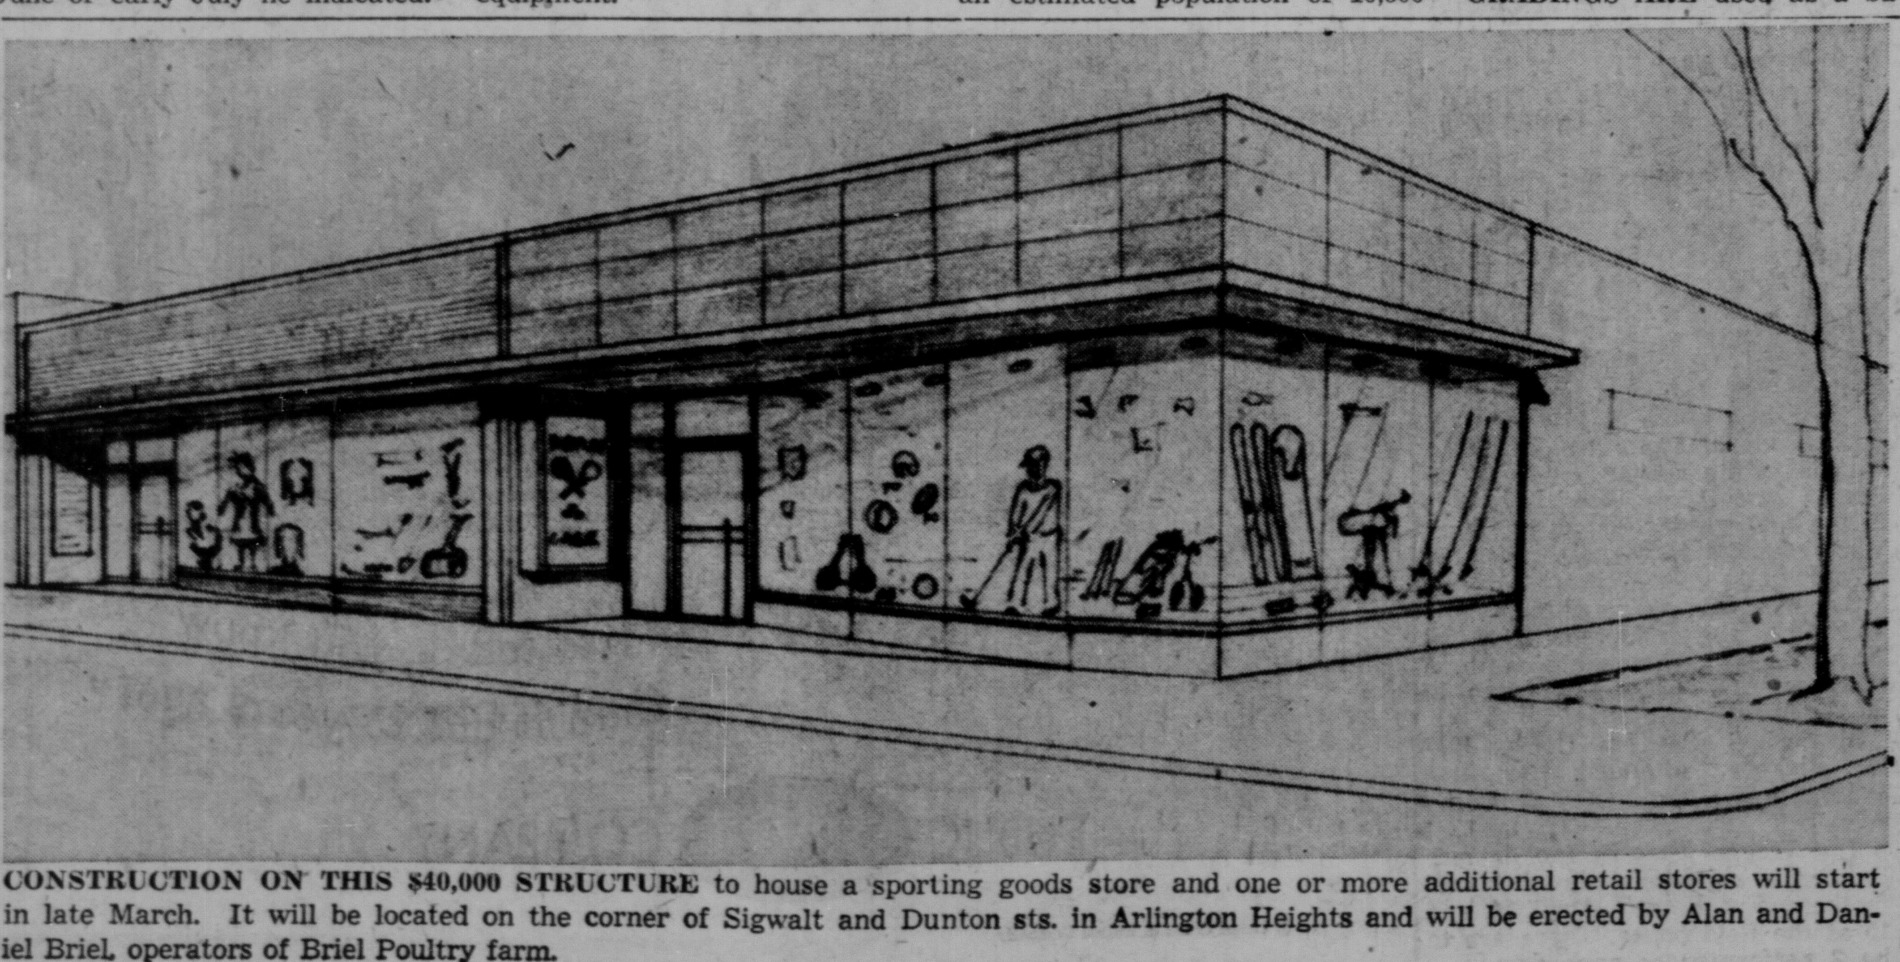
It was then pointed out that the village's facilities had not kept pace with the rapid population growth since the previous inspection and grading made in 1949. A class 7 grading was averted by only a small margin. Inquiries made this week indicate that the new population total of 19,150 might bring about a class 7 grading unless material improvements are made in the fire fighting facilities.

GRADINGS ARE used as a basis for determining the fire insurance rates applicable to all property within the village limits. Further inquiries reveal that when a change was made from class 5 to class 6, fire insurance rates on all mercantile, industrial, municipal and institutional buildings increased about 7 per cent. Should a grading of class 7 apply a further increase of about 7 per cent would result, making a total increase of about 14 per cent over the rates on such properties in a fifth class town.

Residence and apartment owners would be affected more drastically by a change to class 7. A typical brick residence would have its fire insurance rates increased 50 per cent.

Planned improvements in the fire department, including the new north side fire house and an additional pumper and other equipment, are most vital in preventing any further downgrading of Arlington Heights and will help restore the former Class 5 grading, according to the chief.

A strong affirmative vote by the people on the Fire Department propositions at the special referendum on Tuesday, March 27, will assure the improved protection needed, he said. (AF



CONSTRUCTION ON THIS $40,000 STRUCTURE to house a sporting goods store and one or more additional retail stores will start in late March. It will be located on the corner of Sigwalt and Dunton sts. in Arlington Heights and will be erected by Alan and Daniel Briel, operators of Briel Poultry farm.

High School Talent Show This Weekend

A Navy recruiter's dream comes true this weekend when students of Arlington high school transform the big gym into the setting for "Navy Blues," student council talent show.

The show features a cast of more than a hundred.

Two performances Friday and Saturday at 8 p.m. will be presented.

Theme of the show is a round-the-world trip aboard a naval ship.

To lend an air of authenticity to the production, Capt. Hollingsworth and Lt. Commander Fitzgerald from Glenview Naval Air station assisted with the script and Navy customs.

WRITERS of the variety show are Gail Rowe, Bob Lenz, Fritz Snyder, Jo Mitchell, Lynn Heberling, Ann Whitely, Stephanie Empkie, and Douglas K. Murphy, faculty director.

This team has amassed a galaxy of young talent, including a drill squad, dancers, singers, specialty acts, and production numbers.

CLIMAX of the show is a grand finale in which all acts will pass in review.

Admission to the "Navy Blues" extravaganza is 75 cents for adults and 50 cents for students. Tickets will be available at the door.

Arlington Camera Shop Has Grand Opening March 17

Grand opening of the new Arlington Camera shop is Saturday.

Owned by Palmer Russell and Joseph Kneip, both of whom have been in the camera and photographic business since 1928, the new shop will feature a complete line of camera and film supplies.

The owners also have stores at 2117 Irving Park in Chicago and at 8002 Lincoln ave. in Skokie.

Manager of the new Arlington Heights store is Herbert Tarnow of Skokie.

HUNDREDS of dollars in prizes will be given away in connection with the grand opening. All prizes are on display in the store window, including cameras, movie equipment, screens film, flash bulbs, and slide file boxes.

Prizes will be awarded March 23.

Seek United Action On Area Water Crisis

All parties interested in the proposed Northwest Suburban Water commission and the Elmhurst-Lombard-Villa Park Water commission met Tuesday night to see if the 2 groups could get together on a plan to bring water from Lake Michigan to the suburbs.

Trustee Robert Bishop of Arlington Heights suggested that the DuPage county group investigate purchase of water from the Cook county commission.

The DuPage county group, on the other hand, would like to sell water from its pipeline to Arlington Heights, Mt. Prospect, Palatine, Des Plaines and Park Ridge.

BISHOP SAID Wednesday that he thought the northwest suburbs would not benefit from the latter plan because they would have to pay rates which would include amortization costs on a pipeline to Elmhurst.

That is why he suggested that the Du Page towns take water from the proposed Cook county commission. (The route of the Du Page commission pipeline would be from the lake just south of the Lake-Cook line west to near Wheeling and thence south along highway 83.)

Elmhurst Village Manager Robert Palmer said Wednesday that there will be a "30 to 60 day" waiting period during which discussions toward a possible merger of some or all phases of the 2 proposed water commissions would take place. He added that the Du Page commission may contract for an engineering study during that period. The study would not interfere with a merger, however, he claimed.

AT THE MEETING there were only 5 communities—all in northern Du Page county—which expressed interest in joining with Elmhurst and its neighbors in the commission. Towns to the west and south, including Wheaton, Glen Ellyn, Hinsdale, Westmont, Downers Grove and the Argonne National Laboratory, turned it down. According to Palmer, the 5 villages which will be consulted in later planning sessions are Bensenville, Itasca, Roselle, Wood Dale and Addison.

The Arlington Heights delegation at the meeting suggested that further negotiations be held up until both groups had explored each other's plans. An Elmhurst alderman said in response that "It's taken us 3 years to get this far and we won't wait any longer."

Lombard and Villa Park authorities agreed that the pipeline will be built, even if it would serve only the 3 adjoining communities.

Foil Burglary Attempt Of 4 Boys Saturday

A woman burst into the Arlington Heights police station at midnight Saturday and told of 4 boys trying to break into the Parkway Liquor store at 27 E. Davis. She said that they were removing screens from the door with coins.

The boys were gone by the time police arrived.

ANOTHER burglary during the week was successful. Sunday morning a waitress at the Suburban Snack Shop, 1706 W. Campbell, discovered that the restaurant had been burglarized during the night. She told police that some cigarettes and a small amount of cash was stolen.

Robert Gutzmer, of 402 S. State rd., reported to police that he chased off a man in a white stripe jacket about midnight Saturday. Gutzmer said that the man came up the stairs at his home but fled when Gutzmer called out to him.

The theft of a 1955 Chevrolet from Jim's Service station at Campbell and Wilke was not noticed until Saturday morning. The car was left at the station by Ralph Dowling, 2303 Eastman, Rolling Meadows sometime Friday and was stolen that night. The car was later recovered in Des Plaines.

TWO ARREST tickets were issued by Arlington Heights police following traffic accidents in which there were no injuries.

William L. Huffman, 16, of 711 W. Chicago ave., Palatine, was cited for damaging public property. While driving south on Ridge he suddenly stopped and backed up into an approaching police car driven by village police officer Robert Keslinke. Damage to the police cruiser amounted to $21.60.

John Trinka, of Chicago was arrested following a slight collision at Hawthorne and Chestnut Sunday morning. His car was struck in the right rear by one driven by June W. Hetzel, 913 N. Harvard ave.

Distribute Health Blanks For New Pupils This Month

Doorbells will be ringing in Arlington Heights during the latter part of March as mothers from public and parochial schools distribute health blanks to families with children entering school for the first time in September.

These blanks are to be filled out and signed by the family doctor and dentist before a child may be registered for kindergarten this fall.

Registration dates have been set as follows:

March 31, who children who will attend St. James school;

May 11, for those who will go to St. Peter Lutheran school;

May 21, for those going to North school;

May 22, for those going to Dryden school;

May 24, for those going to Ridge school; and

May 25, for those going to South school.

OUR LADY of the Wayside parochial school has completed registration for first grade for next year, and is not included in the program.

Mrs. John N. Hall, PTA round-up general chairman advises: "If you have a child entering school in September, make appointments with your doctor and dentist now, so the necessary examinations can be completed and your child registered on the date listed above for his school."

Chairmen for this program at the various schools are: Mrs. LeRoy Walsh, St. Peter school; Mrs. John Hernes, North school; Mrs. James Mazzei, South school; Mrs. George Krilcic, Ridge school; Mrs. Joseph Blackwell, Dryden school. The St. James Catholic school round-up will be sponsored by the Mothers' club.

NO EXAMINATION will be conducted in the schools on the days of the round-up. Parents will bring the completed blank to the school on that date, will confer with the school nurse on the results of the examination, and will register their child for school. In compliance with the state law providing for a physical examination before entering school, children will not be registered for school until the physical and dental examinations have been completed.

To enter the schools conducting the round-ups, a child must be 5 on or before December 2, 1956, to enter kindergarten, and 6 on or before December 2, 1956, to enter first grade.

Sears Stores Still Looking For NW Outlet

Contrary to many rumors, the Sears organization has not purchased the Burmeister farm, Rand and Elmhurst roads as a site for a new store planned in the northwest area.

The firm is considering 2 or 3 locations and it may be some time before a decision is made.

Further inquiries reveal that when a change was made from class 5 to class 6, fire insurance rates on all mercantile, industrial, municipal and institutional buildings increased about 7 per cent. Should a grading of class 7 apply a further increase of about 7 per cent would result, making a total increase of about 14 per cent over the rates on such properties in a fifth class town.

Residence and apartment owners would be affected more drastically by a change to class 7. A typical brick residence would have its fire insurance rates increased 50 per cent.

Planned improvements in the fire department, including the new north side fire house and an additional pumper and other equipment, are most vital in preventing any further downgrading of Arlington Heights and will help restore the former Class 5 grading, according to the chief.

A strong affirmative vote by the people on the Fire Department propositions at the special referendum on Tuesday, March 27, will assure the improved protection needed, he said. (AF

Sign-up At Arlington

Final registrations of Arlington Heights boys for Little League will be held this Saturday, March 17. Complete details will be found in the sport pages.

Distribute Health Blanks For New Pupils This Month

Doorbells will be ringing in Arlington Heights during the latter part of March as mothers from public and parochial schools distribute health blanks to families with children entering school for the first time in September.

These blanks are to be filled out and signed by the family doctor and dentist before a child may be registered for kindergarten this fall.

Registration dates have been set as follows:

March 31, who children who will attend St. James school;

May 11, for those who will go to St. Peter Lutheran school;

May 21, for those going to North school;

May 22, for those going to Dryden school;

May 24, for those going to Ridge school; and

May 25, for those going to South school.

OUR LADY of the Wayside parochial school has completed registration for first grade for next year, and is not included in the program.

Mrs. John N. Hall, PTA round-up general chairman advises: "If you have a child entering school in September, make appointments with your doctor and dentist now, so the necessary examinations can be completed and your child registered on the date listed above for his school."

Chairmen for this program at the various schools are: Mrs. LeRoy Walsh, St. Peter school; Mrs. John Hernes, North school; Mrs. James Mazzei, South school; Mrs. George Krilcic, Ridge school; Mrs. Joseph Blackwell, Dryden school. The St. James Catholic school round-up will be sponsored by the Mothers' club.

NO EXAMINATION will be conducted in the schools on the days of the round-up. Parents will bring the completed blank to the school on that date, will confer with the school nurse on the results of the examination, and will register their child for school. In compliance with the state law providing for a physical examination before entering school, children will not be registered for school until the physical and dental examinations have been completed.

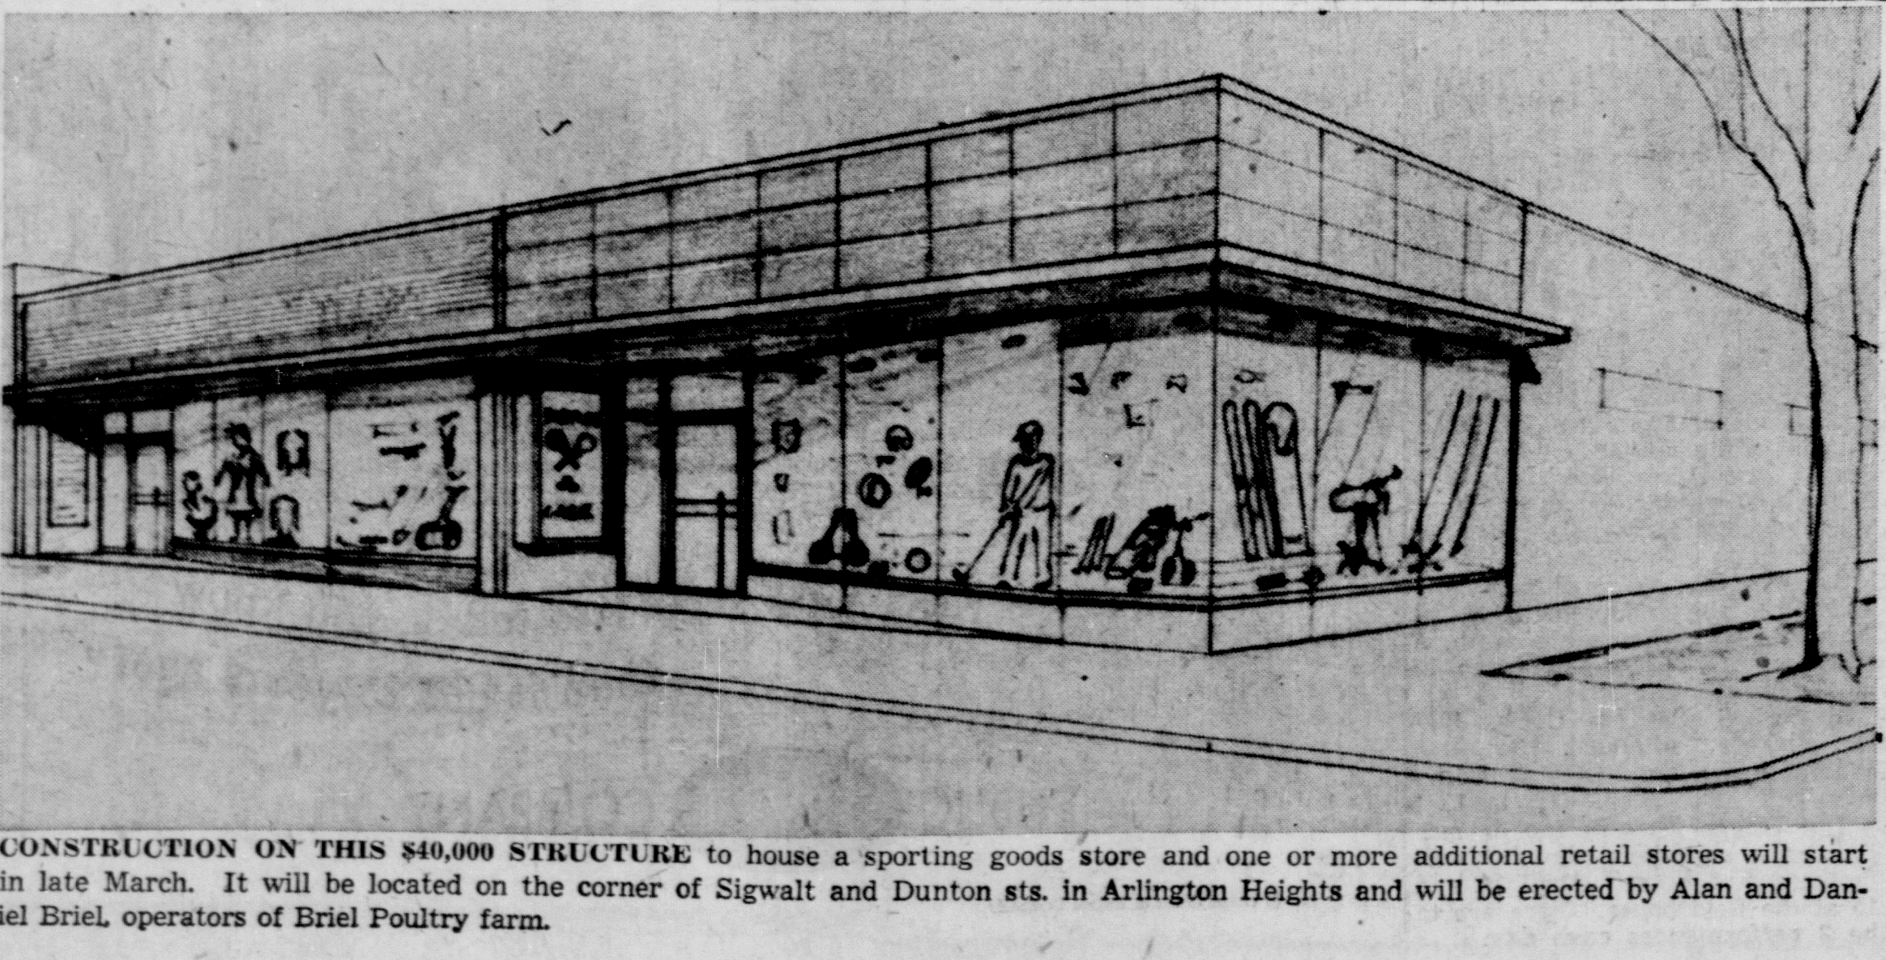
To enter the schools conducting the round-ups, a child must be 5 on or before December 2, 1956, to enter kindergarten, and 6 on or before December 2, 1956, to enter first grade.

Sears Stores Still Looking For NW Outlet

Contrary to many rumors, the Sears organization has not purchased the Burmeister farm, Rand and Elmhurst roads as a site for a new store planned in the northwest area.

The firm is considering 2 or 3 locations and it may be some time before a decision is made.

Prepare For An Early Easter In Your Arlington Stores



CONSTRUCTION ON THIS $40,000 STRUCTURE to house a sporting goods store and one or more additional retail stores will start in late March. It will be located on the corner of Sigwalt and Dunton sts. in Arlington Heights and will be erected by Alan and Daniel Briel, operators of Briel Poultry farm.

Round 'n About Westgate

Westgate Community Association

As this goes to press readers will notice that the proper title of Westgate Community association instead of Home Owners' association is being used. The third community association meeting is about here again. Wednesday, March 21st is the next meeting, which will again be held in the cafeteria of the Junior high school starting at 8 p.m. sharp. The membership drive is still well in arrears and no improvement made since the last issue of this paper. aPid membership of 90 dwellings out of a possible 300 is actually less than 1/3 of the total homes covered by the association. Members are urged to see their district representative now and pay their dues, so there will be a more favorable treasurer's report at this coming meeting.

The civic affairs committee is having their second meeting today with many points being brought up for discussion. Several new members have been added to this list including George Knight, Bill Henn, Bill Chalifoux and Gerry Martinell. So many complaints of a personal nature have been coming to the attention of this committee that they have set up a complaint committee within the civic affairs committee which will be headed by Mrs. Gerry Martinell, 119 N. Wilke. This committee has the approval of the board of directors and all complaints should be directed to Mrs. Martinell, CL 5-0146. Complaints within reason will be sorted and given to respective committees for action.

All committees will report at the next meeting so members are urged to attend and have another big gathering.

Entertain

Dorothy and Bert Hillner of Winnetka were supper guests of Lillian and Walter Krueger, 14 N. Yale Sunday.

The Shrine circus in Chicago was Linda Pollitz' way of entertaining several of her friends last Sunday. Her guests were Gregory Olen, Paula Krueger, Carol Ann Lorenzen, Mary Eileen Naso of Oak Park and Linda's brother, John. Linda's father, Howard, was chaperon at this gala event.

Eleanor and Dwight Dawes have come from Indianapolis, to live at 1601 W. Euclid, in the house formerly owned by Rickey and Bob Milne. Linda, 9, Carol, 5, and Patty, 3½, make up the remainder of this new family to Westgate. Dwight is in the accounting department of Allstate Insurance and is a graduate of the University of Iowa. Golf and bowling are among Mr. Dawes' hobbies.

Here and There

Prospect Heights community presented the operetta "Waltz Dream" March 10 and 11. Mary Flodin, 229 N. Yale played the lead role of Princess Mathilda. The operetta was a huge success and will certainly be remembered for the fine performance.

A luncheon and style show presented by Tam-O-Shanter country club was attended by Joyce Akerlund and Caroline Herigodt of Fremont st. March 13.

The boy scouts were pleased and wish to thank Westgate residents for the tremendous response to the newspaper drive. More papers were collected last Saturday than in any previous drive. Proceeds received from these paper drives are divided among Arlington scout troops at the end of each year.

Little League baseball team members are selling stickers. Proceeds from these stickers are used to buy uniforms and equipment and to generally help support the team for the coming season.

Convention Delegate To Speak Monday To Presbyterian Men

Hal A. McNutt of Stillwater, Okla., association secretary of the National Council of Presbyterian Men, will be guest speaker Monday evening at the monthly meeting of the local chapter of Presbyterian men at the First Presbyterian church, Arlington Heights. Mr. McNutt is one of 3100 delegates attending the NCPM 3-day convention being held at the Palmer House this weekend.

Mr. McNutt, one of the originators and organizers of the NCPM in 1948, was head of the statewide men's organization in Oklahoma from 1943-1948. State organization at that time numbered approximately 600 delegates. In 1949 he became western area president of the national council and in 1950 he was appointed to his present office. In his public life in Stillwater, he has been a retail men's clothing executive for 16 years and from 1935-1950 he was postmaster.

James Webster, president of the local chapter, will preside at the 7 p.m. dinner-meeting, and music for the evening will be in charge of Jack McComb and Earle Auge. Olliver Davenport, Larry Smith and Douge Trout, local delegates to the national council meeting at the Palmer House, will give reports on the meeting and Marion DenBeste will make a special report on a local chapter project. Convention Delegate To Speak Monday To Presbyterian Men

Hal A. McNutt of Stillwater, Okla., association secretary of the National Council of Presbyterian Men, will be guest speaker Monday evening at the monthly meeting of the local chapter of Presbyterian men at the First Presbyterian church, Arlington Heights. Mr. McNutt is one of 3100 delegates attending the NCPM 3-day convention being held at the Palmer House this weekend.

Mr. McNutt, one of the originators and organizers of the NCPM in 1948, was head of the statewide men's organization in Oklahoma from 1943-1948. State organization at that time numbered approximately 600 delegates. In 1949 he became western area president of the national council and in 1950 he was appointed to his present office. In his public life in Stillwater, he has been a retail men's clothing executive for 16 years and from 1935-1950 he was postmaster.

James Webster, president of the local chapter, will preside at the 7 p.m. dinner-meeting, and music for the evening will be in charge of Jack McComb and Earle Auge. Olliver Davenport, Larry Smith and Douge Trout, local delegates to the national council meeting at the Palmer House, will give reports on the meeting and Marion DenBeste will make a special report on a local chapter project. Foreign Missions Staff Members To Speak At Presbyterian Church

REV. JOHN C. CORBIN

The Rev. John C. Corbin, D. D., a member of the staff of the board of foreign missions of the Presbyterian church in the U.S.A., New York, will speak at First Presbyterian church of Arlington Heights Sunday, March 18 at both 9:30 and 11 o'clock.

Dr. Corbin is chairman of the division of interpretation and support of the Presbyterian board. In this capacity he is responsible for the program of interpretation of the Presbyterian overseas interchurch mission which has personnel and commitments in 34 countries. Before undertaking this assignment in 1949, Dr. Corbin travelled in China, Japan, Korea, and the Philippines to observe the work of the mission and churches of the area.

More recently Dr. Corbin visited the orient as a member of a special deputation to discover ways in which national churches and missions can cooperate in providing a constructive program of off-base activities for personnel of the air force, navy, and army stationed temporarily there.

Dr. Corbin was a pastor in Pennsylvania from 1932 to 1943. He then served as a chaplain in the navy including duty as a transport chaplain in Asiatic areas. In 1946 Dr. Corbin came to the executive staff of the board of foreign missions.

In addition to his assignment with the foreign board, Dr. Corbin is a member of the general council's promotional cabinet, the National Commission on Evangelism, the General Assembly's commission on chaplains, and is also assigned to a number of committees of the National Council of Churches of Christ in America.(A

Presbyterian Circles To See Indian-American Film

Women's Association of the First Presbyterian church of Arlington Heights announces the day and evening circle meetings which will be held this month Wednesday, March 21 with the afternoon groups starting at 1:15 p.m. and night circles at 8:30 p.m. Mrs. Jack McComb, national missions chairman of the association, has planned the program for the circles around a series of slides and film strips which depict the lives and problems of the Indian-American.

"Strangers in Their Own World" is the title of the film strip to be shown in circles 1, 4, 10 and 11 this month and the strips will be narrated by the national missions chairman in each group. The films depict the lives of the Indians and their problems as they leave their native reservations and migrate to other towns and cities. Slides, which will be shown in circles 3, 5, 6, 8 and 9, were taken at the Cook Christian training school, Phoenix, which is run by Indian-Americans for their own people. This school is supported in part by the Presbyterian church.

CIRCLES 7, 12 AND 2 will view the film strips in April and this month their program will consist of a report entitled, "Indians and His Government" which will be presented by the national missions chairmen of each group.

Circle 1 will meet at the home of Mrs. C. William Mills, 733 S. Mitchell, and Mrs. William Spoomer will be co-hostess with Mrs. Mills. Circle 2 will hold its meeting at the William Salzman residence, 404 S. Can-Dota, Mt. Prospect, co-hostess will be Mrs. Kenneth Dougan. Mrs. Howard Froyd, 606 S. Vail, will be hostess to circle 4 this month and her cohostesses will be Mrs. Roger Burke and Mrs. Thomas Grisell.

Circle 5 will hold its meeting at the Roy L. Hughes home, 6 W. Grove st., and co-hostess will meet with Mrs. Everett Wagner, 1516 Mayfair. Co-hostesses with Mrs. Wagner will be Mrs. G. E. Hawkins and Mrs. C. M. Johnson. Mrs. Herman Berthold, 746 S. Highland, will be hostess to circle 7, and assisting her will be Mrs Robert Baron and Mr John Schipper.

CIRCLE 3 is planning to visit the Presbyterian home in Evanston March 22 and will have no meeting March 21, according to announcement of Mrs. R. C. Hansen, chairman of this group. Members are asked to meet at the church, 302 N. Dunton ave., at 12:30 p.m. Mrs. George Rose, national missions chairman for the circle, will show slides on the Indian-American and present the program at the home. Bible study will be given by Mrs. John Burgermeister.

Circle 8, the business and professional group, will be meeting at the home of Miss Gertrude Adam, 304 E. Euclid ave., and co-hostess will be Mrs. Kenneth Kort and Mrs. circle 9 will convene at the Richard Johnson residence, 504 S. Pine. Co-hostess with Mrs. Johnson will be Mrs. Walter Cutler.

MRS. GORDON BECKLEY, 713 S. Vail, will be hostess to circle 10 this month, and assisting her as co-hostesses will be Mrs. Basil Regione and Mrs. H. K. Curtis. Circle 11 plans to meet at the Wilbert Olsen residence, 1108 N. Dunton ave., with co-hostesses Mrs. George Sandy and Mrs. Donald Hodges and circle 12 will hold its meeting at the home of Mrs. John Miller, 915 W. Elm. Co-hostesses will be Mrs. Kenneth Kort an dMrs. Russell Deehring.

NW Credit Service Extends Operations Barrington-Mt. Prospect

The need for a credit service in the northwest area came to the attention of Mrs. C. E. Burns, Palatine, 2 years ago. As secretary of the Palatine chamber of commerce, she saw the need for a credit reporting service. She opened her office at 3 N. Bothwell st. 2 years ago.

At the request of businessmen in neighboring towns she has now extended her operations to Arlington Heights, Mt. Prospect and Barrington, and is so recognized by the Associated Credit Bureaus of America, Inc.

AS A FURTHER aid to businessmen, Mrs. Burns is contacting members on their wishes regarding credit plates, which has become so popular in metropolitan stores. A single plate can be used for charge accounts at more than one store. Their local use enables the housewife to shop at home with the same convenience she experiences by use of a charge plate in Chicago, Elgin and Evanston stores. (AMP

After School Is Sports Time At Junior High

This fact was high-lighted during the week as 98 awards were made to boys from winning intramural football and basketball teams.

The sports program began last fall with intramural "flag" football, in which 160 seventh and eighth grade boys took part. The season moves inside in November, with both intramural and interschool basketball teams. These teams are limited to 7th and 8th grade boys, but Saturday mornings are set aside for team play by the 6th grade boys. The basketball program is organized to provide all boys an opportunity to play on a team with others of equal ability.

THE VARSITY teams are divided at 105 lbs. into lightweight and heavyweight teams. Varsity basketball award winners are as follows:

Lightweights: Bob Inman, Jim Kennedy, Bill Spomer, Bill Lips, Paul McNurlen, Tom Clark, Fred Lussow, Ken Mueller, Grant Wallhoff, Skipper Witt, Ron Cordes, Craig Quackenbush, Lee Garr, Bob Hutchinson, and Bill Haberichter, manager.

Heavyweights: Ricky Johnston, Bruce Fichte, John Beckman, Ken Dougan, Bud Terbell, Tod Cervenka, Warren Myers, Fred Empkie, George Tuttle, Fred Froyd, Tom Klement, and George Geane, manager.

Winter sports schedules not completed as yet include wrestling and co-recreation volley ball. Spring sports scheduled to get under way as soon as the weather improves include track and field, softball, and league basketball.

A varied program of sports, scheduled after school, is considered an important part of a good school for young adolescents, according to Robert Spinks, physical education instructor at the junior high. (A

Plans Good Friday Service For Children

A Good Friday service planned specifically for children will be conducted by Rev. John P. Petersen, pastor, at Our Saviour United Lutheran church, Arlington Heights, Friday, March 30, at 10 a.m. The service will be held in Dryden school, Dryden and Rockwell sts., and all children of the community are invited to attend.

Other Holy week services are scheduled for March 28 when the full-length motion picture, "I Beheld His Glory," will be shown, and Thursday evening, when holy communion will be administered.

During the morning worship Sunday 3 children were received into the church through baptism. They are David Allen and Donald Paul Gooding, children of Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Gooding, and Gerald Moore, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Moore.

The Rev. John C. Corbin, D. D., a member of the staff of the board of foreign missions of the Presbyterian church in the U.S.A., New York, will speak at First Presbyterian church of Arlington Heights Sunday, March 18 at both 9:30 and 11 o'clock.

Dr. Corbin is chairman of the division of interpretation and support of the Presbyterian board. In this capacity he is responsible for the program of interpretation of the Presbyterian overseas inter-church mission which has personnel and commitments in 34 countries. Before undertaking this assignment in 1949, Dr. Corbin travelled in China, Japan, Korea, and the Philippines to observe the work of the mission and churches of the area.

More recently Dr. Corbin visited the orient as a member of a special deputation to discover ways in which national churches and missions can cooperate in providing a constructive program of off-base activities for personnel of the air force, navy, and army stationed temporarily there.

Dr. Corbin was a pastor in Pennsylvania from 1932 to 1943. He then served as a chaplain in the navy including duty as a transport chaplain in Asiatic areas. In 1946 Dr. Corbin came to the executive staff of the board of foreign missions.

In addition to his assignment with the foreign board, Dr. Corbin is a member of the general council's promotional cabinet, the National Commission on Evangelism, the General Assembly's commission on chaplains, and is also assigned to a number of committees of the National Council of Churches of Christ in America.(A

Presbyterian Circles To See Indian-American Film

Women's Association of the First Presbyterian church of Arlington Heights announces the day and evening circle meetings which will be held this month Wednesday, March 21 with the afternoon groups starting at 1:15 p.m. and night circles at 8:30 p.m. Mrs. Jack McComb, national missions chairman of the association, has planned the program for the circles around a series of slides and film strips which depict the lives and problems of the Indian-American.

"Strangers in Their Own World" is the title of the film strip to be shown in circles 1, 4, 10 and 11 this month and the strips will be narrated by the national missions chairman in each group. The films depict the lives of the Indians and their problems as they leave their native reservations and migrate to other towns and cities. Slides, which will be shown in circles 3, 5, 6, 8 and 9, were taken at the Cook Christian training school, Phoenix, which is run by Indian-Americans for their own people. This school is supported in part by the Presbyterian church.

CIRCLES 7, 12 AND 2 will view the film strips in April and this month their program will consist of a report entitled, "Indians and His Government" which will be presented by the national missions chairmen of each group.

Circle 1 will meet at the home of Mrs. C. William Mills, 733 S. Mitchell, and Mrs. William Spoommer will be co-hostess with Mrs. Mills. Circle 2 will hold its meeting at the William Salzman residence, 404 S. Can-Dota, Mt. Prospect, co-hostess will be Mrs. Kenneth Dougan. Mrs. Howard Froyd, 606 S. Vail, will be hostess to circle 4 this month and her co-hostesses will be Mrs. Roger Burke and Mrs. Thomas Grisell.

Circle 5 will hold its meeting at the Roy L. Hughes home, 6 W. Grove st., and co-hostess will meet with Mrs. Everett Wagner, 1516 Mayfair. Co-hostesses with Mrs. Wagner will be Mrs. G. E. Hawkins and Mrs. C. M. Johnson. Mrs. Herman Berthold, 746 S. Highland, will be hostess to circle 7, and assisting her will be Mrs Robert Baron and Mr John Schipper.

CIRCLE 3 is planning to visit the Presbyterian home in Evanston March 22 and will have no meeting March 21, according to announcement of Mrs. R. C. Hansen, chairman of this group. Members are asked to meet at the church, 302 N. Dunton ave., at 12:30 p.m. Mrs. George Rose, national missions chairman for the circle, will show slides on the Indian-American and present the program at the home. Bible study will be given by Mrs. John Burgermeister.

Circle 8, the business and professional group, will be meeting at the home of Miss Gertrude Adam, 304 E. Euclid ave., and co-hostess will be Mrs. Kenneth Kort and Mrs. circle 9 will convene at the Richard Johnson residence, 504 S. Pine. Co-hostess with Mrs. Johnson will be Mrs. Walter Cutler.

MRS. GORDON BECKLEY, 713 S. Vail, will be hostess to circle 10 this month, and assisting her as co-hostesses will be Mrs. Basil Regione and Mrs. H. K. Curtis. Circle 11 plans to meet at the Wilbert Olsen residence, 1108 N. Dunton ave., with co-hostesses Mrs. George Sandy and Mrs. Donald Hodges and circle 12 will hold its meeting at the home of Mrs. John Miller, 915 W. Elm. Co-hostesses will be Mrs. Kenneth Kort an dMrs. Russell Deehring.

NW Credit Service Extends Operations Barrington-Mt. Prospect

The need for a credit service in the northwest area came to the attention of Mrs. C. E. Burns, Palatine, 2 years ago. As secretary of the Palatine chamber of commerce, she saw the need for a credit reporting service. She opened her office at 3 N. Bothwell st. 2 years ago.

At the request of businessmen in neighboring towns she has now extended her operations to Arlington Heights, Mt. Prospect and Barrington, and is so recognized by the Associated Credit Bureaus of America, Inc.

AS A FURTHER aid to businessmen, Mrs. Burns is contacting members on their wishes regarding credit plates, which has become so popular in metropolitan stores. A single plate can be used for charge accounts at more than one store. Their local use enables the housewife to shop at home with the same convenience she experiences by use of a charge plate in Chicago, Elgin and Evanston stores. (AMP

After School Is Sports Time At Junior High

This fact was high-lighted during the week as 98 awards were made to boys from winning intramural football and basketball teams.

The sports program began last fall with intramural "flag" football, in which 160 seventh and eighth grade boys took part. The season moves inside in November, with both intramural and inter-school basketball teams. These teams are limited to 7th and 8th grade boys, but Saturday mornings are set aside for team play by the 6th grade boys. The basketball program is organized to provide all boys an opportunity to play on a team with others of equal ability.

THE VARSITY teams are divided at 105 lbs. into lightweight and heavyweight teams. Varsity basketball award winners are as follows:

Lightweights: Bob Inman, Jim Kennedy, Bill Spomer, Bill Lips, Paul McNurlen, Tom Clark, Fred Lussow, Ken Mueller, Grant Wallhoff, Skipper Witt, Ron Cordes, Craig Quackenbush, Lee Garr, Bob Hutchinson, and Bill Haberichter, manager.

Heavyweights: Ricky Johnston, Bruce Fichte, John Beckman, Ken Dougan, Bud Terbell, Tod Cervenka, Warren Myers, Fred Empkie, George Tuttle, Fred Froyd, Tom Klement, and George Geane, manager.

Winter sports schedules not completed as yet include wrestling and co-recreation volley ball. Spring sports scheduled to get under way as soon as the weather improves include track and field, softball, and league basketball.

A varied program of sports, scheduled after school, is considered an important part of a good school for young adolescents, according to Robert Spinks, physical education instructor at the junior high. (A

Plans Good Friday Service For Children

A Good Friday service planned specifically for children will be conducted by Rev. John P. Petersen, pastor, at Our Saviour United Lutheran church, Arlington Heights, Friday, March 30, at 10 a.m. The service will be held in Dryden school, Dryden and Rockwell sts., and all children of the community are invited to attend.

Other Holy week services are scheduled for March 28 when the full-length motion picture, "I Beheld His Glory," will be shown, and Thursday evening, when holy communion will be administered.

During the morning worship Sunday 3 children were received into the church through baptism. They are David Allen and Donald Paul Gooding, children of Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Gooding, and Gerald Moore, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Moore.

Seek School For Retarded Children In Northwest Area

The graphic story of what can be done to assist retarded children was told to parents and civic group representatives Wednesday, March 7.

Sponsored by a group of parents, a meeting to discuss the formation of a school for local retarded children was held in the Community church Barn, Rolling Meadows.

Explained in detail was the work being done at the Orchard school for Retarded Children in Skokie by William Fay, one of the founders of the Orchard school. He showed a film "One Lighted Candle," which depicted the work of their school and the Julian Levinson Foundation at Cook county hospital.

CONDUCTING the meeting was Mrs. Arthur Krause, Rolling Meadows. Attending were representatives of local civic groups asked to lend assistance to the contemplated Rolling Meadows retarded child school. There were also representatives from the Lake Zurich School for Exceptional Children, a private school.

The proposed school for retarded children would be community sponsored.

The Community church has offered room facilities for the school without charge as well as other assistance. A teacher has been secured for the class at moderate cost to be paid by parents. Basic assistance needed from civic groups will be teacher aids, toys, musical instruments, painting and handicraft materials, phonograph and records, as well as a volunteer transportation system to transport the children to and from their class.

FIRST STEP TO BE taken in the formation of the school is a complete psychiatric examination and test for each child to determine his age level for teaching purposes. The expense of these examinations will be born by parents. Provisions exist in some school systems for retarded children who are educable which means they eventually can be taught to read and write. No provisions are made in the public school system for retarded children not educable but trainable.

The proposed community-sponsored school will be trainable children. There is a tentative enrollment of 7 pupils for the new school. The children come from a wide area—Rolling Meadows, Palatine, Arlington Heights as well as the country area.

An experimental Sunday school class for retarded children has been sponsored by the Community church of Rolling Meadows. Great success has been met in this work under the teaching of Mrs. Krause and Mrs. Dove Carter of Palatine, a musical therapist. The success of the Sunday school class sparked the promotion of a community-sponsored school for retarded children during the week. Because most of the children eligible for the school are quite young, only half day sessions are planned.

A FURTHER organizational meeting for the proposed school is planned. No definite date has been set. Individual parents will proceed with the testing of their children in order to avoid delay when the school formally opens.

Refreshments were served following the meeting. Cakes were donated by Mrs. Pat Phipps, Mrs. June Wilkans, Mrs. Myrtle Yunger, and Mrs. Krause. Coffee was donated by Mrs. Svea Garms. A group from the Community church Women's association served the refreshments. They were Mrs. Lillian Carlson, Mrs. Sally Myers, Mrs. Georgia Weed, Mrs. Freda Schulz and Mrs. Edith Paeglow.

Mrs. G. William Sullivan, 415 Windsor dr., Arlington Heights, returned Saturday from Memphis where she completed a course of training to prepare for the position of Welcome Wagon hostess in Arlington Heights.

In behalf of her sponsors in Arlington Heights, Mrs. Sullivan will bring church and civic information to families on whom she calls. With her basket of gifts, she will extend hospitality for sponsors.

Hospital Questions??

Just what is a community hospital?

A community hospital is one which is owned and maintained by the community under an organization which has no connection with its local government. It is maintained by fees from paying patients, gifts, endowments, donations, subscriptions, and other sources of income. Control is vested in a Board of Trustees or a simiar governing body representative of the community involved. Some community hospitals are subsidized by governmental bodies (for free work) but without governmental control.

Will my doctor be on the hospital staff?

Yes, if the doctor lives within the communities and makes application. Naturally, his qualifications must meet the qualifications of the credential committee of the medical staff of the hospital.

Will there be 24 hour emergency room service and outpatient service?

Yes.

What professional advice is being given to assure that the hospital is adequately planned?

Mr. Ross Garrett, one of the nation's best hospital consultants, has been retained by the Board of Trustees. He is endorsed by Dr. Malcolm T. MacEachein, Director of Professional Services of the American Hospital Association.

Mr. Kenath Hartman, Asistant Director of Chicago Wesley Memorial hospital, and an instructor in hospital administration at Northwestern university, is the acting secretary to the Board of Trustees of the Northwest Community hospital.

Who will control the hospital?

YOU WILL. Each contributor of $20 (twenty dollars) or more shall be entitled to only one corporate vote.

Written inquiries concerning the hospital will be answered in this column. Address your inquiries to Robert W. Griffith, 408 Carlyle pl., Arlington Heights.

This Week with PTA

Authority on Family Living at Dryden

DR. FREDA S. KEHM

Dr. Freda S. Kehm, director of the Association for Family Living, will speak to Dryden PTA Tuesday at 8:15 p.m. on "How Parents and Teachers Meet the Emotional Needs of Children."

Dr. Kehm has held her present post since 1948, in addition to serving on various commissions concerned with housing, welfare, mental health and education of children and families.

She is a member of the Cook county sheriff's advisory council on juvenile delinquency, and has written a permabook, "Your Child from Two to Five," as well as numerous articles for Chicago newspapers and national magazines, both professional and popular.

Dr. Kehm received her B.A. degree in psychology from the University of Illinois, her M.A. degree from Northwestern university, and her Ph.D. from the University of South Dakota.

She has served both state and federal agencies dealing with child welfare, and before assuming her present position was state director of the Planned Parenthood League of Illinois.

With more than 25 years of concentrated experience in the field of children's welfare, Dr. Kehm can offer her listeners valuable help in determining their own children's emotional needs.

Mothers of third grade sections 1 and 2 will serve refreshments.

Ridge to See Village Theatre Play

"Random Target," a 1-act play by Nora Sterling, will be presented next Tuesday at 8:15 p.m. to the Ridge school PTA. Mrs. James Smith is directing this production, the only one to be given by the theatre group for the PTA this year.

Featured in the cast are John Woods and his son, Jonathan, a fifth grade student, who will enact their real-life roles in the play. Other members of the cast are Doris Silver and Alice Scheske.

Theme of the play is aggressive behavior, and how it should be handled. What happens when children have strong feelings of anger? Are they given an opportunity to express their resentment against the person who caused it, or do they lash out blindly at some "random target"?

How these questions are dealt with in one family forms the basis of the play, which is expected to prove helpful as well as highly entertaining.

Following the presentation, a short discussion period will be held, led by Mrs. Ruth Sangster, school counselor. Mothers of third grade sections 1 and 2 will serve refreshments.

Inside Story of Channel 11 at South

Doubly interesting because of Channel 11's present drive for funds will be the appearance at South school PTA next Tuesday (in the Junior high cafeteria) of Dr. Norbert J. Hruby, supervisor of radio and television for the University of Chicago.

One of the strongest advocates and staunchest workers for educational television in Chicago, Dr. Hruby for several years prior to channel 11's inception served as director of the speakers' bureau and chairman of the committee on programs for the Chicago Educational Television association.

Before assuming his present post, Dr. Hruby was director of Loyola university's public information center, producing and directing various radio programs and Loyola's portion of the television series, "Operation New Horizons" and "Learning Brings Adventure."

Dr. Hruby received his M.A. degree in English from Loyola university, did post-graduate study in drama at Yale university, and received a Ph.D. degree in modern drama from Loyola university in 1951.

He currently produces and directs the new University of Chicago radio series "The Sacred Note," which is broadcast over WBBM and 16 other stations.

Those who have questions about channel 11 or educational television in general will have an opportunity for discussion following Dr. Hruby's address. Mothers of sections 1, 2 and 3 of the third grade will serve as hostesses following the meeting.

North School to Hear Faculty Panel

Next to the last in a series of popular faculty panels being presented with Superintendent of Schools Ralph E. Clabaugh as moderator will be presented next Tuesday evening at North School PTA meeting.

Discussing the subject, "How Can Parents Improve Their Child's Achievement in School?", panelists will be Miss Martha Sapp, guidance director; Mrs. Agnes Skadberg, reading consultant; Richard Hetke, fifth grade teacher and Miss Mimi Reeb, first grade teacher.

Such panel discussions have been enthusiastically received where they have been presented in other schools, and the usual discussion period following has given parents the opportunity to become better acquainted with objectives and techniques of the school system.

Hostesses will be mothers of sections 1, 2 and 3 of the third grade.

Traveling Bookstore Here Saturday

That once-a-year chance to look over, in local leisure, the best of all publishers' offerings in the field of children's literature will be presented Saturday from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. in the Junior high gymnasium.

Although local merchants have become sufficiently aware of the demand for books to stock not only the Golden Books but the Landmark series, the Modern Library, and a certain number of best-sellers, still the only opportunity in Arlington Heights to select from the wide variety of well-bound, beautifully illustrated, and completely varied books now being published is offered at the PTA book fair.

Captain Nemo and the original coon-skin capped congressman from Tennessee captured the children's fancy last year — but there are many other heroes of fact and fiction who will commend themselves to this year's readers.

Further information on the book fair will be found elsewhere in this issue.

Schmoyer To Serve As Adjusticator At District Band Meet

Fredrick C. Schmoyer, director of music at Arlington Heights high school, has been asked to serve as an adjudicator for the District 1, elementary schools band contest, to be held at Zion Saturday, March 17.

Schmoyer will also judge the State finals of the Northern Indiana high school band contest April 14, in Fort Wayne Ind.

Schmoyer has been a member of the high school faculty for the past 11 years.

Annual PTA Book Fair Is Saturday In Arlington

The annual Arlington Heights PTA book fair will be held this Saturday in the Junior high gymnasium from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m., announces Mrs. Melvin Born, chairman of the event.

This "traveling bookshop," made available by the Lake Zurich Home and School service offers the only opportunity of the year to select locally from the best recently-published children's literature.

Mrs. Frances Sorokin, head librarian, reports that children are showing such an interest in science, biography, science fiction and the historical Landmark series, that the library is unable to supply the demand.

Since proceeds from the book fair are used to purchase new books for the school libraries, purchases will not only help to satisfy children's immediate needs but will make more volumes available to them through the libraries.

The impact of television was strikingly demonstrated last year with the complete sellout in the first half hour of "Davy Crockett" and "20,000 Leagues Under the Sea," an event which seems to prove that television helps, rather than hinders, the sale of books.

In all, at the end of last year's fair, the school libraries were richer by 163 new books, covering 58 additional titles.

Parents are urged to accompany their children to help in the selection of books, to see the many new and handsome editions of old favorites, and to look over the variety of adult literature also being offered.

Mrs. Jack McComb is in charge of setting up the tables and keeping them supplied with books, which are sorted according to age levels.

Seventy helpers have been recruited to assist in the sale, including additional cashiers to facilitate purchases. Would-be purchasers are advised to come early to be sure of a complete selection, although orders may be given for any book whose supply is exhausted.

Eastwood Events

To Eastwood from Chicago come Mr. and Mrs. Luc LeBon and 2 daughters, Christine, 2½, and Kathleen, 10 months, to take up residence at 900 E. Euclid. Originally from Belgium, Mr. LeBon now is with Fuller, Smith and Ross, a Chicago advertising agency.

At home recuperating from a broken collar bone is Cindy Lu, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Bronwell. She broke it falling out of bed.

Eastwood farewells and best wishes to Mr. and Mrs. H. V. Menick and family. They left last week from their home, 406 N. Lincoln lane to begin residence in Plum Grove Estates, Palatine. Mrs. Menick's canasta group, of which Eastwoodite Mrs. Haldor Carlsen is a member, held a luncheon last Tuesday at the Supper Club. As guests of honor with Mrs. Menick were Mrs. C. P. Stewart and Mrs. W. F. Osburn, also leaving Arlington Heights.

At the Wagon Wheel in Rockton over last weekend were Eastwood's Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Petersen, Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Wingquist, Mr. and Mrs. F. R. Patton, together with Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Baron.

Birthdays

Family celebration is the order of the day March 15 in the E. F. Neas household to celebrate daughter, Elizabeth's, first birthday.

Thirteen fifth grade classmates of Mary Elizabeth, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Cockrell, helped make her 11th birthday party a gala one March 8.

Jane Wingquist, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Wiingquist, celebrated her fifth birthday March 10 with a luncheon party. Her guests included Billy Karl, Karen Patton and Mary Tierney.

Returning this week from a long vacation in Florida are Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Baier and daughter, Margaret, together with Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Luedeking and children.

Tickets for Eastwood's April 7 dance at Rolling Green country club are now available. Since there is a definite limit of 100 couples, residents are urged to purchase tickets promptly from any one of the following ladies: Mary Aspengren, Hazel Carlsen, Kitty Dennis, Loraine Gustafson, Mary Johnson, Helen Kasper, Elsie Kelly, Marilyn Kowal, Lou Larson, Loretta Orgler, Dorothy Raasch, Jean Rogers, Bee Wallace, Doris Walters, Winnie Weissmueller or Dorothy Wingquist.

Officers have announced a bridge tournament party to be held June 2 at the Legion hall. A caterer will be in charge of the evening's supper, followed by presentation of gifts, dancing and general good time.

Girl Scout News

St. James

March 11, opening day of girl scout week, 120 brownies and scouts in uniform marched up the center aisle of St James Catholic church, Arlington Heights. Color guards led the procession and after colors were posted the girls were seated in front of the church by girl scout marshals.

Color guards were Carol Huskey, Kay Krebsbach and Patty Leckel, all eighth grade scouts. Marshals were Patty Buckeridge, Phyllis Muran, Sue Murphy and Janice Weidner, seventh grade scouts.

Brownies and scouts received holy communion in a body Sunday, March 11, at Our Lady of the Wayside Catholic church Rev. Harold O'Hara addressed the scouts. Colors were presented by Kathleen Lonze, Carol Kindler and Sharon Kastle.

The troop is currently studying first aid under the guidance of Mrs. L. V. Beckway. A roller skating party is being planned for the near future.

Troop 23

At a recent meeting girls of troop 23 had as their consultant, Mrs. Mortorf Jr., high school home economics teacher. Mrs. Mortorf brought her sewing machine to the meeting and gave the girls instructions on major points of sewing as well as many details on various types of stitching. The girls are working on their sewing badges and are very grateful to Mrs. Mortorf.

Troop 336

Third grade brownies of troop 336 under the leadership of Mrs. J. L. Shaw and Mrs. E. L. Washburne had a gala time at the roller skating party March 12 at the local rink.

Troop 384

Girls of troop 384 under the leadership of Mrs. Morhardt visited Dunteman's dairy last week. The trip proved to be educational as well as enjoyable, reported the girls.

Wilson School Brownies

Fourth grade brownie troop of Wilson school had an enjoyable time at their skating party Sunday afternoon, March 11. Girls were accompanied by their leaders, Mrs. Russell Carlson and Mrs. William Simon.

Troop 8

Girl scouts of troop 8 recently enjoyed a winter over night at Camp Pine. They visited with a troop of colored girls from South Chicago who told them of their plans to visit Mexico next year. Last week the girls were given a first aid course by Mrs. R. Haen a registered nurse and a former United Airline hostess. This week Mrs. G. Staahl is starting the girls on a good grooming course. Many of the girls have been busy beginning work on their summer projects or planning them in cooperation with 4-H. Some girls are going into the planning of home grounds and others into flower gardens. Majority of the girls are working on a small farm project for this year. They have purchased a pure-bred shorthorn calf for their baby beef project and are hoping to show it at the annual 4-H fair. Other girls have purchased prize New Zealand rabbits and one girl has purchased large king pigeons. The girls are using these activities in conjunction with their badge work as well as looking forward to showing them at the fair this summer. Their leaders are Mrs. Hugh Robinson and Mrs. Frank Campbell.

Troop 31

Troop 31 has been working since September on second class rank badges. Members have completed skating badges and are now working on bowling and first aid badges.

Scouts are very happy to see the display of trefoils in windows of homes of brownie and girl scouts of the community commemorating the 44th birthday of scouting.

They thank everyone and offer congratulations to all camp fire girls on their coming 46th anniversary of its founding March 18.

Annual PTA Book Fair Is Saturday In Arlington

The annual Arlington Heights PTA book fair will be held this Saturday in the Junior high gymnasium from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m., announces Mrs. Melvin Born, chairman of the event.

This "traveling bookshop," made available by the Lake Zurich Home and School service offers the only opportunity of the year to select locally from the best recently-published children's literature.

Mrs. Frances Sorokin, head librarian, reports that children are showing such an interest in science, biography, science fiction and the historical Landmark series, that the library is unable to supply the demand.

Since proceeds from the book fair are used to purchase new books for the school libraries, purchases will not only help to satisfy children's immediate needs but will make more volumes available to them through the libraries.

The impact of television was strikingly demonstrated last year with the complete sellout in the first half hour of "Davy Crockett" and "20,000 Leagues Under the Sea," an event which seems to prove that television helps, rather than hinders, the sale of books.

In all, at the end of last year's fair, the school libraries were richer by 163 new books, covering 58 additional titles.

Parents are urged to accompany their children to help in the selection of books, to see the many new and handsome editions of old favorites, and to look over the variety of adult literature also being offered.

Mrs. Jack McComb is in charge of setting up the tables and keeping them supplied with books, which are sorted according to age levels.

Seventy helpers have been recruited to assist in the sale, including additional cashiers to facilitate purchases. Would-be purchasers are advised to come early to be sure of a complete selection, although orders may be given for any book whose supply is exhausted.

Eastwood Events

To Eastwood from Chicago come Mr. and Mrs. Luc LeBon and 2 daughters, Christine, 2½, and Kathleen, 10 months, to take up residence at 900 E. Euclid. Originally from Belgium, Mr. LeBon now is with Fuller, Smith and Ross, a Chicago advertising agency.

At home recuperating from a broken collar bone is Cindy Lu, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Bronwell. She broke it falling out of bed.

Eastwood farewells and best wishes to Mr. and Mrs. H. V. Menick and family. They left last week from their home, 406 N. Lincoln lane to begin residence in Plum Grove Estates, Palatine. Mrs. Menick's canasta group, of which Eastwoodite Mrs. Haldor Carlsen is a member, held a luncheon last Tuesday at the Supper Club. As guests of honor with Mrs. Menick were Mrs. C. P. Stewart and Mrs. W. F. Osburn, also leaving Arlington Heights.

At the Wagon Wheel in Rockton over last weekend were Eastwood's Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Petersen, Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Wingquist, Mr. and Mrs. F. R. Patton, together with Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Baron.

Birthdays

Family celebration is the order of the day March 15 in the E. F. Neas household to celebrate daughter, Elizabeth's, first birthday.

Thirteen fifth grade classmates of Mary Elizabeth, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Cockrell, helped make her 11th birthday party a gala one March 8.

Jane Wingquist, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Wiingquist, celebrated her fifth birthday March 10 with a luncheon party. Her guests included Billy Karl, Karen Patton and Mary Tierney.

Returning this week from a long vacation in Florida are Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Baier and daughter, Margaret, together with Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Luedeking and children.

Tickets for Eastwood's April 7 dance at Rolling Green country club are now available. Since there is a definite limit of 100 couples, residents are urged to purchase tickets promptly from any one of the following ladies: Mary Aspengren, Hazel Carlsen, Kitty Dennis, Loraine Gustafson, Mary Johnson, Helen Kasper, Elsie Kelly, Marilyn Kowal, Lou Larson, Loretta Orgler, Dorothy Raasch, Jean Rogers, Bee Wallace, Doris Walters, Winnie Weissmueller or Dorothy Wingquist.

Officers have announced a bridge tournament party to be held June 2 at the Legion hall. A caterer will be in charge of the evening's supper, followed by presentation of gifts, dancing and general good time.

Girl Scout News

St. James

March 11, opening day of girl scout week, 120 brownies and scouts in uniform marched up the center aisle of St James Catholic church, Arlington Heights. Color guards led the procession and after colors were posted the girls were seated in front of the church by girl scout marshals.

Color guards were Carol Huskey, Kay Krebsbach and Patty Leckel, all eighth grade scouts. Marshals were Patty Buckeridge, Phyllis Muran, Sue Murphy and Janice Weidner, seventh grade scouts.

Brownies and scouts received holy communion in a body Sunday, March 11, at Our Lady of the Wayside Catholic church Rev. Harold O'Hara addressed the scouts. Colors were presented by Kathleen Lonze, Carol Kindler and Sharon Kastle.

The troop is currently studying first aid under the guidance of Mrs. L. V. Beckway. A roller skating party is being planned for the near future.

Troop 23

At a recent meeting girls of troop 23 had as their consultant, Mrs. Mortorf Jr., high school home economics teacher. Mrs. Mortorf brought her sewing machine to the meeting and gave the girls instructions on major points of sewing as well as many details on various types of stitching. The girls are working on their sewing badges and are very grateful to Mrs. Mortorf.

Troop 336

Third grade brownies of troop 336 under the leadership of Mrs. J. L. Shaw and Mrs. E. L. Washburne had a gala time at the roller skating party March 12 at the local rink.

Troop 384

Girls of troop 384 under the leadership of Mrs. Morhardt visited Dunteman's dairy last week. The trip proved to be educational as well as enjoyable, reported the girls.

Wilson School Brownies

Fourth grade brownie troop of Wilson school had an enjoyable time at their skating party Sunday afternoon, March 11. Girls were accompanied by their leaders, Mrs. Russell Carlson and Mrs. William Simon.

Troop 8

Girl scouts of troop 8 recently enjoyed a winter over night at Camp Pine. They visited with a troop of colored girls from South Chicago who told them of their plans to visit Mexico next year. Last week the girls were given a first aid course by Mrs. R. Haen a registered nurse and a former United Airline hostess. This week Mrs. G. Staahl is starting the girls on a good grooming course. Many of the girls have been busy beginning work on their summer projects or planning them in cooperation with 4-H. Some girls are going into the planning of home grounds and others into flower gardens. Majority of the girls are working on a small farm project for this year. They have purchased a pure-bred shorthorn calf for their baby beef project and are hoping to show it at the annual 4-H fair. Appoint Additional Cancer Appeal Chiefs

Two campaign chairmen and a co-chairman in the northwest suburban area have been appointed for the American Cancer society's April Crusade.

Mrs. Paul J. Maginnis will head the drive in Schaumburg and Richard D. Friehe in Rolling Meadows, where his co-chairman will be Mrs. Friehe.

Their appointments were announced this week by the overall campaign chairman for the northwest suburban chapter, George A. Glow, 603 S. Belmont, Arlington Heights.

GLOW POINTED out that volunteers are still needed to conduct a successful door-to-door drive in the west suburban areas.

"Volunteers will know that they are helping in a fight to find a cure and eventually eradicate the nation's number 2 killer," he said.

The attack on cancer with ACS dollars is being made through medical research to improve present-day cure techniques, and to find new cures in additiion to radiation and surgery, and through public education to assure detection of cancer early enough to enable effective treatment.

Those who wish to volunteer are requested to register with their local chairman or at the northwest suburban headquarters of the society, 121 S. Emerson, Mt. Prospect.

Target for the northwest suburban chapter is $19,200, part of a statewide goal of $1,450,000.

Aero Survey In Hanover Township Uncovers $360,000 Untaxed Land

A bird's eye view of untaxed property in 1 Cook county township has yielded what county assessor Frank Keenan today termed "spectacular results."

Keenan said an airplane search for properties in Hanover township that are not on the tax rolls will bring the county $94,000 in back and present taxes. And Keenan says the search added $364,315 in property to the tax rolls.

Similar results in the rest of the county, he estimates, would add millions of dollars to the assessed values of property in the county and bring in more tax money to local government bodies.

The next township to be given an aerial examination will be Lyons township.

Hanover township has the smallest valuation in Cook county.

The searchers found 220 buildings that had escaped inclusion in the tax rolls. Keenan said the buildings were from 2 to 20 years old.

Seventy-eight of the buildings were residences.

The other buildings are additions to homes, garages, or other small buildings.

Safety Council Urges Plan To Halt Highway Slaughter

So you think things are messed up out there on the highway? Well, just wait another 10 years!

The National Safety Council has taken a peep into the future and come up with these disconcerting figures:

By 1966, an endless swarm of 82,000,000 motor vehicles will jam the streets and highways—20,000,000 more than are on the road now.

They will be piloted at various times by 90,000,000 drivers.

They will travel approximately 825 billion miles a year.

THE TRAFFIC toll that year will be around 53,000 — unless some genius manages to pull down the prevailing death rate by getting to those 90,000,000 drivers with a safety sales talk that is more convincing than anything thought up so far.

Faced with this foreboding future. the council this week announced a specific traffic safety program designed not only to hold down the traffic toll, but to expedite the flow of traffic.

HERE IS the council's plan:

1. Rougher, tougher traffic law enforcement — demand, support and accept it!

2. Give every community the facts on how its traffic safety program stacks up against recognized standards — and help it bring itself up to or above par.

3. Build as many miles of safe, modern accident-resistant highways as possible — and as fast as possible.

4. Along with building new and better and safer roads, use every modern technique of traffic engineering and law enforcement to make existing highways as foolproof and safe as possible.

5. CUT THROUGH red tape, apathy and legislative inertia to obtain uniform vehicle laws.

6. Make driver education — in class and behind the wheel — a required course for every student of driving age in every high school.

7. Make it so tough to get a driver's license that only a person who is physically, mentally and emotionally qualified to drive in modern traffic can get one.

8. Take the license away from any driver as soon as he demonstrates inability to drive as a decent, sensible citizen should drive.

9. BACK TRAFFIC courts to the limit in showing errant drivers and walkers that it just isn't smart or healthy to behave selfishly or dangerously in traffic.

10. Encourage constant improvement in automobile design to make it easier and easier to drive safely. (B7

Arlington Hi Debaters Qualify For State Meet

Arlington high school qualified its debate team and one individual speaker for the state speech tournament to be held at the University of Illinois April 13 and 14.

In the sectional speech tourney at Rockford last Saturday, Jan Davenport took a first place in serious play reading.

Six wins and two losses earned a second place tie for the debaters. The Arlington affirmative of Mimi McDonald, Mary Jansen, and John Peterson defeated Maine, Evanston, and West Rockford.

BOB SIEGEL and ePte Swanson, negative, lost to New Trier and then defeated Sterling and Elgin.

Arlington, West Rockford, and Freeport were deadlocked behind New Trier at the conclusion of these three rounds. In a round-robin attempt to break the tie, each of the schools split their two debates with one-another, and the tie was left unbroken.

John Peterson scored Arlington's only other point with a fifth place in original oratory. Other Arlington entries included Lynn Heberling, Mickey Harris, Walter Christopherson, Mimi McDonald, and Eldon Kreider. (AM

March 20 Is Career Day At Arlington Hi

March 20 has been designated as career day for juniors and seniors at Arlington Heights high school.

By means of a questionnaire, students have registered their desire to talk with people well acquainted in various occupations.

The purpose of this is to give students information not easily available about occupations of their interest.

Sixty-five occupations will be represented. Some of the more popular choices include Forestry, Commercial Art, Interior Decoration, Auto Mechanics, Engineering (Civil, Electrical, and Mechanical), Nursing, Office and Secretarial work, Clinical Psychology, Wholesale Sales, Social work, Elementary Teaching, Pilot, Stewardess, and Business Administration. Each student will be able to attend two 55 minute sessions.

High School Open House For Teachers, Parents March 22

The Teacher-Parent council of Arlington Heights high school will sponsor its annual open house March 22 at 8:15 p.m.

Charles Baker will preside in general assembly in the boys' gym at opening ceremonies which will include the election of officers and the welcoming address of Supt. Slichenmyer.

Open house is the annual assembly of teachers and parents in review of current schedule and subject content of courses. Carefully arranged sessions by departments will permit visitation in groupings according to grade level. Department chairmen in each of the four sessions will outline the courses. The arrangement is designed to allow for a maximum amount of time to be devoted to a specific course.

A schedule of sessions by departments will be published in the next issue of the paper.

Rolling Meadows Jaycees Launch Membership Drive

The Rolling Meadows Jaycees have announced a membership drive for the month of March a "March for Members."

For men interested in the organization the club is quoting an article from the Jaycee magazine "Future" which explains the aims and ideals of Jaycees.

"What is the Junior Chamber of Commerce?

"A Junior Chamber of Commerce is a constructive action organization comprised of young men from 21 to 35 who through the Jaycee organization devote a significant portion of their non-vocational time to community service in the public interest.

"ALMOST without exception Junior Chambers of Commerce sponsor only those projects designed to make better citizens out of people and to improve their communities, states and nation. A list of such projects would be endless because as soon as the last project was listed new ones would be getting underway.

"It is in the process of planning and carrying out these important and worth-while civic projects that Jaycees develop the knowledge and understanding, the skills and abilities, and the attitudes and appreciations essential to successful leadership. The development of leadership ability, while not the explicit goal, is the natural consequence or reward for active participation in the work of the organization.

"The active member as contrasted with the passive member has limitless opportunities to develop into a responsible leader by assuming and discharging his responsibilities of membership. The development of leadership ability is the priceless by-product of active participation in any or all the affairs of a Junior Chamber of Commerce.

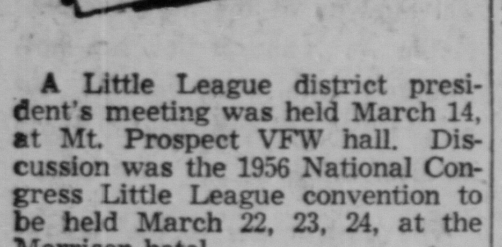
"THE EXTENT to which Junior Chambers of Commerce succeed in producing socially responsible leaders will depend on how successful they are in interpreting and serving the needs of their communities.

"On no other basis can its existance be justified.

"Good leadership evolves not because this is the primary aim of the organization, but because young men through the Jaycee organization devote a significant portion of their non-vocational time to community service in the public interest." K)



A Little League district president's meeting was held March 14, at Mt. Prospect VFW hall. Discussion was the 1956 National Congress Little League convention to be held March 22, 23, 24, at the Morrison hotel.

Many projects are getting under way now that we are nearing the start of the Little League baseball season. The field committee has looked over our new diamond and announces it in good order for the coming season.

STEVE BIALO, committee chairman for the field, said the new grass planted last fall has stood the elements of the winter very well, and should be ideal for our Little Leaguers to play on this spring.

In our future columns we are going to interview the managers of our teams, to better acquaint all mothers and dads with the background of the men that are making Little League ball players out of our boys.

Little League baseball offers a rare opportunity to the neighborhood and the local community to build a sound native American program that is beneficial to the boys, the family and the welfare of the community.

THE CHARACTER of an activity such as Little League must hold to the highest standards attainable. Little League's principal objective is for the good of the boys between 8 and 12 who play baseball on Little League teams.

By providing a vehicle for healthful recreation during the summer vacation months, wherein the boys may compete with each other beneficially under capable leadership, Little League contributes to the well being of the boys and their parents.

It likewise offers a means through which parents and community leaders may foster in relation with their children and solution to many of the current social problems of our youth, thus insuring better citizens of tomorrow. (K

Democrats Hold Two Meetings Here Thursday

The regular Democratic organization of Rolling Meadows will sponsor 2 meetings in the city next Thursday, March 22. The meetings have been arranged to introduce Democratic candidates for state office.

The first meeting will be held at the home of Harold Hildebrand, 3307 Pheasant dr., at 7:30 p.m. The second meeting is scheduled for 9:30 p.m. at the home of Jay Campise, 3003 Thrush lane.

Attending the meeting will be Oliver C. Dilks, candidate for state senator, and Thomas J. Halpin, candidate for state representative. Dilks is Palatine township assessor and Democratic committeeman. Halpin is assistant states attorney for Cook county in charge of the racket division. K)

Cast Of 310 Featured In Original School Spectacular

Third and fourth graders at Palatine's Wood st. school will stage their own "spectacular" March 22. It will be an original musical production entitled "I Hear America Singing."

Pupils in 7 third grade classrooms and 5 fourth grades comprise a cast of 310. Each classroom will present a scene dramatizing in song and dance a portion of America's musical heritage.

Scenes will have titles such as "Indians," "Travel and Transportation," "Husking Bee," Stephen Foster," "Dutch" and "French." The whole will be tied together in between-the-scenes conversation between a mother and daughter.

In real life, the 2 narrators are also mother and daughter. They are Mrs. Fred T. Rogers, of 304 N. Schiller, and her 9-year-old daughter, Laurie, a fourth grader at Oak st.

"MANY OF THE songs we will sing are taken from our song books but when we couldn't find one to our liking we wrote a song ourselves," said Mrs. Robert L. Beale, who is in charge of music instruction at the school and the musical's director. She wrote much of the show's original music.

Mrs. Beale said literally hundreds of Palatine parents are working on the production, as mothers and fathers of pupils had an active part in the planning of scenes as well as in the creation of costumes and scenery. Mrs. Harry Hoglund, supervising principal of Wood st. school, is in charge of general arrangements and ticket sales.

The curtain will rise on the show at 8 p.m. March 22 at the Paddock school auditorium. Proceeds are to go for stage equipment for the grade schools of the district. (KPF

Junior Women Ready For April 'Hoe Down'

Saturday, Apri 14, will be the date of the spring "Hoe Down" dance of the Rolling Meadows Junior Woman's club. Square and ballroom dancing will be offered at the Arlington Heights V.F.W. hall.

Tickets will be distributed to all club members soon for sale. Tickets will be $1 each. Ticket sales will be strictly limited to the capacity of the hall.

Proceeds will be used by the club for various philanthropic purposes. Main portion of funds raised will go to the Northwest community hospital center. (K

Must Pay Social Security On All Household Help

Some housewives are learning that their household helpers have cost them considerably more than they figured, according to information made public this week by the social security administration.

These are housewives who for one reason or another failed to report and pay the social security tax on the wages they paid to domestic help, according to northwest district manager Julius Berman.

MOST EMPLOYERS of domestics, Berman said, comply with the law and regularly report and submit the four percent tax. Those few who do not are generally required, when discovered, to pay not only all back taxes due but interest and a one hundred per cent penalty as well.

Tax delinquencies are discovered in various ways. One of the most common is when a domestic dies or reaches age 65 and a claim for benefits is filed. Ensuing investigation leads back to the nonreporting em[illegible]

SOME HOUSEWIVES express surprise to learn that ex-employees have filed claims for benefits. They state that during their terms of employment these workers expressed a positive preference not to participate in the Social Security system. These housewives seem genuinely amazed to learn that social security coverage is a compulsory matter and not subject to the whims of an individual worker or employer.

"The greater and more unpleasant surprise, though," Berman added, "is the tax bill magnified by penalties and interest, which could have been so easily averted had the housewife bothered to get official information from a social security or internal revenue office."

Scouts-Junior Hi Stage New Paper Drive March 24

Rolling Meadows boy scout troop 68, explorer post 68 and Junior Hi fellowship will jointly conduct their third combined paper drive Saturday, March 24.

Central collection station will be Kimball Hill school where a trailer truck will be stationed. Trucks will also tour the city to pick up bundles left at the curb.

THE PAPER drive will begin promptly at 9 a.m. Bundles should be tied securely and newspapers and magazines bundled separately. Residents are asked not to include cartons, cardboard, scrap paper or junk as it merely presents a disposal problem to the youngsters.

In the event of inclement weather, residents are asked to leave their paper on protected porches. Wet paper is downgraded and reduces the total return for the youth groups.

The boy scouts and explorers will use their share of paper-drive profits for badly-needed equipment. Funds received by the Junior Hi fellowship will be used for the many planned social events for all city youngsters between 10 and 14 years of age.

THERE ARE now 60 boy scouts and explorers in the city, and 117 members of the Junior Hi fellowship. The rapid growth of these groups presents an increasing financial problem. Since waste paper collection is the only source of fixed income for both groups, a plea is made to the public to cooperate in the paper drive.

Speaking on behalf of the youth groups, scout commissioner Pete Keller stated "Each dollar earned in the paper drives must be stretched farther and farther as our youth groups grow. Each organization is anxious to be self-sufficient and earn their own way. Waste paper is such a small item to save and contribute, but to the youth of our city it means so much." (K

You're Invited To City Council Meeting Tues.

"City business is the business of every resident," stated Mayor John Northcote this week in extending an invitation to the city council meeting Tuesday night. Starting at 8 p.m. in the Kimball Hill school, the council meeting will be open to the public as usual.

City council meetings are held regularly on the second and fourth Tuesdays of each month. Seating facilities are available for spectators. A question-and-answer session or period for audience commentary is held following each meeting. (K

42 Year Old Assembly Candidate Is An 'Independent Democrat'

"Be sure you put that word 'independent' in front of 'Democratic candidate'," insisted Harry L. Kinser.

Kinser is one of 9 candidates for 2 Democratic nominations to the state assembly in the new northwest suburban sixth district. Two Democrats and 2 Republicans will tussle for 3 assembly posts in the fall final elections.

The 42-year-old Kinser realizes that all 6 Democrats running from Maine township are "independent" candidates in that none are endorsed by the township Democratic organization. But he sticks by the self-adopted "independent" lable, he says, because he wants to stress the point that he will be "his own man."

Kinser has law offices in Chicago and has lived in Des Plaines for 5 years. His political background is that of a political amateur except for one activity. He managed a successful campaign to elect a fellow-citizen to the Des Plaines city council. He was active in the Volunteers for Stevenson and Citizens for Douglas organizations and in the Citizens for Legislative Reapportionment movement. Non-political activities include the PTA, the local Safety council and a term as president of the Des Plaines Theater Guild.

KINSER'S CHOICE of the most important issue for the next group of legislators to face is typical of his mild-mannered approach to politics. He considers that issue to be reform of the state judicial system — a reform that has been urged by members of both major political parties.

"It now takes 4 to 5 years to get a jury trial in Cook county," he declared. "There is a backlog of thousands of cases waiting for trial. Court reform would speed up the procedure by allowing consolidation of some courts and by providing that judges can be shifted from 1 court to another."

He would also look favorably upon a law that would distinguish between types of personal property, believing that a more fair basis for assessing personal property would result.

Kinser favors state aid to schools "to the extent necessary to provide an adequate education for all the children of the state." And if Congress adopts a federal school aid bill, he would want Illinois to get its share, by appropriating matching funds if necessary.

What sort of a campaign is he carrying on?

"I am mostly meeting with small groups of people in their homes," he replied. With a smile he added, "No group wants to invite 1 candidate in for a talk — then the club would have to ask the other 20 candidates in.

"And that's asking almost too much of any club." (B7

Words Often Misused

Do not say, "He is one of those people who writes quite often." Say, "He is one of those people who WRITE quite often."

Do not say, "All of my friends will be there." Omit "of."

"Always" (one word) means at all times. "All ways (two words) means in every way.

Do not say, "I seldom ever go there." Omit "ever."

The prefix "ante" means before, or prior to. The prefix "anti" means opposite, or against.

Do not say, "There is shrubbery on either side of the road." Say, "on EACH side of the road."

Words Often Misprounced

Resume (noun). Pronounce ray-zyu-may, principal accent on the last syllable.

Vis-a-vis (face to face). Pronounce vee-zah-vee, principal accent on the last syllable.

Vicarious. Pronounce first "i" as in "vine," not as in "vim."

Saute (fried lightly). Pronounce soe-tay, accent second syllable.

No City Patronage Over County, Declares Lohman

A Republican candidate for state legislature from the sixth district was criticized Wednesday for making area law enforcement problems a question of "partisan politics."

The blast was leveled by county sheriff Joseph D. Lohman, who answered charges by John Damisch, GOP aspirant for state representative. Damisch has been crusading against Lohman's proposal for a metropolitan police department.

Damisch has accused Lohman of wanting to give "more county patronage to the city machine."

THE SHERIFF, a prominent criminologist and former university professor, said he hoped the issue of law enforcement would not be a partisan one.

"It is a distinct disservice to the community to discuss the critical law enforcement problems of the region in partisan political terms," declared Lohman. "As sheriff of Cook county I have never nor do I propose in the future to treat law enforcement problems for purposes of partisan political advantage.

"I am unalterably opposed to any plan which would extend Chicago control over law enforcement or any other aspect of Cook county goverment. The proposal of a metropolitan police department divorced from any and all forms of governmental and political influence is designed to advance the cause of law enforcement both in the suburbs and in Chicago itself.

"THE PROPOSAL is designed to organize the metropolitan department in such a way as to emphasize local service but to remove the police from local political control.

"The crying need of police departments everywhere is to be free from fear and favor brought on by local political control. The record in the sheriff's office bespeaks my attitude toward giving the city patronage and other favors as against the county. I am not only opposed to this put I have done something about it.

"THE OUTER reaches of the county are represented in the sheriff's office as never before.

"It is clear that Mr. Damisch is without information or understanding as to the objectives or concrete proposals which I have made toward improving law enforcement in Cook county.

"In any event, it will not serve a constructive public purpose to make of law enforcement a political football. I believe firmly that law enforcement should be kept away from any and all other political and governmental arrangements. Thus, it can be constantly subject to the clear light of public review and criticism."

Rolling Meadows Jaycees Launch Membership Drive

The Rolling Meadows Jaycees have announced a membership drive for the month of March a "March for Members."

For men interested in the organization the club is quoting an article from the Jaycee magazine "Future" which explains the aims and ideals of Jaycees.

"What is the Junior Chamber of Commerce?

"A Junior Chamber of Commerce is a constructive action organization comprised of young men from 21 to 35 who through the Jaycee organization devote a significant portion of their non-vocational time to community service in the public interest.

"ALMOST without exception Junior Chambers of Commerce sponsor only those projects designed to make better citizens out of people and to improve their communities, states and nation. A list of such projects would be endless because as soon as the last project was listed new ones would be getting underway.

"It is in the process of planning and carrying out these important and worth-while civic projects that Jaycees develop the knowledge and understanding, the skills and abilities, and the attitudes and appreciations essential to successful leadership. The development of leadership ability, while not the explicit goal, is the natural consequence or reward for active participation in the work of the organization.

"The active member as contrasted with the passive member has limitless opportunities to develop into a responsible leader by assuming and discharging his responsibilities of membership. The development of leadership ability is the priceless by-product of active participation in any or all the affairs of a Junior Chamber of Commerce.

"THE EXTENT to which Junior Chambers of Commerce succeed in producing socially responsible leaders will depend on how successful they are in interpreting and serving the needs of their communities.

"On no other basis can its existance be justified.

"Good leadership evolves not because this is the primary aim of the organization, but because young men through the Jaycee organization devote a significant portion of their non-vocational time to community service in the public interest." K)

LITTLE LEAGUE

A Little League district president's meeting was held March 14, at Mt. Prospect VFW hall. Discussion was the 1956 National Congress Little League convention to be held March 22, 23, 24, at the Morrison hotel.

Many projects are getting under way now that we are nearing the start of the Little League baseball season. The field committee has looked over our new diamond and announces it in good order for the coming season.

STEVE BIALO, committee chairman for the field, said the new grass planted last fall has stood the elements of the winter very well, and should be ideal for our Little Leaguers to play on this spring.

In our future columns we are going to interview the managers of our teams, to better acquaint all mothers and dads with the background of the men that are making Little League ball players out of our boys.

Little League baseball offers a rare opportunity to the neighborhood and the local community to build a sound native American program that is beneficial to the boys, the family and the welfare of the community.

THE CHARACTER of an activity such as Little League must hold to the highest standards attainable. Little League's principal objective is for the good of the boys between 8 and 12 who play baseball on Little League teams.

By providing a vehicle for healthful recreation during the summer vacation months, wherein the boys may compete with each other beneficially under capable leadership, Little League contributes to the well being of the boys and their parents.

It likewise offers a means through which parents and community leaders may foster in relation with their children and solution to many of the current social problems of our youth, thus insuring better citizens of tomorrow. (K

Democrats Hold Two Meetings Here Thursday

The regular Democratic organization of Rolling Meadows will sponsor 2 meetings in the city next Thursday, March 22. The meetings have been arranged to introduce Democratic candidates for state office.

The first meeting will be held at the home of Harold Hildebrand, 3307 Pheasant dr., at 7:30 p.m. The second meeting is scheduled for 9:30 p.m. at the home of Jay Campise, 3003 Thrush lane.

Attending the meeting will be Oliver C. Dilks, candidate for state senator, and Thomas J. Halpin, candidate for state representative. Dilks is Palatine township assessor and Democratic committeeman. Halpin is assistant states attorney for Cook county in charge of the racket division. K)

Cast Of 310 Featured In Original School Spectacular

Third and fourth graders at Palatine's Wood st. school will stage their own "spectacular" March 22. It will be an original musical production entitled "I Hear America Singing."

Pupils in 7 third grade classrooms and 5 fourth grades comprise a cast of 310. Each classroom will present a scene dramatizing in song and dance a portion of America's musical heritage.

Scenes will have titles such as "Indians," "Travel and Transportation," "Husking Bee," Stephen Foster," "Dutch" and "French." The whole will be tied together in between - the - scenes conversation between a mother and daughter.

In real life, the 2 narrators are also mother and daughter. They are Mrs. Fred T. Rogers, of 304 N. Schiller, and her 9-year-old daughter, Laurie, a fourth grader at Oak st.

"MANY OF THE songs we will sing are taken from our song books but when we couldn't find one to our liking we wrote a song ourselves," said Mrs. Robert L. Beale, who is in charge of music instruction at the school and the musical's director. She wrote much of the show's original music.

Mrs. Beale said literally hundreds of Palatine parents are working on the production, as mothers and fathers of pupils had an active part in the planning of scenes as well as in the creation of costumes and scenery. Mrs. Harry Hoglund, supervising principal of Wood st. school, is in charge of general arrangements and ticket sales.

The curtain will rise on the show at 8 p.m. March 22 at the Paddock school auditorium. Proceeds are to go for stage equipment for the grade schools of the district. (KPF

Junior Women Ready For April 'Hoe Down'

Saturday, Apri 14, will be the date of the spring "Hoe Down" dance of the Rolling Meadows Junior Woman's club. Square and ballroom dancing will be offered at the Arlington Heights V.F.W. hall.

Tickets will be distributed to all club members soon for sale. Tickets will be $1 each. Ticket sales will be strictly limited to the capacity of the hall.

Proceeds will be used by the club for various philanthropic purposes. Main portion of funds raised will go to the Northwest community hospital center. (K

Must Pay Social Security On All Household Help

Some housewives are learning that their household helpers have cost them considerably more than they figured, according to information made public this week by the social security administration.

These are housewives who for one reason or another failed to report and pay the social security tax on the wages they paid to domestic help, according to northwest district manager Julius Berman.

MOST EMPLOYERS of domestics, Berman said, comply with the law and regularly report and submit the four percent tax. Those few who do not are generally required, when discovered, to pay not only all back taxes due but interest and a one hundred per cent penalty as well.

Tax delinquencies are discovered in various ways. One of the most common is when a domestic dies or reaches age 65 and a claim for benefits is filed. Ensuing investigation leads back to the non-reporting em

SOME HOUSEWIVES express surprise to learn that ex-employees have filed claims for benefits. They state that during their terms of employment these workers expressed a positive preference not to participate in the Social Security system. These housewives seem genuinely amazed to learn that social security coverage is a compulsory matter and not subject to the whims of an individual worker or employer.

"The greater and more unpleasant surprise, though," Berman added, "is the tax bill magnified by penalties and interest, which could have been so easily averted had the housewife bothered to get official information from a social security or internal revenue office."

Scouts-Junior Hi Stage New Paper Drive March 24

Rolling Meadows boy scout troop 68, explorer post 68 and Junior Hi fellowship will jointly conduct their third combined paper drive Saturday, March 24.

Central collection station will be Kimball Hill school where a trailer truck will be stationed. Trucks will also tour the city to pick up bundles left at the curb.

THE PAPER drive will begin promptly at 9 a.m. Bundles should be tied securely and newspapers and magazines bundled separately. Residents are asked not to include cartons, cardboard, scrap paper or junk as it merely presents a disposal problem to the youngsters.

In the event of inclement weather, residents are asked to leave their paper on protected porches. Wet paper is downgraded and reduces the total return for the youth groups.

The boy scouts and explorers will use their share of paper-drive profits for badly-needed equipment. Funds received by the Junior Hi fellowship will be used for the many planned social events for all city youngsters between 10 and 14 years of age.

THERE ARE now 60 boy scouts and explorers in the city, and 117 members of the Junior Hi fellowship. The rapid growth of these groups presents an increasing financial problem. Since waste paper collection is the only source of fixed income for both groups, a plea is made to the public to cooperate in the paper drive.

Speaking on behalf of the youth groups, scout commissioner Pete Keller stated "Each dollar earned in the paper drives must be stretched farther and farther as our youth groups grow. Each organization is anxious to be self-sufficient and earn their own way. Waste paper is such a small item to save and contribute, but to the youth of our city it means so much." (K

You're Invited To City Council Meeting Tues.

"City business is the business of every resident," stated Mayor John Northcote this week in extending an invitation to the city council meeting Tuesday night. Starting at 8 p.m. in the Kimball Hill school, the council meeting will be open to the public as usual.

City council meetings are held regularly on the second and fourth Tuesdays of each month. Seating facilities are available for spectators. A question-and-answer session or period for audience commentary is held following each meeting. (K

No City Patronage Over County, Declares Lohman

A Republican candidate for state legislature from the sixth district was criticized Wednesday for making area law enforcement problems a question of "partisan politics."

Announce Leaders For April Cancer Crusade In Suburbs

Two campaign chairmen and a co-chairman for the April crusade of the American Cancer society, have been announced by George A. Glow, 603 S. Belmont, Arlington Heights, northwest suburban chapter chairman.

They are Mrs. Joseph F. Schmoeller, 651 N. Milwaukee ave., Wheeling, Wheeling campaign chairman; Mrs. Gordon W. Barrie, 5th and Strong sts., Wheeling, co-chairman, and Elvis R. Foster Jr., 43 E. Wood st., Palatine, Palatine campaign co-chairman.

The northwest suburban chapter goal for the drive is $19,200 of the total Illinois target of $1,450,000.

The money will be used to support the American Cancer society's 3-pronged attack on cancer through research, education and service.

"WE NEED the support of every one in the northwest suburban chapter area," Glow said.

"In Illinois alone, 15,385 persons died of cancer in 1954, and although one out of four cancer patients is now being cured, 2 out of 4 patients could be saved if they are treated early enough," he added.

Mrs. Schmoeller is co-hostess of the Wheeling hostess service. She is a member of the Women of the Moose, the PTA and the North American Life Assurance society.

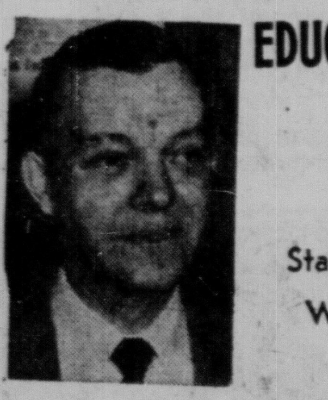
Mrs. Schmoeller is the mother of 2 girls, and currently is serving as a brownie leader.

HER CO-CHAIRMAN, Mrs. Barrie, is a telephone operator at the Illinois Bell Telephone co. The mother of 7 children, she is a brownie leader and a cub scout den mother.

Foster, owner of the Palatine Office Supply co., is a member of the Palatine Volunteer fire department, the Lion's club, and the Palatine chamber of commerce. Foster is one of the originators of the Palatine little league.

He attended George Williams College and is the father of a boy and two girls. AWP)

FOOT SAVING EDUCATION



By Stanley J. Wesley

Do Tennis Shoes Cause Flat Feet?

No. Thinking of shoes of any kind causing flat feet is as backward as treating tuberculosis by shutting the patient up in a dark airless room. All feet are weak at first and whether they strengthen or not depends upon the exercise of good foot function.

Probably the world's worst record of foot health was compiled by selectees for military service in World War I. These young men had not worn tennis shoes because they were not popular yet and because their parents were so sure that children must wear stiff shoes to "strengthen their ankles."

News Of Prospect Meadows

Scouting News

The Prospect Meadows brownie troop met for their regular meeting March 6. The following new officers were elected at the meeting: Ellen Kay Edwards, secretary-treasurer; Christine Wehrheim, scribe. At present the girls are working on a housekeeping theme and the project for the week was learning the proper way to make a bed and practicing this knowledge at home. The girls also decorated their trefoil, the scouting emblem, which they will hang in their windows this week, sang songs and played games. Ellen Kay Edwards served as hostess at this meeting.

Cub scouts of den 12 met March 9 for their weekly meeting. Present besides all regular members, was den chief, Jim Gutzmer. The regular meeting was conducted, opening as usual with the pledge of allegiance. The boys played games and were served refreshments by Danny Wills. The meeting was closed with the "living circle."

Cub scouts of den 13 met Mar. 8 for their weekly meeting. All members were present. The boys conducted their meeting, played games and practiced muscle building exercises. Kent Nelson and Fred Jarm entertained members of their den with a puppet show, which they created themselves. Refreshments for this meeting were furnished by Jay Chaiser.

Hospitalized

Ronnie Richardson, 13-year-old son of Jack and Ginny Richardson, entered Resurrection hospital March 10 for treatment of a bone infection in his thumb.

Mrs. Thrall, Dorothy Doyle's aunt, spent several days last week in Columbus hospital, Chicago, to undergo minor surgery.

Friends and neighbors are happy to welcome home Jane Marland. Jane had been in the Veterans Research hospital, Chicago, for treatment the past few weeks and was released last Wednesday. Wilson Harland of Erie, Ill., with whom John and Jane's 2 boys had been staying while Jane was in the hospital, brought the boys home Sunday afternoon. The Marland family is happy to be together again.

Birthdays

Diane Klein, daughter of Robert and Arlette Klein, was 10 years old March 5 and celebrated the occasion with 2 parties on the weekend. Saturday evening the Kleins entertained the following relatives in Diane's honor; Mrs. V. Richter, Mr. and Mrs. F. Klein, Mr. and Mrs. A. Richter and their children, Patty and David, Mr. and Mrs. Madl and sons Freddie, Michael and Bobby, Mr. and Mrs. P. Bokowski and sons, Billy and Frank, and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Daly and children, Kevin and Sharon.

Sunday afternoon Diane was hostess at a birthday celebration including her sister, Susan, and the following friends: Christine Wehrheim, Andrea Splithoff, Ellen Kay Edwards, Susan Finch, Donna and Debbie Walsh and Marlene Geiger of Arlington Heights.

Dennis Battaglia, son of Joe and Dolores Battaglia, hosted his friends March 10 at a birthday luncheon followed by an all-cartoon show at the theater. Present were Bobby Webber, David Nelson, Bruce Blim, Neil Wells, Dicky Moeller and Tommy Robb of Arlington Heights. Dennis will be 9 years old March 15 and will be celebrating again that day with his immediate family and several relatives.

There were 2 birthdays in the Wills family this month. Danny Wills celebrated her birthday the fifth. They were guests of honor at birthday festivities March 3 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lundine in Chicago.

John and Pat celebrated Pat's birthday Saturday evening by dinig out and seeing a show.

John and Alma Berchmans and Mrs. Moberg spent Saturday evening in Chicago at the home of Alma's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Axel Lindgren. The occasion was Mr. Lindgren's birthday. Also present to extend best wishes were the Lindgrens' 3 sons and their families.

Out-of-Town

Ray Larson will return March 16 from a 2-week business trip which included stops at Amarillo, El Paso, Albuquerque and Los Angeles for Stewart Warner co.

Ray and Joyce LeBrun and their son, Ritchie, returned last weekend from a 3-week vacation in Florida. They stayed with relatives, Mr. and Mrs. A. Bennet, in S. Miami and had a wonderful time. The Florida climate was beneficial to all 3, but especially helped Ray who is convalescing from a recent heart attack. Gail and Judy, who had been staying with their grandmother in Chicago, are happy to be home again with their mother and father.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Moeller and their son, Dick, spent Sunday visiting Mr. and Mrs. Herman Schroeder at their new home in Kenosha. The 2 couples were former neighbors in Palatine.

New Arrival

Richard and Dolores Soduski are happy to announce that a new daughter has arrived to join their family. Laurel Jean, weighing 8 pounds 9 ounces, was born March 7 at St. Francis hospital, Evanston. The Soduskis have 3 other children, Judith Ann, Ricky Brian and Susan Lee.

Marge Murdock was hostess at a baby shower in honor of Pat Wrath Sunday evening. Guests enjoying games and refreshments were Gert Derning, Joyce Hoglund, Jean Kamps, Millie Webber, Connie Heurlin, Vi Manda, Joyce Ruther, Rita Durec, Ruby Polly, Kay Sepke, Mae Hemesath, Lee Abbinanti, Irma Ehlke and Joyce LeBrun.

Clubs

Members of the Bob-O-Link card club met March 7 at the home of Nora Roths. Enjoying a spirited game of Michigan rummy, followed by refreshments, were Ruth Burt, Marge Blim, Vera Valentine, Chris Pelletier and Carol Wilkins.

The Meadows Canasta club was entertained last week at the home of Betty Sabitt of Prospect Heights. Present were Marie Stanke, Lorrie Brazeau, Jean Seeber, Gert Derning, Joyce Hoglund, Beth Meigel, Pearl Moeller and Irma Ehlke.

Norman and Vera Valentine enjoyed pinochle at the home of Bob and Marge Blim Friday evening.

Ray and Nora Roths entertained Evans and Lisa Wells Saturday with an evening of pinochle.

The Prospect Meadows Teens club met Sunday evening at the home of Larry and Barry North. Members present were Judy McReynolds, Pat and Sandy Jenkins, Maryann Doyle, Rosaline Cornforth, Sheila Altvatter, Fred Bunnel and Dicky Anderson. Refreshments were furnished by Judy McReynolds and Rosaline Cornforth. Members take turns entertaining the group and met last Sunday at the home of Fred Bunnel. Several members met at the home of Joyce Ruther Tuesday evening to get help in making plans for the teens' booth for the Prospect Meadows fair.

A group that meets regularly to dine out together found an occasion to do just that, meeting in Glenview at the Hapsburg Inn, March 6. Members of the group are Pat Wrath, Mrs. D. Eck and Mrs. C. Berresheim of Des Plaines, Mrs. M. Prochaska, Mt. Prospect, and Mrs. J. Getschaf and Mrs. F. O'Connel of Glenview.

On Television

Patty Riley, 4-year-old daughter of Bill and Pat Riley, made her first television appearance the evening of March 3 on the Pee Wee King show. Patty, who is registered as a model with the Patricia Vance and Patricia Stevens studios, appeared on the screen several times, modeling coats and suits for the National Clothing co.

Dorothy Walsh was hostess at her home Friday evening at a jewelry party. Enjoying the jewelry display and the refreshments that were served were Lois Kandul, Arlette Klein, Betty Nelson, Anne Incinelli, Ginny Richardson, Elaine Thude, Helena Woodruff, Kay Bischoff, Jane Harland and Shirley Dittmer.

Bert and Joyce Ruther entertained Bob and Lois Peet of Elmhurst with dinner at their home March 8. Bert and Bob are business associates and spent that day together in Ottawa.

Saturday evening Bert and Joyce joined Bill and Dee Schaub of Rolling Meadows and Barney and Grace Franzen of Des Plaines for dinner at the Elks club in Des Plaines after which the group attended the showing of "Pajama Game" at the Schbert theatre.

Norman and Vera Valentine and their sons, Dean, Don and Dane, enjoyed dining out Sunday afternoon.

Jack and Christ Pelletier and their sons, Mark and Mike, enjoyed the company of Jack's parens, Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Pelletier, of Chicago Friday evening.

Toy Pick-Up

March 10 the first toy pick-up for the fair was conducted in the Meadows. Making the collections were Lee Abbinanti, assisted by her son, Nicky, Nancy Hehnen, assisted by her sons, Ricky and Tommy, and Joyce Ruther, assisted by Sammy Abbinanti. Although many toys were collected, many Meadowites had forgotten to prepare for the pick-up. It is hoped that they will keep it in mind and put aside the toys they wish to contribute as another toy pick-up will be conducted in several weeks.

Announce Leaders For April Cancer Crusade In Suburbs

Two campaign chairmen and a co-chairman for the April crusade of the American Cancer society, have been announced by George A. Glow, 603 S. Belmont, Arlington Heights, northwest suburban chapter chairman.

They are Mrs. Joseph F. Schmoeller, 651 N. Milwaukee ave., Wheeling, Wheeling campaign chairman; Mrs. Gordon W. Barrie, 5th and Strong sts., Wheeling, co-chairman, and Elvis R. Foster Jr., 43 E. Wood st., Palatine, Palatine campaign co-chairman.

The northwest suburban chapter goal for the drive is $19,200 of the total Illinois target of $1,450,000.

The money will be used to support the American Cancer society's 3-pronged attack on cancer through research, education and service.

"WE NEED the support of every one in the northwest suburban chapter area," Glow said.

"In Illinois alone, 15,385 persons died of cancer in 1954, and although one out of four cancer patients is now being cured, 2 out of 4 patients could be saved if they are treated early enough," he added.

Mrs. Schmoeller is co-hostess of the Wheeling hostess service. She is a member of the Women of the Moose, the PTA and the North American Life Assurance society.

Mrs. Schmoeller is the mother of 2 girls, and currently is serving as a brownie leader.

HER CO-CHAIRMAN, Mrs. Barrie, is a telephone operator at the Illinois Bell Telephone co. The mother of 7 children, she is a brownie leader and a cub scout den mother.

Foster, owner of the Palatine Office Supply co., is a member of the Palatine Volunteer fire department, the Lion's club, and the Palatine chamber of commerce. Foster is one of the originators of the Palatine little league.

He attended George Williams College and is the father of a boy and two girls. AWP)

FOOT SAVING EDUCATION

By Stanley J. Wesley

Do Tennis Shoes Cause Flat Feet?

No. Thinking of shoes of any kind causing flat feet is as backward as treating tuberculosis by shutting the patient up in a dark airless room. All feet are weak at first and whether they strengthen or not depends upon the exercise of good foot function.

Probably the world's worst record of foot health was compiled by selectees for military service in World War I. These young men had not worn tennis shoes because they were not popular yet and because their parents were so sure that children must wear stiff shoes to "strengthen their ankles."

When tennis shoes did become popular among the children they were blamed for causing flat feet. The feet were flat before but stiff shoes concealed the condition. Blaming tennis shoes for causing the trouble is as wrong as attributing baldness to the removal of a hat.

Auctioneer's Hammer To End Farming Of Pioneer Family

by TOM BRENNAN

The cry of "How much am I offered, boys?" will ring out at 2 Elk Grove farms during the next week to mark the passing of an era.

This auctioneer's call will be heard on 2 farms of the Scharringhausen clan, a name that dates back to 1832 when Henry Scharringhausen first took up farming in the Elk Grove area. After Tuesday these farms, one at the corner of Higgins and Arlington Heights rds. and the other just half a mile south, won't be farms any longer.

They are slated to become part of the Busse forest, a project of the Cook county forest preserve district. According to Charles Sauer, chief engineer for the forest preserve, the Busse forest will ramble over 3,000 acres between Arlington Heights and Rohlwing rds. on the east and west of Golf and Cosman rds. on the north and south.

"Busse forest will be an island in a sea of residences," Sauer said.

NEARLY 80 per cent of the area to be eventually included in the preserve has already been purchased. In the words of Sauer, all the purchases were "by agreement," but to one member of the Scharringhausen clan, it was "sell or have your farm condemned."

Both Scharringhausen farms, Ralph's at Higgins rd. and Harold's to the south, were dairy farms. Brown-eyed Holsteins grazed peacefully in the heavily wooded areas of the 2 farms.

"The cows kept the underbrush down," said Arthur, 74, the patriarch of the family and the father of Ralph.

Sauer explained that the forest preserve had to tell the Scharringhausens that cattle could no longer be grazed on the farms.

"The grazing stops the reproduction of young trees," he claimed. He asserted that the development of the farms would probably start in a year.

Ralph's farm has many historic associations connected with it. A building now painted bright red and used to shelter farm machinery was the first Methodist church in the northwest section of Cook county. Its hand-hewn timbers were put together sometime between 1833 and 1840 and it reached its present location in 1898 after being moved 3 times. The kitchen of the trim white farmhouse is over 100 years old, with additions and remodeling tacked on by each of the 4 generations.

Although 124 years seems to encompass aeons of time in an atomic age, Arthur brought the past up close with the revelation that Henry, the first Scharringhausen to migrate from Germany, was his grandfather.

HENRY JR., the oldest of 9 children, in turn had 10 children himself, of whom Arthur was the youngest. It was Henry Jr. who moved onto the Higgins rd. farm in 1865. In the farmhouse Dr. John Best delivered one generation of children and his son, Dr. B. T. Best, delivered 2 more generations.

As the home grew large, the Scharringhausen and related branches of the family—the Theises and the Landmeiers—grew larger.

"At the last family reunion quite some years ago there were 500 people," Arthur recalled with a smile. Soon, perhaps within a year, Ralph will have to move out of the house and off the farm which was "such a nice place for the children in the summer."

The forest preserve authorities are not completely unsentimental however. Sauer said that they appreciated the "historical value" of the farmhouse and that he would be "prone to keeping it intact" as a headquarters.

New Vegetable Growers Coop Appoints Manager

Vegetable growers in north Cook county have organized a new cooperative organization for packaging and marketing vegetables grown in this area.

Response to the new Arlington Valley Growers has been strong. More than a thousand acres were signed up Friday at a meeting of growers in Elk Grove school.

The co-op was formed because the old Randolph st. market, where farmers for years sold their products direct, has been on the way out.

IN RECENT years, the marketing problem has made it hard to move the produce and sharp competition pinched the smaller growers. Chain stores have by-passed both S. Water and Randolph st. markets for purchasing their vegetables and, in many cases, have purchased directly from the grower.

The small margin of profit has hit north Cook gardeners hard. More than 80 per cent of the retail price has been going to handlers and dealers.

The new Arlington Valley Growers have made Robert L. Berner, a wholesaler, its sales manager. He will be responsible for sales of all produce raised on the acreage signed up by the association. He will also supervise packaging when necessary and also hydra-cooled sweet corn.

It will no longer be necessary for growers to sell on consignment or compete on narrow margins.

GREATER economies and expanded markets are the aim of the cooperative.

Under Berner, vegetables will be marketed all over the country.

Other growers interested in affiliating with the co-op may do so by attending a meeting Friday at 7:30 p.m. in Elk Grove school, Higgins and Elmhurst rds.

The new co-op has the endorsement of Cook County Truck Gardeners association and the Cook county farm bureau. Both organizations were represented at last week's meeting by Walter Sass, Elmer Stile, and Carl F. Mees, county farm adviser.

Serving on the temporary board of directors are Ed Oehlerking, Wesley Landmeier, Adolph Moehling, Irvin Alten, and Ed Koehler.

Landscape Meeting March 21 At Farm Bureau Building

A meeting to acquaint you with the fundamentals of landscaping, lawn establishment and care, types of shrubs and their place in home beautification has been arranged for Wednesday, March 21 at the Arlington Heights Farm bureau building at 1:30 p.m

H. R. Kemmerer, landscape architect of the University of Illinois, will be with us to conduct the program. This meeting should be of interest to home owners all over the county. Come to the meeting and learn how you can make your home or farmstead more beautiful. Anyone interested is invited to attend.

Modern Etiquette

by ROBERTA LEE

Q. Is it all right for a man to remove his glove to shake hands when being introduced?

A. Yes, if he can do so quickly and without making it too obvious. He need not, however, delay the introduction and it is in good form for him to shake hands with his glove on — nor does he have to apologize for it.

Q. If one fails to hear a name in an introduction, is it all right to ask the one who is making the introduction to repeat it?

A. You should address your question to the person being introduced to you, as, "I'm sorry, but I did not hear your name clearly."

Q. Is it always obligatory to make a call on a good friend who has been bereaved?

A. Yes. A brief note of sympathy is sufficient before the funeral, and a call of condolence should be made soon after the funeral.

Q. Is it all right to ask, "Who is this," or, "What number is this," when making a telephone call and someone answers whose voice you do not recognize?

A. This is too often done, and it is extremely ill-bred. The correct thing always is to ask for the person with whom one wishes to speak.

Q. If one is attending church services that are not famiiiar, should one copy the movements of the members of the congregation, or just remain stationary?

A. Do what the others do, and you will show more courtesy and will be less conspicuous.

Q. When is the spoon for the after-dinner coffee placed on the table?

A. This spoon is brought in with the coffee when it is served.

Q. What is the correct size of the place card at a dinner?

A. Usually about two inches long and an inch and a half high. It is usually plain white, but it may be embossed in white or gold with a monogram or crest. Place cards are inscribed in longhand.

Q. If one has just moved into a new neighborhood and some of the neighbors have paid calls, how soon should one return these calls?

A. Within two weeks. Failure to return these calls is a strong indication that the friendships are not desired.

Q. Shouldn't a bride be considerate of the expense necessary for her bridesmaids in the purchase of their gowns?

A. Yes; unless, of course, she knows that each one of the bridesmaids is fully able to pay.

Q. If a host is carving the meat at the table, should he cut enough for everyone before serving anyone?

A. Yes.

A new kind of pioneer is conquering the American "jungle," thanks to chemical science.

The pioneer is the tree man who is using chemical tools to keep utilities' lines, vital pipe lines and highways free of unwanted vegetation.

Slice Retail Price To Spur Consumers To Buy More Meat

by L. H. SIMERL

A new combination of record outputs is depressing prices of hogs and beef cattle:

(1) For the first time in history outputs of both beef and pork have rolled up to cyclical peaks in the same year.

(2) Supplies of poultry, eggs and milk have climbed to new record or near—record highs at the same time.

Two important price adjustments have been made to move the record supplies:

(1) retail prices have been reduced to induce consumers to buy more meat than ever before; and

(2) marketing margins have widened out, serving to induce processors and retailers to handle the greater supplies. Both of these adjustments bear down on prices of livestock.

PEOPLE EAT what they eat largely because of habit.

As the American people become accustomed to eating more meat, they may be willing to pay more for it. Likewise, there may be some reduction in marketing margins. Either or both of these changes would lift livestock prices.

Beef output up 61 per cent. Beef production tends to run in waves or cycles, the peak outputs coming at intervals of 8 to 13 years.

Peak years were 1905, 1918, 1926, 1934 and 1945. Beef and veal supplies equaled 83 pounds per person in 1905, but only 80 pounds in 1918 and 68 pounds in 1926.

The peak year 1945 brought supplies back up to 84 pounds, while the latest upsurge lifted the amount to an all-time high of 91 pounds per person in 1955. A slightly larger supply is expected in 1956.

The latest upsurge has been greater than any previously recorded. Total production of beef and veal increased 61 per cent from 1951 to 1955!

TWENTY-SIX per cent more hogs. Pork output runs in shorter cycles of 3 to 5 years from peak to peak. Recent peak years were 1940, 1943, 1946 and 1951. We are now at the crest of the latest wave of hog production, which has increased 26 per cent in two years. And for the first time on record (figures are available back to 1899; the peak of pork production comes at the same time as the peak beef output.

Production of eggs has been on a steep uptrend since 1942. In 1955 the supply was equal to 418 eggs per person, or 25 to 50 per cent more than in any of the years from 1909 through 1942.

A new meat industry. The most spectacular increase of all is that provided by commercial broiler producers. Growing from almost nothing before World War II, this industry now produces 2½ billion pounds of broilers a year. And the turkey supply is about three times greater than pre-war The total supply of poultry meat is at an all-time high—about 27 pounds per person compared with only about 15 pounds before the war.

Even the production of lamb and mutton has increased each year since 1951.

THE SUPPLY of dairy products, too, shows an unusual increase. The output of cheese is about eight pounds per person per year, 42 per cent more than prewar 1935-'39. Production and sales of ice cream equals 18 pounds per person, 83 per cent more than prewar.

Certainly the American people are becoming accustomed to buying and eating far more fine meats, dairy products, and eggs than they or any other people have ever had. The rate of increase in production of these products may well be less in the next few years than in the years just past.

Some leveling-off in production plus continued strong consumer buying power during the next few years would surely bring substantial recoveries in prices of meat animals.

MY THREE ANGELS

by DICK DUNKEL JR.

A trio of lovable, if unethical, Palatine Player convicts made premeditated murder a laughing matter Saturday night and were mainly responsible for the success of "My Three Angels" at Cutting hall.

The lively 3-act comedy only lagged in the brief intervals when society's enemies were occupied offstage and allowed normal family living to plod along unmolested.

Don Fyfe, as the murderer-philosopher-cook Jules, gave a superb performance. His lines, supplied by playwrites Sam and Bella Spewack, were choice and he made the most of them with casual playfulness.

Paul Jensen, as fellow convict Joseph, was equally entertaining in the nihilistic "anything goes" plot in which 3 convicts give a French famiy a merry Christmas by rubbing out antagonists with a pet viper.

Fyfe and Jensen kept the quality of the performance at a high level most of the time. Less convincing, but well cast, was third convict Alfred, played by George Smith.

Physically Smith was ideal ballast. As rugged, handsome Alfred he balanced well his colleague's intellectual nimbleness and the femininity of household daughter, Marie Louise, a feat neither her suitor Paul nor fated beau Lientenant could muster up to.

Cynthia Vogel, as Marie Louise, had spurts of excellence, especially when pouting after insults by Wicked Uncle Henri, played loudly and to the hilt by Don Heyden.

But Marie Louise faltered in her romantic scenes with overly-stiff Jim Hedapp as lover Paul.

Fidgeting father Felix, Lou Kovacs, and muddled mother Emilie, Audrey Alberga, were adequately played when complimenting lively actions of the convics, but the parents failed to measure up when alone on the stage and in a first act conversation gave the audience one of its few uneasy moments.

But overall, "My Three Angels" was a triumph for Director Helen Bodelson and assistant Wally Kirby. To their credit, the performance was smoothy presented despite late substitutions in the cast.

Perhaps the greatest praise must be given to Palatine Players as a group for its selection of a well-balanced program within the acting talent of its members.

Those in the audience unfamiliar with the theater could easily have been pursuaded to explore the medium.

Those in the audience familiar with theater enjoyed themselves and were not offended.

It would seem silly to ask for more.

WALTZ DREAM

by CHARLOTTE SHAUGHNESSY

Brightly costumed and most ably sung and directed Oscar Straus' melodic "Waltz Dream" was presented as a Prospect Heights Community benefit March 10 and 11 at Prospect Heights grade school. The huge cast of 46 apparently enjoyed themselves as much as did their appreciative audience.

Fedor Kabalin, director of the production, conducted the excellent 16-piece orchestra, which was composed of professional musicians and students.

Robert Randolph was outstanding as the humorous Maximillian X., King of Sylvania. His daughter Princess Helene was well sung and acted by Alice Wassmer of Palatine.

Elaine Rittenhouse as Kay, the American artist, and Oliver Goldsmith as Lt. Niki gave the audience some of its most enjoyable moments as they sang the melodic "Love's Roundelay" and "Sweetest Maid of All."

Mary Flodin was an impressive Matilda and "The Family's Ancient Tree" sung by Matilda, Niki and the King was delightfully funny. Carol Willie was a lovely and able Duchess Louisa.

In scenery, color and costume the cafe scene of the second act was the highlight of the play. The finale chorus of "Love's Roundelay" excellently blended their voices.

Kathleen Orescan and Betty Randolph as Fifi and Annerl were pert and saucy as two cafe singers. Jack Wassmer as Count Lothar; Richard Alexander as Count Sigismund and William Van Zuylen as Lt. Montschi competently sang their roles.

Prospect Heights School of Music and Prospect Heights Community church are to be complimented for bringing these annual musical productions to the community. They are a fine outlet for native talent and a spring board for youthful aspirants of this locale, besides bringing operetta enjoyment to music lovers.

Auctioneer's Hammer To End Farming Of Pioneer Family

by TOM BRENNAN

The cry of "How much am I offered, boys?" will ring out at 2 Elk Grove farms during the next week to mark the passing of an era.

This auctioneer's call will be heard on 2 farms of the Scharringhausen clan, a name that dates back to 1832 when Henry Scharringhausen first took up farming in the Elk Grove area. After Tuesday these farms, one at the corner of Higgins and Arlington Heights rds. and the other just half a mile south, won't be farms any longer.

They are slated to become part of the Busse forest, a project of the Cook county forest preserve district. According to Charles Sauer, chief engineer for the forest preserve, the Busse forest will ramble over 3,000 acres between Arlington Heights and Rohlwing rds. on the east and west of Golf and Cosman rds. on the north and south.

"Busse forest will be an island in a sea of residences," Sauer said.

NEARLY 80 per cent of the area to be eventually included in the preserve has already been purchased. In the words of Sauer, all the purchases were "by agreement," but to one member of the Scharringhausen clan, it was "sell or have your farm condemned."

Both Scharringhausen farms, Ralph's at Higgins rd. and Harold's to the south, were dairy farms. Brown-eyed Holsteins grazed peacefully in the heavily wooded areas of the 2 farms.

"The cows kept the underbrush down," said Arthur, 74, the patriarch of the family and the father of Ralph.

Sauer explained that the forest preserve had to tell the Scharringhausens that cattle could no longer be grazed on the farms.

"The grazing stops the reproduction of young trees," he claimed. He asserted that the development of the farms would probably start in a year.

Ralph's farm has many historic associations connected with it. A building now painted bright red and used to shelter farm machinery was the first Methodist church in the northwest section of Cook county. As the home grew large, the Scharringhausen and related branches of the family—the Theises and the Landmeiers—grew larger.

"At the last family reunion quite some years ago there were 500 people," Arthur recalled with a smile. Soon, perhaps within a year, Ralph will have to move out of the house and off the farm which was "such a nice place for the children in the summer."

The forest preserve authorities are not completely unsentimental however. Sauer said that they appreciated the "historical value" of the farmhouse and that he would be "prone to keeping it intact" as a headquarters.

New Vegetable Growers Coop Appoints Manager

Vegetable growers in north Cook county have organized a new cooperative organization for packaging and marketing vegetables grown in this area.

Response to the new Arlington Valley Growers has been strong. More than a thousand acres were signed up Friday at a meeting of growers in Elk Grove school.

The co-op was formed because the old Randolph st. market, where farmers for years sold their products direct, has been on the way out.

IN RECENT years, the marketing problem has made it hard to move the produce and sharp competition pinched the smaller growers. Chain stores have by-passed both S. Water and Randolph st. markets for purchasing their vegetables and, in many cases, have purchased directly from the grower.

The small margin of profit has hit north Cook gardeners hard. More than 80 per cent of the retail price has been going to handlers and dealers.

The new Arlington Valley Growers have made Robert L. Berner, a wholesaler, its sales manager. He will be responsible for sales of all produce raised on the acreage signed up by the association. He will also supervise packaging when necessary and also hydra-cooled sweet corn.

It will no longer be necessary for growers to sell on consignment or compete on narrow margins.

GREATER economies and expanded markets are the aim of the cooperative.

Under Berner, vegetables will be marketed all over the country.

Other growers interested in affiliating with the co-op may do so by attending a meeting Friday at 7:30 p.m. in Elk Grove school, Higgins and Elmhurst rds.

The new co-op has the endorsement of Cook County Truck Gardeners association and the Cook county farm bureau. Both organizations were represented at last week's meeting by Walter Sass, Elmer Stile, and Carl F. Mees, county farm adviser.

Serving on the temporary board of directors are Ed Oehlerking, Wesley Landmeier, Adolph Moehling, Irvin Alten, and Ed Koehler.

Landscape Meeting March 21 At Farm Bureau Building

A meeting to acquaint you with the fundamentals of landscaping, lawn establishment and care, types of shrubs and their place in home beautification has been arranged for Wednesday, March 21 at the Arlington Heights Farm bureau building at 1:30 p.m

H. R. Kemmerer, landscape architect of the University of Illinois, will be with us to conduct the program. This meeting should be of interest to home owners all over the county. Come to the meeting and learn how you can make your home or farmstead more beautiful. Anyone interested is invited to attend.

Modern Etiquette

by ROBERTA LEE

Q. Is it all right for a man to remove his glove to shake hands when being introduced?

A. Yes, if he can do so quickly and without making it too obvious. He need not, however, delay the introduction and it is in good form for him to shake hands with his glove on — nor does he have to apologize for it.

Q. If one fails to hear a name in an introduction, is it all right to ask the one who is making the introduction to repeat it?

A. You should address your question to the person being introduced to you, as, "I'm sorry, but I did not hear your name clearly."

Q. Is it always obligatory to make a call on a good friend who has been bereaved?

A. Yes. A brief note of sympathy is sufficient before the funeral, and a call of condolence should be made soon after the funeral.

Q. Is it all right to ask, "Who is this," or, "What number is this," when making a telephone call and someone answers whose voice you do not recognize?

A. This is too often done, and it is extremely ill-bred. The correct thing always is to ask for the person with whom one wishes to speak.

Q. If one is attending church services that are not familiar, should one copy the movements of the members of the congregation, or just remain stationary?

A. Do what the others do, and you will show more courtesy and will be less conspicuous.

Q. When is the spoon for the after-dinner coffee placed on the table?

A. This spoon is brought in with the coffee when it is served.

Q. What is the correct size of the place card at a dinner?

A. Usually about two inches long and an inch and a half high. It is usually plain white, but it may be embossed in white or gold with a monogram or crest. Place cards are inscribed in longhand.

Q. If one has just moved into a new neighborhood and some of the neighbors have paid calls, how soon should one return these calls?

A. Within two weeks. Failure to return these calls is a strong indication that the friendships are not desired.

Q. Shouldn't a bride be considerate of the expense necessary for her bridesmaids in the purchase of their gowns?

A. Yes; unless, of course, she knows that each one of the bridesmaids is fully able to pay.

Q. If a host is carving the meat at the table, should he cut enough for everyone before serving anyone?

A. Yes.

A new kind of pioneer is conquering the American "jungle," thanks to chemical science.

The pioneer is the tree man who is using chemical tools to keep utilities' lines, vital pipe lines and highways free of unwanted vegetation.

With The Blue Birds

Camp Fire Girls Birthday Week

Arlington Heights bluebirds and campfire girls join with their 400,000 members across the nation in celebrating their 46th birthday the week of March 11-18. For their current birthday project they have chosen to "Plant Seeds . . . Reap Friendship." As a part of this program campfire girls from every state will collect and pack thousands of packets of vegetable seeds to send to the Asian countries of Burma, Ceylon, East Pakistan, and the Phillipines. Families in countries where normally these vegetables would not be available will have a chance to obtain seeds, plant gardens, and live happier, healthier, more productive lives.

Since the understanding which deepens friendship grows from knowledge about the way people feel, think and live, the food they eat, the games they play, the songs they sing, bluebirds and campfire girls are trying to learn much about these 4 countries. They are cooking vegetables they have "helped to grow" in the ways in which they would be prepared by Burmese, Ceylonese, East Pakistan, and Filipino families. They are trying out unusual games and attemping to sing unfamiliar songs. In addition they are digging into atlases and twirling globes to find the countries to which the seeds will be sent and to follow the route that the packages will take over the ocean.

It is nothing new for the campfire girls to be busy in such a good cause for the third tenet of their law is "Give Service." For all of their 46 years the girls of this youth organization have carried on a program of unselfish, untiring service to the needs and welfare of others, while they have enjoyed the organization's fine program of fun and friendship.

Keyed to the 1956 birthday project, Arlington Heights bluebird mother-daughter luncheon, to be held Saturday, March 17, will carry out in decorations and program the theme of "Plant Seeds . . . . Reap Friendship." Guests of honor will include Mrs. Howard Froyd, local PTA president, and Mrs. Charles Kule, librarian, who helped organize the first bluebird group in Arlington in 1954. Mrs. Warren Black is chairman of the luncheon, and Mrs. Paul Crommelin is in charge of decorations.

Birthday Sunday

Birthday week will be highlighted by birthday Sunday, March 18, when all bluebird and campfire girls attend the church of their choice in full costume and will be seated in a body at the morning services. Mrs. Louis M. Schomburg will meet the girls of the First Presbyterian faith in the narthex of the church immediately preceding the 11 a.m. services.

Faith Lutheran church girls will meet in front of the church at 10:30 a.m. to attend the 10:45 a.m. service. Mrs. Chris Lorenzen will be in charge. At the First Methodist Church, Mrs. Warren Back will be on hand to meet the girls; and Mrs. Wallace will be in charge of the girls gathering for services at St. John Episcopal church in Mt. Prospect.

Other churches — If a girl will wear her costume to church she will probably find other bluebirds and campfire girls present and may sit with them.

Leaders' Association

Monthly meeting of Arlington campfire girls leaders association was held March 13, at the home of Mrs. Howard Pollitz, 11 N. Reuter. Final arrangements were made for Saturday's mother-mother-daughter birthday luncheon, and plans were also discussed for the coming bluebird parties for first graders and their mothers. Information, regarding the campfire girls candy sale of Russell Stover's chocolate creams in April, was made known at this time. The candy will be packaged in a special campfire box. Stickers saying, "Camp Fire Girls have sold here" will be given to residents of the community, who help support the bluebird and campfire girls program by their candy purchase. This sale will take the place of the regular donut sale, but a special 1-day public donut sale will be held on Friday, April 27, in the Chicago loop buildings and train depots.

Helping Pixies Blue Birds

Helping Pixie bluebirds made nametags and table decorations for the mother-daughter luncheon at Tuesday's meeting. Girls also practiced the songs they will sing during the luncheon pragrm. Collection of various vegetable seeds, to be sent the 4 Asian countries mentioned in the birthday project was also made. These seeds will be daughter birthday luncheon, as part of the "Plant Seeds . . . Reap Friendship" program. Lynne Schomburg was hostess for the meeting.

Blue Angels

Honeybears

After practicing a song which they will sing at the mother and daughter luncheon, Honeybears enjoyed refreshments served by Barbara Johnson.

Bluebird Wings

Bluebird Wings group made cardboard rabbits for Easter decorations at their last meeting. They also practiced songs for the luncheon and then their new member Carol Voelker served a treat.

Friendly Bluebirds

Practicing songs and playing games kept the Friendly Bluebirds busy during their last meeting. Kathy Knutson was hostess for the day.

T. C. Hart, Prominent Citizen, Dies

STUART R. PADDOCK

Thomas C. Hart, or as he preferred to be called, T. C. Hart, Oak and Chicago ave., Palatine, passed away last Friday at the Sherman hospital in Elgin, where he went 12 days earlier for what was termed a "check up."

Tom, who had courageously fought a disease of the heart for many years, had a premonition that the end was near. Before going to the hospital he left funeral instructions in a sealed envelope with his nurse, Miss Sterno, who the past 4 years had watched over his health.

Miss Sterno had given similar service for members of the family over a period of 42 years.

Daily bulletins as to Tom's condition were received by Palatine friends, relayed to them from the Schoppe store, where the deceased for many years spent an hour each morning discussing affairs of the day with his friend, Harry.

Although his friends have known of his precarious condition during recent years, word of Hart's death was a shock to the community. He was one of the best known residents of Palatine and frequently served as counsellor to those faced with tax problems.

They depended upon Hart to know the answers. He was a student of mankind. After leaving school he took over the employee relations in the barn of a large Chicago trucking company in the days when horse drawn vehicles were operated.

His success as a mediator took him to Alabama, where he spent a number of years directing the planting of large orchards in the newly opened citrus fruit area.

HE TWICE stepped into the breach existing in high school affairs, serving as the president of the Palatine board of education from 1920 to 1924 and again 1930 to 1932.

He had never been defeated for public office. He was repeatedly "the people's choice."

His success in bringing order out of chaos in school affairs led to the united support by his townspeople for the office of village clerk, which he occupied from 1923 to 1934.

He supported the candidacy of Miss Grace Beutler for township collector in 1933, serving as her deputy 4 years. In 1937 he was elected to the office on his own right and re-elected 4 times. He had one more year to serve at his death—a record collector's service of 23 years.

Mr. Hart was a staunch Republican, but was as quick to criticize actions of his party as he was of the Democrats. He served his party as head of the township organization 20 years. With the aid of his friend, Roy LaLonde, the 2 were able to keep party politics out of local elections and affairs.

He did as much as any other man to end the discord existing in Palatine 25 and 30 years ago when neighbors of many years were not speaking to each other.

His counsels extended to the Lions club, of which he was a charter member. His greatest love was the Palatine school systems. He made their troubles his troubles and for many years his counsel was sought by the boards of education of the high school and elementary school systems.

Last Member Of Veteran Family

Funeral services were held Monday afternoon for Thomas C. Hart at the Tharp funeral home. His neighbor, Rev. Glenn Gumm, was in charge of the services. Interment was in the Hart lot in Hillside cemetery.

Mr. Hart was born August 23, 1884, in the house where he spent his entire life. He never married.

When heart trouble developed he let go of all responsibilities except the collectorship. He was confined to the hospital several times and entered it the last time 12 days before his passing.

He was the last member of the Hart family in Palatine. He was preceded in death by his mother, brother and sister. Remaining are a sister-in-law, Mrs. June Hart, and a niece, Mrs. Lowell Weir of Omaha.

THOMAS C. HART

T. C. HART wielded a mighty pen and his weekly column in the Enterprise, "Tales of the Street," became a directing force in the community.

He was just as quick to criticize as to praise. The public knew where he stood on all public issues. They respected him although the lash of his written word occasionally came their way.

It was Hart, who after a fatal accident at Dundee rd. and Northwest highway, waged such a battle for a grade separation that it became a reality, one of the early such highway improvements in northern Cook county.

He served his apprenticeship in news reporting as sports editor of Paddock Publications and for many years attended all athletic events of the high school.

He had a part in the forming of public opinion that popularized and made possible the formation of a park district, the library and the acquirement of land for the Oak Street school and public park.

Mr. Hart was much interested in the changing conditions in his community. On his last trip to the hospital a few days before his death, he asked Harry Schoppe to drive through Schaumburg so he could see what was happening in that former farming area.

The writer of this story of the life of Mr. Thomas C. Hart has lost a lifetime friend. So has Harry Schoppe, the third figure in the triumvirate, as well as many others who in later years entered into the Hart orbit.

Passing Of An Era

by ROY LALONDE

The death of our good friend, Tom Hart, was in my mind the passing of an era, an era of small town living wherein you know, intimately, everyone in the community, a time when the helping hand was always present.

Tom played a great part in helping people for he held many positions of trust wherein it was possible to give much help.

We all recall with a great deal of nostalgia his "Tales of the Street" which appeared in Paddock Publications for many years. They were earthy tales well presented.

Tom had ideals and always did something about them. He unquestionably wa Mr. Republican of Palatine for a great many years and always to my sorrow did an excellent job in each election. Our standing bet of a new hat on each gubernatorial election left me the Democratic committeeman on the short end.

Tom will be missed, but his efforts and contributions to his community will always be with us.

It's A Half Century At Techny Post Office

The Techny post office in Illinois, nationally known through the extensive mailings carried on by the Divine Word missionaries at Techny, observed its fiftieth anniversary last week.

Founded on March 1, 1906, it now ranks as a first class post office with an acting postmaster, assistant postmaster and 2 substitute clerks.

Responsible for the high rank is the vast amount of books, pamphlets, magazines, calendars and appeals for mission work carried on in 31 countries, that have gone out under the Techny postmark.

THE TECHNY post office, which rents space in St. Mary's Mission seminary, has always been headed by Divine Word missionaries.

The present acting postmaster is Brother Peter Campbell, S. V. D., 30, from Ozone Park, Long Island, N. Y. He was preceded in office by Brother Anthony Wacker, S. V. D., from Milwaukee, who retired in 1954 at the age of 70 after 35 years of service. The only other 2 postmasters were Brother Alphonse Spitzer, S. V. D., and Father Herman Richarz, S. V. D.

Old timers in the neighborhood report that 50 years ago the mail was delivered by wheelbarrow from the Techny post office to the mail train on the Milwaukee Road a mile away.

Later the mail was delivered by horse and wagon, then by truck. Nowadays a mail truck backs up to the post office door and picks up the mail.

THE NAME "Techny" comes from the word "Technical" which appeared in the title of the institution — St. Joseph's Technical school — conducted by Divine Word missionaries at the time the post office was founded. Prior to the founding of the Techny post office all mail had been addressed to Shermerville, now Northbrook.

Assistant postmaster is Leo Hart, 2018 Linneman, Glenview; substitute clerks are Brother Kostka Piotrowski, S. V. D., from Grand Rapids, Mich., and James Metz, 2235 Henley, Glenview. (B7

With The Blue Birds

Camp Fire Girls Birthday Week

Arlington Heights bluebirds and campfire girls join with their 400,000 members across the nation in celebrating their 46th birthday the week of March 11-18. For their current birthday project they have chosen to "Plant Seeds . . . Reap Friendship." As a part of this program campfire girls from every state will collect and pack thousands of packets of vegetable seeds to send to the Asian countries of Burma, Ceylon, East Pakistan, and the Phillipines. Families in countries where normally these vegetables would not be available will have a chance to obtain seeds, plant gardens, and live happier, healthier, more productive lives.

Since the understanding which deepens friendship grows from knowledge about the way people feel, think and live, the food they eat, the games they play, the songs they sing, bluebirds and campfire girls are trying to learn much about these 4 countries. They are cooking vegetables they have "helped to grow" in the ways in which they would be prepared by Burmese, Ceylonese, East Pakistan, and Filipino families. They are trying out unusual games and attemping to sing unfamiliar songs. In addition they are digging into atlases and twirling globes to find the countries to which the seeds will be sent and to follow the route that the packages will take over the ocean.

It is nothing new for the campfire girls to be busy in such a good cause for the third tenet of their law is "Give Service." For all of their 46 years the girls of this youth organization have carried on a program of unselfish, untiring service to the needs and welfare of others, while they have enjoyed the organization's fine program of fun and friendship.

Keyed to the 1956 birthday project, Arlington Heights bluebird mother-daughter luncheon, to be held Saturday, March 17, will carry out in decorations and program the theme of "Plant Seeds . . . . Reap Friendship." Guests of honor will include Mrs. Howard Froyd, local PTA president, and Mrs. Charles Kule, librarian, who helped organize the first bluebird group in Arlington in 1954. Mrs. Warren Black is chairman of the luncheon, and Mrs. Paul Crommelin is in charge of decorations.

Birthday Sunday

Birthday week will be highlighted by birthday Sunday, March 18, when all bluebird and campfire girls attend the church of their choice in full costume and will be seated in a body at the morning services. Mrs. Louis M. Schomburg will meet the girls of the First Presbyterian faith in the narthex of the church immediately preceding the 11 a.m. services.

Faith Lutheran church girls will meet in front of the church at 10:30 a.m. to attend the 10:45 a.m. service. Mrs. Chris Lorenzen will be in charge. At the First Methodist Church, Mrs. Warren Back will be on hand to meet the girls; and Mrs. Wallace will be in charge of the girls gathering for services at St. John Episcopal church in Mt. Prospect.

Other churches — If a girl will wear her costume to church she will probably find other bluebirds and campfire girls present and may sit with them.

Leaders' Association

Monthly meeting of Arlington campfire girls leaders association was held March 13, at the home of Mrs. Howard Pollitz, 11 N. Reuter. Final arrangements were made for Saturday's mother-mother-daughter birthday luncheon, and plans were also discussed for the coming bluebird parties for first graders and their mothers. Information, regarding the campfire girls candy sale of Russell Stover's chocolate creams in April, was made known at this time. The candy will be packaged in a special campfire box. Stickers saying, "Camp Fire Girls have sold here" will be given to residents of the community, who help support the bluebird and campfire girls program by their candy purchase. This sale will take the place of the regular donut sale, but a special 1-day public donut sale will be held on Friday, April 27, in the Chicago loop buildings and train depots.

Helping Pixies Blue Birds

Helping Pixie bluebirds made nametags and table decorations for the mother-daughter luncheon at Tuesday's meeting. Girls also practiced the songs they will sing during the luncheon pragrm. Collection of various vegetable seeds, to be sent the 4 Asian countries mentioned in the birthday project was also made. These seeds will be daughter birthday luncheon, as part of the "Plant Seeds . . . Reap Friendship" program. Lynne Schomburg was hostess for the meeting.

Blue Angels

Honeybears

After practicing a song which they will sing at the mother and daughter luncheon, Honeybears enjoyed refreshments served by Barbara Johnson.

Bluebird Wings

Bluebird Wings group made cardboard rabbits for Easter decorations at their last meeting. They also practiced songs for the luncheon and then their new member Carol Voelker served a treat.

Friendly Bluebirds

Practicing songs and playing games kept the Friendly Bluebirds busy during their last meeting. Kathy Knutson was hostess for the day.

It's A Half Century At Techny Post Office

The Techny post office in Illinois, nationally known through the extensive mailings carried on by the Divine Word missionaries at Techny, observed its fiftieth anniversary last week.

Founded on March 1, 1906, it now ranks as a first class post office with an acting postmaster, assistant postmaster and 2 substitute clerks.

Responsible for the high rank is the vast amount of books, pamphlets, magazines, calendars and appeals for mission work carried on in 31 countries, that have gone out under the Techny postmark.

THE TECHNY post office, which rents space in St. Mary's Mission seminary, has always been headed by Divine Word missionaries.

The present acting postmaster is Brother Peter Campbell, S. V. D., 30, from Ozone Park, Long Island, N. Y. He was preceded in office by Brother Anthony Wacker, S. V. D., from Milwaukee, who retired in 1954 at the age of 70 after 35 years of service. The only other 2 postmasters were Brother Alphonse Spitzer, S. V. D., and Father Herman Richarz, S. V. D.

Old timers in the neighborhood report that 50 years ago the mail was delivered by wheelbarrow from the Techny post office to the mail train on the Milwaukee Road a mile away.

Later the mail was delivered by horse and wagon, then by truck. Nowadays a mail truck backs up to the post office door and picks up the mail.

THE NAME "Techny" comes from the word "Technical" which appeared in the title of the institution — St. Joseph's Technical school — conducted by Divine Word missionaries at the time the post office was founded. Prior to the founding of the Techny post office all mail had been addressed to Shermerville, now Northbrook.

Assistant postmaster is Leo Hart, 2018 Linneman, Glenview; substitute clerks are Brother Kostka Piotrowski, S. V. D., from Grand Rapids, Mich., and James Metz, 2235 Henley, Glenview. (B7

T. C. Hart, Prominent Citizen, Dies

STUART R. PADDOCK

Thomas C. Hart, or as he preferred to be called, T. C. Hart, Oak and Chicago ave., Palatine, passed away last Friday at the Sherman hospital in Elgin, where he went 12 days earlier for what was termed a "check up."

Tom, who had courageously fought a disease of the heart for many years, had a premonition that the end was near. Before going to the hospital he left funeral instructions in a sealed envelope with his nurse, Miss Sterno, who the past 4 years had watched over his health.

Miss Sterno had given similar service for members of the family over a period of 42 years.

Daily bulletins as to Tom's condition were received by Palatine friends, relayed to them from the Schoppe store, where the deceased for many years spent an hour each morning discussing affairs of the day with his friend, Harry.

Although his friends have known of his precarious condition during recent years, word of Hart's death was a shock to the community. He was one of the best known residents of Palatine and frequently served as counsellor to those faced with tax problems.

They depended upon Hart to know the answers. He was a student of mankind. After leaving school he took over the employee relations in the barn of a large Chicago trucking company in the days when horse drawn vehicles were operated.

His success as a mediator took him to Alabama, where he spent a number of years directing the planting of large orchards in the newly opened citrus fruit area.

HE TWICE stepped into the breach existing in high school affairs, serving as the president of the Palatine board of education from 1920 to 1924 and again 1930 to 1932.

He had never been defeated for public office. He was repeatedly "the people's choice."

His success in bringing order out of chaos in school affairs led to the united support by his townspeople for the office of village clerk, which he occupied from 1923 to 1934.

He supported the candidacy of Miss Grace Beutler for township collector in 1933, serving as her deputy 4 years. In 1937 he was elected to the office on his own right and re-elected 4 times. He had one more year to serve at his death—a record collector's service of 23 years.

Mr. Hart was a staunch Republican, but was as quick to criticize actions of his party as he was of the Democrats. He served his party as head of the township organization 20 years. With the aid of his friend, Roy LaLonde, the 2 were able to keep party politics out of local elections and affairs.

He did as much as any other man to end the discord existing in Palatine 25 and 30 years ago when neighbors of many years were not speaking to each other.

His counsels extended to the Lions club, of which he was a charter member. His greatest love was the Palatine school systems. He made their troubles his troubles and for many years his counsel was sought by the boards of education of the high school and elementary school systems.

T. C. HART wielded a mighty pen and his weekly column in the Enterprise, "Tales of the Street," became a directing force in the community.

He was just as quick to criticize as to praise. The public knew where he stood on all public issues. They respected him although the lash of his written word occasionally came their way.

It was Hart, who after a fatal accident at Dundee rd. and Northwest highway, waged such a battle for a grade separation that it became a reality, one of the early such highway improvements in northern Cook county.

He served his apprenticeship in news reporting as sports editor of Paddock Publications and for many years attended all athletic events of the high school.

He had a part in the forming of public opinion that popularized and made possible the formation of a park district, the library and the acquirement of land for the Oak Street school and public park.

Mr. Hart was much interested in the changing conditions in his community. On his last trip to the hospital a few days before his death, he asked Harry Schoppe to drive through Schaumburg so he could see what was happening in that former farming area.

The writer of this story of the life of Mr. Thomas C. Hart has lost a lifetime friend. So has Harry Schoppe, the third figure in the triumvirate, as well as many others who in later years entered into the Hart orbit.

Last Member Of Veteran Family

Funeral services were held Monday afternoon for Thomas C. Hart at the Tharp funeral home. His neighbor, Rev. Glenn Gumm, was in charge of the services. Interment was in the Hart lot in Hillside cemetery.

Mr. Hart was born August 23, 1884, in the house where he spent his entire life. He never married.

When heart trouble developed he let go of all responsibilities except the collectorship. He was confined to the hospital several times and entered it the last time 12 days before his passing.

He was the last member of the Hart family in Palatine. He was preceded in death by his mother, brother and sister. Remaining are a sister-in-law, Mrs. June Hart, and a niece, Mrs. Lowell Weir of Omaha.

THOMAS C. HART

Passing Of An Era

by ROY LALONDE

The death of our good friend, Tom Hart, was in my mind the passing of an era, an era of small town living wherein you know, intimately, everyone in the community, a time when the helping hand was always present.

Tom played a great part in helping people for he held many positions of trust wherein it was possible to give much help.

We all recall with a great deal of nostalgia his "Tales of the Street" which appeared in Paddock Publications for many years. They were earthy tales well presented.

Tom had ideals and always did something about them. He unquestionably wa Mr. Republican of Palatine for a great many years and always to my sorrow did an excellent job in each election. Our standing bet of a new hat on each gubernatorial election left me the Democratic committeeman on the short end.

Tom will be missed, but his efforts and contributions to his community will always be with us.

Last winter the weight of snow and icicles tore down the rain gutter on our home. It swung against our picture window and broke it too. The repairs cost $465. Our Fire and 'extended coverage' Policy did not cover this loss. Would the new Homeowners policy pay such damages?

Women Voters Sponsor Talks On Liberties

A "Freedom Forum" discussion group series on individual liberties in relation to the Constitution and Bill of Rights has been set for 4 o'clock Wednesday evenings.

They are March 21, March 28, April 11, April 18 at 8 p.m., South room of the Arlington Heights park district field house.

Ewart S. Harris, retired lawyer of the anti-trust division of the justice department, will be discussion leader.

THE PUBLIC is invited to participate and bring any reference material pertaining to the subject. The Arlington Heights League of Women Voters is sponsoring the discussion project.

The first discussion will be on Constitutional history and Supreme Court decisions in relation to the Constitution. The second one will be on the Bill of Rights in relation to free speech. (ACMF

Arlington Athletes Turn Sights On Spring Sports Workouts

KICKIN' IT AROUND

by Bob Paddock

BIG JOHN BUSCH, University of Dubuque reserve center, was the sixth leading scorer on the team this past season and saw action in 19 of the Spartans' 21 games. Busch, a 6-4 junior from Palatine, scored 18 baskets and 19 free throws for 55 points, seeing only limited action in the games he played. He hit his baskets in only 57 shots for a .316 shooting percentage.

John Busch

His best game was Jan. 13 against Iowa Wesleyan when he took over for center Dale Schasker and scored 7 baskets and as many free throws for 21 points. Busch has shown good defense around the basket with his size and can score when called upon to do so. He is the leading candidate to fill Schasker's shoes next season. The Spartans compiled an unimpressive 8-13 season record this year and ended up 5-11 in the Iowa Conference.

THE SECTIONAL at Arlington is now history with New Trier making the grade by disposing of Arlington and St. Edward . . . Heights also lost at the gate with icy roads Wednesday night cutting turnout from DeKalb to a minimum . . . St. Ed. sold 1,320 tickets for that night, DeKalb 600, but many of those 600 didn't brave the elements . . . A father-son dinner at New Trier cut into receipts when Heights played the north shore school Thursday night with 600 New Trier boys dining instead of watching basketball.

Final night was a $3,200 take, but the total for the tournament was $7,299, about $800 under that of other years.

The tournament was a record-breaker from the standpoint of combined scoring with the St. Edward-DeKalb 154 gross surpassing the LaGrange-Arlington figure Dec. 17, 1955, by 1 . . . Friday night the St. Edward-New Trier gross 172 went into the books.

THE BOOSTER CLUB at Arlington gained friendship of all teams in the tournament by providing oranges for players throughout the event . . . The oranges come in handy after the game to rejuvenate energy of players . . . Visiting squads asserted they'd never been treated so well . . . Boosters also delivered a 300 signature telegram cheering the Heights team just prior to game time . . . Among coaches watching the tourney was Northwestern's Waldo Fischer.

Booster club is also attempting to advance scholarship by issuing miniature trophies to best scholar-athletes for each of the 9 varsity sports at Heights . . . First winners will be announced at April 5 Booster club dinner.

Arlington's basketball seniors attended the New Trier-Dunbar game at Northwestern Tuesday night . . . Juniors will see the games at Champaign Friday and Saturday, including Bill Palmer, Dan Vittum and Pat Brownell . . . Tom Jacobsen, the boy who sank the regional winning basket, is in Florida and won't see the "Elite Eight" . . . Sectional games at Arlington were the closest of any trio in the state with contests decided by 8, 6 and 5 points the 3 nights.

WRESTLING FROSH winning numerals at Grinnell this year include Bruce Wilkerson of Prospect Heights and Jack Wolfe of York . . . Winter sports lettermen at Illinois include Norb Sargent of Arlington in wrestling, Gerald Hasekhuhn of Maine fencing, Frank Blazek of Hinsdale gymnastics, and Bob McKown of LaGrange track . . . Frosh wrestling numerals went to Mike Guzzardo of LaGrange and Jim McMillen of Antioch.

Walt Wessman, well-known in sporting goods circles, is chief statistician at Champaign this week . . . It has been reported he will soon erect a sports store in Arlington.

Big Ten indoor high hurdle champion is 6-4, 220-pounder Joe Savoldi, Jr., of Michigan State . . . Bobby Avila's lifetime batting record is an even .300, scoring 500 runs in 827 games . . . Indiana's Wally Choice ended his college cage career with a .510 field goal accuracy for the year . . . His league mark of .503 was a hair short of Don Schlundt's record setting .504 . . . Teammate Hallie Bryant led the squad in free throws with .891 season average, .882 league, just behind Whitey Skoog's record .886.

Arlington grad John Lukan is now out for track at Northwestern, where he'll be tossing his weight around . . . John was a 3-sport man at Heights, specializing in shot and discus.

St. Louis won the Golden Gloves championship Friday night for the third straight year . . . Hinsdale set some sort of a record when it won 3 regional games, each by 2 points . . . First annual congress of Little League will be held in Chicago next week . . . There are now more than 4,000 leagues of Little Leaguers, plus thousands more minor leagues . . . Libertyville frosh-soph scoring leader Tony Wood tallied 292 points with a 50% field goal average.

MAINE'S DEFENDING CHAMPS in West Suburban baseball circles have 8 lettermen back but will be without services of ace Ron Rutkowski in first games due to a football injury to a knee that still hasn't healed completely . . . The Demons open the season March 24 with a doubleheader with Leyden . . . Rutkowski had a 4-1 mark last season with a 2.03 earned run average and 41 strikeouts in 31 innings . . . First annual all-state basketball banquet will be held in Champaign March 24.

Down at Edwardsville they have a pair of cage hot shots who averaged .529 and .476 in field goals, and .744 and .846 from free throw line . . . Captain of the freshmen capers at Illinois this year was Roger Taylor of Rich . . . We knew George Blanda had a string of 143 straight points after touchdown for the Bears, but didn't realize that figure represents every attempt since joining the Bears in 1949 . . . Bradley regional drew 9,000 paid admissions.

Outstanding catching candidate for baseball at Maine is junior Denny Albano, who was named all-city as a soph at Senn a year ago.

Iowa loses 7 seniors in basketball, but has 5 freshmen, 6-7 or better coming up . . . They're from Louisiana, Wyoming, Nebraska, California and Iowa . . . Hillsboro recently beat Forest Grove, 3-1 with neither team making a basket in the stalling game as players signed autographs, officials twiddled their thumbs, and the crowd booed . . . Elmhurst junior high cagers won 24 cage tilts in a row . . . Illinois spring football clinic will be held at Urbana April 20-21.

Last year each Big Ten school received $75,000 apiece in equal shares of TV pool . . . Some of the larger schools are now asking a larger share for permitting telecasts . . . Harry Combes' coaching record is 435-92, including 8 years at Champaign high, 9 at Illinois . . . New Trier's John Magnuson averaged 25 points a game in winning Suburban league individual scoring crown . . . When Barrington dropped 4 basketball games this year in North Suburban league play it was 1 more than 4 previous seasons when the Broncos posted a 95-3 mark . . . Crystal Lake has won football, basketball and wrestling in the North Suburban this year, could win track, too.

Pirates To Run At Naperville This Friday

Track prospects at Palatine high are optimistic as Coaches Dick Welty, Charles Feutz, and Dean Harshbarger drill 93 boys for a 21 meet outdoor season to follow the indoor events. The Pirates will compete in their third indoor meet at the Naperville Relays this week Friday and then Saturday, March 24, defend their class "C" championship at the 41st Oak Park indoor relays.

Head Coach Dick Welty has 13 lettermen as a nucleus for a team which he hopes will repeat as Palatine Relays class "B" and Northwest conference champion. Palatine will have lettermen in all events except the high jump and broad jump. Strongest events will be the dashes, pole vault, weights, the 400 and the 880 runs.

LEONARD ROHDE won the conference shot put and with Bill Thompson won points in the discus last year. Dean Harshbarger, who has taken over the task of directing the weight men, hopes to develop a 50 foot shot putter and a 140 foot discus thrower from this material. There are a lot of good frosh-soph prospects in the weights also.

Palatine will be strong in the 880 and the two mile relay with Roy Hahnfeld, Steve Cornwell, and Carl Bondeson returning lettermen. Cornwell may run the mile and will get his first test at Naperville Friday night. Bondeson won the Northwest 880 two years ago as a soph and was ineligible last year. Bondeson who stands 6-4 and weighs 195 ran a 2:10 in his first 880 in competition at the University of Chicago field house last week.

Jim Eldridge, who was second in the Northwest conference 440 last year as a freshman, has started with a 55 second effort in his first attempt. He is expected to knock three seconds off this time before the season is over.

PALATINE IS SURE to have a good 880 relay team with 3 sprinters who have previously won varsity letters. Heading the list is Jim Hess who won the Palatine Relays 100 yard dash last year. Jim did not compete in the conference meet due to a pulled muscle. He is better in the 220 than the 100, and may be Palatine's top performer this season as a senior. John Wagner who took second in the league 220 last year, and Bruce Anderson are the other lettermen who will run the dash events.

Welty worried before the season opened about the hurdle events but now feels he has some capable boys who will develop into top flight timber toppers. Duane Gordon has possibilities of being the best hurdler, though Mike Lynch and Douglas Peterson are experienced lettermen and will be very good in the lows. Gordon is going to make a fine high hurdler. Roy Burns has made 10'6" in the pole vault and Pirate coaches think he can add a foot to that total by the time of the district meet.

PALATINE will again have the quantity to provide good relay teams for the big meets with enough quality to provide winners. After the Naperville and Oak Park Relays the big meets for the Pirates will be the Palatine Relays, DeKalb Relays, state district meet, Evanston invitational frosh-soph meet, Northwest conference frosh-soph meet, Northwest conference varsity meet, and the Grant invitational meet.

Teams to be met in the outdoor season in dual, triangular or quadrangular meets are North Chicago, Arlington Heights, La Grange, Glenbrook, Fenton, Wauconda, Antioch, Highland Park, Elgin, Grayslake, Zion-Benton, Waukegan, Ela-Vernon, and Grant, a total of 14 opponents.

Last Call For Little Leaguers Of Arlington Hts.

Final registration for Arlington Heights Little, Pony and Colt Leagues will be held Saturday, March 17.

It will be last chance to sign up. All boys, all leagues, north and southsiders, will register at the field house only, between 10 a.m. and 3 p.m. this Saturday, March 17.

All boys must be accompanied by one parent, must have $2 for registration fee and must live within the Arlington Heights village limits.

New registrants must also present a birth or baptismal certificate.

Tryout and practice sessions will begin in the early part of April. Future issues of the Hehald will give further details.

PLANS HAVE BEEN made this year to have 6 Pony League teams instead of 4. It is hoped this will give more boys an opportunity to play. Last week's registration of Pony Leaguers was not as many as expected, so officials are hoping more boys will register for Pony league this Saturday. (Sp

Arlington Tracksters To Run At Evanston Friday

Arlington track squad will enter a full team in the Evanston Relays Friday afternoon and evening, though some of the boys will have been official members of the team less than a week.

Basketball is now over at Heights releasing Dennis Striegel in the weights and Bill Palmer in high jump and high hurdles. Striegel is expected to be No. 1 shot putter for Heights, though he'll probably be pressed closely by Carl Klehm. Palmer will have to go some to keep above Stan Norman in the high jump.

THE ENTRIES for the Evanston meet, starting at 5 p. m. Friday will include Dick Van Note and Howie Berg in 50 yard dash; Dave Schimmel and Larry Long in low hurdles; Bill Palmer and Long in high hurdles; Berg and Schimmel in broad jump.

Then there'll be Palmer and Stan Norman in high jump; Ed Wilson and Marty Green in pole vault; Dennis Striegel and Carl Klehm in shot. The 4-lap varsity relay will include Berg, Van Note, Ken Korcek and 1 other man. Mile relay will include Bill Lussow, Korcek, Dick McGrath and Bob Busse.

THE MILE event at Evanston will probably include Bob Caggann and Lester Vaughn. Frosh 4-lap will include Rich and Charles Yeager, Bob Voigt, plus 1 other youth. Soph mile relay will include Bob Mors, Tom Kennicott, Ed Kelley and Ed Wilson.

Two mile varsity relay will include Lussow, Vaughn, Ken Courter and Jim Hall. Coaches Russ Attis and Bill Beckman have 17 on the varsity squad, while Coach Bob Scott has an unusually large turnout for frosh-sophs.

HIGH JUMP looks a bit better than it has in the past, with frosh-sophs clearing 5 feet including Bob Lockwood at 5-4 and Bob Mors at 5-2, Greg Rose, Richard Leckband and Ed Whitelaw are all approaching the 5 foot mark.

In broad jump Jim Meehan, Bob Voigt, Lockwood, Jack Weber and Howie Berg are leading among frosh-sophs. The underclassmen tossing the discus from 90-100 feet in first outside workouts include Jim Schultz, Bill Doering, Denny Zapp and Don Ahmer.

Striegel hasn't appeared in the record yet for Heights, but Arlington will be underdog in weights in the Evanston meet for the first time in several years with 2 outstanding shot putters from Maine, Orenberg and Steinman, expected to be heard from. Both boys are among leaders in this event throughout the area.

Redwings Start Workouts For Another Baseball Year

Arlington Heights Redwings semi-professional baseball team is getting ready for another season. Greater Chicago league is being revived and with it a return to a better caliber of baseball than before. Present plans call for a 6 or 8 team league and to date the 6 strongest teams around the Chicago area have entered.

Entrants include the powerful Kolski Boosters who have won the championship the last two years, were state champs in 1954 and almost won the national title. The Redwings played the Kolskis 4 times last season and each team won twice. Kolski manager Bob Hoffman advises he has strengthened his club in several places.

OTHER ENTRANTS are the Chicago Vets, Skokie Indians, Worth A. C., Del Marre Restaurants and the Redwings. Redwing fans will remember that the Vets are a fine colored team and feature a white pitcher who can hum that baseball. He hummed it by the Redwings to the extent that the Vets won three straight from the locals. They also feature an exceptional hitter in their shortstop who had a streak of 16 straight hits during the season. He hit .800 against Redwing pitching.

The Skokie Indians don't need any introduction to baseball fans. The Indians are the oldest team in continuous play in semi-pro baseball anywhere around and have won the league title more times than all others combined.

Just to be certain of another big season Skotty Krier, venerable Skokie sponsor, has persuaded the strong Ahepa All-Stars to join forces. This combination looks like the team to beat. Last season the Redwings whipped the Skokians once and were beaten by them twice.

THE DEL MARRES are composed mainly of college stars and expect to have a new sponsor. They play an exciting brand of ball and are tough. The Redwings played them just once last year and won.

Worth A. C. has always been a strong contender in the league and just a few years ago had two ex-major league pitchers and lost ten straight games. Their team was loaded with high-priced professional stars. This merely indicates how good the teams were.

Redwing manager Bud Blumenthal hopes to build from the ground

1:58.9 Half Mile Leads Early State Track Marks

Paddock Publications sports department is releasing its first Prep Track Honor Roll this week, carrying the best marks in all indoor events. Suburban area schools predominate in these best performances, though as the weather turns warmer and more and more schools start outdoor track, more names of outstanding performances from elsewhere in the state are expected.

Track coaches of suburban schools are turning in their best performances. Most of them have been contacted by the sports department. Others wishing to supply information can do so by dropping a card to either Bob Paddock or Bill Beckman at the newspaper office.

SOME EXCELLENT marks have been set to date, considering the weather has kept everyone inside. Foremost among these early at Oak Park, indicating consistency of effort.

John Lattimore of Wendell Phillips turned in a scorching :50.5 to win the city quarter mile crown. Fred Macklin of Bloom leads the field performances with a 22'3½" broad jump.

Those 4—12' pole vaults are outstanding, too, with 2 of them from Oak Park. Longest shot put so far has been a 53'9¼" toss by Janus of Morton. All marks have been in scheduled meets, not just "practice tosses." (Sp

Coaches Hope For Weather Break To Go Outside

Baseballs and golf balls are replacing basketballs at Fenton high school where the cagers have put away their suits in favor of spring sports. First event will be Naperville Relays Friday evening with several Bisons entered.

Coaching setup at Fenton includes Glen Van Proyan for baseball, Jim Monihan frosh-soph baseball. Jim came to Fenton after the death of Tom Meneguin, and is a 1951 graduate of Millikin university.

Gene Swierczewski is track coach while Lee Craine will again lead the golfers.

TRACK OUTLOOK is brighter at Fenton than in recent years. Included are 4 lettermen plus a sophomore who last year, as a Proviso freshman, whipped the Fenton varsity.

Back for more action are Bill Ripperger, who finished second in conference mile last year; Dick d'Hooge, third in conference high hurdles; Bob Gullborg, who placed in conference dashes; and Tom Philiben tied conference high jump at about 5-9.

KIRK MILLER is the Proviso transfer, now a sophomore, who whipped the Fenton varsity last season when the local varsity met Proviso frosh-sophs.

Track workouts have all been held inside so far, with about 24 boys on the squad. Coach Swierczewski expects 15 more candidates.

Fenton's home meets will all be held on the track at the old high school site. Schedules of meets will probably be released next week.

BASEBALL workouts have also been held inside to date, with about 35 boys out for the varsity and 35 more for the frosh-sophs. Pitchers and catchers head the activity this early in the year, with others doing conditioning and tossing a ball around.

Diamond mentors hope to get

Signs With Bears

The Chicago Bears Football club today announced the signing of a star lineman just back from service. Billy Autrey, one of the club's top rookies of 1953, has been added to the Bears' 1956 battlefront.

Autrey, a center, has been in the army for the past two years. He played with the 12th AAA group Rams in Germany last fall and was rated one of the standout performers in Service Football. Autrey completed his army tour of duty last month, and has returned to S. F.

An outstanding rookie on the '53 Bears at the age of 20, Autrey has added 20 pounds and now is a giant standing 6 feet, 3 inches and weighing 235 pounds. With a year of National Football League experience under his belt, and his military duty completed, Autrey has just reached his 23rd birthday.

Card Golfers To Play At Old Orchard Again

Arlington Heights high school golf team will once again have the free use of Old Orchard for both practices and matches. That was the good news to Coach Curtis Larsen (and the taxpayers) Monday after course manager Ben Riley had agreed to continue the policy of several years standing.

Other schools are limited in number of practice sessions due to cost of playing golf. Arlington has had free use of Old Orchard for both practices and matches, saving the athletic department hundreds of dollars each season.

THE GOLFERS still haven't been able to practice outdoors, spending most of their time in the driving range under the steps of the gym. Boys will move onto the course next week for 2 rounds before qualifying rounds of 36 holes the following week.

Coach Larsen asserts he'll keep frosh-soph boys on the squad who show a good swing and possibilities, in place of unorthodox golfers who may temporarily have lower scores. Belief is that the younger boys with "good swings" will develop into better varsity golfers of the future.

THE VARSITY will have 7 boys, with 2 slated to be dropped at Easter. Sophomores will number 6 or 7 with Coach Larsen then stringing along with 6 or 7 freshmen. That will be a total of 20 boys.

All of the candidates are taking turns in workouts in the driving range, with the double nets enabling boys to put power into their swings as they warm up. Assisting Larsen will be coach Rusty Dowell.

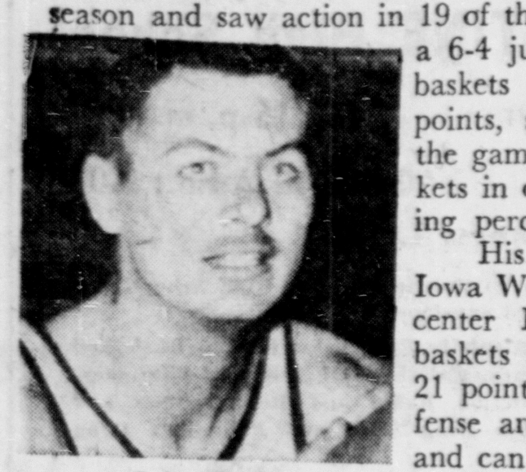
Arlington Athletes Turn Sights On Spring Sports Workouts

KICKIN' IT AROUND

by Bob Paddock

BIG JOHN BUSCH, University of Dubuque reserve center, was the sixth leading scorer on the team this past season and saw action in 19 of the Spartans' 21 games. Busch, a 6-4 junior from Palatine, scored 18 baskets and 19 free throws for 55 points, seeing only limited action in the games he played. He hit his baskets in only 57 shots for a .316 shooting percentage.



John Busch

His best game was Jan. 13 against Iowa Wesleyan when he took over for center Dale Schasker and scored 7 baskets and as many free throws for 21 points. Busch has shown good defense around the basket with his size and can score when called upon to do so. He is the leading candidate to fill Schasker's shoes next season. The Spartans compiled an unimpressive 8-13 season record this year and ended up 5-11 in the Iowa Conference.

THE SECTIONAL at Arlington is now history with New Trier making the grade by disposing of Arlington and St. Edward . . . Heights also lost at the gate with icy roads Wednesday night cutting turnout from DeKalb to a minimum . . . St. Ed. sold 1,320 tickets for that night, DeKalb 600, but many of those 600 didn't brave the elements . . . A father-son dinner at New Trier cut into receipts when Heights played the north shore school Thursday night with 600 New Trier boys dining instead of watching basketball.

Final night was a $3,200 take, but the total for the tournament was $7,299, about $800 under that of other years.

The tournament was a record-breaker from the standpoint of combined scoring with the St. Edward-DeKalb 154 gross surpassing the LaGrange-Arlington figure Dec. 17, 1955, by 1 . . . Friday night the St. Edward-New Trier gross 172 went into the books.

THE BOOSTER CLUB at Arlington gained friendship of all teams in the tournament by providing oranges for players throughout the event . . . The oranges come in handy after the game to rejuvenate energy of players . . . Visiting squads asserted they'd never been treated so well . . . Boosters also delivered a 300 signature telegram cheering the Heights team just prior to game time . . . Among coaches watching the tourney was Northwestern's Waldo Fischer.

Booster club is also attempting to advance scholarship by issuing miniature trophies to best scholar-athletes for each of the 9 varsity sports at Heights . . . First winners will be announced at April 5 Booster club dinner.

Arlington's basketball seniors attended the New Trier-Dunbar game at Northwestern Tuesday night . . . Juniors will see the games at Champaign Friday and Saturday, including Bill Palmer, Dan Vittum and Pat Brownell . . . Tom Jacobsen, the boy who sank the regional winning basket, is in Florida and won't see the "Elite Eight" . . . Sectional games at Arlington were the closest of any trio in the state with contests decided by 8, 6 and 5 points the 3 nights.

WRESTLING FROSH winning numerals at Grinnell this year include Bruce Wilkerson of Prospect Heights and Jack Wolfe of York . . . Winter sports lettermen at Illinois include Norb Sargent of Arlington in wrestling, Gerald Hasekhuhn of Maine fencing, Frank Blazek of Hinsdale gymnastics, and Bob McKown of LaGrange track . . . Frosh wrestling numerals went to Mike Guzzardo of LaGrange and Jim McMillen of Antioch.

Walt Wessman, well-known in sporting goods circles, is chief statistician at Champaign this week . . . It has been reported he will soon erect a sports store in Arlington.

Big Ten indoor high hurdle champion is 6-4, 220-pounder Joe Savoldi, Jr., of Michigan State . . . Bobby Avila's lifetime batting record is an even .300, scoring 500 runs in 827 games . . . Indiana's Wally Choice ended his college cage career with a .510 field goal accuracy for the year . . . His league mark of .503 was a hair short of Don Schlundt's record setting .504 . . . Teammate Hallie Bryant led the squad in free throws with .891 season average, .882 league, just behind Whitey Skoog's record .886.

Arlington grad John Lukan is now out for track at Northwestern, where he'll be tossing his weight around . . . John was a 3-sport man at Heights, specializing in shot and discus.

St. Louis won the Golden Gloves championship Friday night for the third straight year . . . Hinsdale set some sort of a record when it won 3 regional games, each by 2 points . . . First annual congress of Little League will be held in Chicago next week . . . There are now more than 4,000 leagues of Little Leaguers, plus thousands more minor leagues . . . Libertyville frosh-soph scoring leader Tony Wood tallied 292 points with a 50% field goal average.

MAINE'S DEFENDING CHAMPS in West Suburban baseball circles have 8 lettermen back but will be without services of ace Ron Rutkowski in first games due to a football injury to a knee that still hasn't healed completely . . . The Demons open the season March 24 with a doubleheader with Leyden . . . Rutkowski had a 4-1 mark last season with a 2.03 earned run average and 41 strikeouts in 31 innings . . . First annual all-state basketball banquet will be held in Champaign March 24.

Down at Edwardsville they have a pair of cage hot shots who averaged .529 and .476 in field goals, and .744 and .846 from free throw line . . . Captain of the freshmen capers at Illinois this year was Roger Taylor of Rich . . . We knew George Blanda had a string of 143 straight points after touchdown for the Bears, but didn't realize that figure represents every attempt since joining the Bears in 1949 . . . Bradley regional drew 9,000 paid admissions.

Outstanding catching candidate for baseball at Maine is junior Denny Albano, who was named all-city as a soph at Senn a year ago.

Iowa loses 7 seniors in basketball, but has 5 freshmen, 6-7 or better coming up . . . They're from Louisiana, Wyoming, Nebraska, California and Iowa . . . Hillsboro recently beat Forest Grove, 3-1 with neither team making a basket in the stalling game as players signed autographs, officials twiddled their thumbs, and the crowd booed . . . Elmhurst junior high cagers won 24 cage tilts in a row . . . Illinois spring football clinic will be held at Urbana April 20-21.

Last year each Big Ten school received $75,000 apiece in equal shares of TV pool . . . Some of the larger schools are now asking a larger share for permitting telecasts . . . Harry Combes' coaching record is 435-92, including 8 years at Champaign high, 9 at Illinois . . . New Trier's John Magnuson averaged 25 points a game in winning Suburban league individual scoring crown . . . When Barrington dropped 4 basketball games this year in North Suburban league play it was 1 more than 4 previous seasons when the Broncos posted a 95-3 mark . . . Crystal Lake has won football, basketball and wrestling in the North Suburban this year, could win track, too.

Pirates To Run At Naperville This Friday

Track prospects at Palatine high are optimistic as Coaches Dick Welty, Charles Feutz, and Dean Harshbarger drill 93 boys for a 21 meet outdoor season to follow the indoor events. The Pirates will compete in their third indoor meet at the Naperville Relays this week Friday and then Saturday, March 24, defend their class "C" championship at the 41st Oak Park indoor relays.

Head Coach Dick Welty has 13 lettermen as a nucleus for a team which he hopes will repeat as Palatine Relays class "B" and Northwest conference champion. Palatine will have lettermen in all events except the high jump and broad jump. Strongest events will be the dashes, pole vault, weights, the 400 and the 880 runs.

LEONARD ROHDE won the conference shot put and with Bill Thompson won points in the discus last year. Dean Harshbarger, who has taken over the task of directing the weight men, hopes to develop a 50 foot shot putter and a 140 foot discus thrower from this material. There are a lot of good frosh-soph prospects in the weights also.

Palatine will be strong in the 880 and the two mile relay with Roy Hahnfeld, Steve Cornwell, and Carl Bondeson returning lettermen. Cornwell may run the mile and will get his first test at Naperville Friday night. Bondeson won the Northwest 880 two years ago as a soph and was ineligible last year. Bondeson who stands 6-4 and weighs 195 ran a 2:10 in his first 880 in competition at the University of Chicago field house last week.

Jim Eldridge, who was second in the Northwest conference 440 last year as a freshman, has started with a 55 second effort in his first attempt. He is expected to knock three seconds off this time before the season is over.

PALATINE IS SURE to have a good 880 relay team with 3 sprinters who have previously won varsity letters. Heading the list is Jim Hess who won the Palatine Relays 100 yard dash last year. Jim did not compete in the conference meet due to a pulled muscle. He is better in the 220 than the 100, and may be Palatine's top performer this season as a senior. John Wagner who took second in the league 220 last year, and Bruce Anderson are the other lettermen who will run the dash events.

Welty worried before the season opened about the hurdle events but now feels he has some capable boys who will develop into top flight timber toppers. Duane Gordon has possibilities of being the best hurdler, though Mike Lynch and Douglas Peterson are experienced lettermen and will be very good in the lows. Gordon is going to make a fine high hurdler. Roy Burns has made 10'6" in the pole vault and Pirate coaches think he can add a foot to that total by the time of the district meet.

PALATINE will again have the quantity to provide good relay teams for the big meets with enough quality to provide winners. After the Naperville and Oak Park Relays the big meets for the Pirates will be the Palatine Relays, DeKalb Relays, state district meet, Evanston invitational frosh-soph meet, Northwest conference frosh-soph meet, Northwest conference varsity meet, and the Grant invitational meet.

Teams to be met in the outdoor season in dual, triangular or quadrangular meets are North Chicago, Arlington Heights, La Grange, Glenbrook, Fenton, Wauconda, Antioch, Highland Park, Elgin, Grayslake, Zion-Benton, Waukegan, Ela-Vernon, and Grant, a total of 14 opponents.

Last Call For Little Leaguers Of Arlington Hts.

Final registration for Arlington Heights Little, Pony and Colt Leagues will be held Saturday, March 17.

It will be last chance to sign up. All boys, all leagues, north and southsiders, will register at the field house only, between 10 a.m. and 3 p.m. this Saturday, March 17.

All boys must be accompanied by one parent, must have $2 for registration fee and must live within the Arlington Heights village limits.

New registrants must also present a birth or baptismal certificate.

Tryout and practice sessions will begin in the early part of April. Future issues of the Hehald will give further details.

PLANS HAVE BEEN made this year to have 6 Pony League teams instead of 4. It is hoped this will give more boys an opportunity to play. Last week's registration of Pony Leaguers was not as many as expected, so officials are hoping more boys will register for Pony league this Saturday. (Sp

Arlington Tracksters To Run At Evanston Friday

Arlington track squad will enter a full team in the Evanston Relays Friday afternoon and evening, though some of the boys will have been official members of the team less than a week.

Basketball is now over at Heights releasing Dennis Striegel in the weights and Bill Palmer in high jump and high hurdles. Striegel is expected to be No. 1 shot putter for Heights, though he'll probably be pressed closely by Carl Klehm. Palmer will have to go some to keep above Stan Norman in the high jump.

THE ENTRIES for the Evanston meet, starting at 5 p. m. Friday will include Dick Van Note and Howie Berg in 50 yard dash; Dave Schimmel and Larry Long in low hurdles; Bill Palmer and Long in high hurdles; Berg and Schimmel in broad jump.

Then there'll be Palmer and Stan Norman in high jump; Ed Wilson and Marty Green in pole vault; Dennis Striegel and Carl Klehm in shot. The 4-lap varsity relay will include Berg, Van Note, Ken Korcek and 1 other man. Mile relay will include Bill Lussow, Korcek, Dick McGrath and Bob Busse.

THE MILE event at Evanston will probably include Bob Cagann and Lester Vaughn. Frosh 4-lap will include Rich and Charles Yeager, Bob Voigt, plus 1 other youth. Soph mile relay will include Bob Mors, Tom Kennicott, Ed Kelley and Ed Wilson.

Two mile varsity relay will include Lussow, Vaughn, Ken Courter and Jim Hall. Coaches Russ Attis and Bill Beckman have 17 on the varsity squad, while Coach Bob Scott has an unusually large turnout for frosh-sophs.

HIGH JUMP looks a bit better than it has in the past, with frosh-sophs clearing 5 feet including Bob Lockwood at 5-4 and Bob Mors at 5-2, Greg Rose, Richard Leckband and Ed Whitelaw are all approaching the 5 foot mark.

In broad jump Jim Meehan, Bob Voigt, Lockwood, Jack Weber and Howie Berg are leading among frosh-sophs. The underclassmen tossing the discus from 90-100 feet in first outside workouts include Jim Schultz, Bill Doering, Denny Zapp and Don Ahmer.

Striegel hasn't appeared in the record yet for Heights, but Arlington will be underdog in weights in the Evanston meet for the first time in several years with 2 outstanding shot putters from Maine, Orenberg and Steinman, expected to be heard from. Both boys are among leaders in this event throughout the area.

Card Golfers To Play At Old Orchard Again

Arlington Heights high school golf team will once again have the free use of Old Orchard for both practices and matches. That was the good news to Coach Curtis Larsen (and the taxpayers) Monday after course manager Ben Riley had agreed to continue the policy of several years standing.

Other schools are limited in number of practice sessions due to cost of playing golf. Arlington has had free use of Old Orchard for both practices and matches, saving the athletic department hundreds of dollars each season.

THE GOLFERS still haven't been able to practice outdoors, spending most of their time in the driving range under the steps of the gym. Boys will move onto the course next week for 2 rounds before qualifying rounds of 36 holes the following week.

Redwings Start Workouts For Another Baseball Year

Arlington Heights Redwings semi-professional baseball team is getting ready for another season. Greater Chicago league is being revived and with it a return to a better caliber of baseball than before. Present plans call for a 6 or 8 team league and to date the 6 strongest teams around the Chicago area have entered.

Entrants include the powerful Kolski Boosters who have won the championship the last two years, were state champs in 1954 and almost won the national title. The Redwings played the Kolskis 4 times last season and each team won twice. Kolski manager Bob Hoffman advises he has strengthened his club in several places.

OTHER ENTRANTS are the Chicago Vets, Skokie Indians, Worth A. C., Del Marre Restaurants and the Redwings. Redwing fans will remember that the Vets are a fine colored team and feature a white pitcher who can hum that baseball. He hummed it by the Redwings to the extent that the Vets won three straight from the locals. They also feature an exceptional hitter in their shortstop who had a streak of 16 straight hits during the season. He hit .800 against Redwing pitching.

The Skokie Indians don't need any introduction to baseball fans. The Indians are the oldest team in continuous play in semi-pro baseball anywhere around and have won the league title more times than all others combined.

Just to be certain of another big season Skotty Krier, venerable Skokie sponsor, has persuaded the strong Ahepa All-Stars to join forces. This combination looks like the team to beat. Last season the Redwings whipped the Skokians once and were beaten by them twice.

THE DEL MARRES are composed mainly of college stars and expect to have a new sponsor. They play an exciting brand of ball and are tough. The Redwings played them just once last year and won.

Worth A. C. has always been a strong contender in the league and just a few years ago had two ex-major league pitchers and lost ten straight games. Their team was loaded with high-priced professional stars. This merely indicates how good the teams were.

Redwing manager Bud Blumenthal hopes to build from the ground

1:58.9 Half Mile Leads Early State Track Marks

Paddock Publications sports department is releasing its first Prep Track Honor Roll this week, carrying the best marks in all indoor events. Suburban area schools predominate in these best performances, though as the weather turns warmer and more and more schools start outdoor track, more names of outstanding performances from elsewhere in the state are expected.

Track coaches of suburban schools are turning in their best performances. Most of them have been contacted by the sports department. Others wishing to supply information can do so by dropping a card to either Bob Paddock or Bill Beckman at the newspaper office.

SOME EXCELLENT marks have been set to date, considering the weather has kept everyone inside. Foremost among these early at Oak Park, indicating consistency of effort.

John Lattimore of Wendell Phillips turned in a scorching :50.5 to win the city quarter mile crown. Fred Macklin of Bloom leads the field performances with a 22'3½" broad jump.

Those 4—12' pole vaults are outstanding, too, with 2 of them from Oak Park. Longest shot put so far has been a 53'9¼" toss by Janus of Morton. All marks have been in scheduled meets, not just "practice tosses." (Sp

Track workouts have all been held inside so far, with about 24 boys on the squad. Coach Swierczewski expects 15 more candidates.

Fenton's home meets will all be held on the track at the old high school site. Schedules of meets will probably be released next week.

BASEBALL workouts have also been held inside to date, with about 35 boys out for the varsity and 35 more for the frosh-sophs. Pitchers and catchers head the activity this early in the year, with others doing conditioning and tossing a ball around.

Diamond mentors hope to get outside next week. (Sp

Signs With Bears

The Chicago Bears Football club today announced the signing of a star lineman just back from service. Billy Autrey, one of the club's top rookies of 1953, has been added to the Bears' 1956 battlefront.

Autrey, a center, has been in the army for the past two years. He played with the 12th AAA group Rams in Germany last fall and was rated one of the standout performers in Service Football. Autrey completed his army tour of duty last month, and has returned to S. F.

An outstanding rookie on the '53 Bears at the age of 20, Autrey has added 20 pounds and now is a giant standing 6 feet, 3 inches and weighing 235 pounds. With a year of National Football League experience under his belt, and his military duty completed, Autrey has just reached his 23rd birthday.

PALATINE HIGH SCHOOL has lost a long time friend and interested advisor with the passing of Tom Hart. Tom was president of the high school board from 1920 to 1924, and from 1930 to 1932, and since leaving the board has attended meetings both as visitor and special guest on many occasions. During the planning and construction of the addition to the high school 5 years ago Tom was invited to be an unofficial advisor to the board and take part in the deliberations of the group.

He attended all meetings for several years and his experience, good judgment and knowledge of the community was of great value. So was his influence when it came to asking approval of the plans.

In recent years poor health has kept him away from evening activities. Many years earlier Tom was forced to give up attending athletic activities which was one of his important interests.

BACK IN THE TWENTIES when the Northwest conference was formed and Palatine was successfully playing in the old Seips Hall it was Tom Hart who for many years wrote the sports news for Paddock's Palatine Enterprise. Tom knew all the coaches and referees in the twenties and thirties when he was active and attended all Palatine games. Only a year or two ago he asked us one day how his friend Bob Kelton, athletic director at Libertyville, was getting along.

We have not always agreed with Tom Hart in matters of politics and some times have not seen eye to eye on school policies but we have frequently sought out his counsel and opinion on matters of importance in school and community. We have had the highest respect for Mr. Hart in the 25 years we have known him.

In Palatine a public opinion poll was never necessary. Tom Hart seemed to have an uncanny faculty for knowing what the public wanted and would support. He could sit and watch the people who voted at a school election on a tax rate referendum and predict within a few votes of the official tally. In his column "Tales of the Street which appeared for years in Paddock's paper, Tom used to take public offiicals and others to task at times, but had a pat on the back for those who accomplished good things for the community. A land mark of the old Palatine is gone with the passing of Mr. Hart and the community, the Republican party, and Palatine high school have lost a loyal friend and patriotic and public spirited citizen.

THIS IS STATE TOURNAMENT week. Tuesday the first round was played in 8 different centers under the new plan which sends only 8 teams to Huff gym at the University of Illinois for the final windup. This new arrangement means that there will be about 40,000 different persons seeing first round games in the 8 centers. Other years about 6,000 saw each of 4 first round sessions in Huff gym.

The new setup takes only one day away from school for contestants and student fans, with the quarter finals Friday afternoon and evening, and the semi-finals Saturday afternoon and the finals Saturday night.

There has been no season in many years when there seemed to be so clear cut a favorite for the championship as is West Rockford, the defending title winner. With two 6-6 veterans of last year's Sweet Sixteen winner in Gentry and Wessels, and two other regulars, West Rockford looks like a cinch if there ever was one. However, basketball is noted for upsets as you have to put the ball through the hoop more times than your opponents, and you cannot always hit the ring with the 40% accuracy it will take to win state tournament games in this age of the unguardable jump shot. The great variable in basketball is shooting. The constant reasonably sure part of the game is defense. Coaching these days is concentrated on offense so the results are more unpredictable.

BOB NOLAN, an unusual athlete from Wauconda, who bombarded the backboards in the Northwest conference for a record of 344 points in 1952, will graduate from Miami university in June. Bob has been a letterman at end for strong Miami teams for 4 years. News comes that Nolan has just inked a contract to play pro football for Vancouver in the Canadian league.

Tom has never lacked confidence in himself or been backward about letting people know in a friendly, disarming sort of way that he is a talented athlete.

Nolan went up to the University of Wisconsin when just out of high school and told the varsity coach he thought they needed a quarterback and knew he could fill the bill. As it turned out Wisconsin has had some mighty good quarterbacks the past 4 years but Miami down in Florida has had some real good ends and Nolan has been one of the best. Nolan got a chance very early in his first year at Miami to prove he was as good as he claimed. He was even better and has stayed on as a regular for four seasons.

THE PALATINE RELAYS will be held this year Saturday, April 28. The entry list in class "A" may be reduced some this year for Wheaton is going back to sponsoring a meet on the same day as the Palatine event. Palatine track men will be advertising the meet everywhere they compete for their new sweat shirts have "Palatine Relays" in large lettering on them.

The Pirates will have new uniforms, also, as they make a strong bid for three Palatine Relays titles in a row and permanent possession of the George Spies traveling trophy.

In addition to 4 indoor meets the Pirates will run in 21 different outdoor events during the season which starts April 3 against North Chicago on the home track. Palatine prospects are as good as ever.

Palatine Varsity Cagers 2-12 Mark Was '2nd Worst'

Palatine's varsity basketball team finished the next to the worst losing season in the history of the school with a 2-21 record. Only the 1931-32 season has fewer victories with a lone win over Ela. Palatine's victories the past winter were over Grant and Grayslake in the final month of the campaign. Palatine tied with Grayslake for last place in the Northwest standings with a 2-12 mark.

Letters were won by Pete Trenchard, Bob Coates, Roy Burns and Bob Hamilton, seniors; by Roy Hahnfeld and Terry Moore, juniors; and Gerry Segebrecht, Dick Wisner, Jordan Danforth, and Jim Eldridge, sophomores. Hamilton's was a four year service award.

DICK BOKELMANN and others have started regular work-outs at Patten gym at Northwestern university. Workouts are from 11:30 a.m. to about 1:30 p.m. Saturdays.

Every position is wide open since each position will have to be stronger except for the pitching. Otherwise the Redwings will be holding up the league and that is the farthest thought from Bud Blumenthal's mind.

One or two other men from last year's team could help if they are available. Dick (Whitey) Ebeling will be a standout if he doesn't go out to play pro ball. The same is true of John Overland who powered St. Joe to third place in the national tournament last season.

In Spite Of Bad Breaks, Pete Reiser Insists He'd Play It The Same Way

If Pete Reiser had it to do all over again, he wouldn't change his ways. It was just natural for Reiser to take chances when he was playing the outfield. Because of his all-out play, says The Sporting News, he probably holds the all-time record for bad breaks, tough breaks, injuries and other setbacks incurred by major league players.

Reiser hit the headlines often as a player. In a Dodger uniform in 1939, he made one of the most spectacular debuts in spring training history. In his first 11 times at bat he hit three homers, five singles and had three walks. In 1941, in his first full year in the majors, he was a tremendous factor in the Dodgers' first drive to a pennant in 21 years. He hit .343, for the best mark in the league. He was an All-Star Game outfielder and was a member of The Sporting News All-Star major league team.

PETE WAS ONLY 21 that year, with the brightest possible future ahead of him. But ten years later he was broken in body, sick at heart and weary. He called it a career.

Out of baseball for four years, Reiser has started to climb the ladder again, as a manager in the Dodger farm system. Last year he was at Thomasville in the Georgia-Florida League. This year he'll be a Kokomo in the Mid-West loop.

In the ten years that covered his major league playing days, there were such things as concussions, skull fracture, shoulder separation, broken leg, bone chips and spike wounds. Would he take chances again?

YES, HE WOULD. "If I could have avoided bouncing off fences," he said, "maybe I'd still be up there. I'm sure I would have lasted longer than I did. But you can't say to yourself, 'I'm not going to get hurt.' At least I couldn't. Maybe I'm brittle-boned. I don't know. But if I were starting all over again I couldn't promise anybody that I wouldn't play it just the same way. I didn't play that way because I was with the Dodgers and they were fighting for the pennant. I just didn't know any other way."

Even when he was a kid growing up in St. Louis, he said, he was always getting hurt. And even before he reached the majors, with Elmira in 1939, after his sensational spring at the Dodger camp, he broke a bone in his arm and didn't know it until X-rays showed it a month later.

PLAYING BASEBALL in the Army at Fort Riley, he plowed through a fence one day, rolled down a 25-foot embankment and came up with a shoulder separation that bothered him from time to time from then on. But it didn't stop him from bouncing off fences. When going after a fly ball, he just didn't know fear.

In 1942, he crashed into a wall in St. Louis and suffered a concussion. In 1946, sliding home, he broke his leg. In 1948, his shoulder separation and leg bothered him, and after many and varied bouts with fences, he suffered from severe headaches.

Pete was given a bonus of only $100 for signing with the Dodgers. A few years later, he had a thousand times that dangled before his eyes — and turned it down. He was offered $100,000 to play in the Mexican League for three years. He needed the money badly, but decided to stay with the Dodgers.

That decision, he says, was the toughest he ever had to make. But, he adds, if he had it to make all over again, knowing what he knows now, the answer would be easy.

Arlington Red Devils Undefeated In YMCA Basketball League

Arlington Red Devils basketball team was undefeated in YMCA league play this season, and won its first game in the city-wide YMCA tournament in Chicago. Chatham Olympics were 59-46 victims of the Heights 5, with the locals playing again Saturday and Sunday.

League competition was held in Algonquin Jr. high school gym at Des Plaines. Several teams from this area were entered with Hi-Y Bruisers finishing third. Coaching the Red Devils is Bill Beckman.

Personnel of the Red Devils for the 20 game schedule includes Bob Harrington, Don Butts, Bob Getts, Ted Geocaris, Mike Spinello, Larry Long, Bill Lussow, Pete Swanson and John Cummins.

Baseball A Slow Starter At Arlington

Major league baseball may already have taken over sports pages of metropolitan press, but out Arlington way, "it is only the beginning."

Varsity ball players will meet for the first time Monday, with Coach Howard Lester in charge. The squad will move outside Tuesday, weather permitting.

First meeting of soph hopefuls, with Coach "Bus" Ormsbee in charge, was scheduled to be held Wednesday with the second year nine hoping to move outdoors Monday, weather permitting. The sophs will practice mornings from 8:00 to 9:30.

Frosh baseball squad won't start action until after Easter vacation. Coach Maurice Klotz expects a large turnout, due to increased interest in baseball among younger boys in Little League.

Commend Wrestlers And Award Letters At Palatine Dinner

Palatine's wrestling squads and their parents enjoyed a pot luck supper in the high school cafeteria Monday night and heard Jack Riley, Coach of the Northwestern university wrestling Wildcats, talk about the sport.

A crowd of 135 persons heard the wrestling story of Palatine's rise in four years from the time the sport was started to the taking of a fifth place in the state tournament. Along with this the Pirates took second in the sectional the past two seasons, won the eight team Palatine Holiday tournament, and took 11 victories in 14, dual meets.

LEONARD ROHDE won the state heavyweight championship with a 27-0 record for the season having only one take down registered against him all season and that in the state semi-finals where he beat his opponent 11-3. Jim McCreery who shares the team captaincy with Rohde had a 23-3 season at 127 and 120 pounds and took fourth in the state tournament. John Wehner took fourth in the state at 127 and had only four defeats in the past two seasons.

Other varsity lettermen given awards by Coach John Ellis were John Dilks who had a record of 18-2-3 at 145 and won his first round state tournament match; Dennis Lundgren at 138 with a 15-5 record and a trip to the state tourney; Richard Lundgren with a 7-9 record at 165 pounds; Andy Anderson at 103 with a 7-2-5 record and a third in the state sectional; Karl Schwenk with a 8-1-7 record at 133; Dan Kusek with 8-7 at 95 pounds; Jack Pollien with 4-6 at 112 and 120; Eric Bessemer 6-1 at 112, injured and out of last 6-1 at 12, injured and out of last month of the season; Bob Nordin 3-6 at 138; and Don Funston, a freshman at 175 with a 0-7 record. Jack Hogan won a managers letter and Edward Bergo, Otto Dreyer, George Beyer, Paul Manning, and Allen Danforth, were named as non-letter winners who contributed much to the success of the team.

CHARLEY FEUTZ, frosh-soph coach awarded letters to William Sweet, Merl Hamilton, Jerry Meyer, Warren Ahlgrim, Eligio Patlan, John Gerling, Bill Sailor, Lee Mudlaff, Don Teegan, Tony Mastroianni, Wayne Howes, and William Rogers. Roger Harmon was awarded a manager letter. The frosh-soph team won four lost six and had one tie. Boys who did not win letters who were given recognition were Jim Barry, Dick Brodkorb. Tom Davis, Fred Grzesik Wayne Hardman, Dale Hertel, Fred Kaiser, Ken Lichthardt, Ken Martin, Will Norton George Zelsdorf, and Peter Mulvey.

J. E. Stutzman was given recognition for the fine way he organized and managed the holiday tournament and the sectional meet. A letter from the state office had been received mentioning the fine comments made by coaches and officials on the way the sectional tournament was run off.

G. A. McELROY. principal, commented on the fine morale, spirit, and cooperation of the varsity squad. He stated that this rise in wrestling to state prominence in 4 years did not just happen, but was a tribute to the outstanding coaching of John Ellis who is a stickler for correct fundamentals and has the type of personality which makes boys want to excell and win for him and the team.

ST. PETER "B" TEAM won Little 9 basketball championship in the recent tourney at Wheeling. Front row, Bob Stephan, Glen Schmidt, Donald Sass, John Rush. Second row, Richard Hartmann, Roy Germer, Roger Freise, James Kehe. Third row, Coach L. C. Rush, James Shaw, Dale Malzahn, Dean Moehling, Dennis Hartmann, Ronnie Kranza. —Staff Photo

Tennis Next Week

First call for tennis at Arlington Heights high school won't be made until next week, according to Coach Ken Schaller. When time arrives the frosh-sophs will practice in the gym from 7-8 p. m., the juniors and seniors from 8-9 p. m.

Coach Schaller has 2 lettermen back, John Kudla and Martin Gregory. Outstanding prospect last year was Chuck Young, a freshman, who moved to Wisconsin prior to last fall.

Men's Doubles

A record field of 72 teams will compete in the BPAA national men's doubles championship. The star studded group will vie for the crown currently held by George Young and Therm Gibson, Detroit, in a two-day event at John Brannan's Bowl, McKees Rocks, Pennsylvania (suburban Pittsburgh), April 7 and 8.

The entire field will roll 24 games, four blocks of six-games each, total pinfall to determine the winners. First place prize is $150 and a record total of $8200 will be distributed in prizes.

Illinois TAX FACTS

By George [illegible] Mahin, Executive Secretary Taxpayers Federation of Illinois

A 25 per cent immediate increase in federal taxes for social security purposes threatens all workers covered by social security under a bill already passed by the Federal House and now in the federal senate, the Taxpayers' Federation of Illinois pointed out.

Under H. R. 722[illegible], an employed worker would have an immediate tax increase from 2 per cent to 2½ per cent, amounting to $21.00 a year on earnings of $4200 or more. The employer's tax would increase the same amount. The tax on the farmer, and other self-employed people covered by social security, would increase from 3 per cent to 3¾ per cent, or an increase of $31.50 a year on an income of $4200.

PASSAGE of this bill by the Senate will mean a further reduction in take-home pay of covered workers, a further reduction in the income of farmers and other self employed, and an increase in the cost of living as employers are forcer to raise prices to meet the increased costs of doing business, the Taxpayers' Federation says.

Immediate increase in taxes will be necessary under H. R. 7225 to pay for increaed costs that would result from reduction of the age from 65 to 62 at which women could get social security benefits from provision for payment of benefits to totally and permanantly disabled workers at 50, and for continuation of benefits to dependent or surviving children beyond the age of 18 if they are found to be totally and permanently disabled at that age.

"WHEN THE SOCIAL security act became law in 1935," the federation states, "we were told that its purpose was to provide security for the aged. The fact that H. R. 7225 has already passed the house is the best possible evidence that this sound objective can and will be sacrificed for political expediency, regardless of the costs to be saddled on future

Card Gymnasts Tighten Up But Place 2nd State Meet

Pressure was too much for Arlington Heights high school gymnasts Saturday morning and the hoped for second straight state championship disappeared. Instead, New Trier walked off with top honors with the Heights squad finishing second.

Senn and Lindblom of Chicago finished third and fourth. The Cardinals had an undefeated season through 9 straight matches, then found New Trier too tough in the state invitational meet, as feared. The Indians were victims of Heights twice during the season.

BOB HAWK provided Arlington with its only first on long horse. He scored 89-85-85 for a 259 total. Right behind was second place winner Bill Simms of Lindblom with 85-86-82 for 253 total.

John Koeppen took second on horizontal bar. Dick Nieland finished second in all-round. John Kimbrough copped third on horizontal bar. Arlington fourths were won by Nieland on rings, Koeppen on parallel bar. Fifths were taken by Norb Flowers on trampoline and Nieland on parallel bar.

TEAM POINTS were given for first 10 places. Bob Baas took sixth on rings. Ed Holm finished seventh on rings. Baas landed eighth on horizontal bar and all-round. Ninths were taken by Koeppen in all-round and rings, Dick Kimbrough on long horse and Baas on parallel bar.

Team scoring:

New Trier	116
Arlington	85½
Senn	61
Lindblom	59½
York	22
Leyden	3
Carmi	0
Benton	0

Arlington gained its points with 20 on horizontal bar, 18 on rings, 14 on all-round, 13½ on parallel bar, 12½ on long horse, 7½ on side horse. New Trier outscored Arlington by 16 points on both side horse and rings.

The HUNGRY SPORTSMAN

Mallard and Corn Bread Stuffing

You'll have a tough time getting a mallard dinner if your decoys glisten and shine like newly polished shoes. Live ducks just don't give off such highlights and the live greenheads you'd like to knock out of the sky know it! So, mix an ounce of beeswax in 1 pint of hot turpentine and sponge off your blocks with the mixture. To heat turps, set container in scalding water for a few minutes. Don't try to warm it over an open flame!

Now that you have the quackers coming in to your blocks just as if they were live callers, there's what to do with a couple of those you bag.

For each bird, partly fry out 1 cup pork sausage, mix with 1½ cups 2-day old corn bread, add 2 tablespoons minced onion, ¼ teaspoon garlic salt, ½ teaspoon salt and ¼ teaspoon pepper. Stuff ducks, place on rack in roaster and bake 2 hours in moderate oven (350 degrees), basting every 15 minutes with butter. (Sp

Palatine's wrestling squads and their parents enjoyed a pot luck supper in the high school cafeteria Monday night and heard Jack Riley, Coach of the Northwestern university wrestling Wildcats, talk about the sport.

A crowd of 135 persons heard the wrestling story of Palatine's rise in four years from the time the sport was started to the taking of a fifth place in the state tournament. Along with this the Pirates took second in the sectional the past two seasons, won the eight team Palatine Holiday tournament, and took 11 victories in 14, dual meets.

LEONARD ROHDE won the state heavyweight championship with a 27-0 record for the season having only one take down registered against him all season and that in the state semi-finals where he beat his opponent 11-3. Jim McCreery who shares the team captaincy with Rohde had a 23-3 season at 127 and 120 pounds and took fourth in the state tournament. John Wehner took fourth in the state at 127 and had only four defeats in the past two seasons.

Other varsity lettermen given awards by Coach John Ellis were John Dilks who had a record of 18-2-3 at 145 and won his first round state tournament match; Dennis Lundgren at 138 with a 15-5 record and a trip to the state tourney; Richard Lundgren with a 7-9 record at 165 pounds; Andy Anderson at 103 with a 7-2-5 record and a third in the state sectional; Karl Schwenk with a 8-1-7 record at 133; Dan Kusek with 8-7 at 95 pounds; Jack Pollien with 4-6 at 112 and 120; Eric Bessemer 6-1 at 112, injured and out of last 6-1 at 12, injured and out of last month of the season; Bob Nordin 3-6 at 138; and Don Funston, a freshman at 175 with a 0-7 record. Jack Hogan won a managers letter and Edward Bergo, Otto Dreyer, George Beyer, Paul Manning, and Allen Danforth, were named as non-letter winners who contributed much to the success of the team.

CHARLEY FEUTZ, frosh-soph coach awarded letters to William Sweet, Merl Hamilton, Jerry Meyer, Warren Ahlgrim, Eligio Patlan, John Gerling, Bill Sailor, Lee Mudlaff, Don Teegan, Tony Mastroianni, Wayne Howes, and William Rogers. Roger Harmon was awarded a manager letter. The frosh-soph team won four lost six and had one tie. Boys who did not win letters who were given recognition were Jim Barry, Dick Brodkorb. Tom Davis, Fred Grzesik Wayne Hardman, Dale Hertel, Fred Kaiser, Ken Lichthardt, Ken Martin, Will Norton George Zelsdorf, and Peter Mulvey.

J. E. Stutzman was given recognition for the fine way he organized and managed the holiday tournament and the sectional meet. A letter from the state office had been received mentioning the fine comments made by coaches and officials on the way the sectional tournament was run off.

G. A. McELROY. principal, commented on the fine morale, spirit, and cooperation of the varsity squad. He stated that this rise in wrestling to state prominence in 4 years did not just happen, but was a tribute to the outstanding coaching of John Ellis who is a stickler for correct fundamentals and has the type of personality which makes boys want to excell and win for him and the team.

Michigan State's baseball team will play a 33-game schedule this year, opening the season with a ten-game Southern trip Saturday, March 24. (Sp

Tennis Next Week

First call for tennis at Arlington Heights high school won't be made until next week, according to Coach Ken Schaller. When time arrives the frosh-sophs will practice in the gym from 7-8 p. m., the juniors and seniors from 8-9 p. m.

Coach Schaller has 2 lettermen back, John Kudla and Martin Gregory. Outstanding prospect last year was Chuck Young, a freshman, who moved to Wisconsin prior to last fall.

Men's Doubles

A record field of 72 teams will compete in the BPAA national men's doubles championship. The star studded group will vie for the crown currently held by George Young and Therm Gibson, Detroit, in a two-day event at John Brannan's Bowl, McKees Rocks, Pennsylvania (suburban Pittsburgh), April 7 and 8.

The entire field will roll 24 games, four blocks of six-games each, total pinfall to determine the winners. First place prize is $150 and a record total of $8200 will be distributed in prizes.

Illinois TAX FACTS

By George [illegible] Mahin, Executive Secretary Taxpayers' Federation of Illinois

A 25 per cent immediate increase in federal taxes for social security purposes threatens all workers covered by social security under a bill already passed by the Federal House and now in the federal senate, the Taxpayers' Federation of Illinois pointed out.

Under H. R. 722-, an employed worker would have an immediate tax increase from 2 per cent to 2½ per cent, amounting to $21.00 a year on earnings of $4200 or more. The employer's tax would increase the same amount. The tax on the farmer, and other self-employed people covered by social security, would increase from 3 per cent to 3¾ per cent, or an increase of $31.50 a year on an income of $4200.

PASSAGE of this bill by the Senate will mean a further reduction in take-home pay of covered workers, a further reduction in the income of farmers and other self employed, and an increase in the cost of living as employers are forcer to raise prices to meet the increased costs of doing business, the Taxpayers' Federation says.

Immediate increase in taxes will be necessary under H. R. 7225 to pay for increaed costs that would result from reduction of the age from 65 to 62 at which women could get social security benefits from provision for payment of benefits to totally and permanantly disabled workers at 50, and for continuation of benefits to dependent or surviving children beyond the age of 18 if they are found to be totally and permanently disabled at that age.

"WHEN THE SOCIAL security act became law in 1935," the federation states, "we were told that its purpose was to provide security for the aged. The fact that H. R. 7225 has already passed the house is the best possible evidence that this sound objective can and will be sacrificed for political expediency, regardless of the costs to be saddled on future

Card Gymnasts Tighten Up But Place 2nd State Meet

Pressure was too much for Arlington Heights high school gymnasts Saturday morning and the hoped for second straight state championship disappeared. Instead, New Trier walked off with top honors with the Heights squad finishing second.

Senn and Lindblom of Chicago finished third and fourth. The Cardinals had an undefeated season through 9 straight matches, then found New Trier too tough in the state invitational meet, as feared. The Indians were victims of Heights twice during the season.

BOB HAWK provided Arlington with its only first on long horse. He scored 89-85-85 for a 259 total. Right behind was second place winner Bill Simms of Lindblom with 85-86-82 for 253 total.

John Koeppen took second on horizontal bar. Dick Nieland finished second in all-round. John Kimbrough copped third on horizontal bar. Arlington fourths were won by Nieland on rings, Koeppen on parallel bar. Fifths were taken by Norb Flowers on trampoline and Nieland on parallel bar.

TEAM POINTS were given for first 10 places. Bob Baas took sixth on rings. Ed Holm finished seventh on rings. Baas landed eighth on horizontal bar and all-round. Ninths were taken by Koeppen in all-round and rings, Dick Kimbrough on long horse and Baas on parallel bar.

Team scoring:

New Trier	116
Arlington	85½
Senn	61
Lindblom	59½
York	22
Benton	0

Arlington gained its points with 20 on horizontal bar, 18 on rings, 14 on all-round, 13½ on parallel bar, 12½ on long horse, 7½ on side horse. New Trier outscored Arlington by 16 points on both side horse and rings.

The HUNGRY SPORTSMAN

Mallard and Corn Bread Stuffing

You'll have a tough time getting a mallard dinner if your decoys glisten and shine like newly polished shoes. Live ducks just don't give off such highlights and the live greenheads you'd like to knock out of the sky know it! So, mix an ounce of beeswax in 1 pint of hot turpentine and sponge off your blocks with the mixture. To heat turps, set container in scalding water for a few minutes. Don't try to warm it over an open flame!

Now that you have the quackers coming in to your blocks just as if they were live callers, there's what to do with a couple of those you bag.

For each bird, partly fry out 1 cup pork sausage, mix with 1½ cups 2-day old corn bread, add 2 tablespoons minced onion, ¼ teaspoon garlic salt, ½ teaspoon salt and ¼ teaspoon pepper. Stuff ducks, place on rack in roaster and bake 2 hours in moderate oven (350 degrees), basting every 15 minutes with butter. (Sp

New Trier Sets Records To Win Arlington Sectional

by PETE SWANSON

New Trier's Indians captured honors in last week's Arlington Heights Sectional with successive victories over Arlington and St. Edward of Elgin. The wins qualified New Trier to advance to the Evanston super-sectional, where it met Dunbar Tuesday evening. St. Edward, a district team, qualified for the final game with an opening game win over DeKalb.

Hitting 25 of 49 field goal attempts, a torrid 51 per cent, St. Edward eliminated DeKalb, 81-73. The Green Wave led all the way, stretching the margin to 22 points after three quarters. The Barbs made a late bid in the final quarter with 28 points, but the rally came too late. All five St. Edward regulars scored in double figures, Hussey pacing the team with 17 tallies. Ken Johnson scored 22 for the losers. The combined total of 154 points set a new gym record, the old record having been set last December 17 when La Grange beat Arlington, 82-71.

COACH HOWARD Lester's Arlington Cardinals fell out of their own tournament Thursday, a 63-58 defeat being administered by New Trier. This was a better game than the Wednesday affair, as the Cards looked good even in losing. The locals' downfall was their inability to hit the hoop.

The lead changed hands 7 times during a first quarter that ended with Arlington holding a 13-11 edge. Bill Randag's 3 baskets led the Cards, with passes from John Sujack setting up two of them.

Poor shooting by the Cards was the big factor in the second quarter. The locals failed to move the ball and weren't getting good shots. The Indians moved ahead 25-17 at one point and led by 4 at the half. The Cards hit 7 out of 30 in the first half, 3 of 21 in the second quarter. The visitors caged 11 of 36 in the opening half.

HEAVY FOULING in the third quarter gave the Cards many opportunities. With the aid of only one basket, the locals took a 34-32 lead midway in the third period. This lead could have been larger if the Cards had taken full advantage of their chances. At this point New Trier scored the next 11 points, John Magnuson's 4 baskets leading the way.

Behind 45-38, the Lestermen pressed at the start of the fourth quarter. Though Arlington's shooting picked up, the Suburban league team maintained a steady lead because the Cards had to foul in trying to get the ball. The Indians started stalling with 5 minutes left, and their ball control was effective. The loss of John Sujack by fouls hurt Arlington's efforts to break the stall.

THE CARDS did cut a 60-51 margin to 60-56 with 1:30 left, but at this point missed 3 close-in shots and lost the ball. More free throws in the final minute cemented the win for the Winnetka five. Of New Trier's 18 final quarter points, 16 came on free throws.

Shooting from the field was below par for both teams. The winners hit 10 of 60 for 32 per cent, while the losers hit only 16 of 61 for 26 per cent. The Cards had 1 of 11 in the third quarter and 8 of 20 in the fourth. From the foul line, the Indians hit 25 of 35 and the Cards 26 of 40. The home team missed many points here.

INDIVIDUALLY, all-state candidate John Magnuson led both teams with 25 points. John Sujack, hitting 4 baskets in the final quarter before leaving on fouls, topped Arlington with 18.

Rebounding was about even with both teams controlling their defensive board. Denny Striegel, Bill Randag, and Bill Palmer did a good job for Arlington, with Striegel in particular playing a good ball game.

Had the Cards shot as well as they usually do, they would have won. Nevertheless, the team gave a good account of itself and earned a lot of respect. Arlington is "on the map" and has definitely grown up to the sectional.

RECORDS are made to be broken, and Wednesday's gym record was short-lived. In New Trier's 89-83 conquest of St. Edward for the championship, the total of 172 points broke the old record by 18. The game produced the most sensational display of shooting this writer has ever seen. New Trier hit on 34 of 62 shot,s 55 per cent, while St. Edward connected with [illegible] of 66, or 48 per cent.

The Elgin five led 20-14 after a quarter and held 11 point margins on two occasions early in the second stanza. Then the Indians picked up and narrowed the gap to 43-41 at the intermission. Scoring 27 points in the quarter, New Trier hit 12 of 16 shots.

The score was tied eight times and the lead changed hands on 3 occasions in the third period. The Winnetka team moved ahead 57-52, but St. Ed. fought back to tie the count at 61-61. Then John Magnuson registered a basket and a free throw to put New Trier ahead for good.

PACED BY MAGNUSON, the Indians stretched their lead to 85-69 midway in the final period. The Green Wave cut the gap again as the winners let up. Coach Chuck Lauer pulled out his entire first team with 1:30 left.

John [illegible] the Suburban league's most prolific scorer in history, led both teams with 28 points, 20 coming in the second half. Magnuson rebounded well and came through in the clutch. Wally Glass, Gregg Alsdorf, and Jim Otterstrom added 17, 16, and 14 for the winners Greg Griffin, a hook shot artist and Don Hussey, a left hand jump shooter, paced Coach Greg True's squad with 23 and 22 markers respectively. Dave White and floor leader Art Sauceda, both of whom fouled out in the final quarter added 15 and 12.

Busy Day, Busy Day At The License Bureau

Secretary of State Charles F. Carpentier announced today that during the 75 working days since December 1, 1955 his office has issued more passenger car license plates than in the entire year of 1953 and has reached 92 per cent of the total for all of last year.

Passenger car registration at the end of February this year was 2,618,777, he reported. Fo. all of 1953 it was 2,580,678 and for all of 1955 it was 2,858,869.

Cub Rookie Sets Sights On Baker, Plans To Win

You'd think a body would be a mite discouraged to find he has to beat out a star like Gene Baker to win a regular job in the big leagues.

But peppery 23-year-old Bob McKee is going about his second base chores in the Chicago Cub camp in the Valley of the Sun as if the Baker threat didn't exist. "It's not that I don't know Gene is a great ball player," McKee tells you. "But I think I can do the job, too, and I figure if I show Stan Hack enough he'll find a place for me up here."

What may be surprising is that McKee is showing just that. Although it is too early to begin picking a squad that will return to Chicago for the big April 20 opener at Wrigley Field against Cincinnati, the Cub board of strategy is going to have to find a place for this youngster, in the opinion of many experts.

MCKEE'S BIGGEST battle was with himself. Before Kcrea he had a reputation as a hot-head, a fellow who'd battle himself most of the time instead of the opposition. Before going into the service, he batted .209 at Topeka in the class C Wetern association and the Cubs were ready to write him off as a major league prospect.

"I came to my senses, playing army ball at Ft. Leonard Wood," Bob says. 'I realized I was just hurting myself. The guys to beat were the fellows on the other team, and when I make an error now or don't hit I get sore at them, instead of myself."

The change was evident in the army. In 1953 he batted .330 at Leonard Wood while leading his team to a U.S. semipro title. In the tourney finals at Wichita, Kan. McKee hit six home runs to establish a new meet record. He was elected most valuable player of the meet.

BOB CAME OUT of the service last year, leaped all the way to class A at Des Moines and promptly posted th best batting average of his minor league career — .278, hitting 14 homers and driving in 77 runs. In the field he had no equal, setting a new Western league record for putouts (467), assists (490) and double plays (138). In the latter department he led all minor league infielders. A good bunter, McKee also led the league in sacrifice hits, 22. (Sp

New Trier Sets Records To Win Arlington Sectional

by PETE SWANSON

New Trier's Indians captured honors in last week's Arlington Heights Sectional with successive victories over Arlington and St. Edward of Elgin. The wins qualified New Trier to advance to the Evanston super-sectional, where it met Dunbar Tuesday evening. St. Edward, a district team, qualified for the final game with an opening game win over DeKalb.

Hitting 25 of 49 field goal attempts, a torrid 51 per cent, St. Edward eliminated DeKalb, 81-73. The Green Wave led all the way, stretching the margin to 22 points after three quarters. The Barbs made a late bid in the final quarter with 28 points, but the rally came too late. All five St. Edward regulars scored in double figures, Hussey pacing the team with 17 tallies. Ken Johnson scored 22 for the losers. The combined total of 154 points set a new gym record, the old record having been set last December 17 when La Grange beat Arlington, 82-71.

COACH HOWARD Lester's Arlington Cardinals fell out of their own tournament Thursday, a 63-58 defeat being administered by New Trier. This was a better game than the Wednesday affair, as the Cards looked good even in losing. The locals' downfall was their inability to hit the hoop.

The lead changed hands 7 times during a first quarter that ended with Arlington holding a 13-11 edge. Bill Randag's 3 baskets led the Cards, with passes from John Sujack setting up two of them.

Poor shooting by the Cards was the big factor in the second quarter. The locals failed to move the ball and weren't getting good shots. The Indians moved ahead 25-17 at one point and led by 4 at the half. The Cards hit 7 out of 30 in the first half, 3 of 21 in the second quarter. The visitors caged 11 of 36 in the opening half.

HEAVY FOULING in the third quarter gave the Cards many opportunities. With the aid of only one basket, the locals took a 34-32 lead midway in the third period. This lead could have been larger if the Cards had taken full advantage of their chances. At this point New Trier scored the next 11 points, John Magnuson's 4 baskets leading the way.

Behind 45-38, the Lestermen pressed at the start of the fourth quarter. Though Arlington's shooting picked up, the Suburban league team maintained a steady lead because the Cards had to foul in trying to get the ball. The Indians started stalling with 5 minutes left, and their ball control was effective. The loss of John Sujack by fouls hurt Arlington's efforts to break the stall.

THE CARDS did cut a 60-51 margin to 60-56 with 1:30 left, but at this point missed 3 close-in shots and lost the ball. More free throws in the final minute cemented the win for the Winnetka five. Of New Trier's 18 final quarter points, 16 came on free throws.

Shooting from the field was below par for both teams. The winners hit 10 of 60 for 32 per cent, while the losers hit only 16 of 61 for 26 per cent. The Cards had 1 of 11 in the third quarter and 8 of 20 in the fourth. From the foul line, the Indians hit 25 of 35 and the Cards 26 of 40. The home team missed many points here.

INDIVIDUALLY, all-state candidate John Magnuson led both teams with 25 points. John Sujack, hitting 4 baskets in the final quarter before leaving on fouls, topped Arlington with 18.

Rebounding was about even with both teams controlling their defensive board. Denny Striegel, Bill Randag, and Bill Palmer did a good job for Arlington, with Striegel in particular playing a good ball game.

Had the Cards shot as well as they usually do, they would have won. Nevertheless, the team gave a good account of itself and earned a lot of respect. Arlington is "on the map" and has definitely grown up to the sectional.

RECORDS are made to be broken, and Wednesday's gym record was short-lived. In New Trier's 89-83 conquest of St. Edward for the championship, the total of 172 points broke the old record by 18. The game produced the most sensational display of shooting this writer has ever seen. New Trier hit on 34 of 62 shot,s 55 per cent, while St. Edward connected with 32 of 66, or 48 per cent.

The Elgin five led 20-14 after a quarter and held 11 point margins on two occasions early in the second stanza. Then the Indians picked up and narrowed the gap to 43-41 at the intermission. Scoring 27 points in the quarter, New Trier hit 12 of 16 shots.

The score was tied eight times and the lead changed hands on 3 occasions in the third period. The Winnetka team moved ahead 57-52, but St. Ed. fought back to tie the count at 61-61. Then John Magnuson registered a basket and a free throw to put New Trier ahead for good.

PACED BY MAGNUSON, the Indians stretched their lead to 85-69 midway in the final period. The Green Wave cut the gap again as the winners let up. Coach Chuck Lauer pulled out his entire first team with 1:30 left.

John [illegible] the Suburban league's most prolific scorer in history, led both teams with 28 points, 20 coming in the second half. Magnuson rebounded well and came through in the clutch. Wally Glass, Gregg Alsdorf, and Jim Otterstrom added 17, 16, and 14 for the winners Greg Griffin, a hook shot artist and Don Hussey, a left hand jump shooter, paced Coach Greg True's squad with 23 and 22 markers respectively. Dave White and floor leader Art Sauceda, both of whom fouled out in the final quarter added 15 and 12.

In The Future

Two new plastic slide-viewers offer a choice of close-up with one eye or normal reading distance with both ... Imported from London is a battery-operated toy electric fan ... Families lacking amenable grandparents may find a baby's travel kit useful in vacation time. It contains oil, cream, powder, soap, lotion and cotton wads ... The customer who wanders into the hardware store with one rusty bolt to match can now do his own matching from a new display case, instead of tying up a clerk ... For your electric train set, you can now get an automatic car washer with brushes and spray, the kind you may see in a railroad yard. (G

VA Home Loans

Veterans administration in Illinois received appraisal requests for 1,577 proposed homes during January, an increase of nearly 10 per cent over the December total of 1,439.

The 2,449 GI home loan applications received in January were 28 per cent above the December total of 1,893. This increase reflects the appraisal activity of late last fall, Mr. Beer said.

In The Future

Two new plastic slide-viewers offer a choice of close-up with one eye or normal reading distance with both ... Imported from London is a battery-operated toy electric fan ... Families lacking amenable grandparents may find a baby's travel kit useful in vacation time. It contains oil, cream, powder, soap, lotion and cotton wads ... The customer who wanders into the hardware store with one rusty bolt to match can now do his own matching from a new display case, instead of tying up a clerk ... For your electric train set, you can now get an automatic car washer with brushes and spray, the kind you may see in a railroad yard. (G

VA Home Loans

Veterans administration in Illinois received appraisal requests for 1,577 proposed homes during January, an increase of nearly 10 per cent over the December total of 1,439.

The 2,449 GI home loan applications received in January were 28 per cent above the December total of 1,893. This increase reflects the appraisal activity of late last fall, Mr. Beer said.

Favorites For Flavor

While in New York, Mrs. Floyd E. Frazier found a recipe for Pizza which really suited her taste.

Both she and her husband prefer a thin, crispy crust with a flavorful cheese and tomato filling. This recipe filled both requirements and has fast become a family favorite.

It is versatile as well, for this Pizza can be made with a thicker crust, if desired. And the filling can be varied, using the tomato and cheese with Italian sausage or with mushrooms.

Pizza has become a favorite in many American households. And what could be more tempting than a savory Pizza Pie baked in your own kitchen! We think you'll like Mrs. Frazier's excellent recipe for this popular Italian food.

Mr. and Mrs. Frazier moved from Chicago a year ago to their home at 107 N. Lancaster, Mt. Prospect. Mrs. Frazier is a member of the Woman's guild of the Mt. Prospect Presbyterian church.

Pizza

Dough:

1 package fresh or dry yeast
2 tablespoons lukewarm water
1 cup boiling water
1½ teaspoons salt
2 tablespoons shortening
3 cups sifted all-purpose flour

Crumble yeast in lukewarm water for five minutes.

Pour boiling water over shortening and salt. Cool to lukewarm. Add yeast.

Add one-half of flour and beat until smooth. Beat in remaining flour.

Divide dough in half for two thin pizzas or use all of dough for one thick pizza.

Place on floured board. Roll out very thin to a 13-inch round for single pizza or to 11-inch rounds for two pizzas, leaving the edge slightly thicker. This keeps the filling from running over while baking.

Place on greased cookie sheet. Let rise in warm place, 85 degrees F., until double in bulk.

Arrange filling on top and bake as directed.

Filling:

1 tablespoon olive oil
½ cup grated parmesan cheese
¾ pound sliced Mozarella, Scamorze or processed American cheddar cheese.
1 can tomato sauce
1 clove garlic, diced fine
½ teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon dry oregano
2 tablespoons olive oil

Prepare pizza dough. After dough doubles in heighth, brush with 1 tablespoon olive oil, sprinkle with parmesan cheese and arrange 1/3 of Mozarella, Scamorze or cheddar cheese on top.

Combine sauce and garlic ahead of time and let set. Then spread over cheese and sprinkle with salt and pepper.
5 per cent), watermelons (reduce top. Sprinkle with oregano; drizzle on 2 tablespoons olive oil.

Bake in hot oven, 450 degrees, 25 to 30 minutes, or until crust is golden brown.

To prepare pizza with sausage, use only Mozarella or Scamorze cheese, not Cheddar, and dot top of pie with skinned Italian sausage.

To make a pizza with mushrooms, saute mushrooms in two tablespoons olive oil for five minutes and sprinkle on top.

Rush Chairman Will Speak To Senior Girls

Alumnae groups of the 16 sororities active in the Arlington-Mt. Prospect Pan-Hellenic group are completing work on favors for the 1956 Pan-Hellenic coke party. Scheduled for March 2 at 2:30 p.m. in the cafeteria of Arlington high school, the coke party honors senior girls from Palatine and Arlington high schools, and their mothers.

MRS. BURTON PEARSALL

Following a showing of a sound film, "Sorority Pre-View", Mrs. Burton Pearsall of Dundee will conduct a question and answer session on rushing and other phases of sorority and campus life. A recent graduate of Northwestern university, Mrs. Pearsall has been national rushing chairman of Alpha Chi Omega since 1951.

This year's party will be the fourth since the organization of the group. A similar party is held at Maine Township high school. The Arlington-Mt. Prospect group meets only seasonally, for the purpose of planning the coke party and disseminating information about sororities.

Mrs. Paul J. Moore, 634 S. Belmont, Arlington Heights, is president of the group.

9th District Legion Auxiliary To Hold Patriotic Conference

More than 150 members of the ninth district American Legion auxiliary, including unit presidents, Americanism, national security and civil defense chairmen, will attend the patriotic conference at the Morrison hotel March 22.

Mrs. Ray Mount of Tuscola, state president, will open the morning session at 9:30. Principal speaker, John C. Caldwell, will speak on "Lessons Learned in Korea." Mr. Caldwell is an authority on the far east. He was born in China, the son of a Methodist missionary and practically his whole life has been spent in Asia. He first saw Communism on the march in 1927 when his family home in South China was destroyed and the family forced to flee the communist mobs. Years later he saw his wife ambushed and shot down in the streets of Seoul. He headed the Voice of America program in China in 1946-1947 and served as deputy director of the U. S. Information Service in Korea before the Korean war. He is author of 3 books on the far east.

Mrs. Melvin Muckelstone, director of women's activities for region 4 of the Federal Civil Defense administration and former national president of the auxiliary, will present Miss Marcia Kittilson of Park Ridge, governor of 15th session of Illini Girls State held in Jacksonville last June.

At a noon luncheon in the Terrace Casino, delegates will hear Mrs. J. Stanley Brown of Sparta, national vice president and a past state president of the auxiliary.

Mrs. Mary Schwartz, is general chairman. Other local women who will participate in the conference include Mrs. Louis F. Ladky, first vice president of the state of Illinois.

Arlene Hardy Becomes Mrs. Earl Mosgaard

In a 5 o'clock double ring ceremony March 3 in First Presbyterian church of Arlington Heights, Miss Arlene Hardy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas C. Hardy, Palatine, became the bride of Earl Mosgaard, son of Mr. and Mrs. Victor Mosgaard, 423 N. Smith st., Palatine. The Rev. Paul Stumpf officiated at the candlelight service during which Mr. Hardt gave his daughter in marriage.

White gladioli decorated the church and "The Lord's Prayer" and "Because" were nuptial selections.

For her marriage the bride wore a Ballerina-length gown of white chantilly lace fashioned with long sleeves and off-the-shoulder neckline trimmed with seed pearls. The skirt ended with a flounce of nylon tulle. A crown of pearls held her finger-tip veil and she carried white carnations centered with a white orchid.

The bride's cousin, Joyce Ann Gustafson of Chicago, was maid of honor. Her gown was of blue crystalette with matching accessories. Sonia Mosgaard, sister of the bridegroom, was bridesmaid and wore a gown identical to the maid of honor's gown. Both carried bouquets of pink carnations. Junior bridesmaid was the bride's sister, Carolyn Hardy, 10, who wore a blue nylon net dress with white accessories. She also carried pink carnations.

Roger Kolze of Palatine was best man and ushers were Robert Mosgaard, brother of the groom, and Kenneth Kusik of Palatine.

Following the ceremony, a reception for 200 guests was held at Firemans hall in Palatine where Mrs. Hardy received in an aqua crystalette dress and matching accessories. The bridegroom's mother chose a pink lace dress with black accessories and both mothers wore orchid corsages. Guests were present from Minnesota, Ohio, Indiana and Washington.

Mr. Mosgaard and his bride are honeymooning in Florida and will be at home in Arlington Heights after April 1.

The newlyweds were graduated from Palatine high school and are employed by Wieboldt's in Evanston.

Favorites For Flavor

While in New York, Mrs. Floyd E. Frazier found a recipe for Pizza which really suited her taste.

Both she and her husband prefer a thin, crispy crust with a flavorful cheese and tomato filling. This recipe filled both requirements and has fast become a family favorite.

It is versatile as well, for this Pizza can be made with a thicker crust, if desired. And the filling can be varied, using the tomato and cheese with Italian sausage or with mushrooms.

Pizza has become a favorite in many American households. And what could be more tempting than a savory Pizza Pie baked in your own kitchen! We think you'll like Mrs. Frazier's excellent recipe for this popular Italian food.

Mr. and Mrs. Frazier moved from Chicago a year ago to their home at 107 N. Lancaster, Mt. Prospect. Mrs. Frazier is a member of the Woman's guild of the Mt. Prospect Presbyterian church.

Pizza

Dough:

1 package fresh or dry yeast
2 tablespoons lukewarm water
1 cup boiling water
1½ teaspoons salt
2 tablespoons shortening
3 cups sifted all-purpose flour

Crumble yeast in lukewarm water for five minutes.

Pour boiling water over shortening and salt. Cool to lukewarm. Add yeast.

Add one-half of flour and beat until smooth. Beat in remaining flour.

Divide dough in half for two thin pizzas or use all of dough for one thick pizza.

Place on floured board. Roll out very thin to a 13-inch round for single pizza or to 11-inch rounds for two pizzas, leaving the edge slightly thicker. This keeps the filling from running over while baking.

Place on greased cookie sheet. Let rise in warm place, 85 degrees F., until double in bulk.

Arrange filling on top and bake as directed.

Filling:

1 tablespoon olive oil
½ cup grated parmesan cheese
¾ pound sliced Mozarella, Scamorze or processed American cheddar cheese.
1 can tomato sauce
1 clove garlic, diced fine
½ teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon dry oregano
2 tablespoons olive oil

Prepare pizza dough. After dough doubles in heighth, brush with 1 tablespoon olive oil, sprinkle with parmesan cheese and arrange 1/3 of Mozarella, Scamorze or cheddar cheese on top.

Combine sauce and garlic ahead of time and let set. Then spread over cheese and sprinkle with salt and pepper.
5 per cent), watermelons (reduce top. Sprinkle with oregano; drizzle on 2 tablespoons olive oil.

Bake in hot oven, 450 degrees, 25 to 30 minutes, or until crust is golden brown.

To prepare pizza with sausage, use only Mozarella or Scamorze cheese, not Cheddar, and dot top of pie with skinned Italian sausage.

To make a pizza with mushrooms, saute mushrooms in two tablespoons olive oil for five minutes and sprinkle on top.

IN THE SHADOW OF THE STEEPLE

Sing, Sinners! Old Scratch Doesn't Care

by WILLIAM O. McGILL

The giant screen in "compatible color" flashed with the spectacular array.

There they strode across the camera line — crusaders and fishermen, children and old people, white and red and black, brown and yellow, in the colorful costumes of a thousand countries and 20 centuries.

AND ABOVE the color, above the fade-ins and fade-outs of one group to another, there came the song that all were singing,

"All hail the power of Jesus' name,
Let angels prostrate fall!
Bring forth the royal diadem,
And crown Him Lord of All!"

"There now, N. S., what do you think of that?" asked the polished young man in gray flannel.

* * *

N. S. PUT down his cigar, "What's His Trendex?"

"Ninety seven million last year!"

"What's his gross?"

"About seven hundred fifty million!"

"What did he do with it?"

"Spent a lot on new outlets, did a rushing business with that new suburban customer group, used a little profit for dividends — you know He has the peculiar idea that the only profit is Charity."

"What did we do?"

"WELL NOW, let's see: There were about 10,000 new narcotics addicts, many of them under the age of 21. There were about 40,000 new alcoholics as compared to a paper-loss of only about 20,000 who appealed to Alcoholics Anonymous, and maybe 8,000 of those will be back. I think by the way, that Lillian Roth won't hurt us much in the long run; her tale is almost too bizarre."

"Sounds good, what else did we do?"

"We got several good hassles going. You know, setting adults against children with a lot of talk about delinquency; we got politics and obscenity and freedom mixed up so that everybody will hate everybody and nobody will find a satisfactory answer.

"And the biggest thing we have done is sugegst to His customers that the directions on the package are extreme. We have begun a whispering campaign that it's enough to buy it; you really don't have to use it."

NICHOLAS SCRATCH picked up his cigar and smiled a large, devilish smile.

"If they accept that, we're still in business. Let them sing all they want, . . ." (B10

HOME OWNERS' QUESTION BOX

Q — My step railing is rusted. I'd like to paint it, but I'm afraid the rust will eat through the paint. Is there any kind of paint primer that will hold back the rust?

A — Scrape off the loose particles of rust, then paint the metal with red lead. Give the red lead four or five days to dry. It can then be covered with enamel. The red lead will check the rust.

Q — I have a chicken coop that's built on top of wood posts. How can I insulate the floor of the coop?

A — The insulation should be installed on the underside of the flooring. Lay mineral wood blankets between the floor joists with the vapor barrier side next to the flooring. Chicken wire should be laid under the blankets and fastened to the joists by wood strips. The wire will hold the insulation in place.

Q — What are the common cause of damp basement walls?

A — There are three frequent causes. First, the bricks or cement blocks of the foundation may be faulty, or they may be joined in a faulty way. Second, there may be cracks in the wall that were formed as the building settled and uneven weight was placed on various parts of the foundation. Last, the pressure of water on the outside of the foundation may be so great that water is forced through the pores of the foundation.

Q — Is there any way to overcome binding when sawing wood?

A — Binding is most likely to occur in long cuts, particularly if the wood is damp or green. The end of screw driver or a wedge-shaped piece of wood should be inserted in the cut, after the saw. This will minimize binding.

Builders Demand End Of Septic Tank Fee

Representatives of home building contractors Friday told a meeting of the county board's building and zoning committee that if the recommendations of the board's special septic tank committee submitted recently were adopted, the need for the present $2,500 bond guarantee would be eliminated.

Attorney Edward L. S. Arkema, representing builders in the south side of the county, stated that "only about 50 home-building permits had been issued since the county started requiring bonds last fall."

PRESIDENT Dan Ryan disputed his figures, saying that his records showed 136 permits being issued in January of this year and 162 in February.

"The latter compares," he said, "with 215 permits issued in February of 1955."

Commissioner John Mackler Jr., who instigated the bond measure, said "the $2500 bond may be too high," and recommended that it be reduced to $1,000, but "the county should retain a guarantee against those of the builders who do shoddy work."

He went on to say that "if the bonding companies are reluctant to issue such guarantee bonds, it may be because they have been given misinformation by the builders themselves."

THE SPECIAL committee of which Howard R. Olson is chairman has included in its recommendation that no septic tank be constructed in areas where a high water level might contaminate nearby shallow wells, and that no septic tanks of less than 1,000 gallon capacity be installed. Such regulations apply of course only in unincorporated areas where the county has complete jurisdiction.

N. P. Luginville of Franklin Park, a manufacturer of spetic tanks, told the committee that he and other manufacturers have on hand a large number of 750-gallon tanks that they would like to "use up" before the larger tank restriction be placed in effect.

Olson suggested that it might be possible to use a 750-gallon tank, supplementing it with a second smaller tank that would bring the total capacity to over the 1,000 gallon figure.

Commissioner Christ Jensen who presided said all suggestions would be taken under advisement. (B7

BUSINESS BRIEFS

'Clean Up' Drive

A campaign to insure clean service stations for the record number of tourists expected this year has been undertaken by Shell Oil Company's Chicago division according to H. O. Krass, retail manager, 418 W. Wilson, Palatine.

Krass said the campaign to clean-up the stations will be announced to the dealers and jobbers at a series of meetings in March and will be undertaken throughout the Chicago division, which includes most of Illinois-Wisconsin and part of Northern Indiana. Two-hundred six dealers will be selected as winners in this campaign. (BB

With Trade Group

Charles F. Close, vice president of Arlington Seating company of Arlington Heights, has been elected to the executive committee of the national school service institute.

Known as the largest trade association of its kind in America, the national school service institute, with offices in Chicago and members in every state of the nation, represents the school supply manufacturers and distributors of America.

Mr. Close, a member of Arlington Seating company for the past 19 years, is a member of the Rotary club of Chicago, board of directors of the YMCA, and is president of the board of trustees of the Methodist church of Arlington Heights. He is treasurer of the Arlington Heights P.T.A. and a member of Rolling Green country club. A graduate of Westport high school, Kansas City, Mr. Close is also a graduate of Kansas City junior college and attended he University of Kansas. He has traveled in every state of the union and is an avid tennis and golf participant.

The development and encouraging of capable school personnel and the financing and building of adequate physical plants are, in are in the opinion of Mr. Close, the major problems facing the schools of the nation.

With his wife Wilda and three children, Mr. Close lives at 304 Wilshire lane, Arlington Heights.

VFW Ladies Visit Schneller Furniture

Women of the Mt. Prospect VFW auxiliary and of St. Mary's church in Buffalo Grove attended furniture demonstrations at Schneller Furniture in Prospect Heights last week.

The 75 women were shown a movie on carpeting in the home and a demonstration of furniture construction with a cutaway model of a chair. There were also refreshments and prizes.

Other groups interested in similar demonstrations may inquire of proprietor Joe Schneller. (BB

Bank Notes 'Impressive' Strength On Business Scene

Some of the steam has gone out of the nation's business boom, the Federal Reserve Bank of Chicago reports in its monthly review, "Business Conditions."

Yet, no sharp decline in the current high-level business pace is sighted. In fact, the bank says, impressive sources of strength continue to bolster the outlook.

Business outlays for new plant and equipment have increased substantially in recent months and are expected to rise further through mid-year. Manufacturer's new orders, too, are at peak rates, while order backlogs are markedly above a year ago.

According to the bank, the current high level of personal income is an important sign of strength—and a good omen for retailers. During the last half of 1955, this total gained 4 per cent, or 13½ billion dollars at an annual rate.

ON THE OTHER hand, industrial production has leveled off recently after rising steadily over the past year. Total employment, allowing for seasonal variation, remained unchanged from mid-December through early 1956. Jobs in manufacturing, moreover, fell moderately, while the number of weekly hours worked dropped considerably from "seasonal" levels.

Nevertheless, the bank adds, current soft spots in the nation's economy have shown little tendency to spread. As expected, auto output has dropped substantially though sales have held fairly close to year-ago levels. Spending for residential housing is continuing to edge downward although there was some improvement in new contract awards in January. Farm prices and income are well below earlier figures, yet little further weakening is expected in the months ahead.

PROBABLY the greatest uncertainty on the business horizon, the bank says, is the future course of inventories. Even though total business stocks are not dangerously high, there is some question as to how much longer firms will accumulate goods at the present rate.

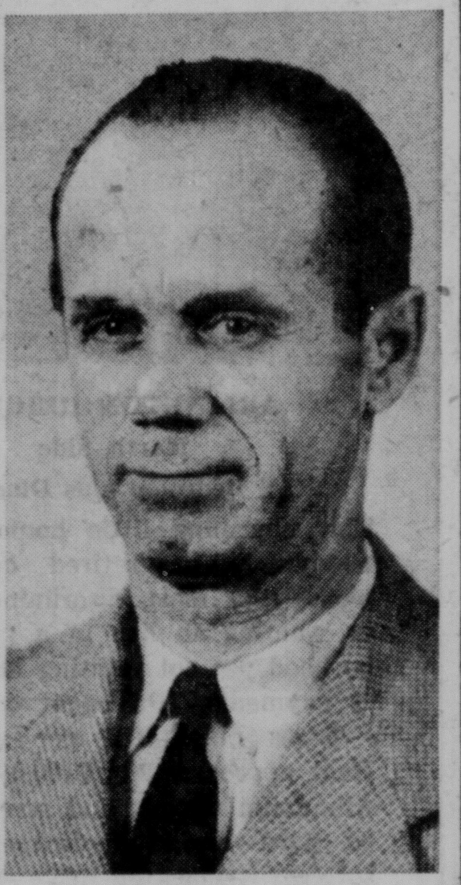
Manufacturers' sales are 20 per cent above the 1954 low, while retail volume has increased 12 per cent. Since mid-1955, however, stocks have tended to rise more rapidly than before in the face of less robust sales gains. To some extent, the recent inventory growth has reflected higher prices as well as increased volume. Since June, wholesale prices of industrial materials have risen 3½ per cent.

Recently auto stocks have soared to a burdensome level. By January dealer inventories hit 830,000 units, nearly double the number on hand three months earlier. As a consequence, output was cut 18 per cent from November to January. February schedules call for a moderate reduction to about 600,000 assemblies.

But the bank points out that the real test of the auto market lies shead as sales usually increase sharply in the spring.

Should the boost approach that of last year, excessive inventories would soon be brought into line and production could once more expand. (BB

30 Years Service



Norman A. Vogel, Dundee and Quintens rds., Palatine, received the congratulations and best wishes of his associates and friends at Commonwealth Edison company when he marked the completion of 30 consecutive years of service Friday, March 9. He has always worked in the revenue accounts department.

A Sunday school teacher at Immanuel Lutheran church, Mr. Vogel has lived in Palatine since 1940. He and Mrs. Vogel have three children. Their son, Guy, attends Concordia college in Milwaukee, and their tw daughters, Lee and Gay attend Palatine high school.

A handy husband-and-wife team, the Vogels call themselves "weekend contractors." They have built five houses in Palatine, doing all the work themselves except excavating and plastering. Each house has taken about one year to complete. Their present home will have nine rooms when the remaining two bedrooms are completed.

Banking Series

Women's committee of the American institute of banking of which Miss Ethel Bicknese, 116 Lake st., Addison employee of Harris Trust, is a member, will hold for its members a personal enrichment series. The program includes a color travelogue by Chicago Motor club entitled "Letters to Hawaii" Wednesday, March 14, and on Monday, March 19, the guest speaker will be Miss Mitsuko Saito of Tokyo, Japan, whose father is in the banking field in Tokyo. She is presently working for her doctor's degree at Northwestern which she hopes to achieve this year.

Bits O' Business

Machinery orders rose during February to their highest level since last September, which was the best month since the Korean war began ... Paper production in the February 25 week was at 11 per cent of theoretical capacity ... Department store sales are running 4 per cent above last year's levels, says the Federal Reserve Board ... Farm receipts in January were $2.3 billion, 6 per cent below the 1955 January mark.

Steel Output Up

Steel production in the six-county Chicago Metropolitan area during January and February topped the output for the first 2 months of any previous year.

Arthur J. O'Hara, the association's vice president for business research and statistics, revealed that 3,761,700 net tons were turned out by Chicago area mills during the first 2 months of this year as compared to 3,243,300 net tons during the same period last year.

'Clean Up' Drive

A campaign to insure clean service stations for the record number of tourists expected this year has been undertaken by Shell Oil Company's Chicago division according to H. O. Krass, retail manager, 418 W. Wilson, Palatine.

Krass said the campaign to clean-up the stations will be announced to the dealers and jobbers at a series of meetings in March and will be undertaken throughout the Chicago division, which includes most of Illinois-Wisconsin and part of Northern Indiana. Two-hundred six dealers will be selected as winners in this campaign. (BB

With Trade Group

Charles F. Close, vice president of Arlington Seating company of Arlington Heights, has been elected to the executive committee of the national school service institute.

Known as the largest trade association of its kind in America, the national school service institute, with offices in Chicago and members in every state of the nation, represents the school supply manufacturers and distributors of America.

Mr. Close, a member of Arlington Seating company for the past 19 years, is a member of the Rotary club of Chicago, board of directors of the YMCA, and is president of the board of trustees of the Methodist church of Arlington Heights. He is treasurer of the Arlington Heights P.T.A. and a member of Rolling Green country club. A graduate of Westport high school, Kansas City, Mr. Close is also a graduate of Kansas City junior college and attended he University of Kansas. He has traveled in every state of the union and is an avid tennis and golf participant.

The development and encouraging of capable school personnel and the financing and building of adequate physical plants are, in are in the opinion of Mr. Close, the major problems facing the schools of the nation.

With his wife Wilda and three children, Mr. Close lives at 304 Wilshire lane, Arlington Heights.

Bank Notes 'Impressive' Strength On Business Scene

Some of the steam has gone out of the nation's business boom, the Federal Reserve Bank of Chicago reports in its monthly review, "Business Conditions."

Yet, no sharp decline in the current high-level business pace is sighted. In fact, the bank says, impressive sources of strength continue to bolster the outlook.

Business outlays for new plant and equipment have increased substantially in recent months and are expected to rise further through mid-year. Manufacturer's new orders, too, are at peak rates, while order backlogs are markedly above a year ago.

According to the bank, the current high level of personal income is an important sign of strength—and a good omen for retailers. During the last half of 1955, this total gained 4 per cent, or 13½ billion dollars at an annual rate.

ON THE OTHER hand, industrial production has leveled off recently after rising steadily over the past year. Total employment, allowing for seasonal variation, remained unchanged from mid-December through early 1956. Jobs in manufacturing, moreover, fell moderately, while the number of weekly hours worked dropped considerably from "seasonal" levels.

Nevertheless, the bank adds, current soft spots in the nation's economy have shown little tendency to spread. As expected, auto output has dropped substantially though sales have held fairly close to year-ago levels. Spending for residential housing is continuing to edge downward although there was some improvement in new contract awards in January. Farm prices and income are well below earlier figures, yet little further weakening is expected in the months ahead.

PROBABLY the greatest uncertainty on the business horizon, the bank says, is the future course of inventories. Even though total business stocks are not dangerously high, there is some question as to how much longer firms will accumulate goods at the present rate.

Manufacturers' sales are 20 per cent above the 1954 low, while retail volume has increased 12 per cent. Since mid-1955, however, stocks have tended to rise more rapidly than before in the face of less robust sales gains. To some extent, the recent inventory growth has reflected higher prices as well as increased volume. Since June, wholesale prices of industrial materials have risen 3½ per cent.

Recently auto stocks have soared to a burdensome level. By January dealer inventories hit 830,000 units, nearly double the number on hand three months earlier. As a consequence, output was cut 18 per cent from November to January. February schedules call for a moderate reduction to about 600,000 assemblies.

But the bank points out that the real test of the auto market lies shead as sales usually increase sharply in the spring.

Should the boost approach that of last year, excessive inventories would soon be brought into line and production could once more expand. (BB

Exacting Demands Of Ethics Stressed By Realtor Chief

The exacting demands of those with real estate problems—the need for the integrity and special skills of a professional—are met by "realtors—those pledged to an established code of ethics," Ruth C. Wendt, president of the Northwest Suburban Board of Realtors, said Thursday.

The board leader's statement was isued in connection with Realtor's Pledge day during the current observance of Realtor Week (March 11 to 17).

The local board is joining with hundreds of other similar boards during this period in acquainting the public with the services of Realtors — those who are members of these boards and of the National Association of Real Estate boards.

"MORE and more," Miss Wendt said, "the intricacies of buying and selling real property for others require the abilities of professional persons — those who have proven competence and have publicly avowed to serve all in fairness. In the real estate fields, such persons are realtors.

"Realtors are real estate brokers — with something added. Realtors, besides meeting state eligibility requirements for all brokers, pledge themselves to abide by a code of ethics, far more demanding in daily dealings than the law governing brokers.

"This is the pledge that is taken by all brokers who join a local real estate board and the National Association of Real Estate board and the National Association of Real Estate boards (the national Realtors' association). Among other things, this pledge calls on the realtor 'to act toward all in the spirit of the golden rule.'

"THE REALTOR'S pledge to this course of conduct is assurance to those coming to him with realty problems that they will be protected in complex transactions — dealings foreign to most persons.

"Besides ethical conduct, the pledge commits the realtor to work for the best interests of the community in property matters. It calls on him to be well informed — and to keep informed — about all phases of market conditions and law which affect property dealt with.

"Framing and assembling of these rigorous standards of business conduct began 40 years ago during the formation of the national realtors' association. It was the aim then — and now, too — to establish and maintain a set of principles to insure competence and fair dealings in realty transactions. In effect, this was and is an effort to professionalize the industry.

"WE OF THE local board believe our code of ethics — and those living by it — have gone a long way toward accomplishing this. We believe that the public has benefitted. We feel that all will continue to benefit by dealing with those who have pledged themselves to act in accord with this code — the realtors of this board and others across the country."

Speeder At 7, Jet Pilot At 22

When he was barely 7, Arthur ("Sonny") Koester of Mt. Prospect, had a passion for speed which gained him national fame. One memorable day in 1941, accompanied only by his 5-year-old brother, Sonny climbed into his cousin's Chevrolet and then roared over the Illinois highways for 3 hours until he was finally caught. Confessing that he had hit 80 mph, Sonny was put on probation by a juvenile court judge and warned not to drive again until he was old enough for a license (Life, June 9, 1941).

Last month, at 22, having gone through a succession of jalopies and graduated to a bright red Thunderbird, Art Koester moved on to bigger things. Commissioned a Marine, Art was ready for full-time duty in a jet fighter that would whisk him through the sky at supersonic speeds undreamed of when he was 7.

After 6 months with a Marine squadron in Miami, Lieutenant Koester will probably go overseas.

Home From Service

Lt. Robert S. Hoffman, accompanied by his wife and 2-month-old daughter, Kimberly Sue, arrived in this country February 24 aboard the U.S.S. United States from Heidelberg, Germany, where Lieutenant Hoffman was stationed with the U.S.A.R.E.U.R. since February 1955. Lieutenant Hoffman was separated from the service March 5 at Fort Hamilton, N. Y., and with his wife and daughter is visiting in Arlington Heights at the home of Mrs. Hoffman's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Roger Ryden, 1119 N. Harvard ave., Arlington Heights.

Lieutenant Hoffman, who was an R.O.T.C. officer, was inducted at Fort Riley, Kan. on March 1, 1954 and took officer's basic training at Fort Eustis, Va. During his European duty he spent a month as train commander, checking trains that ran in and out of Berlin and which had to travel through the Eastern zone of that city. This was his initial assignment in Germany and the work was confidential. Later he was the officer in charge of all motor traffic with his duties including clearing traffic out of Austria when Austria was given her sovereignty.

Following their visit in Arlington Heights, Mr. and Mrs. Hoffman and Kimberly Sue will be guests in Daytona Beach, Fla. at the home of Mr. Hoffman's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Howard L. Ball. Later they will return here and Mr. Hoffman plans to attend Norhwestern university and study for his master's degree. (WUS

The exacting demands of those with real estate problems—the need for the integrity and special skills of a professional—are met by "realtors—those pledged to an established code of ethics," Ruth C. Wendt, president of the Northwest Suburban Board of Realtors, said Thursday.

The board leader's statement was isued in connection with Realtor's Pledge day during the current observance of Realtor Week (March 11 to 17).

The local board is joining with hundreds of other similar boards during this period in acquainting the public with the services of Realtors — those who are members of these boards and of the National Association of Real Estate boards.

"MORE and more," Miss Wendt said, "the intricacies of buying and selling real property for others require the abilities of professional persons — those who have proven competence and have publicly avowed to serve all in fairness. In the real estate fields, such persons are realtors.

"Realtors are real estate brokers — with something added. Realtors, besides meeting state eligibility requirements for all brokers, pledge themselves to abide by a code of ethics, far more demanding in daily dealings than the law governing brokers.

"This is the pledge that is taken by all brokers who join a local real estate board and the National Association of Real Estate board and the National Association of Real Estate boards (the national Realtors' association). Among other things, this pledge calls on the realtor 'to act toward all in the spirit of the golden rule.'

"THE REALTOR'S pledge to this course of conduct is assurance to those coming to him with realty problems that they will be protected in complex transactions — dealings foreign to most persons.

"Besides ethical conduct, the pledge commits the realtor to work for the best interests of the community in property matters. It calls on him to be well informed — and to keep informed — about all phases of market conditions and law which affect property dealt with.

"Framing and assembling of these rigorous standards of business conduct began 40 years ago during the formation of the national realtors' association. It was the aim then — and now, too — to establish and maintain a set of principles to insure competence and fair dealings in realty transactions. In effect, this was and is an effort to professionalize the industry.

"WE OF THE local board believe our code of ethics — and those living by it — have gone a long way toward accomplishing this. We believe that the public has benefitted. We feel that all will continue to benefit by dealing with those who have pledged themselves to act in accord with this code — the realtors of this board and others across the country."

Speeder At 7, Jet Pilot At 22

When he was barely 7, Arthur ("Sonny") Koester of Mt. Prospect, had a passion for speed which gained him national fame. One memorable day in 1941, accompanied only by his 5-year-old brother, Sonny climbed into his cousin's Chevrolet and then roared over the Illinois highways for 3 hours until he was finally caught. Confessing that he had hit 80 mph, Sonny was put on probation by a juvenile court judge and warned not to drive again until he was old enough for a license (Life, June 9, 1941).

Last month, at 22, having gone through a succession of jalopies and graduated to a bright red Thunderbird, Art Koester moved on to bigger things. Commissioned a Marine, Art was ready for full-time duty in a jet fighter that would whisk him through the sky at supersonic speeds undreamed of when he was 7.

After 6 months with a Marine squadron in Miami, Lieutenant Koester will probably go overseas.

Home From Service

Lt. Robert S. Hoffman, accompanied by his wife and 2-month-old daughter, Kimberly Sue, arrived in this country February 24 aboard the U.S.S. United States from Heidelberg, Germany, where Lieutenant Hoffman was stationed with the U.S.A.R.E.U.R. since February 1955. Lieutenant Hoffman was separated from the service March 5 at Fort Hamilton, N. Y., and with his wife and daughter is visiting in Arlington Heights at the home of Mrs. Hoffman's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Roger Ryden, 1119 N. Harvard ave., Arlington Heights.

Lieutenant Hoffman, who was an R.O.T.C. officer, was inducted at Fort Riley, Kan. on March 1, 1954 and took officer's basic training at Fort Eustis, Va. During his European duty he spent a month as train commander, checking trains that ran in and out of Berlin and which had to travel through the Eastern zone of that city. This was his initial assignment in Germany and the work was confidential. Later he was the officer in charge of all motor traffic with his duties including clearing traffic out of Austria when Austria was given her sovereignty.

Following their visit in Arlington Heights, Mr. and Mrs. Hoffman and Kimberly Sue will be guests in Daytona Beach, Fla. at the home of Mr. Hoffman's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Howard L. Ball. Later they will return here and Mr. Hoffman plans to attend Norhwestern university and study for his master's degree. (WUS

Home town: The place where people wonder how you got as far as you have.

Area Building Hits Three And A Half Million

Three and a half million dollars worth of homes were begun in Mt. Prospect and Arlington Heights during January and February.

The 2 suburbs occupied the number 4 and 5 spots in estimated home valuation during these months among all Chicago suburbs. These figures were contained in the monthly building report compiled by the Bell Savings and Loan association of Chicago.

Here are some more comparisons from the Bell report:

IN TOTAL building, the month of January, 1956 eclipsed January, 1955 by $30 million. This February surpassed last February by $18 million in the Chicago region. In the first 2 months of 1956, building was 51 per cent ahead of last year. Further, the suburban area accounts for two-thirds of the increase.

For the month of February alone, Mt. Prospect issued permits for 49 homes valued at $837,900. Arlington Heights had 2 fewer homes (47) but they were costlier, with an estimated valuation of $888,500.

Palatine had few homes started during February. Seven permits with a valuation of $106,000 were issued. (B7)

Old Wounds

Home town: The place where people wonder how you got as far as you have.

Area Building Hits Three And A Half Million

Three and a half million dollars worth of homes were begun in Mt. Prospect and Arlington Heights during January and February.

The 2 suburbs occupied the number 4 and 5 spots in estimated home valuation during these months among all Chicago suburbs. These figures were contained in the monthly building report compiled by the Bell Savings and Loan association of Chicago.

Here are some more comparisons from the Bell report:

IN TOTAL building, the month of January, 1956 eclipsed January, 1955 by $30 million. This February surpassed last February by $18 million in the Chicago region. In the first 2 months of 1956, building was 51 per cent ahead of last year. Further, the suburban area accounts for two-thirds of the increase.

For the month of February alone, Mt. Prospect issued permits for 49 homes valued at $837,900. Arlington Heights had 2 fewer homes (47) but they were costlier, with an estimated valuation of $888,500.

Palatine had few homes started during February. Seven permits with a valuation of $106,000 were issued. (B7)

JUST DOGS

by DAVE TERRILL

International kennel club

This column will have gone to press before the final tabulations are known as to the total entry for the 16th annual International K.C. show. An early check made with show officials however, has indicated that the total entry will run well over the 2000 mark and will perhaps exceed last year's record of some 2200 entries. One fact is well established and that is that there will be in excess of 100 various breeds of pure-bred dogs at the show.

The show this year will be held on Saturday and Sunday March 31, and April 1st, 1956. The location will be the site of all the previous International shows, the International Amphitheatre at 42nd and Halsted in Chicago.

Of general interest to spectators young and old will be the appearance of the famed army war dogs from Camp Carson, Colo.

Obedience Match

Folks in this general area who have been following the fortunes of the Northwest Obedience Club of Palatine will be interested to know that the club is planning to hold it's first American Kennel Club "plan-A" type obedience match on Sunday May 13, 1956 in Palatine.

At the present time plans call for the event to be held in the Palatine community park with the judging rings set up near the field house.

The park board has already indicated their willingness to go along with the event and if tentative plans work out it will give home folks and friends in the area a good chance to observe at first hand just what this business of obedience training of a dog is all about.

"B'ar" hunting

Now that this business of Davy Crockett has finally gone by the boards perhaps this story will help to enlighten readers on the subject of the famous hunter's success as a bear hunter. Perhaps it will help to end it all much to most mother's and dad's delight.

According to Davy his success on many an occasion was due to his dogs and typical is his account of how he killed three bears in a matter of a half hour. He and a friend discovered a bear in a tree. While they were discussing how best to take him, they heard Crockett's dogs barking at some distance away where they had located another bear. Crockett and his friend left the bear in the tree to join the dogs with their bear. Davy shot him. Meanwhile he missed one of his favorite dogs who he was sure had another bear somewhere else. He walked up a hillock to listen for his dog, and sure enough the dog was barking with all his might some distance off. The other dogs now joined this one and by the time Davy and his friend got there the dogs had the bear treed. Again, Davy brought him down. The entire group now went back to the tree where they found the first bear, which Davy quickly dispatched. The entire hunt had taken only about 30 minutes according to Davy. OK — so you can do better.

Barks and Bays

This business about retiring a horse out to pasture brings to mind that nearly 800 greyhounds retired from racing are now living as domestic pets in homes in various parts of England.

Elk Grove News

New Gymnasium

Plans for the much needed new gymnasium are nearing completion, Mr. Cavallo, superintendent, reported to Mothers' club last week. Special details are being arranged this month, then the final estimate will be made and presented. Elk Grove school is in dire need of a physical education program and this will be possible with a new gymnasium. Plans are for a gym and large stage, which will extend out in back next to the black top. The gymnasium will have a hard maple floor, with a lifetime guarantee. There will be a ½ inch layer of sponge between the cement and wood. Showers and storage space are included. The stage will be large enough to seat a 60 piece band. The gym will also accommodate activities after school hours and will be available for community use. Three classrooms will be made in the present auditorium and the all-purpose room will be divided into 2 rooms. The gymnasium is to be finished before September 1; construction time promised is 65 days from start to finish. The bond issue comes up at the April 14 election. Construction of the proposed gymnasium will assure Elk Grove school of a full time music, band and physical education program next year.

Mr. Cavallo is seeking a tract of land in the Biesterfield area for the construction of a grade school to accommodate first through fifth grade students in that area. Funds are available for the purchase of the land, which must be in the Biesterfield district.

Mothers' Club

The Loretta Young movie about cub scouts shown at Mothers' club March 8 was very apropos, as the club is sponsor of the Elk Grove scouts. The movie portrayed the actual need of parental interest in the troop and its activities by depicting the story of a cub scout whose parents could not find time to participate in their son's scouting activities.

A scouting committee composed of Lorraine Altenburg, club president, Delores Nelson, Lenore Haig, Lorraine Nelson and Bessie Carter will meet to choose an institutional representative and seek out people willing to do scout work. "One of the main responsibilities that a sponsoring organization has in supporting scouting," states T. W. James, district executive of the Northwest Suburban council of the boy scouts "is seeing that the boys have adequate leadership."

Christine Anderson, secretary, will contact places suggested for the tour to be taken in April. Club members will be informed of the date and place decided upon.

Plans are under way for a card party to be held at the school in May. Delores Folkman and Lee Rogowski, the social committee, will be aided by Jean Adams, Lorraine Nelson and Pearl Malanik.

Rummage sale date is set for Friday night, April 13. Response for the fall rummage sale was tremendous. It is hoped that this one is a success also.

The nominating committee for next year's officers will be Lorraine Breteg, Pearl Malanik, Erna Eickhof, Irene Woss and Pauline Post.

Mrs. Carl Anderson made a request for toys to be used in the pre-school class which starts April 2. Blocks, games, jig saw puzzles, books, sewing cards, wooden beads for stringing and other toys suitable for kindergarten use will be greatly appreciated and will be returned to donors at the termination of the class. The pre-school class will be held at Elk Grove school and is open to children who will be ready for first grade in the fall. It is not financed by school funds, therefore, a small fee will be charged for materials used. Transportation must be provided by the parents. Mothers who registered their children last month for first grade showed an enthusiastic interest in kindergarten training.

For the remainder of the year Mothers' club meetings will begin at 1 p.m. instead of 1:30 p.m.

Mothers' club wishes to thank Mrs. Grosche's home economics class for taking over refreshment serving and baby sitting at meetings. The attractive table decorations and neat appearance of the girls combine to make the afternoons more enjoyable.

Scouting

"Bottom of the Sea" is the cub scout theme for the month of March. The boys have been studying sea life and are constructing miniature sea scenes, complete with sea horses. Den mothers attend the "round table" once a month to get ideas for the cub activities; they also attend committee meetings.

Here and There

Joanne Pfluger attended the baptism of Leslie Ann Heine, 5-month-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Heine of Elgin, at the Trinity church, Elgin, March 11. Joanne is Leslie's godmother.

Congratulations to Don Schroeder, senior at Arlington Heights high school, who placed second on the Morris B. Sachs Amateur hour. He was a contestant March 4 and played an accordion solo, "Just Because." He appeared on the show March 11 to receive a watch and cash award.

Clarence Goede returned last week from a 2-week vacation trip to Hot Springs, Ark.

Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Laird moved from Mt. Prospect to their new home in Barrington March 2. Friends were sorry to hear that illness kept Mrs. Laird, school secretary, from school last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Malanik Sr. are enjoying the Florida sun. They left Elk Grove February 13 and are visiting in St. Petersburg and other vacation spots.

M/Sgt. and Mrs. Stanley Gawrych, Mt. Prspect rd., are vacationing in Ohio. They spent several weeks visiting relatives of M/Sgt. Gawrych.

Sarah and Abby Carter entertained their nieces, Paula Butler and Patti Thatcher, March 7 with a family party to celebrate Paula's and Patti's third birthdays. Patti is visiting at the home of her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Carter.

Patti Folkman is recovering from an appendectomy.

Seven new students were enrolled in Elk Grove school last week.

Packets of garden seeds, which students or their parents may purchase, were distributed to students last week. Spring must be just around the corner.

Henry Schaeffer is now located with the William H. Miller service at Higgins and Touhy.

Forest View School

Open House

The second open house was held Friday evening with an increased attendance over the opening night, of which the sponsors were very proud. Chaperones for the evening were Mr. and Mrs. George Mailfold, square dance instructors, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Sullivan, Mr. Wilder, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Guedtner, Chuck Jevne, Mr. and Mrs. Stan Luczak and Bill Sundblad. Thanks are extended to all who helped make the evening a success, especially to Mrs. Elizabeth Alanne, the Tom Sullivans and Jack Geudtners, who do not have children attending the school, but gave their time by helping. Adults who would like to devote a Friday evening to chaperone are asked to contact Mrs. Julia Luczak, CLearbrook 3-6346.

The next open house will be held Friday evening, at the school, from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. All children who would like to come for an evening of fun are welcome. Donations of sports equipment, ping pong tables, dart games and other games, which the children would have fun with, would be most welcome.

Sports Schedule

The first meeting of the sports group was held Tuesday evening at Forest View school. Included in the activities were boxing instructions. All boys, old enough to indulge in sports, are welcome to join the group. For more information call Bill Sundblad, CLearbrook 3-2821.

The Forest View Mothers' club announces their carnival and bazaar to be held May 12. More details will be published from time to time. Suggestions in regard to booths for the affair would be welcomed by officers of the club.

School Board To Meet

The Forest View school board will meet Monday evening in the school at 8 o'clock. All interested persons are welcome.

School will not be in session Thursday, Friday and Monday, March 29, 30 and April 2, because of Easter vacation.

Alleys at the Arlington Heights bowling lanes will be reserved this Saturday for open bowling for children in this community. Parents are asked to accompany their children, as more assistance is needed.

The upper grade pupils of the Forest View school are participating in a magazine drive during the next 2 weeks, with awards presented to the children talking part. Anyone wishing to order new or renewal subscriptions may contact any upper grade pupil. These children will be soliciting in the neighborhood. Residents are asked to consider subscriptions, as the school will receive a certain percentage of the money taken in by the students.

The Forest View Mothers' club met last Tuesday evening in the school. A nominating committee was chosen consisting of Mrs. Thomas Sullivan, Mrs. Robert Walker, Mrs. Vernon Westberg and Mrs. Harry Smital. A note of thanks was extended to all who brought a dish towel for the towel shower. Anyone who still would care to donate a towel can bring it to the next meeting or give it to the kitchen chairman, Mrs. Howard Koepke. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Howard Koepke and Mrs. Richard Fisher.

A reminder to all members to bring items to be auctioned for the white elephant sale to the next meeting, April 3. After the business meeting, movies were shown and a talk was given by Mrs. Robert Hutchings.

Michael Grismer spent the weekend visiting M. J. Post in Chicago.

Ronald Graves has been ill with tonsillitis, but has recovered and is now back in school.

Wedding Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Koepke celebrated their 24th wedding anniversary March 12. Congratulations are extended to them.

Attention

The community sports director, Bill Sundblad, is sponsoring a paper drive now. Anyone having old newspapers and magazines is asked to call him at CL 3-2821, and he will pick them up. Proceeds will go to the community Activities club for equipmentand games.

Wedgewood Terrace

League Meeting

A unit meeting of the League of Women Voters of Arlington Heights will be held at the home of Mrs. J. Willard Hain, 209 Euclid ave., Monday evening.

Subject for discussion will be: "Conservation, a Study of Water" and "Individual Liberties and their Relation to National Security."

Any Wedgewood Terrace women interested in the League of Women Voters are welcome to attend. They may call Cl. 3-6440 for information.

J. Willard Hain, director of music at Fairview school in Skokie, took his school orchestra to the Northern Illinois grade school orchestra festival Sunday. It was held at the Oak Park-River Forest high school in Oak Park.

Five students from the Fairview school orchestra were picked to play in the festival orchestra in the evening. Dr. Grant Fletcher, conductor of the Chicago Musical college symphony, directed the orchestra.

Rummage Sale

The rummage sale of the Wedgewood Terrace Improvement association is to be held April 6 and 7 at the Prospect Heights service station. All donations of rummage will be appreciated and the following women may be contacted for pickups: Mrs. Joe Warfsman, Cl. 3-5104; Mrs. Arthur Cisewski, Cl. 3-4575; Mrs. Tom Merritt, Cl. 3-0165.

The committee for the rummage sale met at the home of Mrs. Merritt Monday evening to plan details. Members of the committee are: Mr. and Mrs. Merritt, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Warfsman, Mr. and Mrs. George Krizek, Mrs. Henry Combs and Mrs. Arthur Cisewski.

The members of the Wedgewood Terrace Improvement association met at the home of John Revus Sunday for a special meeting to discuss the project of having a community building. $1,000 was pledged toward the goal of having such a building for Wedgewood.

It was also decided at this meeting that the regular meetings will hereafter be held the first Monday of each month and they will be held in turn, in the homes of 5 of the members who have large enough quarters. Next month's meeting will be at the Revus home.

Saturday guests of the Lewis Sylvesters came from Chicago. They were Mr. and Mrs. Louis Schonberg, Mr. and Mrs. George Beck, Mr. and Mrs. John Palundo and Mr. and Mrs. Leo Acara.

Attend Shower

Mrs. Joe Heckenbach went to Kenosha Sunday to attend a bridal shower for her niece, Miss Angeline Schaffer, who is to be married in June.

Pam and Sherry House spent the weekend in Chicago with grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Verne House, and Jerry, with the other set, Mr. and Mrs. Ervin Pose.

Mrs. Elizabeth Becker, mother of Leo Becker, gave up her apartment in the city and will make her home in Wedgewood with the Beckers. She moved in to stay last Saturday.

Weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Miller were Mr. and Mrs. George Knollenberg. They are Mrs. Miller's parents and came from Lincoln.

Mrs. Tom Merritt's mother, Mrs. Owen Jenkins, flew back to her home in San Francisco last Friday. A farewell party was given for her at the home of Mrs. J. F. Jenkins in Park Ridge the preceding Wednesday.

Mrs. Adam Kwiecinski was hostess for a party to acquaint Mrs. Robert Schultz, new resident, with some of her neighbors. Present were Mrs. Leo Becker, Mrs. Arthur Cisewski, Mrs. Henry Combs, Mrs. Clyde House, Mrs. James Sailer and Mrs. Jim Salisbury.

Wilson Community News

There will be a spaghetti dinner, "all one can eat," given by the Wilson school PTA at the V-FW hall, Yale and Northwest hwy., Monday from 5:30 to 7:30 p.m.

It's Yours to Decide

For many years we have emphasized to families that the cost of a funeral is their choice — not ours. They have found that our service is based, not on financial considerations, but on a professional desire to serve well. Perhaps that is why so many families, in modest or well-to-do circumstances, have chosen the Lauterburg & Oehler Funeral Home in time of need.

International kennel club

This column will have gone to press before the final tabulations are known as to the total entry for the 16th annual International K.C. show. An early check made with show officials however, has indicated that the total entry will run well over the 2000 mark and will perhaps exceed last year's record of some 2200 entries. One fact is well established and that is that there will be in excess of 100 various breeds of pure-bred dogs at the show.

The show this year will be held on Saturday and Sunday March 31, and April 1st, 1956. The location will be the site of all the previous International shows, the International Amphitheatre at 42nd and Halsted in Chicago.

Of general interest to spectators young and old will be the appearance of the famed army war dogs from Camp Carson, Colo.

Obedience Match

Folks in this general area who have been following the fortunes of the Northwest Obedience Club of Palatine will be interested to know that the club is planning to hold it's first American Kennel Club "plan-A" type obedience match on Sunday May 13, 1956 in Palatine.

At the present time plans call for the event to be held in the Palatine community park with the judging rings set up near the field house.

The park board has already indicated their willingness to go along with the event and if tentative plans work out it will give home folks and friends in the area a good chance to observe at first hand just what this business of obedience training of a dog is all about.

"B'ar" hunting

Now that this business of Davy Crockett has finally gone by the boards perhaps this story will help to enlighten readers on the subject of the famous hunter's success as a bear hunter. Perhaps it will help to end it all much to most mother's and dad's delight.

According to Davy his success on many an occasion was due to his dogs and typical is his account of how he killed three bears in a matter of a half hour. He and a friend discovered a bear in a tree. While they were discussing how best to take him, they heard Crockett's dogs barking at some distance away where they had located another bear. Crockett and his friend left the bear in the tree to join the dogs with their bear. Davy shot him. Meanwhile he missed one of his favorite dogs who he was sure had another bear somewhere else. He walked up a hillock to listen for his dog, and sure enough the dog was barking with all his might some distance off. The other dogs now joined this one and by the time Davy and his friend got there the dogs had the bear treed. Again, Davy brought him down. The entire group now went back to the tree where they found the first bear, which Davy quickly dispatched. The entire hunt had taken only about 30 minutes according to Davy. OK — so you can do better.

Barks and Bays

This business about retiring a horse out to pasture brings to mind that nearly 800 greyhounds retired from racing are now living as domestic pets in homes in various parts of England.

Elk Grove News

New Gymnasium

Plans for the much needed new gymnasium are nearing completion, Mr. Cavallo, superintendent, reported to Mothers' club last week. Special details are being arranged this month, then the final estimate will be made and presented. Elk Grove school is in dire need of a physical education program and this will be possible with a new gymnasium. Plans are for a gym and large stage, which will extend out in back next to the black top. The gymnasium will have a hard maple floor, with a lifetime guarantee. There will be a ½ inch layer of sponge between the cement and wood. Showers and storage space are included. The stage will be large enough to seat a 60 piece band. The gym will also accommodate activities after school hours and will be available for community use. Three classrooms will be made in the present auditorium and the all-purpose room will be divided into 2 rooms. The gymnasium is to be finished before September 1; construction time promised is 65 days from start to finish. The bond issue comes up at the April 14 election. Construction of the proposed gymnasium will assure Elk Grove school of a full time music, band and physical education program next year.

Mr. Cavallo is seeking a tract of land in the Biesterfield area for the construction of a grade school to accommodate first through fifth grade students in that area. Funds are available for the purchase of the land, which must be in the Biesterfield district.

Mothers' Club

The Loretta Young movie about cub scouts shown at Mothers' club March 8 was very apropos, as the club is sponsor of the Elk Grove scouts. The movie portrayed the actual need of parental interest in the troop and its activities by depicting the story of a cub scout whose parents could not find time to participate in their son's scouting activities.

A scouting committee composed of Lorraine Altenburg, club president, Delores Nelson, Lenore Haig, Lorraine Nelson and Bessie Carter will meet to choose an institutional representative and seek out people willing to do scout work. "One of the main responsibilities that a sponsoring organization has in supporting scouting," states T. W. James, district executive of the Northwest Suburban council of the boy scouts "is seeing that the boys have adequate leadership."

Christine Anderson, secretary, will contact places suggested for the tour to be taken in April. Club members will be informed of the date and place decided upon.

Plans are under way for a card party to be held at the school in May. Delores Folkman and Lee Rogowski, the social committee, will be aided by Jean Adams, Lorraine Nelson and Pearl Malanik.

Rummage sale date is set for Friday night, April 13. Response for the fall rummage sale was tremendous. It is hoped that this one is a success also.

The nominating committee for next year's officers will be Lorraine Breteg, Pearl Malanik, Erna Eickhof, Irene Woss and Pauline Post.

Mrs. Carl Anderson made a request for toys to be used in the pre-school class which starts April 2. Blocks, games, jig saw puzzles, books, sewing cards, wooden beads for stringing and other toys suitable for kindergarten use will be greatly appreciated and will be returned to donors at the termination of the class. The pre-school class will be held at Elk Grove school and is open to children who will be ready for first grade in the fall. It is not financed by school funds, therefore, a small fee will be charged for materials used. Transportation must be provided by the parents. Mothers who registered their children last month for first grade showed an enthusiastic interest in kindergarten training.

For the remainder of the year Mothers' club meetings will begin at 1 p.m. instead of 1:30 p.m.

Mothers' club wishes to thank Mrs. Grosche's home economics class for taking over refreshment serving and baby sitting at meetings. The attractive table decorations and neat appearance of the girls combine to make the afternoons more enjoyable.

Scouting

"Bottom of the Sea" is the cub scout theme for the month of March. The boys have been studying sea life and are constructing miniature sea scenes, complete with sea horses. Den mothers attend the "round table" once a month to get ideas for the cub activities; they also attend committee meetings.

Here and There

Joanne Pfluger attended the baptism of Leslie Ann Heine, 5-month-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Heine of Elgin, at the Trinity church, Elgin, March 11. Joanne is Leslie's godmother.

Congratulations to Don Schroeder, senior at Arlington Heights high school, who placed second on the Morris B. Sachs Amateur hour. He was a contestant March 4 and played an accordion solo, "Just Because." He appeared on the show March 11 to receive a watch and cash award.

Clarence Goede returned last week from a 2-week vacation trip to Hot Springs, Ark.

Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Laird moved from Mt. Prospect to their new home in Barrington March 2. Friends were sorry to hear that illness kept Mrs. Laird, school secretary, from school last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Malanik Sr. are enjoying the Florida sun. They left Elk Grove February 13 and are visiting in St. Petersburg and other vacation spots.

M/Sgt. and Mrs. Stanley Gawrych, Mt. Prspect rd., are vacationing in Ohio. They spent several weeks visiting relatives of M/Sgt. Gawrych.

Sarah and Abby Carter entertained their nieces, Paula Butler and Patti Thatcher, March 7 with a family party to celebrate Paula's and Patti's third birthdays. Patti is visiting at the home of her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Carter.

Patti Folkman is recovering from an appendectomy.

Seven new students were enrolled in Elk Grove school last week.

Packets of garden seeds, which students or their parents may purchase, were distributed to students last week. Spring must be just around the corner.

Henry Schaeffer is now located with the William H. Miller service at Higgins and Touhy.

Forest View School

Open House

The second open house was held Friday evening with an increased attendance over the opening night, of which the sponsors were very proud. Chaperones for the evening were Mr. and Mrs. George Mailfold, square dance instructors, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Sullivan, Mr. Wilder, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Guedtner, Chuck Jevne, Mr. and Mrs. Stan Luczak and Bill Sundblad. Thanks are extended to all who helped make the evening a success, especially to Mrs. Elizabeth Alanne, the Tom Sullivans and Jack Geudtners, who do not have children attending the school, but gave their time by helping. Adults who would like to devote a Friday evening to chaperone are asked to contact Mrs. Julia Luczak, CLearbrook 3-6346.

The next open house will be held Friday evening, at the school, from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. All children who would like to come for an evening of fun are welcome. Donations of sports equipment, ping pong tables, dart games and other games, which the children would have fun with, would be most welcome.

Sports Schedule

The first meeting of the sports group was held Tuesday evening at Forest View school. Included in the activities were boxing instructions. All boys, old enough to indulge in sports, are welcome to join the group. For more information call Bill Sundblad, CLearbrook 3-2821.

The Forest View Mothers' club announces their carnival and bazaar to be held May 12. More details will be published from time to time. Suggestions in regard to booths for the affair would be welcomed by officers of the club.

School Board To Meet

The Forest View school board will meet Monday evening in the school at 8 o'clock. All interested persons are welcome.

School will not be in session Thursday, Friday and Monday, March 29, 30 and April 2, because of Easter vacation.

Alleys at the Arlington Heights bowling lanes will be reserved this Saturday for open bowling for children in this community. Parents are asked to accompany their children, as more assistance is needed.

The upper grade pupils of the Forest View school are participating in a magazine drive during the next 2 weeks, with awards presented to the children talking part. Anyone wishing to order new or renewal subscriptions may contact any upper grade pupil. These children will be soliciting in the neighborhood. Residents are asked to consider subscriptions, as the school will receive a certain percentage of the money taken in by the students.

The Forest View Mothers' club met last Tuesday evening in the school. A nominating committee was chosen consisting of Mrs. Thomas Sullivan, Mrs. Robert Walker, Mrs. Vernon Westberg and Mrs. Harry Smital. A note of thanks was extended to all who brought a dish towel for the towel shower. Anyone who still would care to donate a towel can bring it to the next meeting or give it to the kitchen chairman, Mrs. Howard Koepke. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Howard Koepke and Mrs. Richard Fisher.

A reminder to all members to bring items to be auctioned for the white elephant sale to the next meeting, April 3. After the business meeting, movies were shown and a talk was given by Mrs. Robert Hutchings.

Michael Grismer spent the weekend visiting M. J. Post in Chicago.

Ronald Graves has been ill with tonsillitis, but has recovered and is now back in school.

Wedding Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Koepke celebrated their 24th wedding anniversary March 12. Congratulations are extended to them.

Attention

The community sports director, Bill Sundblad, is sponsoring a paper drive now. Anyone having old newspapers and magazines is asked to call him at CL 3-2821, and he will pick them up. Proceeds will go to the community Activities club for equipmentand games.

League Meeting

A unit meeting of the League of Women Voters of Arlington Heights will be held at the home of Mrs. J. Willard Hain, 209 Euclid ave., Monday evening.

Subject for discussion will be: "Conservation, a Study of Water" and "Individual Liberties and their Relation to National Security."

Any Wedgewood Terrace women interested in the League of Women Voters are welcome to attend. They may call Cl. 3-6440 for information.

J. Willard Hain, director of music at Fairview school in Skokie, took his school orchestra to the Northern Illinois grade school orchestra festival Sunday. It was held at the Oak Park-River Forest high school in Oak Park.

Five students from the Fairview school orchestra were picked to play in the festival orchestra in the evening. Dr. Grant Fletcher, conductor of the Chicago Musical college symphony, directed the orchestra.

Rummage Sale

The rummage sale of the Wedgewood Terrace Improvement association is to be held April 6 and 7 at the Prospect Heights service station. All donations of rummage will be appreciated and the following women may be contacted for pickups: Mrs. Joe Warfsman, Cl. 3-5104; Mrs. Arthur Cisewski, Cl. 3-4575; Mrs. Tom Merritt, Cl. 3-0165.

The committee for the rummage sale met at the home of Mrs. Merritt Monday evening to plan details. Members of the committee are: Mr. and Mrs. Merritt, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Warfsman, Mr. and Mrs. George Krizek, Mrs. Henry Combs and Mrs. Arthur Cisewski.

The members of the Wedgewood Terrace Improvement association met at the home of John Revus Sunday for a special meeting to discuss the project of having a community building. $1,000 was pledged toward the goal of having such a building for Wedgewood.

It was also decided at this meeting that the regular meetings will hereafter be held the first Monday of each month and they will be held in turn, in the homes of 5 of the members who have large enough quarters. Next month's meeting will be at the Revus home.

Saturday guests of the Lewis Sylvesters came from Chicago. They were Mr. and Mrs. Louis Schonberg, Mr. and Mrs. George Beck, Mr. and Mrs. John Palundo and Mr. and Mrs. Leo Acara.

Attend Shower

Mrs. Joe Heckenbach went to Kenosha Sunday to attend a bridal shower for her niece, Miss Angeline Schaffer, who is to be married in June.

Pam and Sherry House spent the weekend in Chicago with grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Verne House, and Jerry, with the other set, Mr. and Mrs. Ervin Pose.

Mrs. Elizabeth Becker, mother of Leo Becker, gave up her apartment in the city and will make her home in Wedgewood with the Beckers. She moved in to stay last Saturday.

Weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Miller were Mr. and Mrs. George Knollenberg. They are Mrs. Miller's parents and came from Lincoln.

Mrs. Tom Merritt's mother, Mrs. Owen Jenkins, flew back to her home in San Francisco last Friday. A farewell party was given for her at the home of Mrs. J. F. Jenkins in Park Ridge the preceding Wednesday.

Mrs. Adam Kwiecinski was hostess for a party to acquaint Mrs. Robert Schultz, new resident, with some of her neighbors. Present were Mrs. Leo Becker, Mrs. Arthur Cisewski, Mrs. Henry Combs, Mrs. Clyde House, Mrs. James Sailer and Mrs. Jim Salisbury.

Wilson Community News

There will be a spaghetti dinner, "all one can eat," given by the Wilson school PTA at the V-FW hall, Yale and Northwest hwy., Monday from 5:30 to 7:30 p.m.

The second grade brownies, accompanied by Mrs. Seppala, Mrs. Taylor and Mrs. Hawthorne, went to see the "Littlest Outlaw" Saturday.

Elk Grove Manor

It was a big evening for the party of young folks Mrs. E. Brezinski took to the Shrine circus March 4. In addition to her children, Mary and Mike, she also took Sharon DePalma, Pat Wuestenfeld, Judy Kessler and Larry Krause.

Christened

Michael Raymond Lumpp, 4½ months old, was christened Sunday afternoon, March 4, at St. Peter Evangelical Lutheran church, Arlington Heights. Sponsors were his aunt and uncles, Mr. and Mrs. William Lumpp and John Deemer.

After the christening a supper was served to friends and relatives by Michael's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Lumpp of Biesterfield rd.

Linda and Susan Kappa were on the sick list last week.

Donald Schroeder is to be congratulated on winning second prize on the Morris B. Sachs amateur contest March 4. Don won with an accordion solo "Just Because."

Among the Itasca Bethany church WSWS women serving lunch Saturday at the H. Scharringhausen auction will be Mrs. Fred Ollmann, Mrs. Harold Ollmann and Mrs. H. Zender.

Guests

Mr. and Mrs. William Noelle, Mrs. Benkwitz and Mr. and Mrs. John Kappa and children were guests for Sunday evening supper at the home of Mr and Mrs. Eugene Briars, Niles, on the occasion of the Noelles' daughter, Mrs. Briars', birthday. During the afternoon Mr. and Mrs. Noelle, Mrs. Benkwitz and Susan Kappa went to "Cinerama Holiday."

Celebrating birthdays next week are Tommy Albiniak, who will be 3 years old March 16, and Richard Glass, who will be 14 March 21.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

The idolatry of relying on material rather than spiritual power will be stressed at Christian Science services this Sunday, March 18.

Keynoting the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Matter" is the Golden Text from Isaiah (42:8): "I am the Lord: that is my name: and my glory will I not give to another, neither my praise to graven images."

Selections to be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy include the following (277:29): "Nothing we can say or believe regarding matter is immortal, for matter is temporal and is therefore a mortal phenomenon, a human concept, sometimes beautiful, always erroneous."

The following is among the passages to be read from the Bible (Isaiah 44:9): "They that make a graven image are all of them vanity; and their delectable things shall not profit; and they are their own witnesses; they see not, nor know; that they may be ashamed."

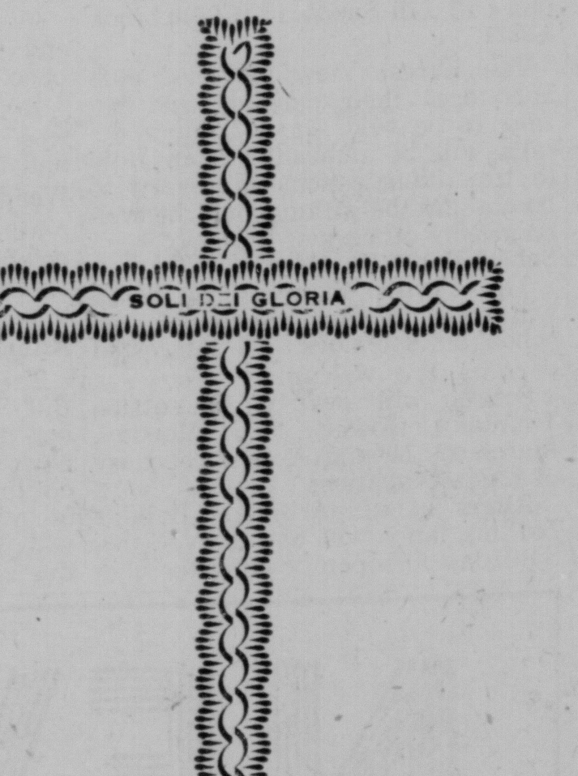
You Will Find a Welcome at These Lutheran Churches

It Is FINISHED



There are, in a sense, only two religions in the world — the "do" religion and the "done" religion.

The "do" religion tells a man that he must do this and that if he wants to get to heaven. The "done" religion tells a man that he need do nothing for everything is done.

When Christ shouted from the cross "It is finished!" the redemption of every man, woman, and child ever to be born was accomplished. The ransom price for every sinner had been paid.

All we need do now is believe it, accept it. The Christian message, in effect, is heaven's receipt, telling men "Paid in full!"

This is what the Bible says about those who have accepted God's receipt for cancelled sin through faith in Christ as Savior, "There is now therefore no condemnation to them which are in Christ Jesus." For them all is "done."

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

The idolatry of relying on material rather than spiritual power will be stressed at Christian Science services this Sunday, March 18.

Keynoting the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Matter" is the Golden Text from Isaiah (42:8): "I am the Lord: that is my name: and my glory will I not give to another, neither my praise to graven images."

Selections to be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy include the following (277:29): "Nothing we can say or believe regarding matter is immortal, for matter is temporal and is therefore a mortal phenomenon, a human concept, sometimes beautiful, always erroneous."

The following is among the passages to be read from the Bible (Isaiah 44:9): "They that make a graven image are all of them vanity; and their delectable things shall not profit; and they are their own witnesses; they see not, nor know; that they may be ashamed."

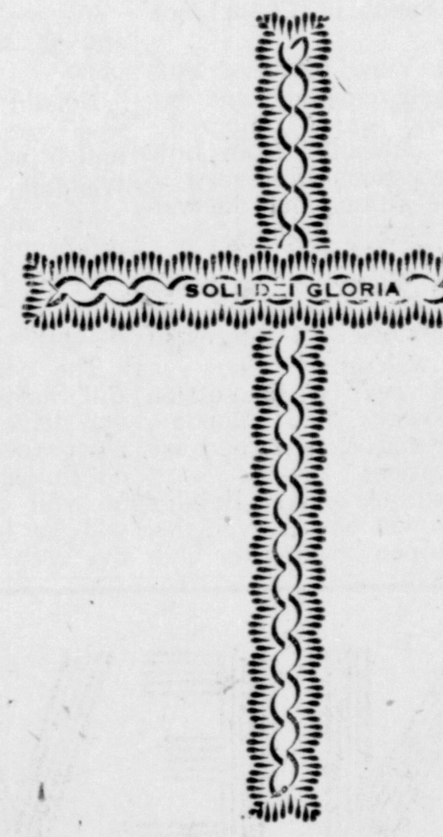
You Will Find a Welcome at These Lutheran Churches

It Is FINISHED



There are, in a sense, only two religions in the world — the "do" religion and the "done" religion.

The "do" religion tells a man that he must do this and that if he wants to get to heaven. The "done" religion tells a man that he need do nothing for everything is done.

When Christ shouted from the cross "It is finished!" the redemption of every man, woman, and child ever to be born was accomplished. The ransom price for every sinner had been paid.

All we need do now is believe it, accept it. The Christian message, in effect, is heaven's receipt, telling men "Paid in full!"

This is what the Bible says about those who have accepted God's receipt for cancelled sin through faith in Christ as Savior, "There is now therefore no condemnation to them which are in Christ Jesus." For them all is "done."

Chicago Retail Markets For Week Of March 12-17

While meats remain substantially unchanged, price increases are mvoing generally into the grocery, produce and poultry departments — notably on cooking fats and oils, and again on coffee.

Italian and Spanish olive crops went into deep freeze this season. More stringent import controls and increasing demand for U.S. exports of cottonseed and soybean oils — important ingredients in vegetable shortenings and cooking oils force wholesale prices higher. Leading shortening brands this week carry a concensus price of 3 pounds for 87 cents, up only 2 cents but heading for 10-12 cent increases.

RETAILERS begin feeling the pinch of wholesale coffee increases. Selling as a loss-leader in many stores, managers are forced to peg new higher retail this week at $1.03-1.09 on vacuum packs, honse brands up generally 4-5 cents a pound, as predicted 3 weeks ago by the University of Illinois consumer service.

In its weekly check of 800 wholesale and retail outlets, the U. of I. finds a changing pattern of values, suggesting that consumers engage in "close shopping" tactics.

In meats, beef products hold the value buy position, substantially unchanged from last week. Pork will be loss-leadered in some stores as heavy demand persists in the face of generally firmer market.

This is attributed to continued government purchases at prices well above prevailing Chicago retail. The USDA last week bought a record 16 million pounds of pork items — hams, luncheon meats, loins and lard — bringing total procurement since November to 137 million pounds.

THE UNIVERSITY of Illinois also took a mid-way look at Lenten dish possibilities and came up with this menu suggestion based on price, quality and nutrition; a creamed salmon and mushroom dish at 27 cents per 3 generous servings, consisting of 16 ounce can of peas at 16 cents, 1 pound new potatoes at six cents, 8 ounce can red salmon at 45 cents and 11 ounce can mushroom soup for the creamed sauce at 13 cents.

For St. Patrick's Day, corned

beef at 53 cents a pound and cabbage at 5 cents a pound make an excellent dish at 19 cents a serving.

Beef — choice grade steaks: round 49-59 cents, sirloin 59-69 cents, porterhouse 69-79 cents. Add average 10 cents pound to top prices for stores handling prime grades. Ground beef 29-35 cents, short rigs 19 cents, standing rib 59 cents. Blade cut chuck roast 33 cents.

Pork: Canned hams 63 cents, fresh Boston butts 29 cents, smoked picnics 29-39 cents, smoked bostons 55 cents, bacon 39 cents regular, 29 cents slab, frozen pork tenderloins 69 cents, spare ribs 39 cents, rib end roasts 29 cents, loin ends 39 cents, rib chops 29-39 cents, center cuts 59-65 cents.

Veal: Shoulder and rump roasts 39 cents and 49 cents respectively.

PRODUCE: .. Most vegetables quote strong.. Florida vine ripe tomatoes hold firm at wholesale but celery is scarcer, peppers and cucumbers up. Green beans 19 cents, Asparagus from Texas and California expected in greater volume but no real value yet. Cauliflower smaller in size and higher in price. Carrots quote 2 cello bags at 19 cents. Cabbage still 5 cents a pound.

Fruit: Top valued grapefruit 5 cents each, California oranges 220 size 39 cents dozen and Florida Valencia juice variety 176 size mostly 39 cents dozen. Truckloads of fresh Louisiana strawberries expected at lower prices.

Groceries: Coffee is the leading topic reported above. Shortening now 3 pounds for 89 cents to climb 10-12 cents within week or 10 days. Red salmon 8 ounces at 45 cents, 16 ounce peas at 15 cents, 11 ounce mushroom soup 13 cents. For dessert 2½ size elberta peach halves 34 cents. (Fm

When Coffee Stinks In Germany It Means Smugglers Go To Jail

by BILL DILLINGHAM

The odor of coffee can be a dangerous thing! It sometimes takes several years from a person's life.

This is the opinion of a smuggler who was discovered carrying coffee by a keen-nosed German guard. He has since been sentenced to jail.

To keep this smuggler company, sixty-seven accomplices from the village of Rotgen have also gone to jail.

WHEN COFFEE is bought in Belgium and sold in Germany, a 100 per cent profit can be made. This requires. of course, that the "importer" avoids the heavy German tax.

Many residents of Rotgen have been engaged in this illegal business. It was a relatively simple matter for anyone familiar with the locale to earn the equivalent of a dollar for only a few minutes' work. A walk through the trees from one farm to the next, a matter of only a few hundred yards in many cases, was enough to pocket one's expenses for an evening of beer at the local "gas-thaus."

FARMERS on the Belgian side of the border kept huge stocks of powdered coffee on hand. Customers came at all hours of the night and day.

Children who needed money for the movies frequently earned it by a quick dash across a field. Until recently, Rotgen was a town where children became self-supporting at the age when they learned to run.

The "get tough" policy of the local police is forcing more tea to be served at breakfast. The police commissioner has decreed a type of "family responsibility" for smuggling, so that when a man is caught, his wife must serve a few days in jail. The reasoning is that she served an illegal cup of coffee. This is an extreme penalty for many Germans who depend completely upon their wives.

IT WAS DISCOVERED that no value was gained in imprioning a man for a few days. Upon release, he would increase his smuggling activities to makeup for "lost" wages. And if he remained in jail under a longer sentence, friends of the family would carry extra loads.

Now, however, with more wives being imprisoned on phony chages of "handling contraband" (making a cup of coffee), the local authorities have the situation well in hand. (Bill

Puffer Appointed To National Council School Superintendents

Harry W. Gros, national president of the County and Rural Area Superintendents of Schools, today announced that he had appointed Nobel J. Puffer, Cook County Superintendent of Schools, as a member of the advisory council of the National Commission on the Intermediate Administrative unit.

This commission is attemping to provide the necessary research on the proper kind of, and services to be rendered by, a unit serving as the link between the state superintendent of public instruction and the local school district.

In some states with small school population and small counties the intermediate administrative unit may consist of two or three counties, in some the county may be the unit. While in a third area, metropolitan counties, there may be several intermediate units within a single county.

The work of the commission is to report effective organization of intermediate units in various parts of the United States so that better reorganizations can be effected where they are needed. (B-5

County Begins Tax Exemption Investigation

Investigators from the county assessor's office have begun a review of an estimated 24,000 pieces of tax-exempt property in Cook county.

The 15 investigators are beginning the review with a check of schools, churches and charitable organizations.

Equipped with maps and questionnaires, they will try to find out if any of the property exempted from taxes is being used for private profit.

County Assssor Frank Keenan estimates that it will take six months to a year to complete the investigation all over the county.

The review of tax-exempt property was urged by the Civic Federation, a taxpayers' watchdog group.

State's Attorney John Gutknecht says his investigators are also looking into the matter. (B7

German Teenager To Spend A Year At Arlington High

Dorothee Wopp, a student at the Modern Language high school for girls in Neustadt a. d. Weinstrasse, Germany, has accepted an invitation from Arlington high school to spend next year here.

Dorothee, who will be a member of the class of 1957, will take courses in American history, American literature, and other subjects which will enable her to learn more about the United States and its heritage as well as its people and their way of life.

THE IDEA of bringing a German high school student to the United States came to Dolores Hudson, AHHS German teacher, while she was in Neustadt, Germany, last year as an exchange teacher under the Fulbright program. In her work with the German girls, Miss Hudson was looking for someone who would benefit from a year's stay in the United States.

Although Dorothee was unaware of it at that time, she was selected for this award nearly a year ago. She was chosen for outstanding scholarship, leadership, citizenship, and participation in extra-curricular activities.

This winter the Teacher-Parent council formed a committee to find a family with whom Dorothee could live during her stay in this community.

The Joseph Clemens family of Prospect Heights volunteered to take Dorothee into their home. The Clemens have 2 daughters of their own; Nancy Jo is a freshman at DePauw university, and Linda, a sophomore at the high school.

WITH THE finding of a family, other plans began to progress.

A letter was sent to Dorothee inviting her to come to the United States and spend a year attending our high school and living in our community. Dorothee's answer, received by the high school just last week, showed her enthusiasm and eagerness to come. It also revealed that both she and her parents had given thoughtful consideration to the matter.

Dorothee wrote: "I don't really know how to thank you for your wonderful invitation. I just can't imagine going to America. . . . My parents think it will be wonderful for me to be able to spend a whole year in the U.S. As for me, I thank you very much indeed for inviting me. Thank you all for your troubles you had and which you will still have. I am looking forward to my visit with great excitement. It will be wonderful to see everything with my own eyes. Please, would you tell your students that I am looking forward to make their acquaintance, to go to school with them and to tell them about Germany, too." (B.

'Old Smoothies' Prove Skating Is Not A Sport Just For Youngsters

Sports may be exclusively for youth but you could never convince Orrin Markus of this.

The 63 year old, 250 pound skating star of Ice Capades' "Old Smoothies" has been skating for 58 years. Received a pair of golden skates from the City of Saint Paul on his 50th anniversary as a blade artist. Great athlete as a boy. Played minor league baseball and was rated as a big league prospect. Gave up the game to become a golf pro. Plays either right or left handed and scores in the 70's.

Taught golf in the summer, skating in the winter. Ranks as one of the finest skating instructors. First job in ice show was for two-weeks — with options. He stayed four years.

MET IRMA THOMAS, his partner in the "Old Smoothies," when she brought her twin daughters (who later skated as "The Thomas Twins" in Ice Follies), to him for skating lesson. Orrin suggested that the attracive matron also learn to skate. The twins learned well enough to become featured performers in Ice Follies; Irma became his skating partner. They auditioned for Ice Capades producer, John H. Harris.

He saw possibilities in this middle-aged skating pair. Gave them the name "Old Smoothies" and they stepped out into the spotlight to become great favorites from coast to coast and into Canada — wherever Ice Capades played. Now in the 14th year with the show. Both are grandparents and very, very proud of their roles. But they're not ready to turn over their skating assignments yet, not even to their beloved grandchildren. Not by a long shot!

Ice Capades of 1956 opens at the Chicago Stadium April 5. (Bill

Gems Of Thought

PARENTAL DELINQUENCY

I don't like to use the words "juvenile delinquency" because I have a very firm conviction that the term ought to be translated into parental failure.

—Dwight D. Eisenhower

Whence do you derive the power and privilege of a parent, when you, though an old man, do worse things than your child?

—Juvenal

Children should obey their parents; insubordination is an evil, blighting the buddings of self-government.

—Mary Baker Eddy

Diogenes struck the father when the child swore.

—Robert Burton

The standards of the so-called older generation must be raised before we can expect youth's standards to reach the mark we would all like to see.

WITH THE finding of a family, other plans began to progress.

A letter was sent to Dorothee inviting her to come to the United States and spend a year attending our high school and living in our community. Dorothee's answer, received by the high school just last week, showed her enthusiasm and eagerness to come. It also revealed that both she and her parents had given thoughtful consideration to the matter.

Dorothee wrote: "I don't really know how to thank you for your wonderful invitation. I just can't imagine going to America. . . . My parents think it will be wonderful for me to be able to spend a whole year in the U.S. As for me, I thank you very much indeed for inviting me. Thank you all for your troubles you had and which you will still have. I am looking forward to my visit with great excitement. It will be wonderful to see everything with my own eyes. Please, would you tell your students that I am looking forward to make their acquaintance, to go to school with them and to tell them about Germany, too." (B.

'Old Smoothies' Prove Skating Is Not A Sport Just For Youngsters

Sports may be exclusively for youth but you could never convince Orrin Markus of this.

The 63 year old, 250 pound skating star of Ice Capades' "Old Smoothies" has been skating for 58 years. Received a pair of golden skates from the City of Saint Paul on his 50th anniversary as a blade artist. Great athlete as a boy. Played minor league baseball and was rated as a big league prospect. Gave up the game to become a golf pro. Plays either right or left handed and scores in the 70's.

Taught golf in the summer, skating in the winter. Ranks as one of the finest skating instructors. First job in ice show was for two-weeks — with options. He stayed four years.

MET IRMA THOMAS, his partner in the "Old Smoothies," when she brought her twin daughters (who later skated as "The Thomas Twins" in Ice Follies), to him for skating lesson. Orrin suggested that the attracive matron also learn to skate. The twins learned well enough to become featured performers in Ice Follies; Irma became his skating partner. They auditioned for Ice Capades producer, John H. Harris.

He saw possibilities in this middle-aged skating pair. Gave them the name "Old Smoothies" and they stepped out into the spotlight to become great favorites from coast to coast and into Canada — wherever Ice Capades played. Now in the 14th year with the show. Both are grandparents and very, very proud of their roles. But they're not ready to turn over their skating assignments yet, not even to their beloved grandchildren. Not by a long shot!

Ice Capades of 1956 opens at the Chicago Stadium April 5. (Bill

PARENTAL DELINQUENCY

I don't like to use the words "juvenile delinquency" because I have a very firm conviction that the term ought to be translated into parental failure.

—Dwight D. Eisenhower

Whence do you derive the power and privilege of a parent, when you, though an old man, do worse things than your child?

—Juvenal

Children should obey their parents; insubordination is an evil, blighting the buddings of self-government.

—Mary Baker Eddy

Diogenes struck the father when the child swore.

—Robert Burton

The standards of the so-called older generation must be raised before we can expect youth's standards to reach the mark we would all like to see.

Definite New, Glamorous Look Identifies Spring

By GLORIA LAZOR, fashion editor

The fashion-wise woman will find shopping for new additions to her spring wardrobe a pleasure. Those who continuously put off shopping will almost be compelled to make a few changes in their wardrobes, because, for the first time in several years, fashions have a definite newness about them.

Suits, always a major item in the spring fashion picture, look newest in silk and combinations of silk with other fabrics. Suits are also found in styles suitable for all figure types.

The costume look, another spring favorite, is seen in dresses that feature jackets cut off just above the waist or capes. These often seem more like suits. Always popular and ever gaining importance is the long coat lined with the fabric of its complimentary dress.

The coat dress and the dress coat are other headliners in the spring fashion picture.

Skirts, as are suits and dresses, are slim. Even the new pleated ones achieve a slim look through clever arrangement of pleats.

COLOR, however, is the biggest news. You can toss out the old theory of the perfect match — anything goes, just as long as you know what you're doing. Shades of one color look beautiful. This is done with yellows, pinks, blues and greens.

This is the year to splash about in color . . . to use black-and-white and navy blue as if they were colors to be mixed with others . . . to treat neutrals to the one stroke of color that will really mark them for spring, 1956. And then for a pace-changer, try wearing only beige and sand tones from head to toe.

ACCESSORIES also make news. Hats are bigger to balance the slim look. They come in bright, bold colors for accent or matched tones for the one-color look. Handbags are also large.

Stockings are pale; shoes are light looking in color and shape. Jewelry is an important accent for the costume look.

Turquoise makes a big impression in the accessory color line.

THIS PRINCESS sheath in wool worsted houndstooth check features a detachable cape collar.

NO NEED TO COUNT CALORIES HERE, for Rose Marie Reid serves up a sweet treat for your figure in this bathing suit. Its mitred stripes narrow your waist, and the cuffed bra carries out the camouflage. Crisp as cotton, it is really lastex. Priced at $17.95, the suit is available in violet and pink stripes on white or turquoise and gold stripes on white.

Lines Slimmer In Men's Hats

The new men's hats for spring feature a narrower brim and a more tapered crown to conform to the slim, trim lines of the season's clothes.

The color story puts greater emphasis on lighter tones, keyed to the energence of lighter shades in men's suits and topcoats.

ADDITIONALLY, there are many new blended colors (blues, greys and greens) called "overtones." Still in the style picture, too, are the charcoal grays, browns and blacks. Introduced a season or two back, they will continue to find favor with many men, this spring.

Among sports hats, the Tyrolean will be increasingly popular. A new version made of rich imported velvet velour, smaller than Tyroleans worn in recent years, has been specially designed to go with current sports clothes.

BABY DUCKS paddle across this Bates Disciplined print. This smart little pinafore is reversible; it is completely lined with Bates sunny topaz, and the little bloomers are the same. This creates a charming look for a fastidious young lady.

Subteens Borrow From Adult Styles

Subteen fashions emulate adult preferences this spring, especially in ensembles and Oriental styling, and the result is delightful.

Ensembles for the growing-up girl represent one of the most wanted groups. Here, dresses team with long, straight coats, dusters, caftans, sleeveless boxy or bolero jackets or little capelets.

IN SUBTEEN suits, boxy jackets coupled with narrow or gently gored skirts head the favored list, with bloused backs providing a new variation of the box jacket.

Textured silks and woolens are popular, and a quality look in fabrics pervades styles in all price ranges as cottons, rayons and synthetic blends dress-disguise as silks, linens and satins.

The empire dress continues as a favorite with the junior high set. Side-slit sari dresses styled in Oriental cotton prints and pongees are liked for dress-up wear, along with other Orient-inspired fashions.

PEARL BUTTONS accent the collar of this flower-print dress for young charmers. It is shown in washable Everglaze chintz.

Ensembles Look Newest With Short Tops

Sheath dresses take new partners for spring, teaming with boleros or other short jackets, capes or stoles.

The result is a distinctive ensemble look that vies for popularity with the long favored coat and dress costume.

JACKETS, cropped at the waist or even shorter, make themselves noticed in a number of delightful ways. Some are straight and stand out from the body; some are easy-fitting. Others are straight in front and bloused in back. Both front and back closings are used.

The cape ensemble provides equally refreshing interest, particularly in elbow length styles. Capelets with back blousing or in the form of huge white collars are designer favorites and present a striking highlight atop slim woolens.

STOLES have returned as an important costume item, worn over both daytime and evening dresses. Though mostly wide and unadorned, some stoles feature buttons and pockets, producing a handsomely integrated effect.

Pretty and practical fashion is the short-sleeved costume dress designed to be worn alone just as effectively as with a jacket.

The addition of three new coat lengths to the coat and dress group is a noteworthy event.

The perennial full length coat continues to be the top favorite, but seven-eighths and three-quarter models are becoming increasingly popular, and the tunic promises to score as well.

SOME OF THE SMARTEST FASHIONS seen today are those inspired by Italy. Here is a sport coat and shirt which form a part of McGregor's Round-the-World Fashion collection. Made of a new Scotlin fabric, the coat is fashioned from a blend of rayon and Dacron that is lighter than ever, stays in shape longer, sheds wrinkles and is available in a wide range of crisp, crystal colors. To wear with this sport coat McGregor has designed a whole new array of Riviera-striped, rich-textured shirts that are Continental-styled.

Belts Wander

"Wandering - line construction is new in belt designs for spring. The belt is designed to be worn just above the natural waist in back and curves up in front to buckle at a center point just below the bustline.

Colorful Changes Bring New Look To Men's Wear

Hose Coordinate With Color Groups Of Major Styles

Color coordination is outstanding on the fashion scene this season, and spring and summer hosiery follows the pace.

Stockings have been lightly color-kissed in Oriental tones to match up with the Eastern influence in major fabric and leather color groups. But, in all the new stocking shades, delicacy is the keynote.

NYLONS with color names such as, "Persian Rose," "Pink Poppy," or "Bali Rose" are delicately tinged with pink or peach. They're designed to wear with pink to rose-red fashions.

Then there are stockings in pale-tinted gold, which all point up the fashion liking for yellow.

To wear with costumes in ivory, off-white cream and beige, there are nylons in pale blonde tones with the provocative names of "Water Lily," "Bamboo," and "Chopsticks."

Far East Gives Cue To Slim Coat Fashions

Spring dictates a slim, lightweight story for coats. Many taking their cues from the Orient, are bamboo-pole-slim.

In others, the narrowness is eased by broader shoulder treatment or gradually widening hemlines, achieved by flat width at front and back spreading from a natural shoulder line.

Coats are frequently designed to pair easily with dresses for a costume effect.

Novelty fabrics with unusual textures add distinction to spring's simple yet sophisticated coat lines. Blends of silk and wool that have a soft tweed or silken effect are of major importance, followed closely by woven wools and silks.

Linens too are beautiful in tweed and basket-weave effects. Often they are blended with wool for fabrics with wool's warmth and moldability and linen's texture qualities.

ESPECIALLY suited to the new textured fabrics is the Orient-inspired coat. Generally if follows the caftan or mandarin silhouette with stalk-slim lines and deep slits at the side seams.

Often this coat is decorated with embroidery and other detail. Pale beige tones are most effective in setting off the woven fabrics.

The illusion of a broader shoulder line is sometimes created with capelet sleeves or deep capes directing the eye to the top. Wrap coats, tapering imperceptibly to the hemline, also give the effect of shoulder width.

EMPIRE silhouettes, with high seams from which the coat bells slightly to the hemline, are important for spring. Bow treatments often add to the regal effect of the style.

The tunic look, so important last fall, has been modified for spring to a tunic length coat. The unfitted reefer or tube Chesterfield scores a hit as an interpretation of spring's popular easy-slim silhouette. It is generally seen in smooth wools or tweedy silks.

Because it steps so nicely into summer, the versatile shortie is a star of the spring coat picture. Newest ones have panel backs and are hip length. They are prettiest in water pastel colors or white and when designed in basket-weave and other textured woolens such as cloud-like fleece.

IMPORTED SCOTCH plaids highlight Jantzen's "Tartan" Knee-Hi's for lounging hours. Designed in a variety of handsome separates in family styles, the completely lined walkers are sun-and-water tested and feature side zipper and pockets to store sunbathing essentials. In regular and junior sizes, they are priced at $6.95.

New Trends Reflected In Sportswear

Not one, but several fashion influences bid for favor in men's spring sportswear.

These include the well-set continental trend, new pattern and color themes from the Far East, and, here at home, the very prevalent Ivy stylings.

These sources, together, result in such highlights in the style news as stripes in walk shorts, blazers and sport shirts, one-piece and button down shirt collars, very neat and very bold shirt patterns, and slim slacks and textured sport coats. Sportswear colors are generally lighter and softer down the line, teamed to contrast.

SPORTS jackets for the new season conform to the nation-wide "natural look," featuring natural body contour lines and less padded shoulders. They are predominately two-and-three-button models, although four button models with very short, narrow lapels will be available to the man with a taste for "Edwardian" styles.

Lighterweight fabrics are a most important feature, and there is a trend away from shaggy fabrics which have a heavier appearance.

Popular choices will be three-button jackets, in lightweight vertical stripe woolens, muted glen plaid worsteds and smooth herringbone tweeds. One of the biggest sellers for summer will be the featherweight sport jacket, weighing one pound, in white or light gray nubby wool.

The current keen interest in sportscars has created a big demand for what have become known as "sportscar clothes," notably the short topcoat, the fingertip length outer jacket and the waist length jacket.

MOST popular items in the duffer coat field are single or double breasted models with leather, rope-and-wood-peg or "dog-leash" fastenings at the front, wide collars, bright plaid linings and often, detachable hoods.

Finger tip jackets are tailored to hang straight from the shoulders, with large flap pockets and leather buttons. However some of the styles feature wool-knit roll collar and cuffs, so that the whole garment slips over the head.

Colorful Changes Bring New Look To Men's Wear

Hose Coordinate With Color Groups Of Major Styles

Color coordination is outstanding on the fashion scene this season, and spring and summer hosiery follows the pace.

Stockings have been lightly color-kissed in Oriental tones to match up with the Eastern influence in major fabric and leather color groups. But, in all the new stocking shades, delicacy is the keynote.

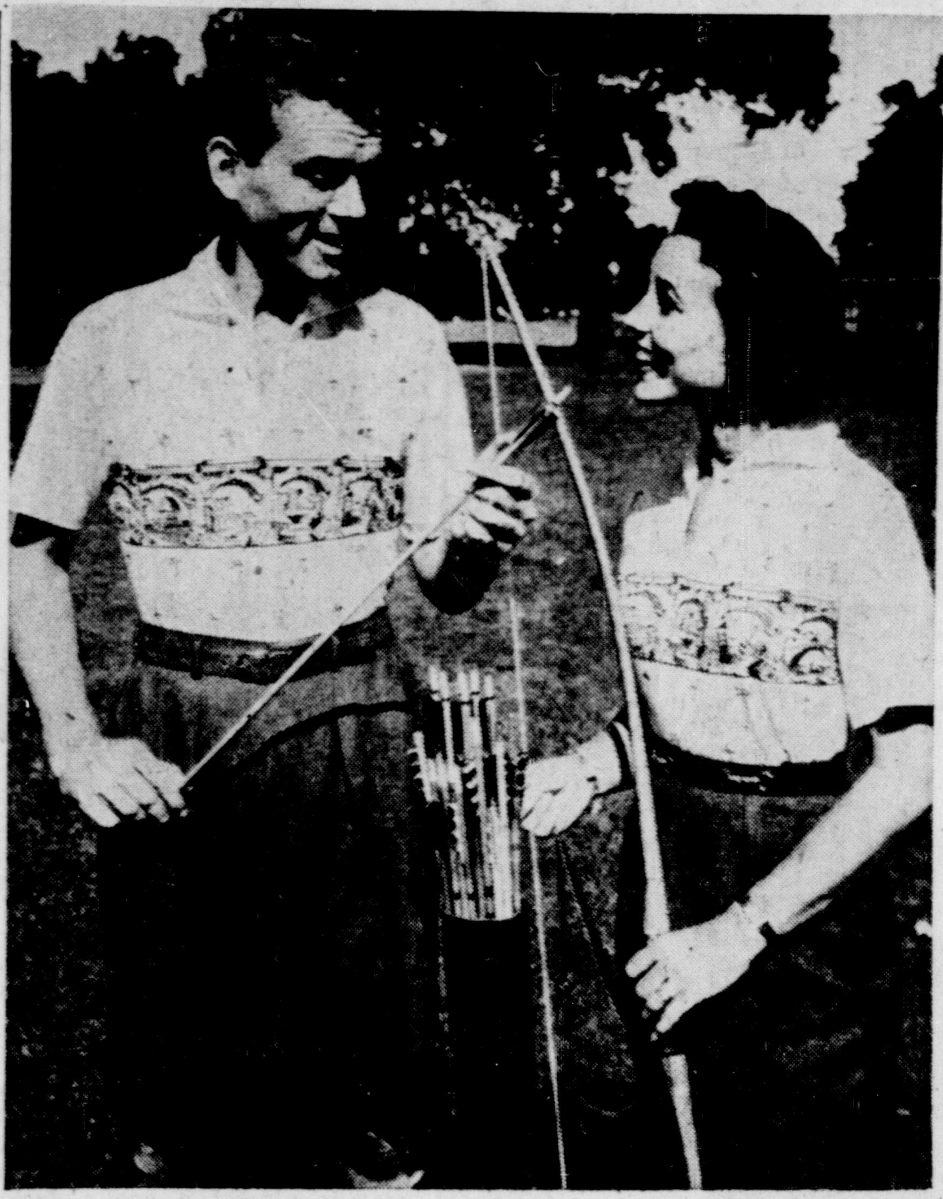
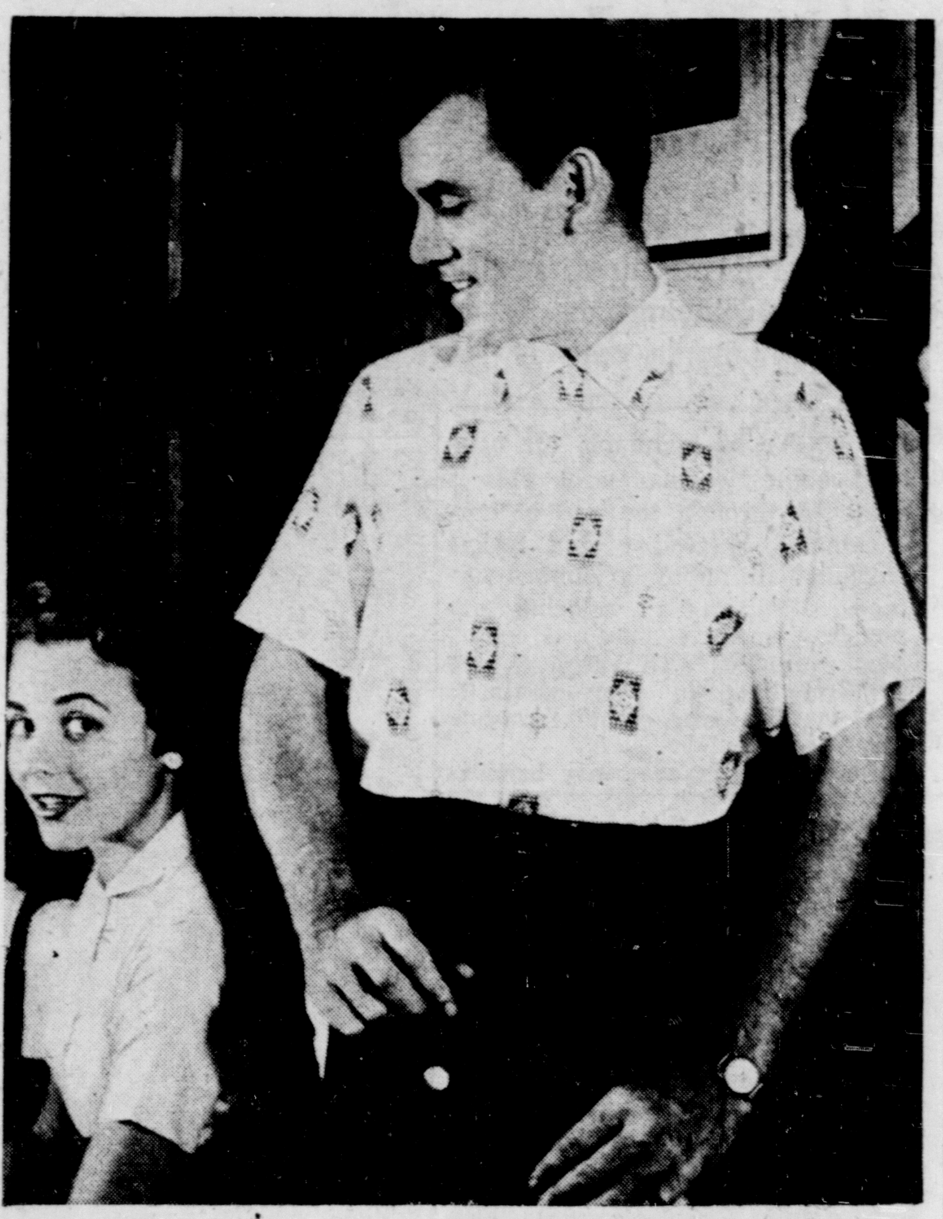
NYLONS with color names such as, "Persian Rose," "Pink Poppy," or "Bali Rose" are delicately tinged with pink or peach. They're designed to wear with pink to rose-red fashions.

Then there are stockings in pale-tinted gold, which all point up the fashion liking for yellow.

To wear with costumes in ivory, off-white cream and beige, there are nylons in pale blonde tones with the provocative names of "Water Lily," "Bamboo," and "Chopsticks."



THIS FEATHERLOCK SHIRT by Wilson Brothers features a squall collar, slit neck opening and short sleeves. It has the original print of scenic old world chest stripes with small daggers spaced over the remainder of the front. Available in aquamarine, mellow gold and apricot, it is priced at $3.95.



HERE IS A COMPLETELY WASHABLE rayon linen weave sportshirt by Wilson Brothers with the new Buff saber stay collar. This short sleeve shirt with its two open pockets comes in bamboo, green, tan and blue and is priced at $3.95.

Far East Gives Cue To Slim Coat Fashions

Spring dictates a slim, lightweight story for coats. Many taking their cues from the Orient, are bamboo-pole-slim.

In others, the narrowness is eased by broader shoulder treatment or gradually widening hemlines, achieved by flat width at front and back spreading from a natural shoulder line.

Coats are frequently designed to pair easily with dresses for a costume effect.

Novelty fabrics with unusual textures add distinction to spring's simple yet sophisticated coat lines. Blends of silk and wool that have a soft tweed or silken effect are of major importance, followed closely by woven wools and silks.

Linens too are beautiful in tweed and basket-weave effects. Often they are blended with wool for fabrics with wool's warmth and moldability and linen's texture qualities.

ESPECIALLY suited to the new textured fabrics is the Orient-inspired coat. Generally if follows the caftan or mandarin silhouette with stalk-slim lines and deep slits at the side seams.

Often this coat is decorated with embroidery and other detail. Pale beige tones are most effective in setting off the woven fabrics.

The illusion of a broader shoulder line is sometimes created with capelet sleeves or deep capes directing the eye to the top. Wrap coats, tapering imperceptibly to the hemline, also give the effect of shoulder width.

EMPIRE silhouettes, with high seams from which the coat bells slightly to the hemline, are important for spring. Bow treatments often add to the regal effect of the style.

The tunic look, so important last fall, has been modified for spring to a tunic length coat. The unfitted reefer or tube Chesterfield scores a hit as an interpretation of spring's popular easy-slim silhouette. It is generally seen in smooth wools or tweedy silks.

Fabric Picture Shows Silks, Linens In Lead

Fashion spotlights textured, lightweight fabrics for spring, with subdued patterning and monotone tweedy effects. The 2 major influences are linen and silk.

Many fabrics contain linen alone or in mixtures, or else attain its textured effect in other fiber combinations.

Cotton, linen and rayon often combine in unusual reversible coatings. In sophisticated Oriental-styled-coats natural textured linens and basket-weave linen tweeds are beautiful.

Silk has reached a new peak of popularity and versatility, making its spring debut in every field of fashion from the basic suit to the little evening sheath. Often it has a tweedy character.

A KNIT-look highlights the new-lightweight blends of wool. This is achieved through the use of hopsacking, basketweave and boucle woolens with nubby or slubbed surfaces. Oatmeal coloring emphasizes spring's "natural look." Wool combines with cotton as well as with linen in many coats to achieve the important light-textured feeling.

New colors in coats are luscious blues and butter yellows.

Woolen suits and dresses appear in paper-thin or chiffon weight fabrics. Fine tweeds, basic to every classic wardrobe, appear in pastel shades and get an extra soft look from mixtures of wool with rabbit or angora.

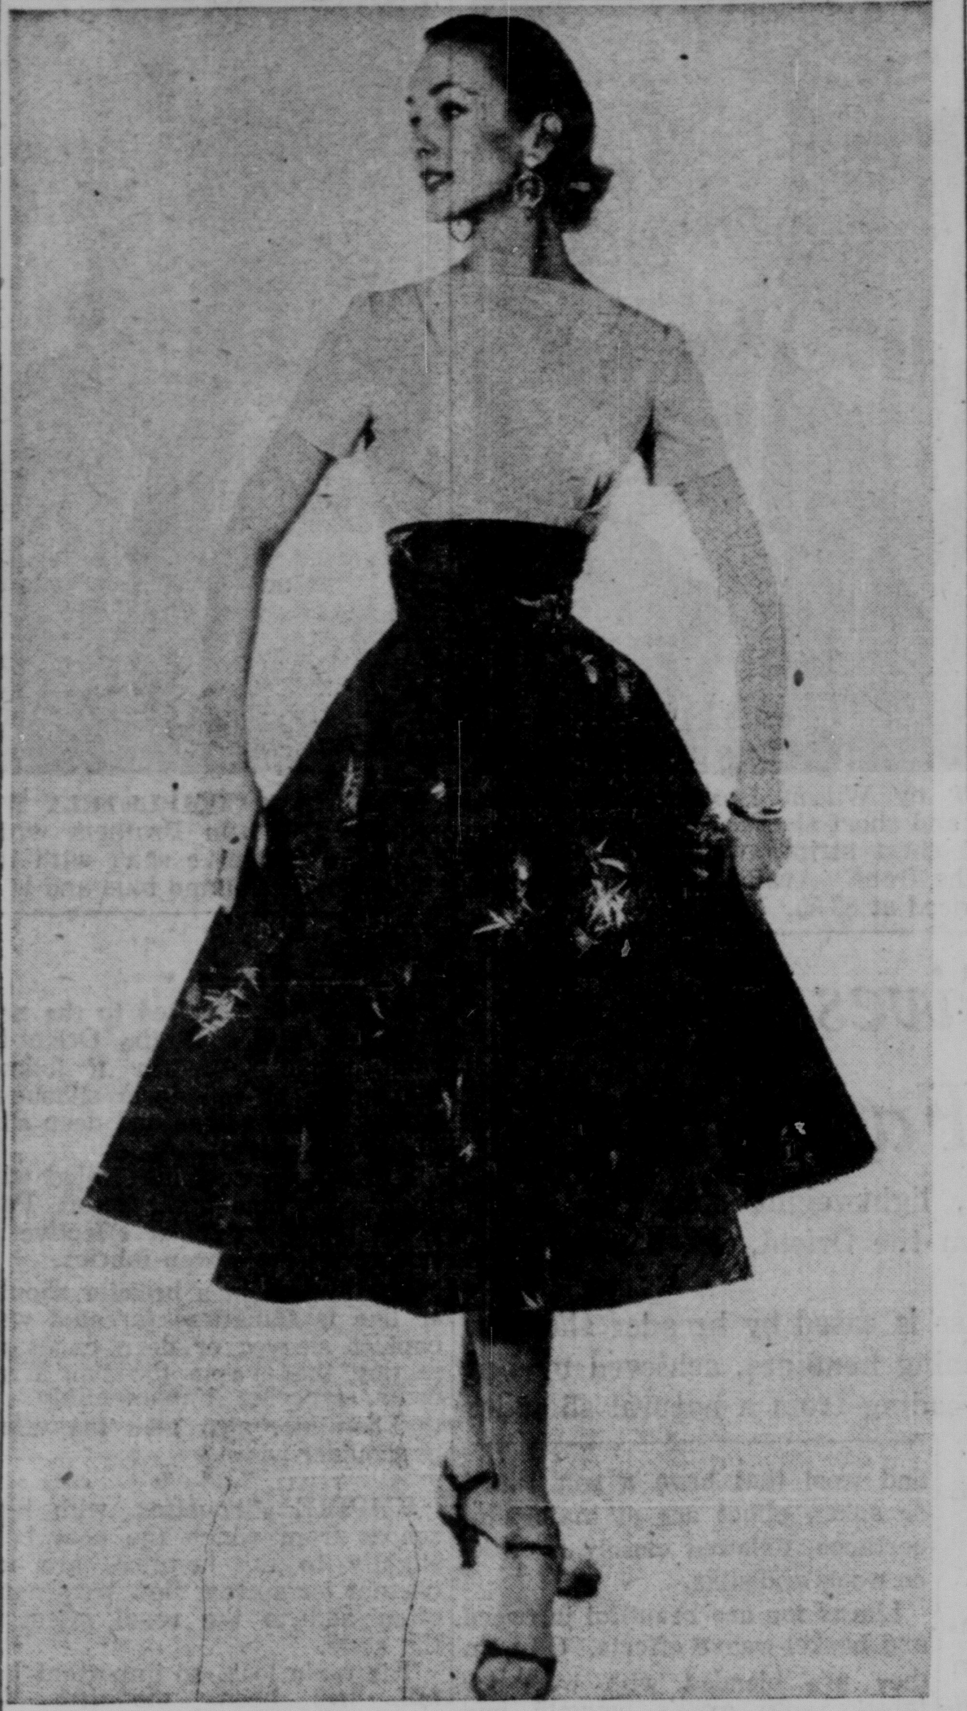
OTHER important suit fabrics for spring are wool barathea, worsted crepes, fine twill and silk with mohair blends.

Spring evenings will float by in a swirl of transparent sheers. Pet of the season is the silk chiffon for cocktail dresses. Paper taffetas and satiny surfaced silks are also important.

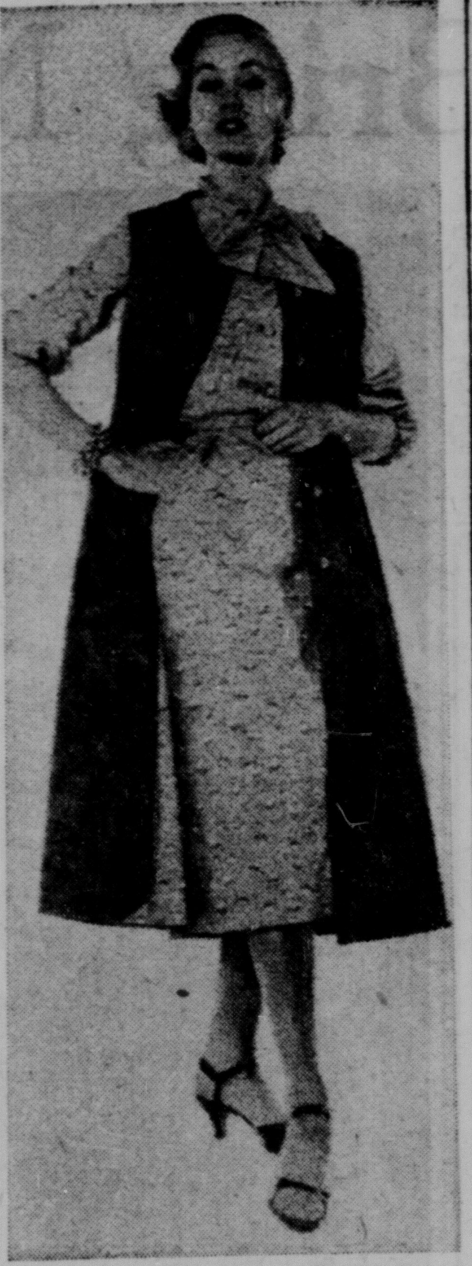
They're In Tiers

Slips and petticoats for girls' full-skirted dresses are styled with multiple tiers or ruffles. Triple skirts springing from hip yokes give the petticoats a party-dress look.

A popular slip style is in embroidered polished cotton with a camisole top.



COTTON SEPARATES are gaining new character every season. Here we see cotton handled as silk in a charming blouse with a bateau neckline, and empire line under the bust for an utterly feminine look. The full gored skirt is lined with Pellon, which means it retains this pretty shape. The new Oriental influence in fashion is evident in this "Bird and Leaves" pattern. The blouse picks up the pink of the leaves in Bates Disciplined fabric.



THIS ENSEMBLE designed by Butterick features the sheath dress and sheath coat, both in Bates Disciplined cotton. The coat is almost a coolie design and is completely lined with the same print as the dress, a tiny daisy on a light mustard ground. The coat is a deeper shade.

Trend Is To No-Iron Fabrics

Wash and wear fabrics take first place in children's wear for spring, as new cottons that require little or no ironing compete for popularity with nylons and other synthetics.

Children's coats and suits show a trend to hopsacking and basket weaves, suede cloths, flannels and tweeds. Wool and cotton blends are favored too.

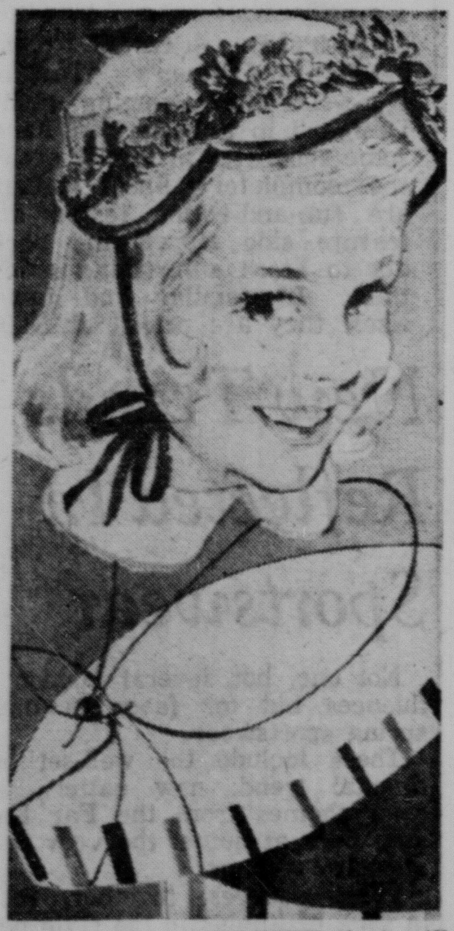
CRISP SHEERS look new in bouffant styles and get a bigger play among young folks than in the adult field.

Colors in all fabrics are lighter, with white appearing alone, as an accent or mingled with other shades.

Cottons with a satin stripe or sheen contribute to the brighter look, which is also seen in plaids.

THERE ISN'T A CHILD in the United States who doesn't know and love all the Walt Disney characters. Bates Fabrics was selected by Walt Disney as the only cotton manufacturer in the United States to do a group of Disneyland prints, and shown here is one of Bates disciplined dresses designed for your daughter.



HERE IS A BONNET that will enhance the Easter outfit of any young miss. Made by Cinderella, it has a velvet trimmd scalloped edge and is priced at $1.95.

Buttons Favored

Dresses sport buttons in unusual ways this spring. Especially effective on slim dresses, buttons appear at the front for a midriff-defining effect, across shoulders, down sleeves, from under arms to hem, or on double-breasted front panels.

Many are simply made, of pearl or bone or covered with fabric to match or contrast with the dress.

Self-covered fabrics are varied, including wools, flannels, silks and cotton jersey.

'Wash Wear' Togs, Hot Weather Boon

The problem of keeping a neat appearance during the summer heat is becoming a thing of the past as more and more men discover the convenience and comfort of 'wash and wear' suits and slacks.

The garments' high content of modern fibers, makes it possible to wash the garment, then wear it the next day with little or no ironing. The freshly washed garment is simply taken from the wash water dripping wet hung on a non-staining hanger and allowed to drip dry.

Spring takes shape in this deep-set hat with its matching bag . . . of embroidered linen in two tones of fresh green. Just one from our collection of Easter Millinery.

SPRING PREFERENCE for bulkier hats and a new treatment for rough straws account for the popularity of cloches like this one. The tall, conical crown is opulently draped in striped silk.

BEAUTIFUL Swiss embroidery in a delicate floral design highlights this bathing suit ensemble that is part of Jantzen's new collection this season.

Sport slacks for spring and summer will continue with the narrow, tapered "university" look.

Glamour Prevails For Gal On The Go

All factors combine to make traveling this season a particularly happy event for the fashion-wise gal on the go.

Whether she travels alone, with family or with friends, whether she takes a 'round the world cruise or a week-end trip, she's certain to travel in high style and comfort.

Both glamour and convenience are important features of her travel wardrobe.

NOW THAT practically everything from cotton to leather is processed for easy washing and easy care, the feminine traveler can give fashion free reign, without having to worry about whether her clothing is practical for traveling. Automatically, it will be.

Another bright side of this picture is that what she buys to take with her will be equally right to wear when she comes home.

Of course, dressy separates, sportswear and casual dresses will probably continue to be the mainstay of her travel wardrobe. They're all good travelers, and, more important, they offer infinite opportunities to mix and match for costume variety.

Elegance Highlights The Slender Silhouette Of Spring

Slimness with animation is the fashion theme for spring, as the understated elegance of the slender silhouette yields to the feminine, youthful influence of many pretty details.

Tucks, draping, pleats and panel-pleats or floating back panels add variety to beltless, semi-fitted sheaths, while the high-rising waistline of dresses and suits heralds the return of the empire look to fashion prominence.

With waistlines generally higher, the waist-length or shorter jacket for dresses or suits emerges as one of the most important spring trends. It appears sometimes as a fitted jacket, sometimes as a bolero, straight and short or dipping lower and blousing in back.

Other popular tops are stoles, with or without sleeves, and little capes.

THROUGHOUT spring fashions, the bloused back deserves attention. Suits and coats use it boldly; dresses modify it. Either way, it makes a big contribution to feminine easing of straight and narrow styles.

In fabrics, surface interest is the big story, with silks and woolens making special news in rustic weaves and blends. Navy is again a leading color. Also high on the color list are black, the blond-and-beige family and various shades of blue.

Prints have an Oriental feeling which extends to fabrics and is carried out by the extensive use of silk.

A NEW approach to the slim look is indicated by the sheath that looks narrow but isn't, the suit with the pleated or gently flaring skirt, the coat with straight lines that artfully conceals its comfortable, roomy cut.

New-looking, too, are the fuller skirted sytles, a persistent minority for spring. "Belled Fullness" is the way designers identify this type of styling, and it proves again that, even when slim lines are prevalent, many women find full skirts most flattering and most fashion-right for them.

A LOOK of slimness with full-skirt ease and grace is acheived by pleats. This season, pleating makes its play for fashion in pleasing and diversified ways from the high back pleat seen in many sheaths to all-around accordion pleats.

Side pleats are used to enhance the slim line, as are other style devices or trims which focus the interest at the side, back or top of the silhouette.

Button trimmings are everywhere, and bustline pocket flaps or welts draw attention to the empire-waist effect.

ALL-OVER waffle pattern, ribbed boat neck and sleeve edging give distinction to the knitted sheath.

PATENT LEATHER handbag with contrasting striped lining has room for plenty.

Have Many Looks

Party-going fashions for juniors include a variety of looks. They may follow the sleek, sophisticated line, turn to the tunic, or flare out into floating skirts of solid-colored chiffon or printed silk.

Lighter Weights Predominate In New Spring Topcoats

The current swing to lighter weights in every segment of a man's wardrobe is reflected in the new topcoats for Spring.

Tweed will continue to register sharp gains over its nearest rival, gabardine, with cheviots, saxonies, and coverts bringing up the procession in about that order.

THE COLOR trend, as in all men's wear, is away from dark shades to light and medium tones. Gray will be the leading basic color, except on gabardines, where it will be tan. Herringbones, and small checks will be favored among the tweeds, many of which will feature duo-tone effects, such as blends of brown and white and blue with gray.

In general, the style trend is in the direction of greater formality and elegance in topcoats. Lines will be predominately straight from the shoulder. Many models will feature notch collars, fly-front closings and extra ticket pockets.

Shorter Skirts

Without fanfare, skirts have been made slightly shorter. Just below the knee lengths appear in the spring collections of some designers.

SPRING PREFERENCE for bulkier hats and a new treatment for rough straws account for the popularity of cloches like this one. The tall, conical crown is opulently draped in striped silk.

BEAUTIFUL Swiss embroidery in a delicate floral design highlights this bathing suit ensemble that is part of Jantzen's new collection this season.

Sport slacks for spring and summer will continue with the narrow, tapered "university" look.

Glamour Prevails For Gal On The Go

All factors combine to make traveling this season a particularly happy event for the fashion-wise gal on the go.

Whether she travels alone, with family or with friends, whether she takes a 'round the world cruise or a week-end trip, she's certain to travel in high style and comfort.

Both glamour and convenience are important features of her travel wardrobe.

NOW THAT practically everything from cotton to leather is processed for easy washing and easy care, the feminine traveler can give fashion free reign, without having to worry about whether her clothing is practical for traveling. Automatically, it will be.

Another bright side of this picture is that what she buys to take with her will be equally right to wear when she comes home.

Of course, dressy separates, sportswear and casual dresses will probably continue to be the mainstay of her travel wardrobe. They're all good travelers, and, more important, they offer infinite opportunities to mix and match for costume variety.

Elegance Highlights The Slender Silhouette Of Spring

Slimness with animation is the fashion theme for spring, as the understated elegance of the slender silhouette yields to the feminine, youthful influence of many pretty details.

Tucks, draping, pleats and panel-pleats or floating back panels add variety to beltless, semi-fitted sheaths, while the high-rising waistline of dresses and suits heralds the return of the empire look to fashion prominence.

With waistlines generally higher, the waist-length or shorter jacket for dresses or suits emerges as one of the most important spring trends. It appears sometimes as a fitted jacket, sometimes as a bolero, straight and short or dipping lower and blousing in back.

ALL-OVER waffle pattern, ribbed boat neck and sleeve edging give distinction to the knitted sheath.

Other popular tops are stoles, with or without sleeves, and little capes.

THROUGHOUT spring fashions, the bloused back deserves attention. Suits and coats use it boldly; dresses modify it. Either way, it makes a big contribution to feminine easing of straight and narrow styles.

In fabrics, surface interest is the big story, with silks and woolens making special news in rustic weaves and blends. Navy is again a leading color. Also high on the color list are black, the blond-and-beige family and various shades of blue.

Prints have an Oriental feeling which extends to fabrics and is carried out by the extensive use of silk.

A NEW approach to the slim look is indicated by the sheath that looks narrow but isn't, the suit with the pleated or gently flaring skirt, the coat with straight lines that artfully conceals its comfortable, roomy cut.

PATENT LEATHER handbag with contrasting striped lining has room for plenty.

New-looking, too, are the fuller skirted sytles, a persistent minority for spring. "Belled Fullness" is the way designers identify this type of styling, and it proves again that, even when slim lines are prevalent, many women find full skirts most flattering and most fashion-right for them.

A LOOK of slimness with full-skirt ease and grace is acheived by pleats. This season, pleating makes its play for fashion in pleasing and diversified ways from the high back pleat seen in many sheaths to all-around accordion pleats.

Side pleats are used to enhance the slim line, as are other style devices or trims which focus the interest at the side, back or top of the silhouette.

Button trimmings are everywhere, and bustline pocket flaps or welts draw attention to the empire-waist effect.

Have Many Looks

Party-going fashions for juniors include a variety of looks. They may follow the sleek, sophisticated line, turn to the tunic, or flare out into floating skirts of solid-colored chiffon or printed silk.

Lighter Weights Predominate In New Spring Topcoats

The current swing to lighter weights in every segment of a man's wardrobe is reflected in the new topcoats for Spring.

Tweed will continue to register sharp gains over its nearest rival, gabardine, with cheviots, saxonies, and coverts bringing up the procession in about that order.

THE COLOR trend, as in all men's wear, is away from dark shades to light and medium tones. Gray will be the leading basic color, except on gabardines, where it will be tan. Herringbones, and small checks will be favored among the tweeds, many of which will feature duo-tone effects, such as blends of brown and white and blue with gray.

Colorful Accessories Spice New-Season Costumes

Sportswear Stresses International Flavor Plus Easier Care

Sportswear with an international flavor captures fashion's imagination for spring, as separates combine foreign themes with slim American lines and modern easy-care qualities.

From the Orient come tiny prints and exotic colors in silk and fine cotton blouses, and tunics that cover everything from bathing suits, shorts and slacks to almost-formal separates. Caftan or mandarin coats, often sleeveless, often knit, act as cool weather cover-ups.

FROM ITALY, slim slacks, not tapered but slender all the way up, are new, combined with ever-popular cotton knit shirts or easy overblouses.

A growing influence this yar is Spanish, seen sometimes in cotton blouses with delicate lacy designs, sometimes in hand crocheted wool mantilla blouses. From France, striped middies are gaining in importance.

England's classic, the cashmere, receives new interpretation this year in the elongated look in pullovers and the waist-length look for cardigans and twin sets. Many of the sweaters have dyed-to-match skirts.

COLOR keying follows a variety of trends. A skirt may pick up the dominant color in its accompanying print blouse, or a tone on tone effect may be achieved.

Knit dresses, long loved for their versatility and packability, have multiplied their virtues. Many of the new fabric blends of snythetics with cotton and rayon or linen and wool give them a textured look and increase their wonder-care qualities.

The synthetic-blend knits are hand-washable, need no ironing or blocking, and can be hemmed, making it possible for the smaller woman to wear a one-piece knit. Most popular are sophisticated scoop or bateau neck sheaths with their own bolero, short jacket or coat cover-ups.

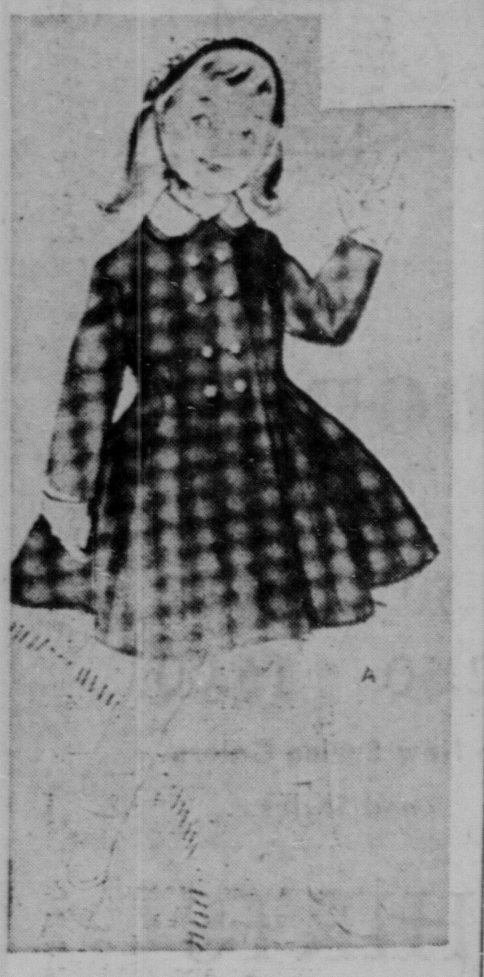
PANTS go to all lengths this year, from long, tapered slacks, sometimes with vertical stripes to emphasize the leggy look, to extra-short shorts.

Replacing Bermudas as an inbetweener are Jamaica shorts, slightly shorter than Bermudas and much more flattering. Cotton chinos in all lengths are popular in coordination with bright calico print blouses.

Major colors in spring sportswear are apricot, yellow, mint, blue and pink.



BAMBURY COATS are gay as a carnival and fun for any little girl to wear. Here is a double-breasted fitted style in all worsted gabardine. It features Bambury's add-a-year hems and a detachable white linen collar. In navy, it is priced at $12.95 in sizes 3 to 6X and $14.95 in sizes 7 to 14.

FROM YOUNGLAND'S GARDEN FLOWER group comes this dress of pastel flowers on white dotted swiss organdy over a ruffled pink organdy petticoat. A separate pink satin sash ties in a butterfly bow in back and a dainty white lace ruffle traces the rounded neckline and tiny cap sleeves. In sizes 3 to 6X, this afternoon dress for youngsters is $8.98, and in sizes 7 to 12 it is $10.98.

SPRING FASHION centered around the bolero finds an enchanting exponent in a costume of checked, lightweight worsted. The costume combines a slim skirt that has its own camisole, pique blouse and bolero with pique cuffs.

THIS SHEATH SILHOUETTE features taut skirted shirring for hipline flattery. A rhinestone triangle sparks the bodice and lends evening gown elegance typical of Rose Marie Reid. Of elasticized bengaline, the suit is available in mint, lemon, marine, orchid and black and is priced at $19.95.

Boys' Togs Feature Stripes, Campus Cut, Lightened Colors

What are little boys' fashions made of? This spring the answer seems to be Ivy League togs and everything stripes.

Since its inception last year, the campus cut in boys' clothes has gained considerably in popularity. One important reason is the more wearable color-range witnessed this season.

WHITENED colors make this a light, bright spring and are a striking change from deep and charcoaled tones. Light and medium grays and tans in solids, tweeds and fancy patterns emerge as the big suit and coat colors, while light blues are close runners-up.

Stripes blaze across the boys' apparel horizon in a big way, appearing in everything from tweedy coatings and washable suits to blazer jackets and slacks and shirt sets. Blazers lean to the conservative and dressy side.

AN ITALIAN look finds wide approval in casual shirt and shorts sets, with stripes appearing again as an important factor in developing the look. Here, as in most of this season's boyswear, the cut and look of Dad's clothes are effectively imitated.

Favorite trouser style this year is the tapered, no-pleat model with back-buckled belt.

Considerable interest is centered on the silk look in rayon and acetate suitings which are styled to look like Italian silk or silk shantung.

WHITE TOUCHES on favored navy highlight a sheer crepe dress. Distinctively feminine, the handkerchief-linen-lace gilet is detachable.

Low Torso Finds Place In Picture

Light in color and fabric, long of torso and with lots of frills—such is the picture of girls' fashions for spring.

The lightweight fabrics and pastel colors follow the over-all trend of the season, but interest greater strength among the grade school set than in older age groups.

AS FOR frills, they are the designers' answer to young fashionables' demand for more dressy apparel.

Why is it that almost all girls' dresses, suits and separates have long torso lines, instead of sharing favored empire waistline?

The explanation is not hard to find, for it lies in the figure requirements of the girls' themselves. The long torso, with its hipline cuffs, back belts and sashes, is much more flattering to the figure of the growing girl from toddlers on up.

USUALLY, this spring's dresses for girls couple the low torso with a bouffant skirt to produce a dainty and feminine look. Pinafore styling is liked, with either a real or simulated pinafore.

When the silhouette is slim, it frequently is Orient-inspired. Catering again to figure needs are cotton suits with pleated skirts and mandarin jackets. Such suits usually have a matching overskirt.

TAILORED dresses get a feminine treatment in the form of white collars and cuffs, button trimming and color contrast piping.

Pastels mingle with white to create color news for girls in all fabrics and in slim or bouffant styles. Notable are pastel tweed coats, light in weight as well as hue, and pastel plaid cotton dresses.

GOLDEN tones also stand out in the spring color palette for girls. The golden yellows are seen in tweed and lightweight, woolen coats, in dotted Swiss dresses and even in shoes.

Metallic threads in dressy dress fabrics repeat both the golden glow and the Oriental influence.

Prints show a variety of florals and geometrics.

Lingerie Shows Oriental Airs, Empire Effects

With Oriental influences and empire lines dominant, lingerie and sleepwear follow the latest fashion trends and add some fabric news of their own, in the form of newly-developed non-tectured, no-iron cottons and blends of miracle synthetics with silk.

The smooth surface of such fabrics as little-or-no-iron cotton batiste, broadcloth or lawn permits more elaborate detailing.

Tucks, smocking, shirring, draping or embroidery combine with lace and ribbon trims to give spring lingerie a delicate, feminine air.

Silk-synthetic blends with the texture of crepe or satin are liked for the opulent appearance and easy-care advantages. Drapability is a factor here too, and often results in a custom-made look.

Along with the newer fabrics, embossed cottons, plisses, nylons and cotton-synthetics get fresh attractive treatments.

Plain or fancy, slips and petticoats are designed with an eye to their appropriateness under spring fashions. A complete lingerie wardrobe should include both slim and full-skirted silhouettes.

SLENDER SLIPS make effective use of the empire effect, with tucked and ribbon-trimmed bodices.

For spring slumbers, popular entries are knicker pajamas and straight shorts with long torso tops. The latter style is a variation on the "baby doll" combination of shortie top with bloomer briefs.

Pajamas, waltz or full length robes and gowns take mandarin necklines or caftan-coat side slits.

Beauty 'Looks' Offer Variety

Individualy is the key to spring beauty, and appropriately so in a season when fashion is more than ever dedicated to the concept that "what's right for you is fashion right."

Beauty "looks" vary from the sophisticated and Oriental to the sweetly feminine. The results are beautiful.

THOSE who like the Oriental look can modify it to suit themselves and to fit the mood of an Occidental spring.

The basic recipe is this: powder base and powder in pale tones, blue-red or orange-red lipstick, rouge and nail polish, eye cosmetics used to give eyes and brows a slight upward tilt. The lipline is slightly thinner, rouge high on cheekbones.

Light or bright shades of lipstick and rouge, used subtly, contribute to the feminine look. Floral or woodsy scents are part of the womanly spirit of spring.

FLOWING VELVET

This modern flowing formula has helped countless women—just like you—who had despaired of a dry, prematurely aging skin.

Jacqueline Cochran has found a whole new answer to the dry skin problem and its main cause, the dehydration of the sub-surface tissues. After years of research, she discovered Hydrolin, a new ingredient that, for the first time, can and does transfer beneficial moisture into the deep tissues of the skin. Thanks to exclusive Hydrolin, blended with other rich components, Jacqueline Cochran created an entirely new kind of 3-way beauty formula.

Unique Flowing Velvet acts 3-ways:

It furnishes moisture that actually sinks into your skin.
It provides necessary oils for essential lubrication.
It maintains the normal balance of oils and moisture.

One touch mirrors the beautiful change! Tiny lines soften, years seem to melt away. Use Flowing Velvet day and night. It's hormone-free, greaseless, won't smear your make-up or smudge your pillow.

Our specially trained Jacqueline Cochran expert will be happy to show you what just a few drops of richly concentrated Flowing Velvet will actually do for your skin.

Bright Shades Add Flavor To Color Recipe

Soft, party-cake hues from the off-white of whipped cream to shades of cocoa icing herald spring's warm, light approach to color.

The basic recipe is founded on beige-brown, black and gray monotones in suits and coats.

Navy headlines dress collections. Flashes of color are introduced in accessories — turquoise and red are important. Frequently tweeds, checks, dots and plaids supplement the solid color look.

PARTICULARLY effective in this year's important subtly textured fabrics, the beige tones range from the lightest of creamy shades to amber. They appear most often in monotone tweed blends of silk, wool and worsted or worsted with silk, linen, or cotton.

Some curry tones in suits spice the generally neutral color picture. Tawny shades with the names of apricot, brandy and cognac flavor silk dress collections.

PASTELS closely follow the basic neutrals in fashion's favor in the spring suit picture. Delphinium blues, creamy greens, pinks and yellow are especially beautiful in lightweight tweeds and flannel suitings.

Blues are played in many keys. Navy, dominant in the basic crepe and sheer wool dress, sometimes has a hairline pin-stripe running through it, or is accented in striking white.

DES PLAINES VA 4-7172

HERE'S A SMART FROCK for the discriminating young miss. It is a Polly Flinders creation featuring a lace trimmed Peter Pan collar and smocking at the waist.

Sheath Is Young Basic For Season

Juniors step into spring with a cosmopolitan air, combining in their fashions the sleek sophistication of the Orient and the chic of Parisian interpretations.

The sheath provides the basis of new season junior wardrobes. Some versions are molded; others have princess lines with empire-high waists. They are frequently detailed with ribbons, bows, border embroideries and contrasting fabrics or colors.

News is the Orient-inspired, Paris-endorsed relaxed sheath, with the eased waistline and midriff. Curved seaming and slit hemlines add smartness.

COVER-UPS for the sheath are almost limitless in scope. They appear as boleros, coats, capes, stoles or tiny jackets, with many American interpretations of international inspirations.

Back after a long absence, the bolero is generally semi-fitted, ending at the waistline or just above it. The back-buttoned bolero is especially important as a costume cover-up.

Boleros are news in junior suits, too, as one interpretation of this year's shorter jacket theme. Most junior suit jackets, however, are mid-hip length, with small or large-to-almost-cape-size collars.

COORDINATED with the sheath, coats are narrow in silhouette, Far Eastern in inspiration. Most popular is the caftan coat, collarless or with a mandarin neckline and deep side slits at the hemline.

Coats go to all lengths, with the three-quarter and seven-eighths predominating. A variation of the Far Eastern type is the short coat.

Linen-like and textured weaves of wool or wool blends set off the sophisticated styling of these junior coats.

The cape rates high in junior fashion as a costume-completer, ranging from the short capelet to the dashing hem-reaching full-lengther.

To top spring sheaths, the junior who relishes dramatic effects may prefer a stole, coordinated to the dominant color in her dress, or a thumb-nail jacket that juts out in the back.

BOYS TAKE to spring in a light-colored suit of viscose and acetate twist flannel with three buttons.

Prints Show Off Fresh Charm Of Softened Styles

Feminine, spring-fresh and easy-slim fashions find prints a perfect medium for displaying their charms.

New patterns in prints adapt ideally to the softened sheath and the coat-dress costume and are equally appropriate to the most casual clothes.

FULL covered ground prints are favored for the slim silhouette. Small, delicate patterns, often spaced florals, are used to advantage in skirtspleated to combine fullness with a narrow line.

Richly patterned sheaths are seen separately and with jackets. Other types include textured fabrics with print blouses and identical print lined jackets.

PRINT patterns repeat flower and foliage designs in flamboyant or muted colorings.

Surah, shantung, rayon linens, acetates and blends in fresh colorings dominate the print fabric selection.

Can Be Painted

A paint-it-yourself white cotton shirt is newly available for junior Rembrandts. This boys' shirt comes complete with inks for filling in cowboy designs on pockets and yokes. Ironing after painting makes it colorfast and washable.

Leather Garments Get Spring Nod

Many women will take their fashion with a grain of leather this spring, now that more garments are available in completely washable or easily dry-cleanable leathers.

The costume look in leather is exemplified by a sheer, subtly patterned wool skirt, a color-matched suede-trimmed cashmere sweater and a boxy jacket in soft, washable suede.

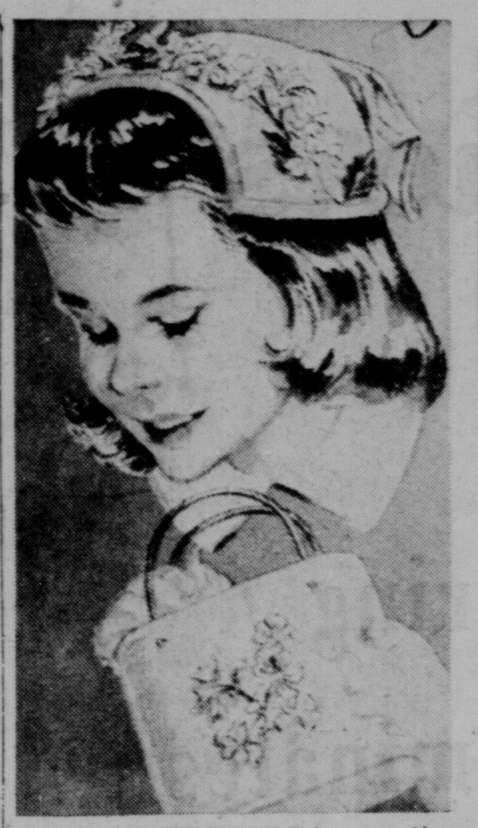
A REVERSIBLE bolero suit spotlights a jacket that's kidskin on one side, paisley shawl wool fabric on the other. A kid leather skirt matches the jacket.

Still another coat in a provincial-printed leather is styled like a man's shirt, elongated to three-quarter length.

LITTLE MEN'S spring coordinates in combed cotton include cord shorts, belt, cord-trimmed shirt and matching cap.



THIS CINDERELLA creation for the young miss is styled to enhance her Easter outfit. Priced at $2.95, this straw bonnet features velvet trim and tiny flowers.

Color Sparks Latest Jewelry

Use of color is an important highlight of spring jewelry.

Beads of lilac, rose or aqua are strung into multiple-strand necklaces designed for a wide or V neckline. For a brighter theme there are necklaces in coral, deep turquoise and royal blue—often teamed with matching earrings and bracelet.

Some beads are opalescent flecked with gold or bright color, while others are clear and sparkling in sapphire, emerald, and ruby colors linked with gold metal.

CHALK WHITE combines with gold metal for a new and interesting treatment of white jewelry. Included are large earrings, base-of-throat necklaces and rigid cuff bracelets with flower motifs.

White beads in unusual shapes are framed in gold wire to dangle from a necklace of uniform size beads.

For late afternoon and evening wear, rhinestones in golden settings continue as favorites.

Pearl jewelry, another classic, is often combined with rhinestones and set in silvery or gold-colored metal.

HERE IS A PINWHEEL SKIRT with a poodle print blouse. Ingenious cutting makes this full skirt an elegant, wearable thing. It is cut on the bias with the effect of pinwheel pleats, all interlined with Pellon for permanent grace. The blouse print is a charming poodle, sketched on pale blue with periwinkle to compliment the skirt. The blouse features a closed-up effect that is smart but cool. Both are Bates Disciplined fabric.

Adds Shopping Ease

What's in a name? In the case of stockings, new names mean easier shopping.

Thanks to a welcome innovation in the hosiery field, women may ask for hose to fit specific needs, using these easy-to-remember terms: "Walking Sheers," "Dress Sheers," and "Evening Sheers."

Walking Sheers are recommended for hard, everyday wear, Dress Sheers for wear with dressier daytime outfits, and Evening Sheers for gala occasions.

Style Variety, Fabrics Make News In Suits, Coats

Foundations Coax The Silhouette Into New Slender Shape

Underneath spring fashions foundations form a slim line in a gentle and attractive way.

Fresh colors, sheer fabrics and decorative details add glamour to girdles, brassieres, corselets and bra-lettes that subtly shape the bosom, ease the waist and gradually curve the hips.

Perhaps the best news in brassieres is the number of styles with convertible or wide-angled straps to suit the varied and more open necklines of outer fashions.

Many junior girdles and pantie girdles rise high at the waistline; others dip in front. Some pantie girdles have cut-up legbands; others feature eleastic-cuffed leg sections.

Girdles for the average to full figure feature rigid panels alternating with elastic, and easy fitting waistlines. These high rise girdles without cinch effect give the figure a longer look.

THE LENGTHENED line is similarly achieved by the corselet, both in all-elastic versions for the youthful figure and in more controlled styling for the average figure. Light boning through the midriff insures the smooth fit of such fashions as the empire sheath.

The popular spring outline of fitted bolero with softly-pleated skirt has perfect underline in the bra-lette, with control ending at the hipline in front and dipping lower in back.

An innovation in bra-lettes is fuller padding in the cup sections, to lift the bosom high.

IN THE fabric picture, cotton makes its annual reappearance, in lace or with embroidery more often than plain. Dacron-cotton blends, patterned satin elastics and stretch nylon are other fabric highlights in foundations.

HERE IS A MOSAIC PATTERNED, hand-loomed cotton bathing suit fashioned to the lithe line of the tunic by Rose Marie Reid. A margin of plain color accents the top and translates into imaginative camouflage when used as provocative hemline shorts. Available in lime with gray and gold, or pink with gray and turquoise, this suit is priced at $17.95.

THE IMPORTANT SWEATER PUMP is now styled and sized for growing girls. In sparkling patent with rich, elasticized grosgrain collar, this trim Stride-Rite shoe is for dress-up occasions. It is also available in white calf and black suede.

TEENAGERS will sparkle in this romantic shirt-waist-style dress with rhinestone accents.

Earrings Take Shape

Among earring fashions are big clusters in round or shower shapes, along with trims, contours and slinky string beads. Hoops, larger than ever, are back for a return engagement.

FOR LOUNGING JANTZEN suggests the "Bon Vivant" Tee shirt fashioned of striped cotton yarn. The style features include a boat neck and three-quarter length sleeves, and the sun-and-water tested colors mix or match with a variety of Jantzen sunclothes. The Tee shirt is a $4.95 value in sizes small, medium and large.

Fabric Gloves Go Feminine, Feature Dainty Detailing

Femininity is in the forefront of fabric glove fashions for spring. Dainty accents include ball fringe, flower appliques, faggoting, feather stitching and other embroidery.

Even tailored gloves have a touch of daintiness, with eyelet or open work detailing, hand stitching and pearl buttons. Pearl and bead trims are liked for cocktail styles.

COLORS are varied, and combinations of two or more shades look especially new. These include harlequin, polka dot, striped and floral patterns.

Double-woven cottons, nylons, sheer, string and stretch gloves appear in a wide range of pastels, with special attention to yellow. Blues, greens, roses and other reds fit the spring style picture.

Whites, browns blacks and neutrals come in for their share of attention.

The silhouette is slim, with flexibility provided through side vents and other details.

Fashion Gives Lighter Touch To New Shoes

Sleek in silhouette, soft and supple in material, spring shoes set a colorful pace.

Main color groups are the warm and vivid shades, the neutrals, pastels and the pale beige to brown family.

With the advent of more supple leathers, shoes are designed to be light and airy in weight as well as hue. Box toes and stiff counters have disappeared from both dress and casual shoes.

SPRING styles include shoes for every occasion, and in the group is the spectator, staging a big comeback.

New treatments for this old favorite completely revamp the tailored look seen in the original brown and white classics. More colors, softer styling and unusual combinations of leathers and textures are used.

For daytime, casual and sportswear, there are low, high and mid-heeled spectators in yellow, beige, melon, pink, turquoise or black, teamed with white kid or calf leathers and buckskins.

For afternoon and the dressier wear there's the spectator-type pump in soft suedes, lustered and pearlized calf, kid and side leathers combined with patent, printed leather and glove-soft elk.

OTHER shoe styles offer a variety of silhouettes and heel heights.

The tapered vamp runs the gamut from casual play shoes to elegant evening sandals. Heels are decorated with jewels and built up with stacked leather.

Sides are straighter, vamps are flatteringly lower. Backs are straight and low cut. Disappearing top line gives the look of halters to pumps and slings.

The Orient provides inspiration for colors and silhouettes in shoes of all categories, and especially in cocktail and evening shoes.

Gold kid returns in stripping and mule-type sandals and as a Far Eastern accent in heels for afternoon and late-day shoes. Dull matte gold for daytime is gaining in popularity.

SMALL HATS are larger this spring—like this smooth straw bonnet with pert full-face veil.

THE BEAUTY of its rustic fabric, a blend of rayon, cotton and silk, spotlights this tailored suit.

Matched Sets Go Inside Handbags

Well-dressed handbags can now have their own spring accessories in matching or accent colors.

Sets of everything from wallets to compacts to cigarette lighters are available in matched designs. Especially attractive are luster leather handbag accessories in pastel shades with jewel trim.

One set includes a French purse, eyeglass case, compact, key holder, cigarette case and lighter in pale beige trimmed with a colored jewel.

WIDE GOLDEN bangles with the look of a rare antique are a natural for spring's bracelet-length sleeves.

THE TUXEDO front jacket is newly interpreted in washable Launder Leather suede.

Handbags Get Many Shapes, Larger Sizes

Handbags this spring are larger than ever. Shapes are diversified, but whether round, square or elongated, bags provide a bigger and more colorful accent for the new season fashions.

The slim, easy-to-pack clutch gains in length, while handle bags take on greater dimensions in either length or depth. Boxes and totes are more bulky.

IMPORTANT to accent the popular off-white and beige fashions are bright-hued bags, such as a large, square calf handbag in turquoise, with a rigid handle.

Oval shaped boxes — in brilliant yellow kid, for example — complement the brown or black suit with short jacket and fuller skirt.

MANY other colors and textures are featured in spring handbags. Newest note in leathers is shrunken calf, with a grained texture and pale pastel tones.

Printed and striped leathers provide further diversity. Patent continues as a spring favorite.

Straws, strawcloths and wicker in close or open weaves are often multi-colored. Silk, faille or linen bags appear in Oriental prints or check effects as well as solid colors.

BLOUSES, LIKE THIS ONE from Ship 'n Shore, are always a welcome addition to any wardrobe. Made of pin-dot woven pima cotton batiste with embroidered fire-flies, it features short cuffed sleeves and a petal collar. In sizes 28 to 38, it is priced at $3.98.

High School Set Favors Empire Line

Elegance prevails in spring fashions for teens, with luxurious fabrics, Oriental influences, empire silhouettes and dressmaker details all contributing their share.

It's a lady-like but youthful elegance, appropriate to the age and activities of the high schooler.

For example, trend-setting styles such as the empire line undergo special treatment as they enter the teen world. The high-rise waistline combines with the low torso to produce a corselet silhouette.

FOR THIS teen look, both high and low lines are indicated with self or contrast trim.

Sheaths are softened with ribbons, bows and back streamers. Cardigan styling for the coats that cover the sheaths provides youthful sophistication, as do the side-slit caftan coats.

Fashion-conscious teens like the costumes in all of its varieties. They also like the well-tailored suit, newly important for the high school crowd.

In this age group, suit jackets are most often semi-fitted classics teamed with gently gored or pleated skirts. Another favorite here is the boxy jacket and easy-slim skirt.

THE ORIENTAL theme appears not only in the caftan coat, but also in dresses with cummerbunds like obi sashes and in other details such as inverted pleats around the hemline of full skirts.

The fabrics used are distinguished for their look of luxury, and that applies not only to the silks, linens and wools but to the cottons, nylons and rayons as well.

Often, teen fashions display the charms of not one but two fabrics. Colors coordinate too, as checks or pastel plaids pair with solids.

Linen Look Returns

The linen look in men's suits returns this year (minus the troublesome cleaning and pressing problem.) As practical as they are handsome, the new suits are made with a high content of Dacron blended with either rayon, cotton or linen, itself. They take readily to washing seldom need more than a touch-up with an iron. Wrinkles of normal wear hang out.

Lightweight Champs

Tabbed for best seller ranking among slacks for the spring-summer season are wool tropical and rayon-acetates, exemplifying the growing demand for lightweight fabrics for warm weather

THIS SHIRRED BACK SHEATH takes on a new slant with a diagonal line cutting a swathe of tapering tucks. California designer, Rose Marie Reid, selected "Everglaze" combed cotton satin in lime and helio or coral and gold combinations for this suit priced at $15.95.

A PRETTY-AS-A-PICTURE PATENT for pint-sized glamour gals is shown here. The fashion news is in the puffed vamp detail of four dainty petals, outlined in contrast stitch and centered with a metallic button. This dress-up style, made with traditional Stride-Rite quality and fit is also available in white or blue calf.

East, West Join To Design Children's Shoes

East and West meet at the leather-shod feet of American youngsters this spring.

Touches of the Orient and the European continent have been adapted by shoe designers for the hop, skip and jump set.

Jewel-toned ornaments and fanciful gold leather bows highlight the Eastern look of little girls' shoes, while for both sis and her brother, the continental air is seen in the slim, tapered silhouette borrowed from the grown-ups.

WHILE answering the youngsters' demand for fashion appeal, shoes place added accent on comfort. New leathers, both in uppers and soles, are light and airy for warm weather ease.

Braids and fancy stitching also decorate young misses' shoes.

For the girl who prefers the continental motif, the Italian look is available in pumps, shoes with straps and slip-on softies.

GIRLS' pumps appear in a wide variety of leathers and colors, including new finishes in suede and smooth leathers and some reptiles.

There are several new versions of the "sweater" pump. The one-strap shell for girls gets a new treatment in the form of narrower straps to carry out the tapered look, and multiple strap designs are also featured.

SLIMMER lasts and more tapered toes also appear in school and casual leather shoes. Slip-ons are higher cut for fit and comfort and display several novelty throatlines.

While white and black are ever available in little girls' dress-up shoes, there are many pink, blue and yellow pastels, all paler than last year. Leading colors in casual and school shoes are brown berry, smoke, frontier, tan, white bark, pale ginger and avocado.

REFLECTING the continental look of Dad's footwear are boys' versions of two or three eyelet low-line silhouettes in smooth and grained leathers. Even shoes with a higher cut are detailed for a low-line look.

Gored shoes that are laceless and elasticized at the sides are favored by boys because they're easy to slip on, yet they fit snugly.

Durable crushed grain leathers are featured along with perforated and woven treatments.

Color favorites for boys include two-tone combinations in black or brown and white. Low-keyed pastel tones are liked in casual shoes, with black leather still number one for dress.

TAPERED PUMP in white calf is perforated to show gold underlay and glamorize day wear.

A RUGGED, sturdily constructed shoe, made to resist wear and tear, this Stride-Rite style is also built to fit and hold its shape through endless active hours. It is shown in rich chestnut brown, with a thick red crepe sole ideal for damp Spring weather.

Furs Come In Various Shapes

Fashion is dedicated to fur in this new era of elegance and the spring season presents a wider-than-ever choice of jackets and stoles in many shapes and forms.

Mink, of course, is strongly in evidence, but fashion-wise women are demanding greater variety in furs to complement their spring wardrobes.

JACKETS, capes and stoles, keeping abreast of the small fur trend, are expressed in furs processed for lighter weight.

Youthful styling is stressed in lustrous, black-dyed Persian lamb, in little jackets that go everywhere as chic companions to slim wool dresses and suits.

Color is brought into play in sheared beaver and American broadtail-processed lamb.

THE LONG, straight stoles lend themselves to quick transition from day to evening.

Fox maintains its wide popularity. New shades of squirrel emulate the mutations of mink — Autumn Haze, Desert Gold and Sapphire.

Recommended for most occasions is a brief stole of simple elegance that frames the shoulders and is secured in front with a single button closing.

They're Handy

Tiny silver-foil pillows containing sufficient hand lotion for one application make handy purse accessories.

A KNIT WITH A KNACK for going places, this two-piece costume is a perfect all-in-one wardrobe for day-to-date wear or traveling. The pert cardigan jacket covers a scoop-neck dress. A linen-orlon-wool blend, it's hand-washable, packable and light in weight.

Ensembles Top Maternity List

Good things come in two and threes for the mother-to-be this spring.

Ensembles in both the dressy and sportswear categories show delightful surprises style and fabric-wise.

SLIMMING all-around pleats below shoulder-draped collars and tops with detailed back appeal are pace setters for dress-up styles.

Two-piece tailored suits of textured weaves are distinctive headliners, with straight jackets relieved by pleats in the majority. Dressy styles show up, and refreshingly so, in two-piece cottons, as rhinestones and angora trimmings put the accent on glamour.

THREE-PIECE ensembles of lively versatility consist of jerkin tops with matching skirts and bright contrasting blouses which can be worn with other skirts or slacks.

Easy care cottons and linen-like rayons monopolize the fabric picture because of their obvious appeal to busy future mothers.

THURSDAY, MAR. 15, 1956

Leather Gloves Take Gala Hues

Costume-coordinated colors, dressmaker treatment and washability make leather glove news this spring.

Matched to new shoes, bags and belts, colors include a series or porcelain pastels, ranging from pale rose and mauve seashell to Dresden blue.

Other important shades are the yellow, light green, beige, blues and pinks. Navy and white are also prominent.

AMONG the leathers are silky-surfaced glace kid, suede with a cashmere feel and feather-weight pigskin. Many are washable.

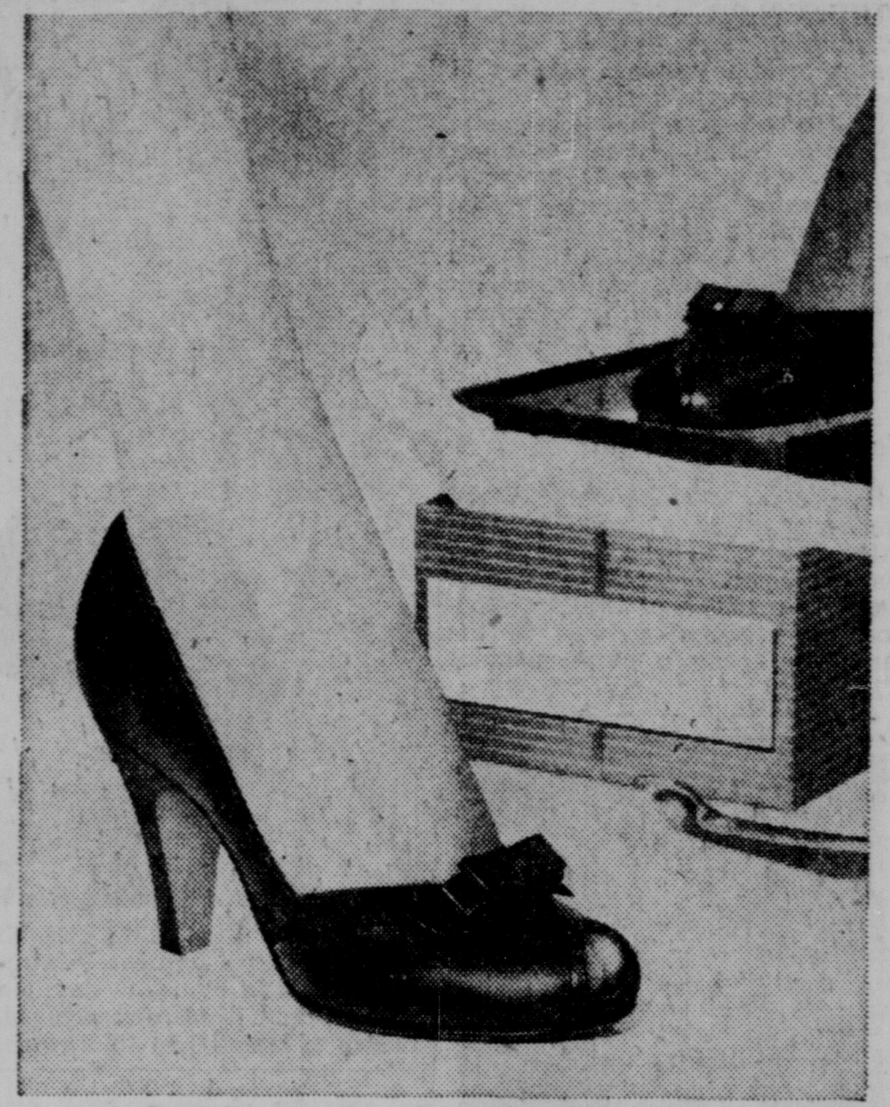
Lengths run from shorties that barely reach the wristbone to elbow-length leathers with soft dressmaker-shirring along the side from glove top to wrist.

Sharing the spotlight is the four-button bracelet-length glove, sometimes piped with contrasting tone leather or embroidered with heavy cord knots and flower motifs.

LUXURY details reflect the dressmaker theme There are flower-shaped mother of pearl buttons in pastel colors knotted gold-thread clusters and butterfly designs appliqued in leathers of contrasting colors.

Also prominent are a number of leathers patterned in metallic thread embroidery.

Pigskins, distinctively grained, include shorties that are buckled at the wrist and often hand-sewn.



THE "A" LINE that's been so much in the news in Paris-born dresses and coats shows in your shoes this spring. Here is Lill, a Red Cross shoe creation, which is very easy to wear with its touch of gentle elasticizing.

Furs Come In Various Shapes

Fashion is dedicated to fur in this new era of elegance and the spring season presents a wider-than-ever choice of jackets and stoles in many shapes and forms.

Mink, of course, is strongly in evidence, but fashion-wise women are demanding greater variety in furs to complement their spring wardrobes.

JACKETS, capes and stoles, keeping abreast of the small fur trend, are expressed in furs processed for lighter weight.

Youthful styling is stressed in lustrous, black-dyed Persian lamb, in little jackets that go everywhere as chic companions to slim wool dresses and suits.

Color is brought into play in sheared beaver and American broadtail-processed lamb.

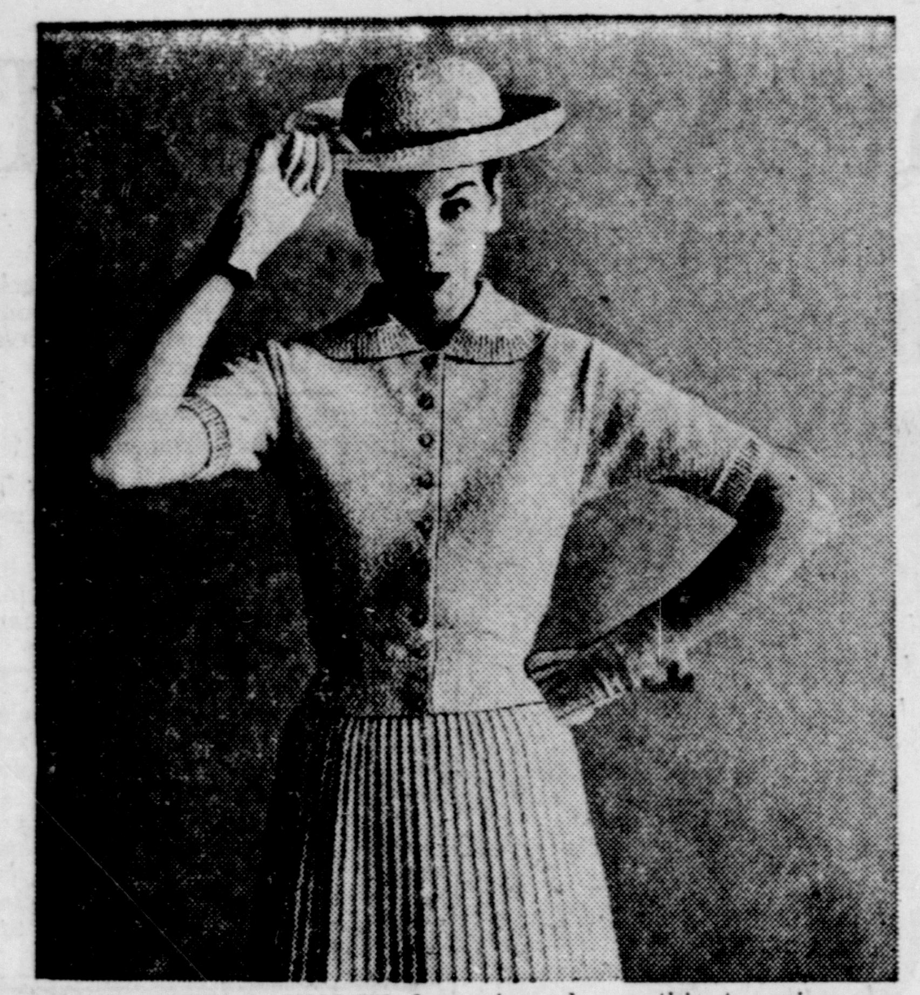
THE LONG, straight stoles lend themselves to quick transition from day to evening.

Fox maintains its wide popularity. New shades of squirrel emulate the mutations of mink — Autumn Haze, Desert Gold and Sapphire.

Recommended for most occasions is a brief stole of simple elegance that frames the shoulders and is secured in front with a single button closing.

They're Handy

Tiny silver-foil pillows containing sufficient hand lotion for one application make handy purse accessories.



A KNIT WITH A KNACK for going places, this two-piece costume is a perfect all-in-one wardrobe for day-to-date wear or traveling. The pert cardigan jacket covers a scoop-neck dress. A linen-orlon-wool blend, it's hand-washable, packable and light in weight.

Ensembles Top Maternity List

Good things come in two and threes for the mother-to-be this spring.

Ensembles in both the dressy and sportswear categories show delightful surprises style and fabric-wise.

SLIMMING all-around pleats below shoulder-draped collars and tops with detailed back appeal are pace setters for dress-up styles.

Two-piece tailored suits of textured weaves are distinctive headliners, with straight jackets relieved by pleats in the majority. Dressy styles show up, and refreshingly so, in two-piece cottons, as rhinestones and angora trimmings put the accent on glamour.

THREE-PIECE ensembles of lively versatility consist of jerkin tops with matching skirts and bright contrasting blouses which can be worn with other skirts or slacks.

Easy care cottons and linen-like rayons monopolize the fabric picture because of their obvious appeal to busy future mothers.

Leather Gloves Take Gala Hues

Costume-coordinated colors, dressmaker treatment and washability make leather glove news this spring.

Matched to new shoes, bags and belts, colors include a series or porcelain pastels, ranging from pale rose and mauve seashell to Dresden blue.

Other important shades are the yellow, light green, beige, blues and pinks. Navy and white are also prominent.

AMONG the leathers are silky-surfaced glace kid, suede with a cashmere feel and feather-weight pigskin. Many are washable.

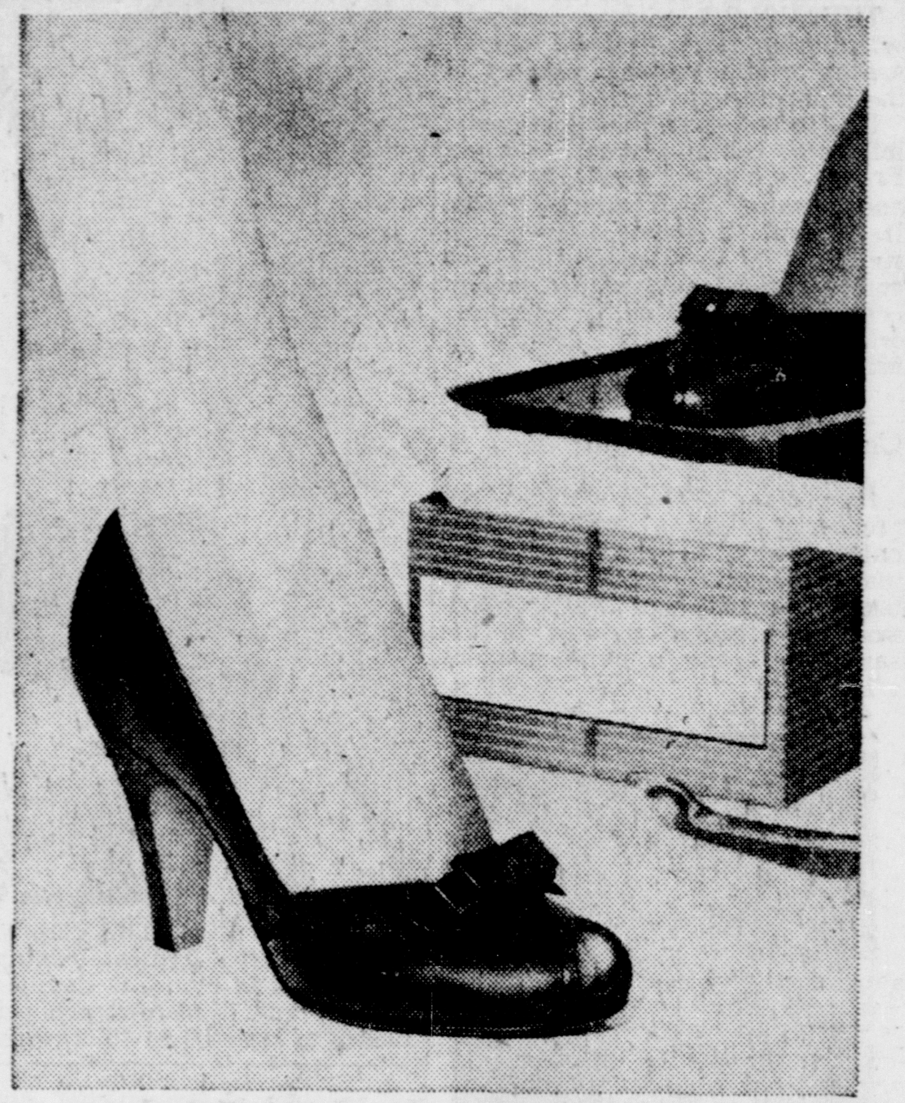
Lengths run from shorties that barely reach the wristbone to elbow-length leathers with soft dressmaker-shirring along the side from glove top to wrist.

Sharing the spotlight is the four-button bracelet-length glove, sometimes piped with contrasting tone leather or embroidered with heavy cord knots and flower motifs.

LUXURY details reflect the dressmaker theme There are flower-shaped mother of pearl buttons in pastel colors knotted gold-thread clusters and butterfly designs appliqued in leathers of contrasting colors.

Also prominent are a number of leathers patterned in metallic thread embroidery.

Pigskins, distinctively grained, include shorties that are buckled at the wrist and often hand-sewn.



THE "A" LINE that's been so much in the news in Paris-born dresses and coats shows in your shoes this spring. Here is Lill, a Red Cross shoe creation, which is very easy to wear with its touch of gentle elasticizing.

New Shirts For Spring Present A Great Variety Of Styling

The well-dressed man's shirt takes on new fashion importance in the widely varied array of new fabrics, patterns and colors that bow in for spring and summer.

Dress shirts, patterned in neat checks, slim horizontal or vertical stripes, and tiny polka dots, promise to be spring favorites. The return of the fancy shirt, last popular in the late thirties, will be in full force, featuring such treatments as pleated and dickey bosoms, and contrast collars and cuffs.

THE COLOR picture will be bright with blues, pinks, lemons, greens and the newest member of the rainbow — cognac.

In sports shirts, the continental influence runs rampant. From France, come supple stripings and unusual box patterns; from Italy, bold horizontal and vertical stripings in gay colors. Mexico enters the picture with magnificent embroidered native patterns, oriental motifs in a galaxy of bright, shimmering shades.

Color Changes Room

Proper use of color changes the perspective of a room. Walls painted in dark, contrasting colors make a room appear shorter and better proportioned. Walls, woodwork and ceiling painted in the same hue create a more spacious effect.

SUBDUED GREEN, the new medium shade in men's wear is shown here in a comfortable weight suit, for wear on mild days.

PERFECT FOR TRAVELING is this Ship 'n Shore "no iron" blouse in the lightest mixture of quick drying Dacron and pima cotton. The blouse is detailed with a convertible club collar, short sleeves and dyed-to-match pearl buttons. The blouse in pastels and white in sizes 30 to 40 is priced at $3.98.

Colors Lighter In New Neckties

The color picture in spring neckwear takes on a light touch, with blues, pinks, whites, grays and beiges favored as background hues to blend with the new medium toned suits and contrast with the darker ones. Small figure motifs will be played against the new pastels.

The Ivy-League trend continues, and the man who prefers more muted shades can choose from a variety of rep stripes in red, yellow, navy, green, brown and black. Ties in subtle patterns will be worn for the more formal occasions.

Tartan plaids will figure prominently on the casual scene. Black Watch, MacDuff, MacDonald and Campbell are but a few of the most colorful. Glen plaid motifs will also be worn with sport coats and slacks.

Fabric-wise, cotton is favored for pale ties, with a blend of cotton and silk making style news.

Narrower ties continue popular, However a new 3 inch width is being introduced as a compromise between the "slim Jim" width and the very wide neckwear of yesteryear.

Shoe Styles For Spring Go Tropical

Tropical in weight and tropical in color is the fashion keynote for men's leather footwear this spring and summer.

This, of course, is directly in line with the switch to lightweight apparel in every phase of a man's wardrobe.

The new tropical leathers retain the ruggedness of conventional leather, but weigh far less. At once more comfortable and more colorful, they go perfectly with the lightweight spring outfits.

FOR TOWN wear, the light-colored and two-toned tropical leather shoes will be increasingly popular, this year.

Leather combinations of black-and-white, as well as rich colors like ivywood, rocky tan, desert copper and butternut, accent the color contrast between shoes and summer suits and create just the right balance of good taste and summer freedom.

Lightweight suedes and buckskin in pale tones such as smoke grey and off-white beige, with new light leather soles, also stand out in the wide array of lighter leather shoes for casual wear.

SLIMMER, lighter-weight leather soles and open-weave upper leather are also playing a role in leather's switch to tropical lightweight fashion and comfort. Perforated and woven leathers are especially good looking in moccasin and plain-toe styles, designed along tailored lines.

Most important style this summer is the moccasin toe — in an infinite number of variations: slim Continental slip-on, conventional slip-on, one, two and three-eyelet models, and many with contrasting stitching to lend a note of color below the male ankle.

Plain toes and wing-tips with a minimum of detail run a close second. In most styles, toes are less round — again the Italian influence. Black and brown are the most popular colors.

BEJEWELED DRESS is becomingly enhanced by pearls, perennial spring favorite, teamed with rhinestone earrings.

DESIGNED for the man who favors a dressed-up look about his leisure wear is this featherweight wool sports jacket of gray, tan and cinnamon vertical stripes. The pockets are flapped.

Suited To Suits

Blouses with gathered back yokes or multiple pleating from back of neck to hem prove perfect mates for bloused-back suits.

Luggage Folds Away

For the family with limited closet space is luggage designed to fold down for storing in a bureau drawer. The bags open by means of an aluminum spring frame into a conventional appearing suitcase.

Brightens Upholstery

A cloth saturated with cleaning fluid serves as a perfect wiper for upholstery fabrics.

FABRIC GLOVES feature tiny flowers pressed into the transparent cuff.

THE NEW Stride-Rite collection features sparkling patents, such as this trim pump. Young fashion experts will welcome the style treatment of the elasticized sweater-collar and bow, with silver buckle accenting the dainty cut-out.

Weights Of Fabrics Are Also Lighter

This spring will see the biggest change in men's wear since the advent of charcoal gray some seasons ago.

Again it's a color change, this time a dominant trend to intermediate and lighter shades. Tan, light-to-medium gray, gray-green, gray-blue and slate blue are rapidly replacing the dark tones recently prevalent.

Patterned fabrics have staged a comeback. Glen plaids, stripes, checks, overchecks and overplaids will be style leaders in both the suit and sport jacket fields.

ALONG with the swing to lighter colors, comes increased interest in lighter weight fabrics, especially all-wool worsteds. as the most practical solution to the multi-season suit problem. These suits can be worn well into June, if last year's weather history repeats itself, and on mild days throughout the summer.

The advent of really warm weather will turn the spotlight on lightweight tropical worsted fabrics for men's suits. These will follow the strong style trend toward lighter colors, incorporating a wide variety of solid shades and patterned fabrics.

A NEW range of lighter colors and small patterns will present itself in the "miracle fibers" and blends. These will run the gamut from "comfort weight" suits in a covert cloth of Orlon acrylic fiber and wool, through the popular tropical weight suits of Dacron polyester fiber and wool to the light weight "wash and wear" suits with their high content of Dacron, nylon and Orlon.

The "natural look" in suits continues popular, but now appears in more than one version. While some men look well in the more extreme "Ivy" type model, others with naturally sloping shoulders and longer neck will be well advised to seek the modified version, with slightly more shoulder padding and longer jacket.

PROPER choice of accessories to go with a "natural look" suit are important. These include a hat with a narrower brim and slim-cut ties.

The continental influence has resulted in the slight shortening of jackets, which in turn has been responsible for smaller sleeves and slimmer trousers.

The new season will mark some degree of return for the double-breasted suit. Its styling has been overhauled to meet "natural look" requirements. The most noticeable differences are narrower lapels, less overlap at the front, and a reduction of six front buttons to four.

Many new ideas have been introduced in sportswear. Sport jackets have emerged in a new array of styles and fabrics, with emphasis on what are loosely described as "sport car clothes" — short topcoats, suburban coats, leisure jackets and waist-length jackets.

THE INCREASINGLY POPULAR room divider appears in Italian Provincial styling. Made of solid cherry and cherry veneers, the finish is a tawny tone. The open hutch top is perfect for displaying prized knickknacks.

NO OTHER SPORTS hat has the dashing verve of a Tyrolean. Here is the Dobbs "Thunderbird," made of a rich velvet velour. One can express his own personality by adding a variety of brushes, pins, club insignia, and hobby signs indicating personal interest and taste. While primarily intended for sportswear, the Tyrolean is equally correct with town clothes in tweeds or flannels. The hat is priced around $20.

DEEP SLIT SIDES, kimono shoulders and mandarin collar give an Oriental air to this flecked tweed coat.

Leathers Wash

Making their debut in the children's wear field, new washable leather garments are available in a wide assortment of styles and colors.

Included are jackets, jeans and cover-alls. Emphasis is on durability and easy care.

Leathers used have been specially processed and are said to retain both color and suppleness after washing in tub or machine.

Set For Spring

Hair styles this season put the emphasis on back interest. Again, length is a matter of personal preference, with the general trend toward longer-than-short hair, swept back from the forehead.

Tie Score

The slim-cut tie is practically a must with the natural look suit. This becomes crystal-clear when one bears in mind that with this type of suit a wide tie would practically cover up the small amount of shirt showing.

DESIGNED by Wilson Brothers, this featherlock shirt features ribbed chest and sleeve trim, embroidery on the collar, hemmed "actionaire" short sleeves and bottom and a pocket. Available in a variety of spring shades, the shirt is $3.95.

BERMUDA-JAC

by THERMO-JAC

The Bermuda-Jac is shorter, so excitingly new — it's exactly the right length to wear with Bermuda shorts. Taken from the Scotsman's authentic kilt jacket, it has such wonderful details as the stitched cuff, double vent back. Yours, paired with Bermuda shorts for the smartest look of the season. Thermo-Jac's own high luster Khaki with woven cotton Highland plaids. All machine washable.

WASHABLE DUO stars at home or away. The narrow-striped blazer and color-matched skirt are Sanforized cotton.

AT-HOME FLATS in gold kid display an Oriental influence.

BALL GOWN ELEGANCE that typifies Rose Marie Reid's couture collection is apparent here. Diamonds shaped to a crescent accent the wider, softly flared top, slim bodice controls the moulded silhouette, and the low-place torso detailing is horizontally tucked for thighline flattery. The new, elasticized fabric has the luxuriant look of crepe with the subtle glow of satin. The suit is available in emerald, deep royal and midnight black at $35.

Waist Rises, Empire Rules In Dresses

Ruling fashion in spring dresses is the empire look, with waistlines getting a big build-up from the use of high-placed buttons and bows, mock boleros, self welts or straps and capelet collars.

The general effect created is more top width, as well as more ease, for the slim line.

Although slender, one-piece, beltless dresses predominate, spring styles prove that every rule has its beautiful exceptions. One is the dress with a two-piece look, achieved by a simulated jacket and back buttons.

MANY dresses have pleated or gently full skirts, and from the cocktail hour on, bouffancy begins to take over. The rule here seems to be that the later the hour, the fuller the skirt.

For day time, topmost importance goes to the sheath, now varied in attractive ways. Narrow silhouettes are softened by bloused backs, godets or pleats near the hemline, and inverted back pleats that give a panel effect.

STRESSING the empire look, bodices are skillfully detailed and trimmed. Tucks, pleats, embroideries and curved seams help to define the higher waist, as do bustline trims such as contrasting ribbons, crossed tabs and, of course, buttons and bows.

In a season when so much of dress styling is concentrated on drawing the eye upward, necklines and sleeves gain importance.

Some examples are big collars of lace, linen, organdy or taffeta, and necklines that change from a cowl in front to a scoop in back.

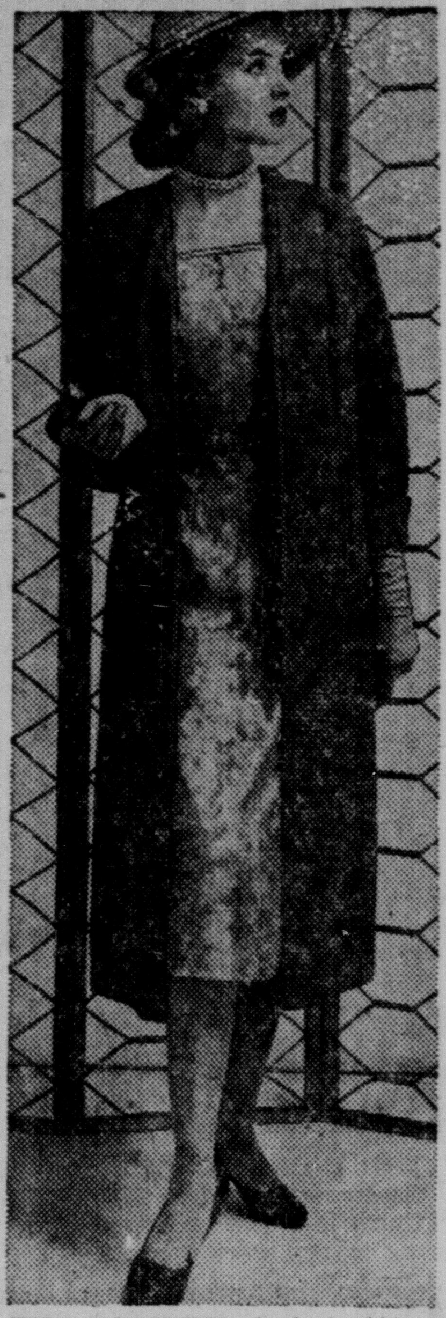
SLEEVE treatments include everything from the dolman and kimono types to the big puffed sleeve.

In contrast to the neutral color range of daytime fashions brilliant hues are seen in cocktail dresses. Oriental shades are favored.



THE COSTUME look is interpreted in a marbelized print rayon crepe dress and textured rayon coat.

To Accent Sheaths

Pins assume importance in spring jewelry, as glittering accents for smooth sheaths. They may be worn at the shoulder, hip or waistline.

Harem Skirt Liked

Harem skirts enter the day time picture this season. One designer breaks the slim line with a gently-bloused skirt, held in check by a wide band at the hem.

Accent On Turquoise

Hued to the slim line of spring, turquoise shows up as an important accessory color. Large handbags in turquoise or hats in turquoise accent slender fashions in beige or natural tones.

BRUSHED-BACK, soft wave hairdo typifies the trend toward simplicity and moderate length in spring hairstyles.

Many New Trends To Better Living

New products, new materials, new uses of old materials, and new designs are available to help one make his home a more attractive place for the family.

Here is a short round-up of what's new:

A beautifully grained South American wood called Borraco is used on a new group of living, dining and bedroom furniture. Stainless steel is used on some surfaces that take hard wear, such as night tables and coffee tables.

Twin, foam rubber mattress, sofa beds that slide on casters under a large corner table are practical and attractive. They are ideal for the den, or the one room apartment. The styling is modern.

To give the homemaker a greater-than-ever selection, one manufacturer has introduced a new Celtic line of living, dining and bedroom furniture. Highlighting the group are interesting carvings, the use of pigskin tile on tables, pewter finish drawer pulls, and magnetic door catches.

VINYL tile, in a black and white harlequin design, is used on a series of new coffee tables and end tables.

A new line of knotty pine furniture features modern styling, and pieces.

Many new interchangeable groupings are news for the homemaker who must have furniture to fit into a specific space. These modular groupings have chests, and other case piece items, in various sizes so that you can buy them to fit your requirements.

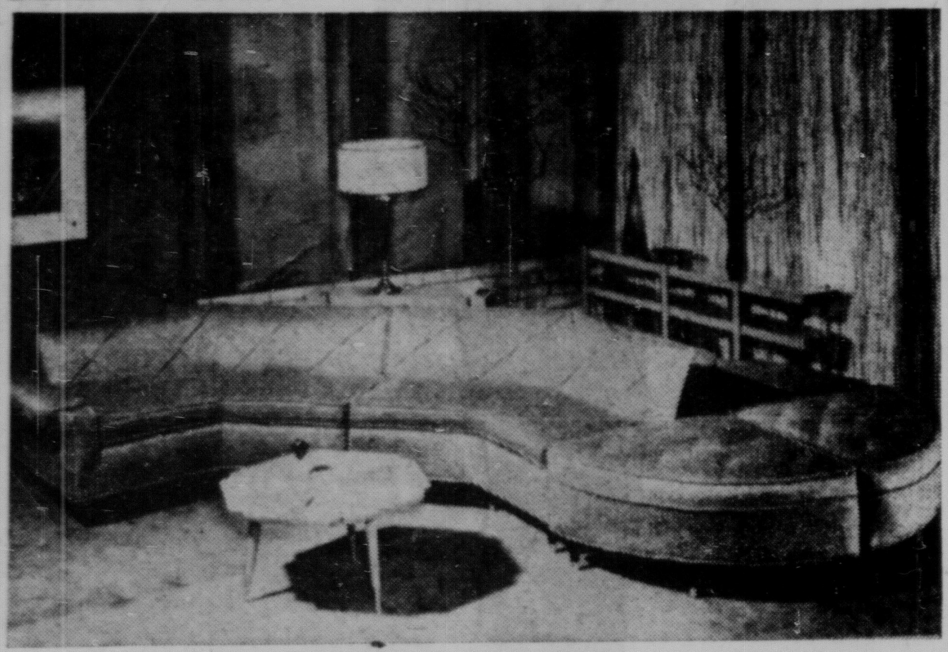
A NEW night table, which is part of an entire grouping, slides under the bed and over the occupant. It is perfect for writing or eating in bed.

For the very elegant touch, one new grouping of furniture has all the drawers lined in lemon yellow leather.

THE SLEEVELESS blouse with double-pleated fan dicky captures teens' spring fancy.



PART OF A NEW CONTOUR GROUP, this two piece sectional features matching pie shaped ottomans. It is covered with a beautiful textured metallic lame fabric.

MADE OF PIMA COTTON BROADCLOTH with a woven box-loom stripe, this Ship 'n Shore shirt has a convertible pointed Italian collar, short cuffed sleeves, shirt tails and pearl buttons. In sizes 28 to 40, it is priced at $3.98.

FROM JANTZEN'S "INTERNATIONAL SET," is this Italian designed knit swim ensemble. Both the sheath and tapered jacket are done in a richly textured black-white tweed fabric accented by a knitted-in contrast dainty floral pattern. The knit, a blend of acetate-cotton-Nylon-Lastex-wool, is created on a special machine and is exclusive with Jantzen. The sheath highlights the lengthened torso with a waist-deep spiral side boning as well as a new cloudlight foam rubber bra lining and the easy-in, easy-out feature of a back zipper. In sizes 10 to 18, the suit is priced at $22.50; the jacket in small, medium and large is $19.95.

Easy Fit Is Feature Of Newest Look

"First of all, a new suit" expresses many a woman's opinion of how to plan her spring wardrobe. This season designers respond to the feminine point of view by giving suits a place of first importance in the fashion news.

There's news both in silhouettes and fabrics. Easy-fitted does it for the freshest, youngest suit look, but the real excitement lies in the variety of styles that win approval — everything from the fitted, softened dress-maker suit to the brief bolero with panel-pleated skirt and camisole top.

WHEN it comes to fabrics, the suit is most often a year-round lightweight that scores heavily on all points of quality and versatility.

Silks, worsteds, tweeds and flannels appear in weights that are comfortable in any weather.

Some of the most interesting suit fabrics are silks with a tweed look. Capes and boleros are important empire-mood suit jackets, and other jackets develop the empire look with such details as dropped yokes, inserts or darting at the bustline.

THEN there are boxy jackets, ending just above the hips, and jackets with bloused backs.

Skirts deviate from the straight and narrow. Gores, panel pleats, back or side pleats and all-around figure-hugging pleats are seen more often than in many a year.

Whether small or cape-like, collars flatter the face. In some instances, sleeves follow the natural line of the arm and bell out gently toward the wrist. Other treatments include a dolman-type and a shorter slender-looking sleeve.

Favored For Spring

Spring favorites in subteen sportswear are slim, high-waisted cotton poplin trousers with suspender straps, matched with eyelet front cotton blouses.

From The Orient

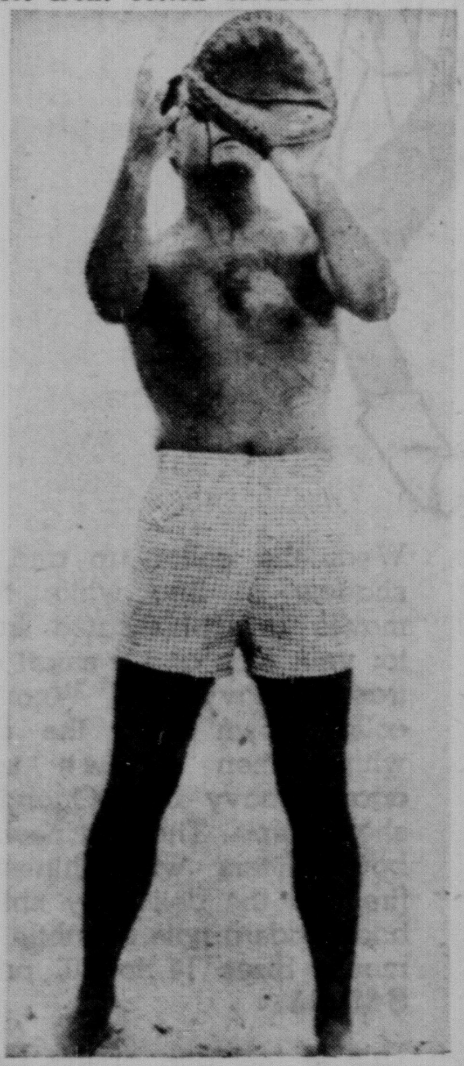
The Oriental influence evinces itself in some of the newest men's sport shirts, with narrow mandarin collars which when buttoned, can be worn flipped up or turned down.

Protects Clothing

Removable plastic liners for furniture drawers protect clothing from splinters and make cleaning easier.

Take New Trend

Kitchen wallpapers take a new trend, with the use of geometrics, scenics and florals.



WOVEN COTTON checks are featured in Jantzen's "Checkmates" boxer. Completely lined, the cool sun-and-water tested swim trunks have an elasticized waist to insure fit and are priced at $4.95 in sizes 28 to 44.

Well Knit Idea

Knitted men's sport shirts have a refreshing new style treatment for spring in which the ribbing runs horizontally in contra-distinction to the vertical stripings.

Have Pretty Touch

Braid embroidery and flocking designs show up prettily on the season's new bouffant petticoats.

WONDERFUL WARM climate companion is this shirt from Ship 'n Shore, made of pure imported Irish linen, tebilized for crease-resistance. The blouse has a pointed collar, scalloped front closing, short cuffed wing-tip sleeves and pearl buttons. Available in a variety of shades in sizes 30 to 40, the blouse is priced at $4.98.

ON OR OFF the shoulder, the "Copacabana" is a fashion headliner in Jantzen's collection. Points of interest center on the shoulder ties that stay on when in the water or come down when the sun is out. This clever apron fronted sheath suit is available in a blue, red or black check on white background. Priced at $25, it comes in sizes 10 to 16.

Hats Curve To Headline Slim Styles

For the first time in many years, spring hat fashions are dramatically different.

The newest hats have curving contours that give attention-value and effectively headline slim costumes.

THE hat of inflated outline, whether mild or mammouth in size, achieves its look in two ways.

It may be a toque — all crown, puffed up over the merest sliver of a brim or no brim at all. Or, it may be a hat with a brimful of curves — a deep bell cloche or a widespread brim with a bold flange turned up or down or cushioned for a look of volume.

On the other hand, milliners have not forgotten the woman who is reluctant to wear a very big hat. For her, there are charming small toques that are simply pillboxes grown larger, higher in the crown, curved at the edges and fitted more securely on the brow.

SMALL tambourine silhouettes are also easy to wear. The shallow shell becomes a cushioned bonnet, its prow brim reaching forward to shade the brow.

Small sailors with larger-than-headsize crowns are another choice.

While most brimmed hats are posed level across the top of the head the deep, downward curve of their brim makes them seem to be pushed forward. Smaller pot-shaped toques are often tilted down almost to the eyebrows.

THE NEW hats are feminine without being fussy. Flowers are pressed and restrained under veiling. Blossoms and petals, arranged in a stylized manner, make the all-flower hat look like a silk print.

Snips of pastel feathers and small frills of uncurled ostrich combine with flowers or are appliqued on straw and veiling. Lace inserts, embroidery and tiny beads in matching or harmonizing hues give pattern and texture to straws.

AIRY malines and tulle are importantly used for entire hats or for richly draped bands and edges.

Silk organdy and chiffon are draped on straws and featherweight felts. Silks and sheers make both casual and dressy hats.

Synthetic straws appear in weaves that imitate fabrics such as, satin, ribbed faille, alpaca and shantung.

Costumes Look New

Sleeveless jackets, combined with slim skirts, give a very new, very casual costume effect. They may be short and semi-fitted or tubular and tunic length, and the completed outfit generally includes a full-sleeved blouse.

On the other hand, milliners have not forgotten the woman who is reluctant to wear a very big hat. For her, there are charming small toques that are simply pillboxes grown larger, higher in the crown, curved at the edges and fitted more securely on the brow.

SMALL tambourine silhouettes are also easy to wear. The shallow shell becomes a cushioned bonnet, its prow brim reaching forward to shade the brow.

Small sailors with larger-than-headsize crowns are another choice.

While most brimmed hats are posed level across the top of the head the deep, downward curve of their brim makes them seem to be pushed forward. Smaller pot-shaped toques are often tilted down almost to the eyebrows.

THE NEW hats are feminine without being fussy. Flowers are pressed and restrained under veiling. Blossoms and petals, arranged in a stylized manner, make the all-flower hat look like a silk print.

Snips of pastel feathers and small frills of uncurled ostrich combine with flowers or are appliqued on straw and veiling. Lace inserts, embroidery and tiny beads in matching or harmonizing hues give pattern and texture to straws.

AIRY malines and tulle are importantly used for entire hats or for richly draped bands and edges.

Silk organdy and chiffon are draped on straws and featherweight felts. Silks and sheers make both casual and dressy hats.

Synthetic straws appear in weaves that imitate fabrics such as, satin, ribbed faille, alpaca and shantung.

Costumes Look New

Sleeveless jackets, combined with slim skirts, give a very new, very casual costume effect. They may be short and semi-fitted or tubular and tunic length, and the completed outfit generally includes a full-sleeved blouse.

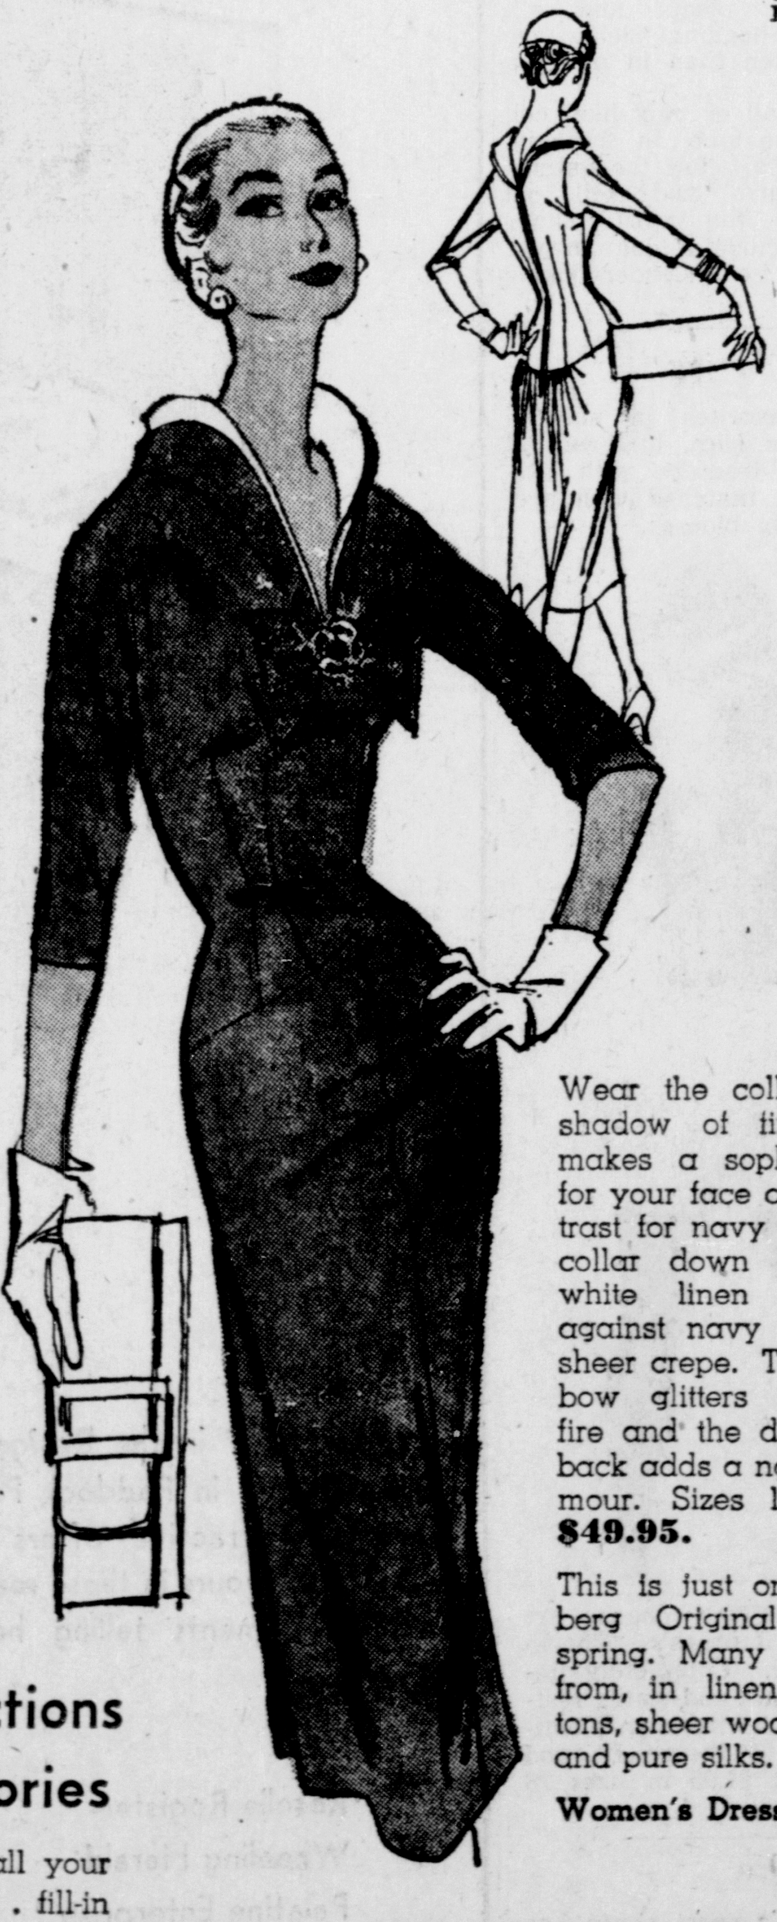
in Elgin!



Wear the collar up and the shadow of fine white linen makes a sophisticated frame for your face and a smart contrast for navy blue! Wear the collar down and the crisp white linen glows softly against navy blue Onondaga sheer crepe. The pert neckline bow glitters with rhinestone fire and the delicately shirred back adds a note of subtle glamour. Sizes 14 to 20, priced $49.95.

This is just one of the Eisenberg Original collection for spring. Many styles to choose from, in linen, transition cottons, sheer wool, master sheers and pure silks.

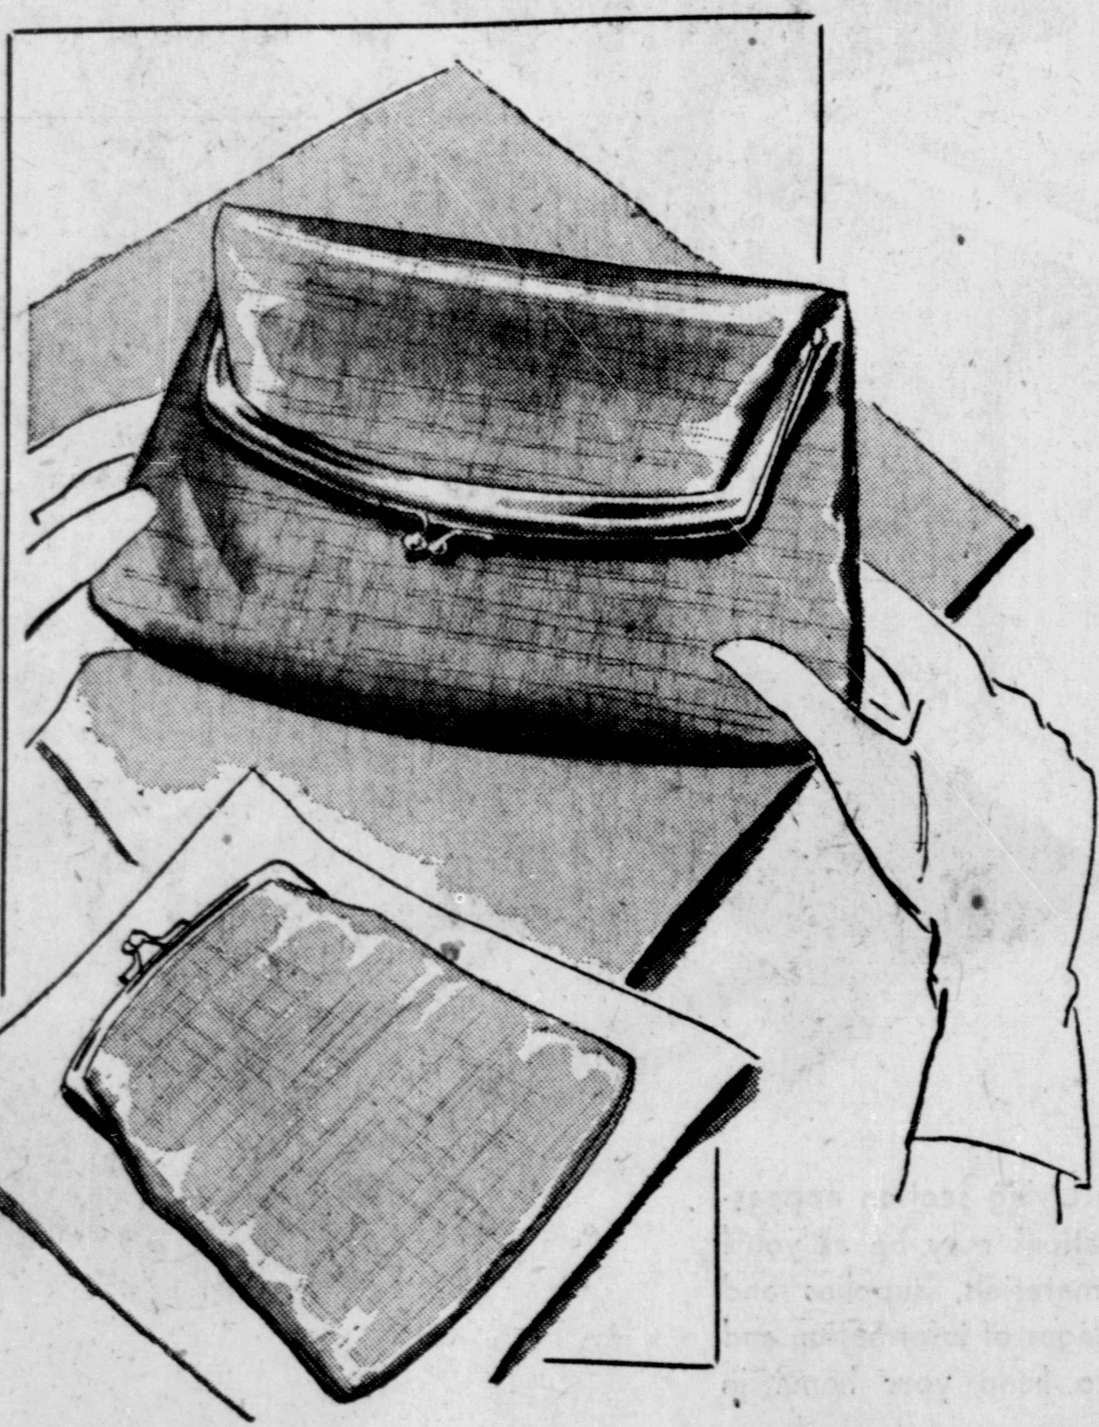
Women's Dresses, Third Floor

Sacony and Glenhaven Year-Round Suits

Are Smart in Navy, Too!

Sacony Palm Beach suits and Glenhaven year-round rayon suits are noted for their exceptional wearing quality — without extravagant cost. Complete size ranges — regular, junior and half sizes! Priced at $22.95 and $25.

Women's Suits, Third Floor



Navy Clutch Bags in Wide Selections, $5.98

You'll find a Fold-over Clutch bag to blend with your every spring costume — in faille, mello-straw, popcorn straw, Irish linen, silk Shantung, silk India prints, Vinyl straw and laminated vinyl. At $5.98.

BRICK RANCH only 4 years old on 75 ft. landscaped grounds. This unusually attractive 2 bedroom with tile bath, gas forced air heat, and 2 car garage is a wonderful buy at the low price of $15,750.

A 3 BEDROOM RANCH that can be yours immediately is this 1½ year old home, complete with a family-size kitchen, with dishwasher, disposal, washer and dryer. The master bedroom is air-conditioned and there is a lovely corner lot fully landscaped. All of this for only $18,900.

CAPE COD EXPANDABLE with 2 bedrooms that can be easily expanded to 4 later on. Here is an excellent home that can grow with the family and it is only 2 years old and in a most convenient location. The full price of only $17,900 with $3,500 down.

BRICK RANCH with 3 excellent bedrooms and full basement. This 1½ year old home is in one of our fine neighborhoods. There is a paneled rumpus room, carpeted living room; awnings and many extras. We seriously doubt that you can find a better buy at $21,900.

A SNOW WHITE COLONIAL, 3 bedroom, 1½ bath home in Park-like Sherwood. This lovely established home with fireplace, full basement, glazed breezeway and 2 car garage, on beautifully landscaped 100 ft. grounds is priced for quick sale at only $27,500.00.

4 BEDROOM COLONIAL in lovely park-like Scarsdale only 6 years old on well landscaped, 65 ft. grounds. This 1½ bath brick home has 4 twin sized bedrooms and den. The 25 ft. living room has a wood-burning fireplace. There is a full basement with gas forced air heat and attached garage with breezeway. This lovely established home will definitely appeal to the discriminating buyer at $31,250.

BRICK RANCH in Mt. Prospect's Northwest Meadows. Three large bedrooms, 1½ baths, full basement, breezeway, and attached garage only begin to tell you of it. The 17x17 kitchen has room for dining, utilities and its island cooking bar is wonderful. The living room has a fireplace of course. Excellent financing and immediate possession, too. $31,900.

CENTER ENTRANCE COLONIAL in very choice Stonegate location only 3 years old. This unusually fine home on a beautiful 72 ft. well landscaped and fenced lot has so much to offer such as carpeting, two fireplaces, 1½ ceramic baths. Living room is 23'x13' and there is a separate dining room and a beautiful kitchen. You'll really like this one and the transferred owner says sell at $33,500.

A TRULY DELUXE BRICK RANCH HOUSE on beautifully landscaped grounds, within walking distance of shopping and transportation. There is a carpeted 28' living-dining combination, with fireplace, a dream kitchen with room for the utilities, a separate breakfast area, and 3 large bedrooms, one of which is paneled and would make an ideal den. There are 1½ ceramic baths also. The full basement has an additional fireplace, gas heat, and there is a 2 car attached garage, and a freeform patio in the rear yard. We suggest you inspect this offering at only $37,500.00.

EXECUTIVE'S RANCH in Scarsdale community devoted exclusively to acreage ranch homes in the higher brackets. Only 3 years old. This fine 3 bedroom home with loads of closets and pecky cypress den has wall to wall carpeting. A Thermopane window wall, panel heat by Bryant, a 2 car attached garage, a very lovely well equipped kitchen and a paneled breakfast room. For the selective buyer who seeks gracious living, this one is a must at $39,900.

These are only a few of the fine offerings we have. Better stop in and look them over. No obligation of course.

HAS THE SMART BUYS MANY OF THEM EXCLUSIVE

BRICK RANCH only 4 years old on 75 ft. landscaped grounds. This unusually attractive 2 bedroom with tile bath, gas forced air heat, and 2 car garage is a wonderful buy at the low price of $15,750.

A 3 BEDROOM RANCH that can be yours immediately is this 1½ year old home, complete with a family-size kitchen, with dishwasher, disposal, washer and dryer. The master bedroom is air-conditioned and there is a lovely corner lot fully landscaped. All of this for only $18,900.

CAPE COD EXPANDABLE with 2 bedrooms that can be easily expanded to 4 later on. Here is an excellent home that can grow with the family and it is only 2 years old and in a most convenient location. The full price of only $17,900 with $3,500 down.

BRICK RANCH with 3 excellent bedrooms and full basement. This 1½ year old home is in one of our fine neighborhoods. There is a paneled rumpus room, carpeted living room; awnings and many extras. We seriously doubt that you can find a better buy at $21,900.

A SNOW WHITE COLONIAL, 3 bedroom, 1½ bath home in Park-like Sherwood. This lovely established home with fireplace, full basement, glazed breezeway and 2 car garage, on beautifully landscaped 100 ft. grounds is priced for quick sale at only $27,500.00.

4 BEDROOM COLONIAL in lovely park-like Scarsdale only 6 years old on well landscaped, 65 ft. grounds. This 1½ bath brick home has 4 twin sized bedrooms and den. The 25 ft. living room has a wood-burning fireplace. There is a full basement with gas forced air heat and attached garage with breezeway. This lovely established home will definitely appeal to the discriminating buyer at $31,250.

BRICK RANCH in Mt. Prospect's Northwest Meadows. Three large bedrooms, 1½ baths, full basement, breezeway, and attached garage only begin to tell you of it. The 17x17 kitchen has room for dining, utilities and its island cooking bar is wonderful. The living room has a fireplace of course. Excellent financing and immediate possession, too. $31,900.

CENTER ENTRANCE COLONIAL in very choice Stonegate location only 3 years old. This unusually fine home on a beautiful 72 ft. well landscaped and fenced lot has so much to offer such as carpeting, two fireplaces, 1½ ceramic baths. Living room is 23'x13' and there is a separate dining room and a beautiful kitchen. You'll really like this one and the transferred owner says sell at $33,500.

A TRULY DELUXE BRICK RANCH HOUSE on beautifully landscaped grounds, within walking distance of shopping and transportation. There is a carpeted 28' living-dining combination, with fireplace, a dream kitchen with room for the utilities, a separate breakfast area, and 3 large bedrooms, one of which is paneled and would make an ideal den. There are 1½ ceramic baths also. The full basement has an additional fireplace, gas heat, and there is a 2 car attached garage, and a freeform patio in the rear yard. We suggest you inspect this offering at only $37,500.00.

EXECUTIVE'S RANCH in Scarsdale community devoted exclusively to acreage ranch homes in the higher brackets. Only 3 years old. This fine 3 bedroom home with loads of closets and pecky cypress den has wall to wall carpeting. A Thermopane window wall, panel heat by Bryant, a 2 car attached garage, a very lovely well equipped kitchen and a paneled breakfast room. For the selective buyer who seeks gracious living, this one is a must at $39,900.

These are only a few of the fine offerings we have. Better stop in and look them over. No obligation of course.

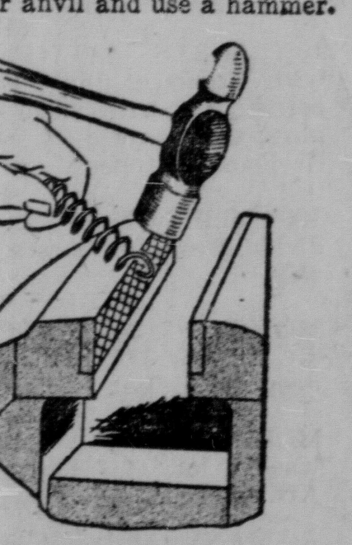
New Hook in Spring End

WHEN a new hook is needed on the end of a coil spring, the simplest method is to place the spring on the corner of a vise or anvil and use a hammer.



This procedure is far easier than using a pliers.

Place the last coil of the spring over the corner and hammer it at right angles to the axis of the spring. While hammering, move the spring slightly to avoid cutting the wire on the edge of the vise jaw. —Illustration courtesy Popular Mechanics.

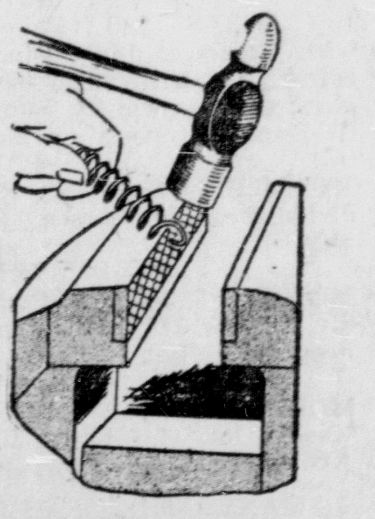
New Hook in Spring End

WHEN a new hook is needed on the end of a coil spring, the simplest method is to place the spring on the corner of a vise or anvil and use a hammer.



This procedure is far easier than using a pliers.

Place the last coil of the spring over the corner and hammer it at right angles to the axis of the spring. While hammering, move the spring slightly to avoid cutting the wire on the edge of the vise jaw. —Illustration courtesy Popular Mechanics.

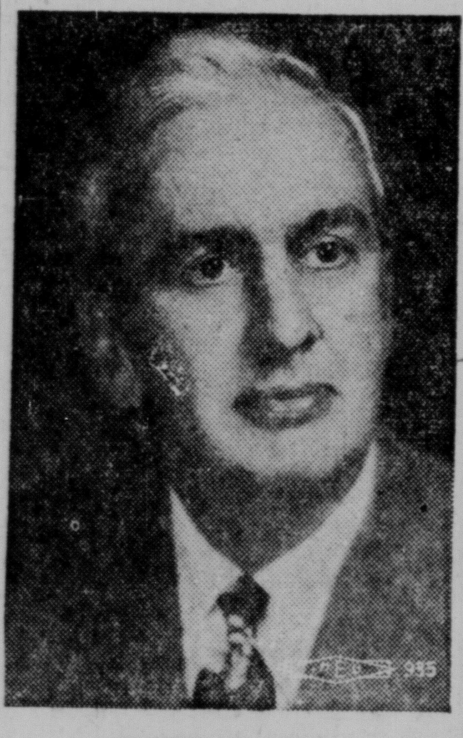
"I favor the nomination of James J. Cullen Jr., for representative in the General Assembly. Although I am not a voter in the 6th district, I am very much interested in having qualified men and women elected to represent the district which I had the honor and privilege of representing for 22 years.



JAMES CULLEN

"Mr. Cullen has the personal and professional qualifications for the office he seeks. I am pleased to advise the Republican voters of the 6th district to vote for him on Tuesday, April 10."

BERNICE VAN DER VRIES

Charles J. Walters Campaign Has Support Of Many Friends

Charles J. Walters of Palatine, who was one of the first persons to announce his candidacy for state senator, has found strong support throughout the 4 townships within the 3rd senatorial district.

"I am receiving every day volunteer expressions of support to my candidacy for state senator," Mr. Walters told a reporter. "The support of the regular organization of Schaumburg and Hanover came almost without solicitation.

"I am strictly an independent candidate and am asking the votes of people interested in sending a local man to the state legislature who has the needed background to be able to be heard in that legislative body and to get things done for the schools of the state, especially of northwest Cook county."

The names of the 6 candidates for senatorship will appear on the ballot of the 3rd district in 2 columns. Walters' name will be at the top of the second column.

Form Committee To Support Boughner

Mrs. Carl A. Scharninghousen, Quintens road, Palatine, today announced the formation of a women's volunteer committee to support Jackson L. Boughner for Republican state senator from the third Senatorial District. In addition to Mrs. Scharninghousen, the members of the committee are Mrs. Ernest J. Wiehrdt, Mrs. Gerald A. McElroy, Mrs. Robert M. Green, Miss Geraldine Cosby, Mrs. Ada Voss, Mrs. Carl W. Lewin, and Mrs Arthur J. Filkins.

Mrs. Scharninghousen stated that the members of the committee had reviewed the qualifications of all the candidates, and felt that Boughner was the best qualified to the field. She stated that Boughner's experience on the township, state, and national level would serve him in good stead if the voters of this district send him to Springfield. His interest in schools, drainage and good roads is in keeping with the needs of our fast growing suburban area.

Mrs. Scharninghousen urged all women to go to the polls April 10, so that the candidates to be selected by each party would represent a true cross-section of the voters. Women who wish to aid Mr. Boughner's candidacy are requested to get in touch with Mrs. Scharninghousen, who will act as coordinator of women's activities throughout the entire senatorial district.

James Stavros Seeks Democratic Nomination

Wheeling township has a candidate for the democratic nomination for state representative from the 6th district. In announcing his candidacy, James says, "As a son of the soil, my interests and sympathies are with the farmers. Legislation to improve their lot will be sponsored and supported by me. The same will apply to the working man, for I truly want to be a friend of labor.

JAMES STAVROS

"For the past several years, I have been an associate owner of the John Deere Tractor Sales of Wheeling. I feel that I know the problems of the small businessman and will do everything in my power to improve their status."

Stavros is seeking the solid support of the northwest area. If he gets it, he has an excellent chance of being elected to the legislature. Maine township has 6 candidates for the one position. Skokie has one candidate.

The candidate is a graduate of Arlington Heights high school. His family has always supported good schools. His oldest brother has served on the Wheeling Board of Education. His family has been associated with Wheeling township democratic organization 25 years. At present he is chairman of the Wheeling township Young Democrats.

Carroll Favors Resolving State Fund

Just talking about what is wrong with our schools won't solve the problems, John W. (Bill) Carroll, Park Ridge publisher, told a meeting of the Maine Township Regular Republican club last week.

Carroll, a candidate for State Representative from the new 6th District, said it is a foregone conclusion that the next Legislature would be asked to vote at least $200,000,000 a year for school aid "without in any way meeting the two most critical problems — classroom shortages and lack of teachers." He outlined 2 programs he intends to lay before the Legislature early in the next session.

Pointing out that the 6th District comprises one of the county's choicest residential areas, he said it was reasonable to expect families to want to establish new homes here, to give their children the benefits of a fine environment.

Carroll added that each 200 new families added, on an average, 400 children to school enrollments, "or the equivalent of one new school of 16 rooms."

Carroll said: "When I go to the Legislature next January as a representative from the 6th District, I will urge that the state set up a $100,000,000 revolving fund from which local school districts could borrow to build needed schools, even though they are at the limit of their bonding power."

Carroll pointed out that local school districts still would have to go to taxpayers for approval of plans to build schools, just as they now do. He explained that, instead of issuing bonds, they would borrow from the state at nominal interest, repaying the loans as rising valuations made tax income available. He declared a low interest rate would pay all administration costs, save taxpayers money compared with normal rates on bonds and in time refund the entire original fund. Carroll went on:

"At the same time, the communities would be getting the schools now, when they are needed, avoiding overcrowding, double shifts and too-heavy loads on teachers, all of which deprive our children of the fullest educational opportunities we want for them."

Austin A. Mitchell Campaigns For State Senator

Austin A. Mitchell, a resident of Hanover township, is waging an active campaign in the 3rd senatorial district for senator. He reports that his candidacy has been well received in both Barrington and Palatine and he expects to be elected.

He was reared, educated, and has been doing business as a resident farmer.

He thinks that a man does not have to be a lawyer in order to be a good senator. His business interests are now in real estate as a subdivider and insurance broker.

He has served his community as chairman of the March of Dimes, has served on the civil service board and has been an appraiser for the Veterans' Administration.

Francis B. Kennedy Veteran Of 2 Wars Seeks Nomination

Few candidates for public office have a longer list of affiliations than has Francis B. Kennedy of Barrington, who desires to represent the 3rd senatorial district in Springfield.

In addition to membership in 5 Masonic orders, he is affiliated with 3 servicemen's organizations, Lions club and 2 Republican groups.

Past employment includes work with the FBI, State Police Training school and 14 years in the employ of the United States Government as treasury agent.

Lawyers Endorse Kinne For Sixth District Post

Farrington B. Kinne, 1120 Lee road, Northbrook, Republican candidate for representative for the sixth representative district, has been endorsed by the Republican Lawyers' committee for the Sixth Representative district of which Nicholas J. Madgey, Glen Oak Acres, Glenview, is chairman.

FARRINGTON B. KINNE

Co-chairmen of the committee supporting Kinne's candidacy include Franklin C. Gagen, Skokie, Niles township; William R. Englehardt, Inverness Countryside, Palatine township, Leonard S. Schmitz, Bartlett, Hanover township; Frank J. McCabe Jr., Mt. Prospect, Elk Grove township and Edward J. Wendrow, Glenview, Niles township.

Among the members of the committee residing in Northfield township are:

Bartlett S. Marimon, Northbrook; William Marshall Lee, Glen Oak Acres; J. Wesley Amundson, Northbrook; Stanley R. Hauseman, Northbrook; Dominic H. Valens, Glenbrook Countryside; Knox Booth, Northbrook; Kirkpatrick W. Dilling, Northbrook; Alphons S. Krisor Jr., Northbrook; Frank P. Kays, Northbrook; Albert S. Long Jr., Northbrook Countryside and Thomas A. Reynolds Jr., Northfield.

Toll Road Kills Rte. 83 Completion

The editor's comment in last week's column suggesting that candidates for the legislature to pledge themselves to move route 83 out of Mt. Prospect has led John W. Damisch, to do a one-man investigation of the problem. He at least has found part of the answer. Here it is:

The notice to senatorial and representative candidates concerning the rerouting of route 83 detour out of Mount Prospect has been noted. Although I cannot promise to physically move route 83 detour and thereby obtain "a lot of votes" as suggested in your column, I have taken steps to see what can be done about moving route 83.

First I secured a gas station map and reviewed the problem. I then drove throughout the area to see what alternate plan might be followed. I also drove through the residential area along Foundry road to see how many homes might be affected by a proposed 200 foot right of way.

Today I called on Jim Tuthill, district engineer, Illinois division of highways. Mr. Tuthill sent me to Kenneth L. Brown, district engineer of design for state highways. Mr. Brown advised me that route 83 had been a "sore spot" with him for many years. The state has a 200 foot right of way south of Oakton street to the canal. He says that it is a shame that this expensive right of way cannot be properly used. He has been anxious to move route 83 out of Mount Prospect to the west. At the present the proposed toll road is delaying the moving of route 83. Until the toll road is situated he does not think that 83 will be moved. Furthermore, certain toll road people feel that by taking route 83 out of Mount Prospect and widening it to a 4-lane road will decrease toll road revenues.

It is proposed that route 83 be routed down old Busse rd., across Northwest highway between Arlington Heights and Mt. Prospect and north to a point near Buffalo Grove. It is to be a 4-lane highway with proper grade separations all the way through Wheeling and Elk Grove townships. With your permission and the permission of the voters of the new sixth district I am willing to carry on this fight to move route 83 detour out of Mt. Prospect.

JOHN W. DAMISCH

Gets Endorsement

Rep. Bernice T. Van der Vries has endorsed John Damisch of Northbrook, the Young Republican candidate for the GOP nomination as representative from the new sixth district.

In a letter to Damisch Tuesday Mrs. Van der Vries wrote:

"Although I am not a voter in the new sixth district in the general assembly, I am very much interested in having qualified men and women nominated and elected to represent the area which I had the honor and privilege of representing for 22 years.

Gas Company Hard Put To Keep Pace In Suburban Area

Northern Illinois Gas Company was pressed to keep pace in 1955 with the continuing high rate of square mile service area, President Marvin Chandler reported to stockholders in the utility's recently issued annual report.

Chandler pointed out that in 1955 total operating revenues increased 11.6 per cent over 1954 ($62,043,000 to $69,224,000) brought about principally from connecting a new one-year record of 33,462 customers; extension of house heating service to 29,956; and the increase in average residential use from 826 to 886 therms.

Earnings on the company's common stock were $1.22 per share in 1955 compared with 95 cents for 1954, Chandler said, with the 80 per cent share dividend rate continuing the same for both years.

One recent important development mentioned by Chandler in his message to stockholders reflected the utility's continuing efforts to obtain an additional supply of gas, particularly for the approximate 113,000 customers still on the gas heat waiting list.

New Trends In Swine Production Featured At Illinois Swine Day

Thursday, March 29, is the day for Illinois farmers to see and hear the latest developments in swine production at the University of Illinois college of agriculture, Urbana.

That's the date for the 1956 Swine Growers' day.

S. W. Terrill, head of the swine division at the college, says this year's program will help swine producers increase their profits.

Early visitors will have a chance to tour the university swine farm to look at swine production practices in use there and to see research in progress.

FEEDING and management will be the main topics under discussion at the morning session, beginning at 10:30 a.m. in the university auditorium.

A. H. Jensen will start the program with a discussion of the latest developments in early weaning trials. He says recent Illinois tests show that you'll get better results if you use weight rather than age to decide when to wean your pigs.

Terrill will report on a plan for mixing complete rations for swine. He reminds farmers that such ingredients as vitamins, antibiotics and unidentified factors are now available and can be used in mixing rations on the farm. He will provide complete information for those swine producers who are interested in mixing their own rations.

OTHER TOPICS include a report on swine diseases and the value of pasture vs. drylot feeding and the value of free-choice feeding in comparison with complete rations.

R. L. Coppersmith, extension livestock marketing specialist, who is an afternoon speaker, will discuss marketing quality pork.

J. Marion Steddom, Granger, Iowa, and John F. Lasley of the animal husbandry department, University of Missouri, will appear as featured speakers.

Steddom, president of the Iowa Swine Producers association, who was a member of the 1955 delegation to Russia, will give his views concerning Russian agriculture. Lasley will speak on breeding methods for profitable pork production.

A BARBECUED pork chop luncheon is being planned for Swine Day visitors this year. Members of the Hoof and Horn chapter of the National Block and Bridle club are sponsoring the noontime event.

Equipment and exhibits will be on display at the stock pavilion for visitors after the afternoon session. Companies manufacturing swine equipment will set up exhibits, and swine specialists and other members of the college of agricuture will arrange displays to demonstrate proper use of swine equipment. Large Pea Crop

An exceptional pea crop, which out-produced anything the state has seen for the past 10 years, was the major factor as Illinois vegetable growers took in more than $13 million from canners and freezers in 1955, far above the 10-year average of $10.2 million, according to the American Can company. The University of Illinois is again offering scholarships in agriculture and home economics. One each per county is available. The scholarship is good for 4 years' of tuition. It is awarded on the basis of a competitive examination to students in the upper 50 per cent of a high school class or with a 3.5 average from another college.

If you are interested in making application for this scholarship, notify the county superintendent of schools.

There are 67 general county tuition scholarships available for Cook county freshmen students entering the university for the first time. It is good for 4 years' tuition also, awarded on a similar competitive examination basis. There is 1 scholarship per county available for children of veterans of both world wars and Korea, good for 4 years' tuition awarded on a similar basis. There are several other scholarships available at the university for $200 per year and up. If you are interested in applying for a scholarship sponsored by the University of Illinois, I would be happy to talk to you about it.

PLASTIC greenhouses offer many advantages to vegetable growers. A good bulletin on this subject has recently been published by Purdue university. It is Extension Bulletin 411, "Vegetable Production in Plastic Greenhouses."

It may be obtained from the Purdue university, Lafayette, Ind. The bulletin describes how to build a plastic greenhouse and discusses the production of tomatoes and lettuce, and the growing of vegetable plants under plastic.

USDA CALLS for cut in vegetable plantings. Acreage marketing guides for 1956 recommend that the total acreage be reduced 2 per cent for fresh summer vegetables, 9 per cent for summer melons. These guides are designed to assist vegetable growers in planning production.

The recommended changes in acreage for specific vegetables in 1956 as compared with 1955 are as follows: early snap beans (reduce 5 per cent), sweet corn (no change), early cucumbers (no change), onions (reduce 5 per cent), early tomatoes (reduce 5 per cent), late tomatoes (increase 5 per cent), muskmelons (reduce

Arrange remainder of cheese on 10 per cent, fall carrots (increase 5 per cent).

SUGGESTIONS for meeting the price-cost squeeze have been made by G. B. Whitman, department of agricultural economics, University of Illinois. Here are some of them:

1. Make wise use of fertilizers based on soil tests and soil type capabilities.
2. Carefully consider the use of insecticides, fungicides and other chemicals for crops and weeds. It is wise to use these products if research and experience show that crop income will be increasd more than the added costs.
3. Hire only the labor needed. Farm labor rates are now 4 times the 1940 rates.
4. Exchange labor and machines with neighbors to lower costs for both.
5. If volume of business does not occupy fully the labor available, off-farm jobs or custom work will help, or perhaps the business can be enlarged.
6. Do not give up the ship! Have faith in the future! Farmers have sailed stormy waters before!

PRE-PLANTING applications of insecticides to the soil have become a popular, simple, and effetive method of controlling a great many soil-inhabiting insect pests. Aldrin is the material most commonly recommended for this purpose, although dieldrin and heptachlor are suggested for some purposes. Such pests as wireworms, cutworms, white grubs, onion maggot, cabbage maggot, seed corn beetle, and seed corn maggot are susceptible to this type of control measure.

For most crops, there is no danger of toxic residues or off-flavors resulting from properly applied soil treatments. It should be pointed out, however, that improper application, excessive dosages, use of non-registered insecticides, or using soil treatments on unapproved crops may result in lack of insect control, actual damage to plants, or loss of crop through off-flavors.

Instructions for the proper use of approved chemicals for soil treatments are printed on the labeis of containers. These instructions should be read, understood, and carefully followed in order that no residue hazards or off-flavors are present in the treated crop and to insure maximum benefits from controlling soil-inhabiting insect pests. (J. M. Wright, Illinois Natural History Survey). (Fm

Corn Allotment Is Down From Last Year

Cook county's corn acreage allotment for 1956 is 43,007 acres as compared to the 1955 allotment of 53,048 acres. In making this announcement Carl M. Bormet, of the local ASC committee, points out that this decrease refects a reduction in the total allotment for the commercial corn area. This has been due to the larger current supplies of corn as related to prospective demand.

At the present time the county allotment is being apportioned among the corn growing farmers of the county and notices of individual farm allotments will be mailed to farmers in the near future. Owners and operators who feel that their allotments have not been properly determined may file an appeal with the county committee within 15 days after the allotment notice was mailed.

IT SHOULD be understood, continued Mr. Bormet, that all farms will not be given the same proportionate cut from last year's allotment. This results from the fact that individual allotments are reconsidered each year, and changes may result from a number of factors which are to be applied in arriving at final determinations.

Corn price support is available to producers who comply with the allotment program. The national average minimum rate as now announced is $1.40 per bushel. Such rate will not be lowered, but may be increased if a combination of the corn parity price as of October 1, 1956 and the corn supply relationship as of that date indicate a higher support price.

Law On The Farm

Rules of Surface Drainage

A landowner can do certain things to improve the drainage of surface waters on his land. He can:

1. Widen, deepen and clean natural depressions that carry his surface water.
2. Straighten out channels on his own land so long as he does not change the point of entry on lower land.
3. Accelerate the flow of water, if in the interest of good husbandry.
4. Drain ponds or depressions in the direction they overflow.
5. Use tile for better drainage.
6. Fill up low places and force the water into channels.
7. Construct grass waterways, check dams and terraces.

* * *

THERE ARE also rules to prevent a landowner from making certain drainage changes. He must not:

1. Divert water to lands that do not naturally receive his drainage.
2. Change the point of entry of surface water on lower land.
3. Bring in water from another watershed and discharge it on the lower farm.
4. Release a large body of water from a dam or pond at one time.
5. Connect tile with the neighbors' tile or with highway tile without consent.
6. Pollute any water that passes from his farm to another's lands.

PUBLIC ROADS are in the same position as if the road were farmland. That is, these same rules apply — with one important exception. If the highway commissioner or other highway authority can show that the roadway would be damaged by natural drainage, then these officials have a right to make changes.

However, in such cases a farmer whose land is injured has a legal right to compensation for the injury. (Fm

Higher Support, More Sales Answer To Dairymen's Crisis

The general manager of Pure Milk association predicted this week that dairy farmers will prove to be the best swimmers in agriculture's present "deep waters."

But A. L. McWilliams predicted also a long, hard swim, alone, without government cooperation.

He cited stumbling blocks to dairy progress and suggested it would take more oomph" behind present "tries" to triumph in the current price crisis.

He spoke before a crowd of 2000 attending the 31st annual meeting of the dairy farmers' cooperative.

THE CO-OP manager chided the Chicago health department for lack of action in issues that would streamline milk marketing and benefit milk users.

"We are still waiting to find out whether we are going to be able to pick up bulk milk every other day," he remarked. "We are waiting to find out whether the outmoded dating requirements will be discontinued. We are waiting for the health department to set up requirements for grade 'A' cottage cheese which in Chicago still is being made from grade 'B' milk."

McWilliams concentrated much of his address on suggestions for improving the diary farmers' lot. He listed 3 areas in which the association is working to do this:

1. Higher support prices
2. More sales of fluid milk
3. Less production

IN A PARODY on parity, McWilliams explained, "The U. S. department of agriculture tells us we are now getting 86 per cent of parity. Now, that's just dandy because 2 years ago we were only getting 75 per cent of parity. Of course, you haven't noticed it in your milk check, but don't be alarmed because it doesn't show up in your milk price. And your dealer hasn't been cheating you either.

"The answer is simple," he continued. "They have worked up a new way of figuring parity prices for milk. What used to be 75 per cent is now 84 per cent. Do you know that 75 per cent of parity as it is figured today would cut your milk price another 27 cents a hundred? Yet, there are many who think we should maintain the 75 per cent support level. Is that what you want?"

McWILLIAMS said that 3000 member replies to a recent questionnaire on preferred support levels "indicate a very small percentage of PMA members favor this kind of freeze-out."

Turning to sales talk, PMA's manager reported that milk and cream sales increased in the Chicago Market by five per cent in 1955 due to extensive and intensive advertising and promotion efforts by the Association and other dairy interests. Those increased sales added eight cents per hundredweight to the dairy farmers' milk price last year or 3½ million dollars in income.

There were about 22,000 dairy farmers producing milk for Chicago market outlets in 1955. Pure Milk association has 15,000 dairy farmer members.

McWilliams urged continued support of Association and other advertising programs to help stimulate as good and even greater sales response in 1956.

In conclusion, he said Pure Milk Association is taking steps to get less production on the market. (Fm

Meat-Type Hogs Popular Here

Hog marketing methods received some first hand appraisal from 34 of the nation's top hog salesmen attending a recent swine conference sponsored by National Live Stock Producers association.

Producers salesmen, whose combined experience represents over 500 years in selling hogs, tackled the problems of packer attitude on meat-type hogs, future plans on marketing meat-type hogs and special hog marketing problems.

National Live Stock Producer, the nation's leading live stock magazine supplies this summary of their opinions:

TERMINAL and country markets are working closely together to sell all hogs—especially meat types.

Eastern Corn Belt markets are far ahead of Western Corn Belt markets in live graded hog sales.

Meat hogs are being packaged in more uniform lots so packers can buy them on a quality basis "sight unseen."

HOGS CONSIGNED direct are bringing 75 cents to $1 under the terminal market price.

Beef Calves Inherit Their Ability To Grow Rapidly

Bulls that gain fast in the feed lot will pass this ability on to their calves.

A good way to check the inherited performance of your herd is to put your bull calves on full feed and check their rate of gain for 140 to 150 days, suggests H. G. Russel, extention livestock specialist at the University of Illinois.

AS AN EXAMPLE of the difference inheritance can make in rate of gain, Russell points to 2 different farms where there was a difference of 88 pounds in the average weight of calves weaned. The only way to explain this difference is in inheritance.

Both herds were of the same breed, cow numbers were about the same and calves in each herd had grain available in a calf creep. However, the adjusted 215-day weights showed remarkable difference in calf weights between the two herds.

Milking ability of the cows could have been an important factor in this difference, the specialist says. Both cow herds were in good flesh at weaning time. There was little difference in average scores for type and condition between the two groups of calves.

PERFORMANCE testing does not emphasize only growing ability, Russell says. Selections for herd replacement are made on the basis of both satisfactory growth and good score for type. Based on market values the 2 must go together. (Fm

USDA CALLS for cut in vegetable plantings. Acreage marketing guides for 1956 recommend that the total acreage be reduced 2 per cent for fresh summer vegetables, 9 per cent for summer melons. These guides are designed to assist vegetable growers in planning production.

The recommended changes in acreage for specific vegetables in 1956 as compared with 1955 are as follows: early snap beans (reduce 5 per cent), sweet corn (no change), early cucumbers (no change), onions (reduce 5 per cent), early tomatoes (reduce 5 per cent), late tomatoes (increase 5 per cent), muskmelons (reduce Arrange remainder of cheese on 10 per cent, fall carrots (increase 5 per cent).

SUGGESTIONS for meeting the price-cost squeeze have been made by G. B. Whitman, department of agricultural economics, University of Illinois. Here are some of them:

1. Make wise use of fertilizers based on soil tests and soil type capabilities.

2. Carefully consider the use of insecticides, fungicides and other chemicals for crops and weeds. It is wise to use these products if research and experience show that crop income will be increasd more than the added costs.

3. Hire only the labor needed. Farm labor rates are now 4 times the 1940 rates.

4. Exchange labor and machines with neighbors to lower costs for both.

5. If volume of business does not occupy fully the labor available, off-farm jobs or custom work will help, or perhaps the business can be enlarged.

6. Do not give up the ship! Have faith in the future! Farmers have sailed stormy waters before!

PRE-PLANTING applications of insecticides to the soil have become a popular, simple, and effetive method of controlling a great many soil-inhabiting insect pests. Aldrin is the material most commonly recommended for this purpose, although dieldrin and heptachlor are suggested for some purposes. Such pests as wireworms, cutworms, white grubs, onion maggot, cabbage maggot, seed corn beetle, and seed corn maggot are susceptible to this type of control measure.

For most crops, there is no danger of toxic residues or off-flavors resulting from properly applied soil treatments. It should be pointed out, however, that improper application, excessive dosages, use of non-registered insecticides, or using soil treatments on unapproved crops may result in lack of insect control, actual damage to plants, or loss of crop through off-flavors.

Instructions for the proper use of approved chemicals for soil treatments are printed on the labels of containers. These instructions should be read, understood, and carefully followed in order that no residue hazards or off-flavors are present in the treated crop and to insure maximum benefits from controlling soil-inhabiting insect pests. Higher Support, More Sales Answer To Dairymen's Crisis

The general manager of Pure Milk association predicted this week that dairy farmers will prove to be the best swimmers in agriculture's present "deep waters."

But A. L. McWilliams predicted also a long, hard swim, alone, without government cooperation.

He cited stumbling blocks to dairy progress and suggested it would take more oomph" behind present "tries" to triumph in the current price crisis.

He spoke before a crowd of 2000 attending the 31st annual meeting of the dairy farmers' cooperative.

THE CO-OP manager chided the Chicago health department for lack of action in issues that would streamline milk marketing and benefit milk users.

"We are still waiting to find out whether we are going to be able to pick up bulk milk every other day," he remarked. "We are waiting to find out whether the outmoded dating requirements will be discontinued. We are waiting for the health department to set up requirements for grade 'A' cottage cheese which in Chicago still is being made from grade 'B' milk."

McWilliams concentrated much of his address on suggestions for improving the diary farmers' lot. He listed 3 areas in which the association is working to do this:

1. Higher support prices
2. More sales of fluid milk
3. Less production

IN A PARODY on parity, McWilliams explained, "The U. S. department of agriculture tells us we are now getting 86 per cent of parity. Now, that's just dandy because 2 years ago we were only getting 75 per cent of parity. Of course, you haven't noticed it in your milk check, but don't be alarmed because it doesn't show up in your milk price. And your dealer hasn't been cheating you either.

"The answer is simple," he continued. "They have worked up a new way of figuring parity prices for milk. What used to be 75 per cent is now 84 per cent. Do you know that 75 per cent of parity as it is figured today would cut your milk price another 27 cents a hundred? Yet, there are many who think we should maintain the 75 per cent support level. Is that what you want?"

McWILLIAMS said that 3000 member replies to a recent questionnaire on preferred support levels "indicate a very small percentage of PMA members favor this kind of freeze-out."

Turning to sales talk, PMA's manager reported that milk and cream sales increased in the Chicago Market by five per cent in 1955 due to extensive and intensive advertising and promotion efforts by the Association and other dairy interests. Those increased sales added eight cents per hundredweight to the dairy farmers' milk price last year or 3½ million dollars in income.

There were about 22,000 dairy farmers producing milk for Chicago market outlets in 1955. Pure Milk association has 15,000 dairy farmer members.

McWilliams urged continued support of Association and other advertising programs to help stimulate as good and even greater sales response in 1956.

In conclusion, he said Pure Milk Association is taking steps to get less production on the market. (Fm

Meat-Type Hogs Popular Here

Hog marketing methods received some first hand appraisal from 34 of the nation's top hog salesmen attending a recent swine conference sponsored by National Live Stock Producers association.

Producers salesmen, whose combined experience represents over 500 years in selling hogs, tackled the problems of packer attitude on meat-type hogs, future plans on marketing meat-type hogs and special hog marketing problems.

National Live Stock Producer, the nation's leading live stock magazine supplies this summary of their opinions:

TERMINAL and country markets are working closely together to sell all hogs—especially meat types.

Eastern Corn Belt markets are far ahead of Western Corn Belt markets in live graded hog sales.

Meat hogs are being packaged in more uniform lots so packers can buy them on a quality basis "sight unseen."

HOGS CONSIGNED direct are bringing 75 cents to $1 under the terminal market price.

Beef Calves Inherit Their Ability To Grow Rapidly

Bulls that gain fast in the feed lot will pass this ability on to their calves.

A good way to check the inherited performance of your herd is to put your bull calves on full feed and check their rate of gain for 140 to 150 days, suggests H. G. Russel, extention livestock specialist at the University of Illinois.

AS AN EXAMPLE of the difference inheritance can make in rate of gain, Russell points to 2 different farms where there was a difference of 88 pounds in the average weight of calves weaned. The only way to explain this difference is in inheritance.

Both herds were of the same breed, cow numbers were about the same and calves in each herd had grain available in a calf creep. However, the adjusted 215-day weights showed remarkable difference in calf weights between the two herds.

Milking ability of the cows could have been an important factor in this difference, the specialist says. Both cow herds were in good flesh at weaning time. There was little difference in average scores for type and condition between the two groups of calves.

PERFORMANCE testing does not emphasize only growing ability, Russell says. Selections for herd replacement are made on the basis of both satisfactory growth and good score for type. Based on market values the 2 must go together. (Fm

Law On The Farm

Rules of Surface Drainage

A landowner can do certain things to improve the drainage of surface waters on his land. He can:

1. Widen, deepen and clean natural depressions that carry his surface water.

2. Straighten out channels on his own land so long as he does not change the point of entry on lower land.

3. Accelerate the flow of water, if in the interest of good husbandry.

4. Drain ponds or depressions in the direction they overflow.

5. Use tile for better drainage.

6. Fill up low places and force the water into channels.

7. Construct grass waterways, check dams and terraces.

* * *

THERE ARE also rules to prevent a landowner from making certain drainage changes. He must not:

1. Divert water to lands that do not naturally receive his drainage.

2. Change the point of entry of surface water on lower land.

3. Bring in water from another watershed and discharge it on the lower farm.

4. Release a large body of water from a dam or pond at one time.

5. Connect tile with the neighbors' tile or with highway tile without consent.

6. Pollute any water that passes from his farm to another's lands.

PUBLIC ROADS are in the same position as if the road were farmland. That is, these same rules apply — with one important exception. If the highway commissioner or other highway authority can show that the roadway would be damaged by natural drainage, then these officials have a right to make changes.

However, in such cases a farmer whose land is injured has a legal right to compensation for the injury. (Fm

Project Meeting Held By Up And Doing 4-H

First summer project meeting of the season for Up and Doing 4-H club was held March 6 at the home of Sandra Busse. A variety of subjects were demonstrated: adventures in cooking by Sharon Luczak, draped dressing table by Sandra Moehling, you learn to bake by Pat Burditt and Sandra Busse, practical sewing by Marcella Beigel, how to prepare and wrap food for the freezer by Cheryll Garlisch and mirror on health, by Bonnie Loy and Marcella Beigel.

Saturday afternoon, March 10 a pressing party was held at the home of president, Sharon Garlisch. Every member present was given a chance to iron. Leader Mrs. Edwin Deeke and Judy Moehling explained how to repair safely the electrical plug of the iron.

Following the projects refreshments were served and time was called for recreation. The next meeting will be March 20 at the home of Lou Ann Lacine.

Talks Highlight Schaumburg 4-H Meet

Schaumburg 4-H club held its monthly meeting March 9 at the public school in Schaumburg. Two guests were present at the meeting, Colette Deering and Gerald Frietag.

Paul Walder gave a talk on selecting a garden area and William Pfingston on 4-H members who enroll in beef projects. A committee was appointed to make plans for the forthcoming activities. Those appointed were officers of the club.

Plans are being made for members and their families to spend a day at the 4-H camp.

Members having beef and dairy this year brought their record books for a monthly check up.

Future Farmers of America — FFA — 4H CLUB

Pressing Party For Future Homes 4-H

Future Homes 4-H club held a pressing party at the home of Mrs. N. Foss, leader, March 9. Guests present were Medinah Merry Maids 4-H club.

Directions from the flip sheet on ironing were read and explained by Lois Von Bergen and Vern Krause of Future Homes 4-H. After the explanations, each girl took a turn at ironing.

Entertainment was provided by Joanne Blazik who played the accordion and Gloria Goszko who gave pantomines. Both girls were members of Medinah Merry Maids 4-H. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Foss.

Sewing Machines Needed By 4-H Group

Sewing machines are urgently needed for Palatine Busy Bees 4-H group. The organization has 64 members and only 2 sewing machines. The girls would like to finish their dress projects by June and ask anyone with machines to loan, donate or sell at a small price, to phone Mrs. Albert Koskela, leader, at 886.

Mrs. Helmut D. Leimann was the donor of the 2 machines now used by the girls. Other leaders of the group are Mesdames C. Bennett, R. Preus, G. Beyer, H. Schmidt, M. Collier, H. Leimann, A. Hapke, W. Pittinger and S. Eagle. The Misses Shirley Wallenter, Althea Berlin and Judy Hillesheim are junior leaders of the group.

TNT 4-H Reminds Members Of Camp

A 4-H meeting of the TNT club was held February 27 at the home of Susi Carter. Members were reminded of 4-H camp, to be held this year from June 18-22. The fee is $13.50 and a refund of $6.50 will be made in case of illness; complete refund will be made if there is a waiting list.

OFW has asked the club to bring food March 18 for the servicemen's club in Des Plaines.

TNT thanks the yearbook committee for yearbooks. Any girl in the club having good attendance, her project book filled in correctly and any extra credit work, will be awarded a pin on achievement day. The club is considering a clothing tour at Wieboldt's store in Evanston. TNT has a radio spot for 20 minutes March 17 between 11 and 12 o'clock.

Sally Wichman and Dierra Krieder gave a combined demonstration on how to make a quick coffee cake at the February 27 meeting. Joan Klamer gave a demonstration on brownies, Noellene Heimsoth on the correct way to set a table, Judy Wille on table etiquette and Sally Wichman on planning a meal.

Rural Youth To Meet

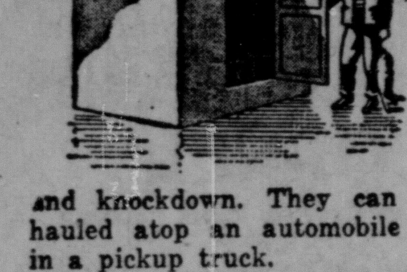
North Cook rural youth will hold its regular monthly meeting Wednesday, March 21, at 9 a.m. in the Farm Bureau building, Arlington Heights.

Handy Jim's FIXIN-UP TIPS For the Home

Ice Fishing Shelter

WITH a portable, knockdown ice fishing shelter, anglers can enjoy the winter sport in comfort, protected from cold winds. Easily built with sturdy Masonite Tempered Presdwood panels, which assure a long life, the structure may be heated. It has a plastic window which of course may be darkened, if desired, by means of a shade.

Since only seven panels are involved, there is a minimum of construction, hauling, setup and knockdown. They can be hauled atop an automobile or in a pickup truck.



An interesting feature is that the panels are fastened together with screen-couplings. No nuts and bolts are needed, so there's nothing to become lost and no fumbling around in icy weather getting the panels set up. Construction is easy, too, as there are only four different patterns for the seven panels. If desired, a stovepipe hole may be cut in one of the wall panels. Naturally, the hole must be protected by an asbestos collar.

Application of a primer and two finish coats of paint complete the "house on ice."

To obtain a free working drawing, write the Home Service Bureau, Suite 2037, 111 West Washington St., Chicago 2, Ill., requesting a copy of Plan AE-299.

Bright Future Ahead For Farm Wood Lots

Newspapers are currently faced with a critical newsprint shortage. This shortage is an example of the ever increasing demand for forest products.

Will Illinois farmers be able to supply wood pulp for newsprint to keep the presses running in the future?

The answer is no.

There are no newsprint mills near by. But farmers will be able to supply other wood-using industries whose demands are also increasing.

J. N. Spaeth, head of the forestry department at the University of Illinois college of agriculture, says Illinois farmers must play a big role in future production of forest products. Since farmers own one-third of all the timber land in the continental United States, farm woodlots will be an increasingly important source of wood products in coming years.

Spaeth says we have enough timber land to meet future needs if this land is properly managed.

For the 3 million acres of farm woodlands in Illinois, this means harvesting properly and preventing fire, grazing, insects and diseases. Spaeth says Illinois farmers could double or even triple the production of their woodlands in future years with wise management. (Fm

Iowan Pioneers New Concept Of Low Cost Hog Feed Plan

Present low levels of hog prices, which recently dipped to the lowest price since 1942, have added a special significance to a new concept in hog feeding which combines the latest scientific nutritional skills of American research farms and laboratories with the 4½ centuries of experience of European framers whose fine, lean pigs are world famous.

The man responsible for the fresh approach to greater economy in hog raising and for a new method for the production of extra lean hogs so much in consumer demand and vital to profit-making in a low price market now is P. J. Geerlings, of Waterloo, the Iowan who in February, 1953, pioneered the country's first dry feed replacement for the sow's liquid milk which was the key to successful early weaning and which earned him national renown.

FOR THE PAST 2 years, Geerlings has been working on a theory he has long held that feed has a substantial effect on the amount and quality of meat a hog will produce regardless of breed.

After bringing to a successful conclusion his 16 years of on-the-farm research that made possible his early weaning discovery, Geerlings turned loose his company's research lab and experimental farm, outside of Waterloo, on the whole problem of improving the quality of bacon produced by feed alone.

Last summer he flew to Europe to study first-hand the feeding patterns of Dutch, Danish, and other world-renowned hog raisers whose farms since the start of the 16th century have been raising hogs.

He found that with Holland and Denmark exporting much of their meat production to England where lean meat is demanded by the British, it was natural to expect them to specialize in lean breeds; and he found that breeding undoubtedly has much to do with the character of European hogs. However, he learned also that there is a great deal more to lean European hogs than breeding alone.

CLIMATE, he discovered, has an influence on hogs. The Low Countries and the Scandinavian countries, being close to the sea, benefit from air that carries a certain amount of salt. Salt, therefore, he learned, is found everywhere in just about the right amount — in the crops produced and in the soil itself; and as a result, nature supplies the cattle and hogs with about all the salt they need. They are fed only a small amount of salt in their feed. This natural balance of salt, he found, has a very definite effect on the quality of the bacon produced. He found also that European farmers were feeding many of the same ingredients that he was experimenting with in Waterloo in his attempts to develop a feed that would produce better quality pork regardless of breed.

Returning from Europe, Geerlings with certainty resolved one critical fact in his own mind: the kind of feed used definitely has something to do with whether a hog has more red meat and less fat.

"Free-choice feeding, however, changed the picture," he explained. "We found that by feeding a fattening hog the same amount of protein free-choice as otherwise would be fed in a complete ration, the over-all carcass changed considerably. The short, fat hog on a free-choice basis will eat as much as 2 pounds of supplement per day, whereas his long, lean brother would eat only ¼ pound per day. Since protein helps produce red meat, it was apparent to us that the right kind of a protein fed free-choice couldn't help but influence the making of the pig. By changing the protein and re-arranging our mineral and salt balance using the new data I learned in Europe, we found that feeding free-choice, letting the pig help himself from birth to market, resulted in some of the finest bacon we ever produced on our experimental farm."

With all this data finally in hand, Geerlings has just produced an entirely new finishing feed which he calls "H.B. 45" and which his Iowa farmer friends now affectionately call the "Bacon Maker."

By using this new feeding method, he has raised litters of pigs with lean, extra fine carcasses which, when dressed in Iowa packing houses, have amazed the meat processors.

AND THE CLINCHER is that he has been successful in raising hogs at less than 9 cents a pound under average farm conditions which means that even in a low hog market, the farmer and hog raiser can still make a profit in the face of 12-cent prices.

Geerlings has this advice for farmers who must produce for less to sell in a low market and still make a profit. "With the universal demand now for lean meat, hog raisers must take 3 major steps: they must (1) work toward better breeding; (2) feed special feeds in careful feeding programs that will produce leaner meat; and (3) must market their hogs at 200 pounds." (Fm

Project Meeting Held By Up And Doing 4-H

First summer project meeting of the season for Up and Doing 4-H club was held March 6 at the home of Sandra Busse. A variety of subjects were demonstrated: adventures in cooking by Sharon Luczak, draped dressing table by Sandra Moehling, you learn to bake by Pat Burditt and Sandra Busse, practical sewing by Marcella Beigel, how to prepare and wrap food for the freezer by Cheryll Garlisch and mirror on health, by Bonnie Loy and Marcella Beigel.

Saturday afternoon, March 10 a pressing party was held at the home of president, Sharon Garlisch. Every member present was given a chance to iron. Leader Mrs. Edwin Deeke and Judy Moehling explained how to repair safely the electrical plug of the iron.

Following the projects refreshments were served and time was called for recreation. The next meeting will be March 20 at the home of Lou Ann Lacine.

Talks Highlight Schaumburg 4-H Meet

Schaumburg 4-H club held its monthly meeting March 9 at the public school in Schaumburg. Two guests were present at the meeting, Colette Deering and Gerald Frietag.

Paul Walder gave a talk on selecting a garden area and William Pfingston on 4-H members who enroll in beef projects. A committee was appointed to make plans for the forthcoming activities. Those appointed were officers of the club.

Plans are being made for members and their families to spend a day at the 4-H camp.

Members having beef and dairy this year brought their record books for a monthly check up.

4H CLUB

Pressing Party For Future Homes 4-H

Future Homes 4-H club held a pressing party at the home of Mrs. N. Foss, leader, March 9. Guests present were Medinah Merry Maids 4-H club.

Directions from the flip sheet on ironing were read and explained by Lois Von Bergen and Vern Krause of Future Homes 4-H. After the explanations, each girl took a turn at ironing.

Entertainment was provided by Joanne Blazik who played the accordion and Gloria Goszko who gave pantomines. Both girls were members of Medinah Merry Maids 4-H. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Foss.

Sewing Machines Needed By 4-H Group

Sewing machines are urgently needed for Palatine Busy Bees 4-H group. The organization has 64 members and only 2 sewing machines. The girls would like to finish their dress projects by June and ask anyone with machines to loan, donate or sell at a small price, to phone Mrs. Albert Koskela, leader, at 886.

Mrs. Helmut D. Leimann was the donor of the 2 machines now used by the girls. Other leaders of the group are Mesdames C. Bennett, R. Preus, G. Beyer, H. Schmidt, M. Collier, H. Leimann, A. Hapke, W. Pittinger and S. Eagle. The Misses Shirley Wallenter, Althea Berlin and Judy Hillesheim are junior leaders of the group.

TNT 4-H Reminds Members Of Camp

A 4-H meeting of the TNT club was held February 27 at the home of Susi Carter. Members were reminded of 4-H camp, to be held this year from June 18-22. The fee is $13.50 and a refund of $6.50 will be made in case of illness; complete refund will be made if there is a waiting list.

OFW has asked the club to bring food March 18 for the servicemen's club in Des Plaines.

TNT thanks the yearbook committee for yearbooks. Any girl in the club having good attendance, her project book filled in correctly and any extra credit work, will be awarded a pin on achievement day. The club is considering a clothing tour at Wieboldt's store in Evanston. TNT has a radio spot for 20 minutes March 17 between 11 and 12 o'clock.

Sally Wichman and Dierra Krieder gave a combined demonstration on how to make a quick coffee cake at the February 27 meeting. Joan Klamer gave a demonstration on brownies, Noellene Heimsoth on the correct way to set a table, Judy Wille on table etiquette and Sally Wichman on planning a meal.

Rural Youth To Meet

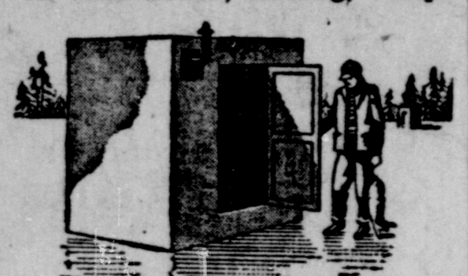
North Cook rural youth will hold its regular monthly meeting Wednesday, March 21, at 9 a.m. in the Farm Bureau building, Arlington Heights.

Handy Jim's FIXIN-UP TIPS For the Home

Ice Fishing Shelter

WITH a portable, knockdown ice fishing shelter, anglers can enjoy the winter sport in comfort, protected from cold winds. Easily built with sturdy Masonite Tempered Presdwood panels, which assure a long life, the structure may be heated. It has a plastic window which of course may be darkened, if desired, by means of a shade.

Since only seven panels are involved, there is a minimum of construction, hauling, setup and knockdown. They can be hauled atop an automobile or in a pickup truck.



An interesting feature is that the panels are fastened together with screen-couplings. No nuts and bolts are needed, so there's nothing to become lost and no fumbling around in icy weather getting the panels set up. Construction is easy, too, as there are only four different patterns for the seven panels. If desired, a stovepipe hole may be cut in one of the wall panels. Naturally, the hole must be protected by an asbestos collar.

Application of a primer and two finish coats of paint complete the "house on ice."

To obtain a free working drawing, write the Home Service Bureau, Suite 2037, 111 West Washington St., Chicago 2, Ill., requesting a copy of Plan AE-299.

Bright Future Ahead For Farm Wood Lots

Newspapers are currently faced with a critical newsprint shortage. This shortage is an example of the ever increasing demand for forest products.

Will Illinois farmers be able to supply wood pulp for newsprint to keep the presses running in the future?

The answer is no.

There are no newsprint mills near by. But farmers will be able to supply other wood-using industries whose demands are also increasing.

J. N. Spaeth, head of the forestry department at the University of Illinois college of agriculture, says Illinois farmers must play a big role in future production of forest products. Since farmers own one-third of all the timber land in the continental United States, farm woodlots will be an increasingly important source of wood products in coming years.

Spaeth says we have enough timber land to meet future needs if this land is properly managed.

For the 3 million acres of farm woodlands in Illinois, this means harvesting properly and preventing fire, grazing, insects and diseases. Spaeth says Illinois farmers could double or even triple the production of their woodlands in future years with wise management. (Fm

Present low levels of hog prices, which recently dipped to the lowest price since 1942, have added a special significance to a new concept in hog feeding which combines the latest scientific nutritional skills of American research farms and laboratories with the 4½ centuries of experience of European framers whose fine, lean pigs are world famous.

The man responsible for the fresh approach to greater economy in hog raising and for a new method for the production of extra lean hogs so much in consumer demand and vital to profit-making in a low price market now is P. J. Geerlings, of Waterloo, the Iowan who in February, 1953, pioneered the country's first dry feed replacement for the sow's liquid milk which was the key to successful early weaning and which earned him national renown.

FOR THE PAST 2 years, Geerlings has been working on a theory he has long held that feed has a substantial effect on the amount and quality of meat a hog will produce regardless of breed.

After bringing to a successful conclusion his 16 years of on-the-farm research that made possible his early weaning discovery, Geerlings turned loose his company's research lab and experimental farm, outside of Waterloo, on the whole problem of improving the quality of bacon produced by feed alone.

Last summer he flew to Europe to study first-hand the feeding patterns of Dutch, Danish, and other world-renowned hog raisers whose farms since the start of the 16th century have been raising hogs.

He found that with Holland and Denmark exporting much of their meat production to England where lean meat is demanded by the British, it was natural to expect them to specialize in lean breeds; and he found that breeding undoubtedly has much to do with the character of European hogs. However, he learned also that there is a great deal more to lean European hogs than breeding alone.

CLIMATE, he discovered, has an influence on hogs. The Low Countries and the Scandinavian countries, being close to the sea, benefit from air that carries a certain amount of salt. Salt, therefore, he learned, is found everywhere in just about the right amount—in the crops produced and in the soil itself; and as a result, nature supplies the cattle and hogs with about all the salt they need. They are fed only a small amount of salt in their feed. This natural balance of salt, he found, has a very definite effect on the quality of the bacon produced. He found also that European farmers were feeding many of the same ingredients that he was experimenting with in Waterloo in his attempts to develop a feed that would produce better quality pork regardless of breed.

Returning from Europe, Geerlings with certainty resolved one critical fact in his own mind: the kind of feed used definitely has something to do with whether a hog has more red meat and less fat.

"Free-choice feeding, however, changed the picture," he explained. "We found that by feeding a fattening hog the same amount of protein free-choice as otherwise would be fed in a complete ration, the over-all carcass changed considerably. The short, fat hog on a free-choice basis will eat as much as 2 pounds of supplement per day, whereas his long, lean brother would eat only ¼ pound per day. Since protein helps produce red meat, it was apparent to us that the right kind of a protein fed free-choice couldn't help but influence the making of the pig. By changing the protein and re-arranging our mineral and salt balance using the new data I learned in Europe, we found that feeding free-choice, letting the pig help himself from birth to market, resulted in some of the finest bacon we ever produced on our experimental farm."

With all this data finally in hand, Geerlings has just produced an entirely new finishing feed which he calls "H.B. 45" and which his Iowa farmer friends now affectionately call the "Bacon Maker."

By using this new feeding method, he has raised litters of pigs with lean, extra fine carcasses which, when dressed in Iowa packing houses, have amazed the meat processors.

AND THE CLINCHER is that he has been successful in raising hogs at less than 9 cents a pound under average farm conditions which means that even in a low hog market, the farmer and hog raiser can still make a profit in the face of 12-cent prices.

Geerlings has this advice for farmers who must produce for less to sell in a low market and still make a profit. "With the universal demand now for lean meat, hog raisers must take 3 major steps: they must (1) work toward better breeding; (2) feed special feeds in careful feeding programs that will produce leaner meat; and (3) must market their hogs at 200 pounds." (Fm

Happenings 10, 20, 30, 40, And 50 Years Ago This Week

50 Years Ago

March 16, 1906

We had hoped to drop March but it is here in earnest. The first two weeks this month have given us more mean, disagreeable weather and bad roads than all the previous six months.

If the editor were superintendent of country roads, he would try building roads so there would be both dirt and macadam tracks side by side; then when the roads are dry, we could drive on the dirt, which is much easier on the teams; and only use the hard roads when the earth is wet, soft and spongy.

Palatine — It is as hard work breaking through the frosted ground for the new Schering building, as working in a stone quarry. Wedges and sledges have to be used; but a big force of men are making the dirt fly.

Addison — The street car question is now settled. A line from Chicago will pass through River Forest, Elmhurst, Addison, Bloomingdale and Bartlett to Elgin. It will be connected with the Chicago, Des Plaines & Fox Lake road and will enable passengers to catch a train every 30 minutes.

Addison will no doubt some day be a very popular town and a good place for businessmen employed in the city or elsewhere to locate. It is near the lovely little stream called Salt Creek and well adapted for a summer resort. As it will soon have Electric cars, it will be handy to get to Chicago or Elgin and the surrounding villages. Now everyone should help improve the town. We have several boys from 12 to 20 years of age, who ought to get a good education. They will certainly need it. Addison will need prominent men for town officials.

Arlington Heights — We do not believe in kicking a man when he is down; hence we refrain from publishing a Heights sensation this week, but if he is not penitent, he will be punished later.

Christ Schoenbeck thinks the company of a fellow's best girl is better than doctors or medicine to cure a sick man. That was a delightful two weeks he spent after leaving the hospital.

Fred Witt has engaged to work for Christ Schoenbeck this year and the girls are pit-a-pat to tease this bashful fellow.

Alderman Meyer says there is no chance for boodle on the village board, and he would like to sell out and move to New York, where they don't have to pay any taxes.

Those who wish to use gas should have their houses piped and fixtures placed now. You can get the work done quicker and cheaper before the spring rush starts.

Mr. John Adam Klehm, one of Arlington Heights' oldest citizens, died Thursday morning, March 16, aged 81 years, 8 months, 2 days.

Klehms' Nurseries will ever stand as a monument to the memory of the man who gave the best years of his life in developing it, who raised three sons, of exemplary character, and educated them into the ways of business, until they lifted the burden from their father's shoulders and in the last few years of his life, he has had the pleasure of sitting by and seeing his sons extend the fame and name of Klehms' Nurseris throughout th middle west and making it a synonym for upright business dealing.

Thus the name of Klehm has been identified with the business as well as the socia life of the town. His was always a united family and enjoys the distinction, seldom seen these days, of all the children staying home and uniting with their parents in business as well as in home life.

Cashier Hausam of the Arlington Heights State Bank and his assistant N. E. Dunwiddie have been wearing the "growing smile" the past week, which reached its greatest proportions Wednesday night, when as they checked up the books, they discovered that their suspicions were correct and that day the Arlington Heights State had reached the highest point in the amount of its deposits in the history of the bank, vis: $454,477.83, with total resources of $525,816.70, considerably over the half million dollar mark.

Palatine — When it is a question of life and death all laws and rules of corporations are thrown in the discard. Monday night, Mrs. O. C. Shiller, residing on the Prellberg farm east of Palatine was so seriously ill, that Dr. Elfeld decided that the only way to save her life was an attendance at a hospital. An hour's difference would probably mean life or death and placing the sick woman in his roadster with the husband, the party started for Palatine with only a few minutes to catch the 6:42 P.M. train for Chicago. When they arrived at the Chicago ave. crossing of the C&NW the train was already in town. Leaping from the car Mr. Schiller asked the flagman to stop the train and on Mr. Wilson's statement that he had no authority to do such a thing, Mr. Schiller, grabbed his lantern and flagged the train and with the help of the train crew, Mrs. Schiller was placed on the train. She is in a very precarious condition.

Arlington Heights — Notice is given that the contemplated meeting for the organization of a community library association is called for Monday evening in the village hall. Arrangements have been made to visit the room that is available for the library over the People's State Bank.

If you are one of those who thinks that the library should be supported by a tax, you should be at this meeting. The tax amounts to one and eight tenths mills, which is a very small amount for each tax payer. It totals about $1,000 or $1,200. We will need to have approximately 200 votes to carry this election.

Death claimed many people in this vicinity. Among these were William Dettmann; Gordon, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. H. Brockmann; Wilhelmine Meyer, nee Wilke; Mrs. Pauline L. Martin, nee Krause; Mrs. Wilhelmine Krueger; Martin Eichler of Long Grove and Mrs. Isabel Colton Greene, a prominent author.

Observer's notes —It is reported that a petition has been or is being circulated in this village to remove the band stand from its present location in the village park near the village hall to the Central Railroad Park. This is proposed in order to have this musical attraction nearer to the business center — that more people may be benefited. Some one, humorously inclined, proposed to have the stand placed on wheels — so that it might be moved as somebody's whim — dictated.

Palatine — The ways of a railroad company are past understanding. First the North Western laid off Henry Heide from the local station. Now they have ordered Mr. Heide back on the job and displaced W. H. Brockway. They have evidently decided that a baggageman is more important at the Palatine depot than a telegrapher.

W. R. Comfort, one of the oldest business men in Palatine is near death's door. As we go to press he is in a coma, from which he will probably never rally.

Mt. Prospect — Prosperity is still on with the business houses in Mt. Prospect in fact on the increase as the milder weather approaches. Fred Meeske reports rushing business on seeds so someone must be getting ready to find spring for us.

Gordon A. Wendt, age 30, prominent Arlington Heights musician died, a suicide at 12:15 o'clock at his home Sunday from the effects of powder of opium which he had taken hours previously.

Herbert Skoog, Arlington police chief and Judge Gilbert Klehm are in Minneapolis awaiting their call to the witness stand in the Thomas Touhy case which is being tried there.

In January, 1933, Officer Skoog and Klehm suspecting a still in two houses on the southside of Arlington Heights, visited the places only to learn that they were the hideouts of the Touhys, whom they gave two hours to move. What the Arlington incident has to do with the mail robbery case in Minneapolis, is not understood by the two local men who are waiting to give their evidence.

Oliver Lynk, usher at Arlington theatre has been a married man since Wednesday. The bride is Miss Dorothy Dobbins. Of course, it is Harker's chinaware from which "Ollie" and his bride are eating their meals.

Elmer Walters and Wesley Comfort proved the other day that they are not as old as their hair would indicate, even if they have been dads many years. Elmer astride the bicycle of his son, Lyle, challenged the coal dealer to a bicycle race. W.R. sneaked the steed of his son out the back way of the house and accepted the date. The man who lost was supposed to buy his wife a new dress. Bill Bockelman is still trying to find out which wife got the dress. Elmer and Wesley claim it was a tie and there is no prize to be bought by either one of them.

Although delayed for over three hours by unforeseen circumstances Governor Henry Horner kept his appointment with the people of DuPage county Tuesday, to emerge in a crowded court room, when the meeting, arranged in his honor, was drawing to a close. He appeared in fine fettle and very good naturedly averred that "So far as I can find out the only issue in the present campaign is that 'Boss' Kelly wants to be dictator of the whole state of Illinois and I won't let him."

An attic fire in the fifty year old Meyer mansion, State rd., Arlington Heights, threatened other business structures of that area Sunday night when two fire departments worked several hours to extinguish the blaze. Lack of wind probably saved the adjoining Tibbits Cameron lumber yard.

The fire damage was not great and water caused the greatest loss, which will amount to over $4,000. Mrs. VanDusen, who had rented part of the first floor for an antique shop had just completed the decorating of her new store and expected to move in her stock the following day.

This structure, which was one of the landmarks of Arlington Heights fifty years ago, was built by the late William Meyer and stands at the entrance of the former Meyer Park, which was the scene of many civic outdoor events in years past.

Arlington Elevator and Coal will celebrate its 30th birthday Saturday. On March 16, 1916, the Schnebergers purchased of the late S. E. Pate, a coal, flour and feed business, the warehouse and office of which occupied the site of the present brick office structure of the Arlington Elevator & Coal co. This firm is the successor of a business that has served the community for nearly a hundred years.

Members of the first board of education to handle the affairs of the new Palatine consolidated elementary school district authorized by six Palatine school districts at the recent election will be elected at the regular April school election on the second Saturday of that month.

The Arlington Heights Youth the community can be assured of Center fund continues to grow and its complete success,

LAST WEEK'S HEADLINES

Resume of front page news that appeared in various editions of Paddock Publications and other newspapers of the area that will keep readers informed on headline news of their neighbors.

ARLINGTON HEIGHTS

Results of the recent federal census show that Arlington Heights now has a population of 19,150, a gain of 5,770 since he last census was taken in August, 1953. The gain will bring in close to $29,000 additional in motor fuel tax funds.

Voters must pass on a $115,000 bond issue for a new fire station and truck again because of a legal technicality which held up sale of bonds voted for in a November election.

A group of business and professional men is in the process of organizing a Rotary club.

PALATINE

Many organizations interested in Palatine youths sent members to a Youth conference where problems connected with providing adequate recreation for high school age young people were discussed. A smaller committee will continue with the discussions at a March 19 meeting.

Elementary school teachers in Palatine and Rolling Meadows will all receive a flat $350 increase next year. The school board reversed itself after initially deciding to give larger increases to teachers with less experience.

ROLLING MEADOWS

City attorney John Doyle reports that negotiation for the purchase of the water system from the Kimball Hill firm is nearing completion.

A voluntary drive for funds to purchase fire equipment is under way and officials have warned that unless it succeeds, taxes must be voted for fire equipment.

MT. PROSPECT

Mt. Prospect led northwest suburban towns in registering new voters last week. The village accounted for 656 voters of 2,655 registered during the 3-day registration priod.

Republican notables honored Sherman H. Canty, local candidate for state representative, at a dinner Saturday night.

An open house at the new water tower may be held soon. The million-gallon tower will be painted within a week.

WHEELING

Even town clerk Bill Staderman was amazed when 316 persons, many of them new residents, signed up to vote during the special rgistration days last week.

PROSPECT HEIGHTS

At a lively school board meeting school Superintendent Hugh Kibbie submitted his resignation but the board did not accept it.

The Lions club is trying to interest the community in building a swimming pool. Bonds to finance it would be sold to Prospect Heights residents and in return bond holders will be guaranteed the right to purchase season and family passes in preference to non-bond holders.

Bensenville

Railroad crossing gates are on the way for Bensenville. The Illinois Commerce commission is scheduled to draw up a citatiion directing the Milwaukee Road to erect the gates.

A board has been established with powers to operate a park for Bensenville.

DES PLAINES

Des Plaines aldermen rushed measures through the city council to insure the early annexation of the Orchard Place subdivision. The move was sparked by the news that Chicago intends to annex areas westward to O'Hare field, just south of Des Plaines.

THE MAILMAN'S CORNER

BY LELAND ELLIS TRUXELL

Yes sir! You can tell for sure that spring is just around the corner. Just sneak a glance at the letter carrier's sack and, sure enough, there they are—the new 1956 seed catalogues just shouting in color that this year's roses will be the reddest, the lilies the whitest an the daffodils the sauciest little elfs that anyone ever saw!

And simple! This year's flowers will practically grow themselves. Just put them in the ground, no time, no effort, all joy and sunshine, and there they are, coloring up the neighborhood with their glorious colors, drowning the odor of undumped garbage cans and the acrid smell of gasoline exhaust fumes!

OR AT LEAST, if there are a few simple rules to follow, they are a walk away. Not once have I ever seen a seed catalogue mention sunburn, aching back, sore muscles or blisters!

Of course, there is no argument that gardening is a healthful exercise, if you like it. And millions of people do. Even I like to putter around a flower garden—a little that is. But as long as seed companies sell flowers and bulbs and shrubs which cause sore muscles, sunburn and aching backs, why don't they go ahead and offer something for that, too, say, sun tan oil, treatment for sore mustcles, and aching backs?"

"USE SMITH'S liniment for aching backs caused by digging holes for rose bushes," they might advertise. Or, "For third degree burns caused by hoeing flower gardens, use Bump's Anti-Blister Soothing Lotion."

"We'll sell 'em the flowers, and let the poor suckers cripple themselves up," nurseries seem to believe.

Seems to me they are overlooking a good thing. The flower and gardening fever is incurable, and can't be inoculated against. Seed and nursery companies could double their business by not only furnishing the flowers and shrubs that cause the pains, but by curing the pains as well.

Maybe we've got something there! (G

THE FENCE POST

Letters to the Fence Post should be short and concise. All letters must be signed, though name will be withheld if desired. Address Fence Post, Paddock Publications, Inc., Arlington Heights, Ill.

Inaccurate?

In the heat of the discussion of the Carroll subdivision at the village board meeting of March 7, your reporter misquoted statements made by 2 of the village board members. In as much as I was a part of the discussion, I feel it only proper to inform you of the actual events.

Board member Hoover stated that an unscrupulous subdivider could mandamus the plan commission to sign the plat of subdivision and not as reported in the paper that "Mr. Hoover would mandamus the plan commission to sign the plat of subdivision."

THE SECOND misquote was Mr. Davis' statement to the board that he was present at the planning commission's regular meeting and he presented to the commission the feeling of the village board members as to the disposition of the Carroll subdivision. Your reporter had Mr. Davis telling the plan commission that they had to sign the subdivision plat at the order of the village board.

I believe it only fair to the village board members that your paper clarify, in your next issue, the actual statements that were made at the board meeting.

PERSONALLY, I feel that the "meat" of the entire village board of the village of Arlington Heights being $12,600 richer by the assessing of this amount to the Contina subdivision in lieu of dedicated lands for village use. In this case, the subdivider was reluctant to dedicate land to the village as required by ordinance so the planning commission estimated the value of the land that the subdivider would have to dedicate and suggested to the village board that the money be accepted in lieu of land. The board concurred in the planning commission's suggestion.

Minutes Mean Life

We are living in an area surrounded by railroad tracks. Soon this area will be fully utilized with homes or industry.

Yet with all this development, should disaster strike—a fire, an accident, a plane may fall, the urgent need for medical aid or police protection . . . how are we going to get such aid if a freight train blocks our only 2 streets of approach?

Freight trains travel slowly entering and leaving the Bensenville railroad yard; a 20 minute wait is not uncommon. Nor is it possible to cross, or enter, Irving Park rd. with its blocked cars for one-half mile or more in each direction. A stop light at the intersection of York rd. and Irving Park makes this condition worse.

What are we going to do about this condition? Does one of us have to share in a catastrophe to have this condition considered and relieved? We need an overhead at the railroad and York rd. on Irving Park. This is a "must."

* * *

WE ARE NOT going to get any action waiting for the highway department to make up its mind. Let's all write. Write to everyone you can. Urge your friends and relatives who use this road to write. We need action now.

Write to Governor Stratton of Illinois.

Write to John Madden, president of James B. Clow & Sons, 201 N. Talman, Chicago, to use his influence. He is building a plant and will also need this protection.

Write to Ray Ireland, United Air Lines, 5959 S. Cicero, Chicago. Mr. Ireland represents the air lines that are to use O'Hare field. They should be interested in accessibility of traffic intended to use the airlines.

Write to Chicago papers; tell them of their civic pride; refer to their airport. Write to the DuPage Register.

LET'S CONTACT and get the village officials on the job, let's get our supervisor, Fred Koebbeman, to act—get them to bring pressure on the state This is an election year; next year may be too late.

This condition deteriorates a community. Do we want to lose on our investment?

Our home and the life of our loved ones are just as important as any toll road. This is an immediate crisis and should be considered now.

We want accessibility. We want an overhead outlet. We want it now. We need it now.

Now, remember a fire burns fast —minutes may mean life instead of death. Medical air or hospitalization is always an emergency— not a planned routine.

Let's go!

Bensenville Resident

Proud of Police

At the conclusion of Thursday night's sectional basketball game, a teenage uprisng took place at the high school. We were very proud of the 2 officers of our police force who waded in and, against great odds, were able to corral the 2 boys they went after.

At times during the struggle one of our officers was surrounded by 15 or more angry boys. It looked as if he might have to give in to their greater numbers. However, he was able to show them and the hundreds of spectators that the arm of the law has a powerful grip.

WE FEEL our community should know of the action of these men. We can be proud to be represented by our police force. However, we cannot be proud of the situation which arose last night. What has happened to our young people to make them fight an officer of the law, hurl fists at him and pummel him with abusive language and taunts?

We cannot blame the children entirely, the responsibility for their character training rested on the shoulders of their parents, their churches and their schools. Can we not as parents profit by the lessons we see before us and instill higher ideals in the little children now in our laps?

* * *

AGAIN, thanks to 2 fine police officers who did not close their eyes to their duty when that way would have been so much easier.

All Proper

In the editor's column of the February 23 issue of this paper, reference was made to the Republican Women's organization of Rolling Meadows and Palatine township in that they had violated their charter by endorsing a candidate before hearing all the candidates involved.

PADDOCK publications were informed that there was no violation of any charter and was given the phone number of Mrs. Alvia Stewart, Republican committeewoman, to check this information. Mr. Paddock stated he would call Mrs. Stewart and if wrong would print a retraction in the next edition of the paper. This retraction was never printed. In fact, Mrs. Stewart was never contacted, as promised.

According to Mrs. Stewart, the action taken by the Republican Women's club was "perfectly proper."

I have no quarrel with any newspaper attempting to shape pu public opinion; however, this is still a country of certain guaranteed freedoms, and when Paddock Publications are presented with both sides of a story I believe they have a moral obligation to publish all pertinent information.

PERSONALLY, I have endorsed Jackson Boughner and I have not heard all the candidates. To some people, mainly to those who cannot read, this may seem a bit unfair. However, I have compared all the qualifications of all the candidates and certainly there is no other candidate that has the qualifications of Mr. Boughner. I would, therefore, ask all those Republicans voting in the primary to cast their vote for a true Republican and vote for Jackson Boughner for state senator.

JUST AROUND THE CORNER

from Patty McArdle

Pear Peg:

"I have a lovely surprise for you this morning," I gaily announced to Megan and Bridget last Saturday, as we sat in the kitchen eating our breakfasts. "How would you like to go downtown into Chicago for lunch and then to Field Museum?" I guess I sounded too gay, for they both immediately became suspicious.

"What's a 'Field Museum'?" Megan asked, in a voice that sounded as if she thought there were no such thing.

"What's a 'Feel's Musin'?" echoed Bridget just as suspiciously.

"Why Megan, you've been to the museum before. Don't you remember?" I asked, amazed that my 6 year old child had no idea of what we were talking about. Then I remembered that the last time we visited the museum, we pushed Megan in a stroller most of the way —it surely was almost 4 years ago! It seemed incredible that that much time had passeed since Megan, Bob and I had been there.

"Well, a museum is a place where there are many interesting things to see." I hoped this vague statement would suffice. It didn't.

"What kind of things?"—still suspicious that she wouldn't enjoy seeing this place as much as she would her favorite Saturday morning TV programs.

I WAS FACE TO FACE with the challenge and if I were to win my point, that occasionally children should be taken away from the TV set and out of the care of the baby-sitter and at least exposed to the educational and artistic things to do and places to see in and around Chicago, I would have to make the trip sound much more exciting and interesting than Jerry Mahoney, Winky-Dink, and Captain Zero (to name only a few who crowd the Saturday morning hours). This was a real challenge!

"Now, let me see — what kinds of things?" This wasn't fair. After all, it had been 4 years ago and I recalled that, being quite pregnant with Bridget, I was more interested in finding a bench to sit down on, than I was in any of Mr. Field's rarities. But, honestly, you'd think I could remember something besides the mummies!

"Well, there will be stuffed animals and birds."

"Oh, can we buy one if it's a fluffy, white kitty or maybe an Easter Bunny?"

"No, Megan, we can't buy anything. We're just going to look. Besides those are not the kinds of stuffed animals we'll see. We'll see things like bears and lions."

"Stuffed?"

"Oh, please, just eat your breakfast so we can get dressed and go."

"I don't want to go!"

"I don't want to go either," the echo spoke up.

"Now, listen here, how can you say you don't want to go when you don't even know what it is you don't want to go to?"

THIS CONFUSED THEM long enough for me to think of some other enticement to get them to come along peacefully. "If you're very, very good, we'll eat at some nice place in town and have ice cream for dessert. But, you'll have to behave especially well, since Miss Christine will be with us." (I had suggested to Christine, Megan's kindergarten teacher of last year, who has in two short years become one of my dearest friends, that she come along with us to town for lunch and then do some of the shopping she has been wanting to do.)

"Oh goody! O. K. Come on, Bridge, let's get our clothes on." Lunch with Miss Christine was the obvious enticement.

On the way into town, we discussed where to have our lunch and finally decided on Stouffer's — the place nearest to where Christine wanted to shop. After a very tasty and inexpensive lunch (I had the "weight-watchers" turkey sandwich and fresh fruit cup), we parted and the children and I headed for the museum. To find out what happens to this poor expectant mother and her two lively children, as their adventure takes them beyond the walls of the museum and beyond the call of duty, be sure to read your next installment.

Got hold of a book the other day that never should have been left within our reach. If we had skimmed through it around 17 years ago, we would have been childless today. It is authorized by Karl Menninger who, we are told, is one of the foremost doctors of psychoanalysis, psychiatrics, and all kinds of fascinating things.

Reading the first two chapters of this book one dreary afternoon caused us to burst into tears and rain for a couple of hours. Perhaps we would be happier if we had gone ahead and read the whole book for maybe it has a happy ending. We do not dare take the chance. That lye we have out in the cupboard might prove more tempting than we could endure.

It occurs to us that Dr. Menninger hasn't too much use for women. He states that while it may seem that he is placing the responsibility for the present sorry state of world affairs chiefly on women—pause—he is. This statement in itself is enough to make us go hide in a closet.

He then goes on to say that motherhood is just fine but that we would all be much better off if it were abolished. This appears to us to be a little high handed of him. We should be glad to ask him a few pertinent questions concerning his forbears. We are willing to bet that somewhere there was a mother in the outfit.

It is very probable that some of the good doctors' statements have been grossly misunderstood by us. We were brought up to read by the hurried scanning method and we employ it always to books that have no plot. Perhaps it is a mental block against further education on our part.

As we look around at our brood and, if we have understood any of the doctor's words, realize that most of their quirks are a direct result of the rearing that we have visited upon their poor little natures, we are gloomy.

We have four young. These four young are all rugged individualists. Each of them has a full and shining set of foibles. Each of them has some peachy peculiarities that tend to drive us to noisy protest. To put it bluntly, we belong to the fishwife class.

What really has us going is how did they all get so different if all quirks are attributable to me. We must have hidden talents. We could wish they had stayed hidden. It is all too sad for words.

Happenings 10, 20, 30, 40, And 50 Years Ago This Week

50 Years Ago

March 16, 1906

We had hoped to drop March but it is here in earnest. The first two weeks this month have given us more mean, disagreeable weather and bad roads than all the previous six months.

If the editor were superintendent of country roads, he would try building roads so there would be both dirt and macadam tracks side by side; then when the roads are dry, we could drive on the dirt, which is much easier on the teams; and only use the hard roads when the earth is wet, soft and spongy.

Palatine — It is as hard work breaking through the frosted ground for the new Schering building, as working in a stone quarry. Wedges and sledges have to be used; but a big force of men are making the dirt fly.

Addison — The street car question is now settled. A line from Chicago will pass through River Forest, Elmhurst, Addison, Bloomingdale and Bartlett to Elgin. It will be connected with the Chicago, Des Plaines & Fox Lake road and will enable passengers to catch a train every 30 minutes.

Addison will no doubt some day be a very popular town and a good place for businessmen employed in the city or elsewhere to locate. It is near the lovely little stream called Salt Creek and well adapted for a summer resort. As it will soon have Electric cars, it will be handy to get to Chicago or Elgin and the surrounding villages. Now everyone should help improve the town. We have several boys from 12 to 20 years of age, who ought to get a good education. They will certainly need it. Addison will need prominent men for town officials.

Arlington Heights — We do not believe in kicking a man when he is down; hence we refrain from publishing a Heights sensation this week, but if he is not penitent, he will be punished later.

Christ Schoenbeck thinks the company of a fellow's best girl is better than doctors or medicine to cure a sick man. That was a delightful two weeks he spent after leaving the hospital.

Fred Witt has engaged to work for Christ Schoenbeck this year and the girls are pit-a-pat to tease this bashful fellow.

Alderman Meyer says there is no chance for boodle on the village board, and he would like to sell out and move to New York, where they don't have to pay any taxes.

Those who wish to use gas should have their houses piped and fixtures placed now. You can get the work done quicker and cheaper before the spring rush starts.

March 17, 1916

Mr. John Adam Klehm, one of Arlington Heights' oldest citizens, died Thursday morning, March 16, aged 81 years, 8 months, 2 days.

Klehms' Nurseries will ever stand as a monument to the memory of the man who gave the best years of his life in developing it, who raised three sons, of exemplary character, and educated them into the ways of business, until they lifted the burden from their father's shoulders and in the last few years of his life, he has had the pleasure of sitting by and seeing his sons extend the fame and name of Klehms' Nurseris throughout th middle west and making it a synonym for upright business dealing.

Thus the name of Klehm has been identified with the business as well as the socia life of the town. His was always a united family and enjoys the distinction, seldom seen these days, of all the children staying home and uniting with their parents in business as well as in home life.

Cashier Hausam of the Arlington Heights State Bank and his assistant N. E. Dunwiddie have been wearing the "growing smile" the past week, which reached its greatest proportions Wednesday night, when as they checked up the books, they discovered that their suspicions were correct and that day the Arlington Heights State had reached the highest point in the amount of its deposits in the history of the bank, vis: $454,477.83, with total resources of $525,816.70, considerably over the half million dollar mark.

Palatine — When it is a question of life and death all laws and rules of corporations are thrown in the discard. Monday night, Mrs. O. C. Shiller, residing on the Prellberg farm east of Palatine was so seriously ill, that Dr. Elfeld decided that the only way to save her life was an attendance at a hospital. An hour's difference would probably mean life or death and placing the sick woman in his roadster with the husband, the party started for Palatine with only a few minutes to catch the 6:42 P.M. train for Chicago. When they arrived at the Chicago ave. crossing of the C&NW the train was already in town. Leaping from the car Mr. Schiller asked the flagman to stop the train and on Mr. Wilson's statement that he had no authority to do such a thing, Mr. Schiller. grabbed his lantern and flagged the train and with the help of the train crew, Mrs. Schiller was placed on the train. She is in a very precarious condition.

Arlington Heights — Notice is given that the contemplated meeting for the organization of a community library association is called for Monday evening in the village hall. Arrangements have been made to visit the room that is available for the library over the People's State Bank.

If you are one of those who thinks that the library should be supported by a tax, you should be at this meeting. The tax amounts to one and eight tenths mills, which is a very small amount for each tax payer. It totals about $1,000 or $1,200. We will need to have approximately 200 votes to carry this election.

Death claimed many people in this vicinity. Among these were William Dettmann; Gordon, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. H. Brockmann; Wilhelmine Meyer, nee Wilke; Mrs. Pauline L. Martin, nee Krause; Mrs. Wilhelmine Krueger; Martin Eichler of Long Grove and Mrs. Isabel Colton Greene, a prominent author.

Observer's notes —It is reported that a petition has been or is being circulated in this village to remove the band stand from its present location in the village park near the village hall to the Central Railroad Park. This is proposed in order to have this musical attraction nearer to the business center — that more people may be benefited. Some one, humorously inclined, proposed to have the stand placed on wheels — so that it might be moved as somebody's whim — dictated.

Palatine — The ways of a railroad company are past understanding. First the North Western laid off Henry Heide from the local station. Now they have ordered Mr. Heide back on the job and displaced W. H. Brockway. They have evidently decided that a baggageman is more important at the Palatine depot than a telegrapher.

W. R. Comfort, one of the oldest business men in Palatine is near death's door. As we go to press he is in a coma, from which he will probably never rally.

Mt. Prospect — Prosperity is still on with the business houses in Mt. Prospect in fact on the increase as the milder weather approaches. Fred Meeske reports rushing business on seeds so someone must be getting ready to find spring for us.

Gordon A. Wendt, age 30, prominent Arlington Heights musician died, a suicide at 12:15 o'clock at his home Sunday from the effects of powder of opium which he had taken hours previously.

Herbert Skoog, Arlington police chief and Judge Gilbert Klehm are in Minneapolis awaiting their call to the witness stand in the Thomas Touhy case which is being tried there.

In January, 1933, Officer Skoog and Klehm suspecting a still in two houses on the southside of Arlington Heights, visited the places only to learn that they were the hideouts of the Touhys, whom they gave two hours to move. What the Arlington incident has to do with the mail robbery case in Minneapolis, is not understood by the two local men who are waiting to give their evidence.

Oliver Lynk, usher at Arlington theatre has been a married man since Wednesday. The bride is Miss Dorothy Dobbins. Of course, it is Harker's chinaware from which "Ollie" and his bride are eating their meals.

Elmer Walters and Wesley Comfort proved the other day that they are not as old as their hair would indicate, even if they have been dads many years. Elmer astride the bicycle of his son, Lyle, challenged the coal dealer to a bicycle race. W.R. sneaked the steed of his son out the back way of the house and accepted the date. The man who lost was supposed to buy his wife a new dress. Bill Bockelman is still trying to find out which wife got the dress. Elmer and Wesley claim it was a tie and there is no prize to be bought by either one of them.

Although delayed for over three hours by unforeseen circumstances Governor Henry Horner kept his appointment with the people of DuPage county Tuesday, to emerge in a crowded court room, when the meeting, arranged in his honor, was drawing to a close. He appeared in fine fettle and very good naturedly averred that "So far as I can find out the only issue in the present campaign is that 'Boss' Kelly wants to be dictator of the whole state of Illinois and I won't let him."

An attic fire in the fifty year old Meyer mansion, State rd., Arlington Heights, threatened other business structures of that area Sunday night when two fire departments worked several hours to extinguish the blaze. Lack of wind probably saved the adjoining Tibbits Cameron lumber yard.

The fire damage was not great and water caused the greatest loss, which will amount to over $4,000. Mrs. VanDusen, who had rented part of the first floor for an antique shop had just completed the decorating of her new store and expected to move in her stock the following day.

This structure, which was one of the landmarks of Arlington Heights fifty years ago, was built by the late William Meyer and stands at the entrance of the former Meyer Park, which was the scene of many civic outdoor events in years past.

Arlington Elevator and Coal will celebrate its 30th birthday Saturday. On March 16, 1916, the Schnebergers purchased of the late S. E. Pate, a coal, flour and feed business, the warehouse and office of which occupied the site of the present brick office structure of the Arlington Elevator & Coal co. This firm is the successor of a business that has served the community for nearly a hundred years.

Members of the first board of education to handle the affairs of the new Palatine consolidated elementary school district authorized by six Palatine school districts at the recent election will be elected at the regular April school election on the second Saturday of that month.

The Arlington Heights Youth the community can be assured of Center fund continues to grow and its complete success.

JUST AROUND THE CORNER

from Patty McArdle

Dear Peg:

"I have a lovely surprise for you this morning," I gaily announced to Megan and Bridget last Saturday, as we sat in the kitchen eating our breakfasts. "How would you like to go downtown into Chicago for lunch and then to Field Museum?" I guess I sounded too gay, for they both immediately became suspicious.

"What's a 'Field Museum'?" Megan asked, in a voice that sounded as if she thought there were no such thing.

"What's a 'Feel's Musin'?" echoed Bridget just as suspiciously.

"Why Megan, you've been to the museum before. Don't you remember?" I asked, amazed that my 6 year old child had no idea of what we were talking about. Then I remembered that the last time we visited the museum, we pushed Megan in a stroller most of the way —it surely was almost 4 years ago! It seemed incredible that that much time had passeed since Megan, Bob and I had been there.

"Well, a museum is a place where there are many interesting things to see." I hoped this vague statement would suffice. It didn't.

"What kind of things?"—still suspicious that she wouldn't enjoy seeing this place as much as she would her favorite Saturday morning TV programs.

I WAS FACE TO FACE with the challenge and if I were to win my point, that occasionally children should be taken away from the TV set and out of the care of the baby-sitter and at least exposed to the educational and artistic things to do and places to see in and around Chicago, I would have to make the trip sound much more exciting and interesting than Jerry Mahoney, Winky-Dink, and Captain Zero (to name only a few who crowd the Saturday morning hours). This was a real challenge!

"Now, let me see — what kinds of things?" This wasn't fair. After all, it had been 4 years ago and I recalled that, being quite pregnant with Bridget, I was more interested in finding a bench to sit down on, than I was in any of Mr. Field's rarities. But, honestly, you'd think I could remember something besides the mummies!

"Well, there will be stuffed animals and birds."

"Oh, can we buy one if it's a fluffy, white kitty or maybe an Easter Bunny?"

"No, Megan, we can't buy anything. We're just going to look. Besides those are not the kinds of stuffed animals we'll see. We'll see things like bears and lions."

"Stuffed?"

"Oh, please, just eat your breakfast so we can get dressed and go."

"I don't want to go!"

"I don't want to go either," the echo spoke up.

"Now, listen here, how can you say you don't want to go when you don't even know what it is you don't want to go to?"

THIS CONFUSED THEM long enough for me to think of some other enticement to get them to come along peacefully. "If you're very, very good, we'll eat at some nice place in town and have ice cream for dessert. But, you'll have to behave especially well, since Miss Christine will be with us." (I had suggested to Christine, Megan's kindergarten teacher of last year, who has in two short years become one of my dearest friends, that she come along with us to town for lunch and then do some of the shopping she has been wanting to do.)

"Oh goody! O. K. Come on, Bridge, let's get our clothes on." Lunch with Miss Christine was the obvious enticement.

On the way into town, we discussed where to have our lunch and finally decided on Stouffer's — the place nearest to where Christine wanted to shop. After a very tasty and inexpensive lunch (I had the "weight-watchers" turkey sandwich and fresh fruit cup), we parted and the children and I headed for the museum. LAST WEEK'S HEADLINES

Resume of front page news that appeared in various editions of Paddock Publications and other newspapers of the area that will keep readers informed on headline news of their neighbors.

ARLINGTON HEIGHTS

Results of the recent federal census show that Arlington Heights now has a population of 19,150, a gain of 5,770 since the last census was taken in August, 1953. The gain will bring in close to $29,000 additional in motor fuel tax funds.

Voters must pass on a $115,000 bond issue for a new fire station and truck again because of a legal technicality which held up sale of bonds voted for in a November election.

A group of business and professional men is in the process of organizing a Rotary club.

PALATINE

Many organizations interested in Palatine youths sent members to a Youth conference where problems connected with providing adequate recreation for high school age young people were discussed. A smaller committee will continue with the discussions at a March 19 meeting.

Elementary school teachers in Palatine and Rolling Meadows will all receive a flat $350 increase next year. The school board reversed itself after initially deciding to give larger increases to teachers with less experience.

ROLLING MEADOWS

City attorney John Doyle reports that negotiation for the purchase of the water system from the Kimball Hill firm is nearing completion.

A voluntary drive for funds to purchase fire equipment is under way and officials have warned that unless it succeeds, taxes must be voted for fire equipment.

MT. PROSPECT

Mt. Prospect led northwest suburban towns in registering new voters last week. The village accounted for 656 voters of 2,655 registered during the 3-day registration priod.

Republican notables honored Sherman H. Canty, local candidate for state representative, at a dinner Saturday night.

An open house at the new water tower may be held soon. The million-gallon tower will be painted within a week.

WHEELING

Even town clerk Bill Staderman was amazed when 316 persons, many of them new residents, signed up to vote during the special rgistration days last week.

PROSPECT HEIGHTS

At a lively school board meeting school Superintendent Hugh Kibbie submitted his resignation but the board did not accept it.

The Lions club is trying to interest the community in building a swimming pool. Bonds to finance it would be sold to Prospect Heights residents and in return bond holders will be guaranteed the right to purchase season and family passes in preference to non-bond holders.

Bensenville

Railroad crossing gates are on the way for Bensenville. The Illinois Commerce commission is scheduled to draw up a citatiion directing the Milwaukee Road to erect the gates.

A board has been established with powers to operate a park for Bensenville.

DES PLAINES

Des Plaines aldermen rushed measures through the city council to insure the early annexation of the Orchard Place subdivision. The move was sparked by the news that Chicago intends to annex areas westward to O'Hare field, just south of Des Plaines.

THE MAILMAN'S CORNER

BY LELAND ELLIS TRUXELL

Yes sir! You can tell for sure that spring is just around the corner. Just sneak a glance at the letter carrier's sack and, sure enough, there they are—the new 1956 seed catalogues just shouting in color that this year's roses will be the reddest, the lilies the whitest an the daffodils the sauciest little elfs that anyone ever saw!

And simple! This year's flowers will practically grow themselves. Just put them in the ground, no time, no effort, all joy and sunshine, and there they are, coloring up the neighborhood with their glorious colors, drowning the odor of undumped garbage cans and the acrid smell of gasoline exhaust fumes!

OR AT LEAST, if there are a few simple rules to follow, they are a walk away. Not once have I ever seen a seed catalogue mention sunburn, aching back, sore muscles or blisters!

Of course, there is no argument that gardening is a healthful exercise, if you like it. And millions of people do. Even I like to putter around a flower garden—a little that is. But as long as seed companies sell flowers and bulbs and shrubs which cause sore muscles, sunburn and aching backs, why don't they go ahead and offer something for that, too, say, sun tan oil, treatment for sore mustcles, and aching backs?"

"USE SMITH'S liniment for aching backs caused by digging holes for rose bushes," they might advertise. Or, "For third degree burns caused by hoeing flower gardens, use Bump's Anti-Blister Soothing Lotion."

"We'll sell 'em the flowers, and let the poor suckers cripple themselves up," nurseries seem to believe.

Seems to me they are overlooking a good thing. The flower and gardening fever is incurable, and can't be inoculated against. Seed and nursery companies could double their business by not only furnishing the flowers and shrubs that cause the pains, but by curing the pains as well.

Maybe we've got something there! (G

Letters to the Fence Post should be short and concise. All letters must be signed, though name will be withheld if desired. Address Fence Post, Paddock Publications, Inc., Arlington Heights, Ill.

Inaccurate?

In the heat of the discussion of the Carroll subdivision at the village board meeting of March 7, your reporter misquoted statements made by 2 of the village board members. In as much as I was a part of the discussion, I feel it only proper to inform you of the actual events.

Board member Hoover stated that an unscrupulous subdivider could mandamus the plan commission to sign the plat of subdivision and not as reported in the paper that "Mr. Hoover would mandamus the plan commission to sign the plat of subdivision."

THE SECOND misquote was Mr. Davis' statement to the board that he was present at the planning commission's regular meeting and he presented to the commission the feeling of the village board members as to the disposition of the Carroll subdivision. Your reporter had Mr. Davis telling the plan commission that they had to sign the subdivision plat at the order of the village board.

I believe it only fair to the village board members that your paper clarify, in your next issue, the actual statements that were made at the board meeting.

PERSONALLY, I feel that the "meat" of the entire village board of the village of Arlington Heights being $12,600 richer by the assessing of this amount to the Contina subdivision in lieu of dedicated lands for village use. In this case, the subdivider was reluctant to dedicate land to the village as required by ordinance so the planning commission estimated the value of the land that the subdivider would have to dedicate and suggested to the village board that the money be accepted in lieu of land. The board concurred in the planning commission's suggestion.

Minutes Mean Life

We are living in an area surrounded by railroad tracks. Soon this area will be fully utilized with homes or industry.

Yet with all this development, should disaster strike—a fire, an accident, a plane may fall, the urgent need for medical aid or police protection . . . how are we going to get such aid if a freight train blocks our only 2 streets of approach?

Freight trains travel slowly entering and leaving the Bensenville railroad yard; a 20 minute wait is not uncommon. Nor is it possible to cross, or enter, Irving Park rd. with its blocked cars for one-half mile or more in each direction. A stop light at the intersection of York rd. and Irving Park makes this condition worse.

What are we going to do about this condition? Does one of us have to share in a catastrophe to have this condition considered and relieved? We need an overhead at the railroad and York rd. on Irving Park. This is a "must."

* * *

WE ARE NOT going to get any action waiting for the highway department to make up its mind. Let's all write. Write to everyone you can. Urge your friends and relatives who use this road to write. We need action now.

Write to Governor Stratton of Illinois.

Write to John Madden, president of James B. Clow & Sons, 201 N. Talman, Chicago, to use his influence. He is building a plant and will also need this protection.

Write to Ray Ireland, United Air Lines, 5959 S. Cicero, Chicago. Mr. Ireland represents the air lines that are to use O'Hare field. They should be interested in accessibility of traffic intended to use the airlines.

Write to Chicago papers; tell them of their civic pride; refer to their airport. Write to the DuPage Register.

LET'S CONTACT and get the village officials on the job, let's get our supervisor, Fred Koebbeman, to act—get them to bring pressure on the state This is an election year; next year may be too late.

This condition deteriorates a community. Do we want to lose on our investment?

Our home and the life of our loved ones are just as important as any toll road. This is an immediate crisis and should be considered now.

We want accessibility. We want an overhead outlet. We want it now. We need it now.

Now, remember a fire burns fast —minutes may mean life instead of death. Medical air or hospitalization is always an emergency—not a planned routine.

Let's go!

Bensenville Resident

Proud of Police

At the conclusion of Thursday night's sectional basketball game, a teenage uprisng took place at the high school. We were very proud of the 2 officers of our police force who waded in and, against great odds, were able to corral the 2 boys they went after.

At times during the struggle one of our officers was surrounded by 15 or more angry boys. It looked as if he might have to give in to their greater numbers. However, he was able to show them and the hundreds of spectators that the arm of the law has a powerful grip.

WE FEEL our community should know of the action of these men. We can be proud to be represented by our police force. However, we cannot be proud of the situation which arose last night. What has happened to our young people to make them fight an officer of the law, hurl fists at him and pummel him with abusive language and taunts?

We cannot blame the children entirely, the responsibility for their character training rested on the shoulders of their parents, their churches and their schools. Can we not as parents profit by the lessons we see before us and instill higher ideals in the little children now in our laps?

* * *

AGAIN, thanks to 2 fine police officers who did not close their eyes to their duty when that way would have been so much easier.

Arlington Heights

All Proper

In the editor's column of the February 23 issue of this paper, reference was made to the Republican Women's organization of Rolling Meadows and Palatine township in that they had violated their charter by endorsing a candidate before hearing all the candidates involved.

PADDOCK publications were informed that there was no violation of any charter and was given the phone number of Mrs. Alvia Stewart, Republican committeewoman, to check this information. Mr. Paddock stated he would call Mrs. Stewart and if wrong would print a retraction in the next edition of the paper. This retraction was never printed. In fact, Mrs. Stewart was never contacted, as promised.

According to Mrs. Stewart, the action taken by the Republican Women's club was "perfectly proper."

I have no quarrel with any newspaper attempting to shape pu public opinion; however, this is still a country of certain guaranteed freedoms, and when Paddock Publications are presented with both sides of a story I believe they have a moral obligation to publish all pertinent information.

PERSONALLY, I have endorsed Jackson Boughner and I have not heard all the candidates. To some people, mainly to those who cannot read, this may seem a bit unfair. However, I have compared all the qualifications of all the candidates and certainly there is no other candidate that has the qualifications of Mr. Boughner. I would, therefore, ask all those Republicans voting in the primary to cast their vote for a true Republican and vote for Jackson Boughner for state senator.

LOOK BEHIND A GUARANTEE

The most important thing about your new car dealer's guarantee is the assurance that he'll be there if you need him. The average new car dealer has been in business more than 20 years. He has a large investment in his building and his business . . . . and a background of many thousands of satisfied customers.

DOLLAR FOR DOLLAR

NEW CAR DEALERS SELL BETTER USED CARS BECAUSE

Your new car dealer's sense of community responsibility and a financial position that enables him to do so, is your assurance that he will "junk," not sell, undesirable cars that can't be put into safe driving condition.

His buying advantages on parts and equipment reduce reconditioning and guarantee costs. This savings is reflected in the selling price of his used cars.

Your new car dealer has the right equipment at hand to properly condition the used cars he sells. Factory-sponsored training programs are available to his mechanics.

He knows the history of many of the used cars he sells. Some of them he sold new and serviced until they were traded in. You can depend on the safety of used cars like these.

THE JET AGE IN TRANSPORTATION may be now upon us but jets don't attract these young model railroaders nearly so much as the earthbound locomotive. They are junior members of the Northwest Cannon Ball Model Railroad club. These Steam Engines Keep Chugging Up A Whistle!

by TOM BRENNAN

Steam engines may be on the way out on the Chicago and North Western railway (it says here) but on many another line they'll be chugging around the big bend for many a year to come.

The steam engines are particular favorites of the basement-dwelling clan of model railroaders.

"Model railroaders fans will continue to build the steam engines not only for their historic interest," explained one fan, "but also because they lend a lot mor 'color' to our layouts."

THIS FAN, Charles C. Love, of Palatine, is a semi-retired accountant who devotes a good deal of his time to his basement railroad. He is secretary of the Northwest Cannon Ball Model railroad club, a group of hobbyists started more than a year ago. It includes members from Palatine, Arlington Heights, Barrington and Roselle.

Apparently this is strictly a male hobby, for not a single woman has asked to join the 35 men and boys in the club. The group meets on the first and third Wednesday of each month in the park district club house in Palatine.

As Love described it, the amount of money invested in a model rail layout complete with a miniature Simplon tunnel and the latest in remote control switching, may run into fabulous sums.

Freight car kits to be assembled in basement "roundhouses" start at $2 and go on up from there. Engine kits bring much higher figures anywhere from $15 to $75. Of course a few scale modelers build their equipment from the track up, turning out the tiny parts from spare bits of scrap metal. Needless to say, these few have great quantities of time, patience and equipment.

Love mentioned one local hobbyist who possesses something like 100 engines and more than 400 assorted freight and passenger cars, all of which run around better than half a mile of track.

"BUT IT isn't necessary to spend much money to enjoy our hobby," he emphasized.

With members drawn from all walks of life, the hobbyists find plenty of ways to help each other out at their meetings. Employees of the Illinois Bell Telephone are specialists in wiring and related problems and a Chicago Northwestern conductor advises on how to run commuter trains on time.

Does Love have any advice for Ben Heineman, the new head of the CNW, on how to run a railroad?

"No," he chuckled, "There are enough people now telling him how to do that."

AVID MODEL RAILROAD FANS get together twice a month in Palatine to compare notes on running their railroads, some of which have as much as a mile of track. CHANCEL CHOIR OF THE FIRST PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH, Arlington Heights, assisted by 3 Chicago soloists, will present the "Seven Last Words of Christ," by Theodore Dubois in the local church sanctuary Palm Sunday at 4:30 p. m. Earle S. Auge, 801 N. Pine, director, will lead the choir in this annual presentation and the soloist will be Gerald Smith, baritone, Alice Riley, soprano, and William Miller, tenor, all of Chicago. Mrs. Earle Auge will be organist for the afternoon's performance. The concert is open to the public.

A HOBBY THAT HAS NO AGE BOUNDARIES, as the above pictures show, (but is apparently limited to males) is model railroading. These are members of the Northwest Cannon Ball Model Railroad club, which draws members from the entire northwest area to its twice-monthly meetings in Palatine.

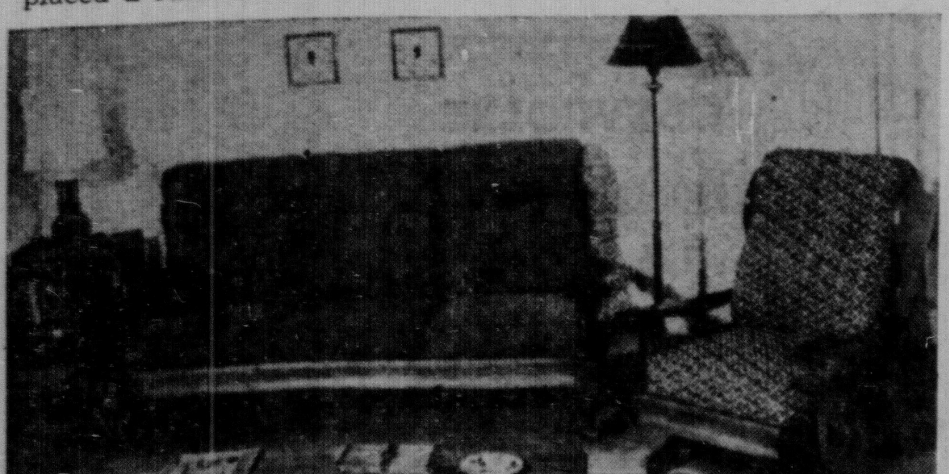
HAIL SHOWERED NORTHWEST towns last Tuesday night, strewing the ground with rock-sized hail stones, some of them measuring half an inch. Ronald Ternberg, 213 W. Hellen rd., Palatine, placed a ruler on his back lawn and snapped this picture to show the size of some of the stones.



THIS IS EARLY AMERICAN STYLING in one of the truest forms. Made of solid maple, these pieces boast of modern function, authentic styling and comfort.

PERFECT COMPANION for spring tweeds and textures are pumps of textured calf trimmed with bootmaker stitches.
